[San Francisco Order 1 Under Rev. Restaurant MPR 8-1]

FOOD AND DRINK IN SAN FRANCISCO REGION

Order No. 1 under Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 8-1. Food and drink sold for immediate consumption. Community dollar and cents prices for certain restaurant food items.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the District Director of the San Francisco District Office of the Office of Price Administration by section 19 of Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 8–1 and Order of Delegation No. 30 issued thereunder by the Regional Administrator of Region VIII, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. Purpose of the order. It is the purpose of this order to establish specific maximum prices for certain food items, beverages, and meals sold by eating or drinking places.

SEC. 2. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this order extend to eating and drinking places located within the corporate limits of the City and County of San Francisco, and the cities of Alameda, Albany, Berkeley, Daly City, El Cerrito, Emeryville, Oakland, Piedmont, Richmond, San Leandro, and South San Francisco.

SEC. 3. Ceiling prices. On and after March 31, 1944, no person operating an eating or drinking place regulated by this order shall sell or offer for sale any of the food items, meals, or beverages listed in Appendix A at prices higher than the prices set forth in Appendix A, which apply to his group of eating or drinking place determined pursuant to section 4. Lower prices may be charged at all times.

NOTE: Maximum prices for food items, meals, or beverages for which no specific price has been set forth in Appendix A must be determined under the applicable provisions of Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 8–1.

SEC. 4. How to determine group. (a) Eating or drinking places regulated by this order are divided into eight groups. The proprietor of an eating or drinking place must determine his group as follows:

(1) He adds together the "prices charged" for the following three (3) items: Ham sandwich, American cheese sandwich, and ham and two eggs.

(2) He then selects the applicable paragraph (i) to (vii) inclusive which tells him his group.

The term "prices charged" shall mean the highest prices at which the three (3) food items were sold during the period of April 4 to April 10, 1943.

If the eating or drinking place was not in operation during the period of April 4 to April 10, 1943, the term "prices charged" shall mean the prices correctly established as ceiling prices under the applicable provisions of Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 8–1 and filed with the appropriate War Price and Rationing Board.

If more than one type of the three (3) food items were sold during that period, the total of the "prices charged" for the lowest priced types of item shall be taken. For example, if two types of ham sandwich were sold during the period of April 4 to April 10, 1943, one type at 25¢ and the other type at 40¢, the 25¢ price must be used in the above calculation.

(i) Group A. If the total of the "prices charged" for the above items is 79¢ or less, the eating or drinking place shall be in Group A.

(ii) Group B. If the total of the "prices charged" for the above items is not less than 80¢ nor more than 94¢, the eating or drinking place shall be in Group B.

(iii) Group C. If the total of the "prices charged" for the above items is not less than 95¢ nor more than $1.09, the eating or drinking place shall be in Group C.

(iv) Group D. If the total of the "prices charged" for the above items is not less than $1.10 nor more than $1.24, the eating or drinking place shall be in Group D.

(v) Group E. If the total of the "prices charged" for the above items is not less than $1.25 nor more than $1.64, the eating or drinking place shall be in Group E.

(vi) Group F. If the total of the "prices charged" for the above items is not less than $1.65 nor more than $1.89, the eating or drinking place shall be in Group F.

(vii) Group G. If the total of the "prices charged" for the above items is equal to $1.90 or more, the eating or drinking place shall be in Group G.

(viii) Group H. If the proprietor of an eating or drinking place has no established price for ham sandwich and no established price for American cheese sandwich and no established price for ham and two eggs, he shall be in Group H. Such person may apply for a reclassification under section 5 hereof or the War Price and Rationing Board may, on its own motion, recommend to the San Francisco District Office of the Office of Price Administration a reclassification of his eating or drinking place in accordance with section 6 of this order.

(b) If, in determining his group under (a) above, the proprietor of an eating or drinking place does not have an established price for one (1) or two (2) of the three (3) items listed in (a), he must use the price or prices for such items provided by the tables set forth in Appendix B to arrive at his total. The proprietor cannot use the prices determined by means of the tables in Appendix B if he has a price for the item already correctly determined under Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 8–1 or any order issued thereunder.

(c) Filing of group determination. The proprietor of an eating or drinking place who has determined his group under the provisions of paragraphs (a) or (b) above, must, on or before March 31, 1944, file a Restaurant Grouping Form with his War Price and Rationing Board containing a list of the "prices charged" which he has used to arrive at his group, together with a statement of his group so determined.

SEC. 5. Review of classification. A proprietor of an eating or drinking place who believes that he is not properly grouped under section 4 may apply to the Local War Price and Rationing Board for a review of his group determination.

In order for a person to be reclassified under this section it must be shown that his prices for the food items listed in section 4 (a) above are not indicative of his correct group. Application should be made to his War Price and Rationing Board.

The War Price and Rationing Board shall process the application, and recommend the grant or denial of reclassification to the San Francisco District Office of the Office of Price Administration. The San Francisco District Office shall grant or deny the reclassification subject to the review of the San Francisco Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 6. Classification on own motion. The appropriate War Price and Rationing Board may on its own motion recommend to the San Francisco District Office a classification or reclassification of a particular eating or drinking place. The San Francisco District Office of the Office of Price Administration shall grant or deny such classification or reclassification of the particular eating place, subject to review by the San Francisco Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 7. Posting. (a) The proprietor of an eating or drinking place must post in either of the two following manners:

(1) Sign. On or before March 31, 1944, a proprietor of an eating or drinking place, in lieu of the posting required by section 12 of Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 8–1, must post by means of a sign, plainly visible to all patrons, his group as determined under section 4, or 5, or 6 of this order. The sign may be obtained at the War Price and Rationing Board.

(2) Menu. If the proprietor of an eating or drinking place furnishes a menu, he must mark with an asterisk the prices of the food items listed in Appendix A which are contained on his menu. His menu must also have clearly and plainly written on or attached to it the following statement, inserting his proper group letter:

Our community prices for the basic food items marked with an asterisk are the prices set forth in Order No. 1 for Group ------ establishments for the items specified. Our ceiling prices on other items are the highest prices charged during April 4 to April 10, 1943.

SEC. 8. Rules for new proprietors. If a person acquires the eating or drinking place of another person and continues the business in an establishment, separate from any establishment, previously owned or operated by him, then that person is in the same group and subject to the same ceiling prices, and the same duties under this order as the previous proprietor.

A person who opens an eating or drinking place after the effective date of this order must establish his group, and ceiling prices under this order, by taking the group and ceiling prices of the nearest eating or drinking place of the same type as his.

When the person has so taken the group and ceiling prices of an eating or drinking place of the same type as his, he must file with his War Price and Rationing Board a statement setting forth the name, address, and group of the eating or drinking place which he has so chosen.

If the group and ceiling prices which he has taken are not representative of the type of establishment which he is operating or intends to operate, the War Price and Rationing Board may recommend that an order be issued establishing his correct group and ceiling prices. Such order shall be issued by the San Francisco District Office of the Office of Price Administration subject to the review of the San Francisco Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 9. Definitions.—(a) Prices charged. The definition of the term "prices charged" is set forth in section 4 (a).

(b) Person or proprietor. "Person" or "proprietor" means individual, corporation, partnership, association or other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, any other Government or any of its political subdivisions, and any agencies of any of the foregoing.

(c) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, in the General Maximum Price Regulation, and in Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 8–1, issued by the Office of Price Administration shall apply to other terms used herein.

SEC. 10. Exempt sales. Sales of items of food or drink by the following eating or drinking places are specifically exempt from the provisions of this order:

(a) An eating or drinking place which supplies both food and lodging and which in making the charge for food, includes it in a single charge for food and lodging.

NOTE: Such an eating or drinking place is regulated by Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 8–1.

(b) Industrial plant cafeterias or restaurants.

NOTE: Such an eating or drinking place is regulated by Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 8–1.

(c) Eating or drinking places which are exempt from the provisions of Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 8–1 by section 20 thereof.

SEC. 11. Relation to other regulation. All provisions of Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 8–1 shall be applicable to the eating or drinking places regulated by this order, except that the provisions of Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 8–1 shall not apply, and the provisions of this order shall apply, upon the specific matters set forth in this order.

This order shall become effective the 31st day of March 1944.

NOTE: The reporting and record keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

NEW JERSEY POWER & LIGHT CO.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 17th day of April 1944.

Notice is hereby given that an application-declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by New Jersey Power & Light Company, a subsidiary of NY PA NJ Utilities Company, a registered holding company.

All interested persons are referred to said document, which is on file in the offices of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized below:

1. New Jersey Power & Light Company proposes to issue and sell at competitive bidding, pursuant to Rule U–50, $9,000,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, due March 1, 1974, and 30,000 shares of its Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $100 per share, the interest rate of the Bonds and the dividend rate of the Preferred Stock to be determined by competitive bidding, the filing indicating that no bids less than par will be considered for these securities, and further, that the interest rate on the Bonds must not exceed 3½% per annum and the dividend on the Preferred Stock must not exceed 5% per annum.

2. The proceeds from the sale of the above-described securities, together with such amounts from the general funds of New Jersey Power & Light Company as may be required, are to be applied to the redemption at 105% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest to the date of redemption of all of the company's outstanding First Mortgage Gold Bonds, 4½% Series, due 1960, which, as at February 29, 1944 were outstanding in the principal amount of $9,000,000, and to redeem at $110 per share, plus accrued dividends to the date of redemption, all of the company's outstanding $6 Cumulative Preferred Stock. As at February 29, 1944, there were outstanding 33,060 shares of this stock.

3. New Jersey Power & Light Company also proposes to donate to its wholly-owned subsidiary, New Jersey Northern Gas Company, an inactive company, $16,000 principal amount of First Mortgage 5% Bonds, due 1952, of that company; whereupon these bonds are to be retired and cancelled.

4. The applicant-declarant proposes in connection with the instant transactions to charge to earned surplus an amount of $1,650,000 to create a reserve for electric and gas plant adjustments for the purpose of absorbing the write-off of the excess amount over original cost of utility plant as the same may finally be determined and has not previously been provided for; to charge to earned surplus an amount of $1,267,589.22 representing unamortized debt discount and expense of $486,989.22 relating to bonds now outstanding and premium on bonds and preferred stock proposed to be redeemed in the amounts of $450,000 and $330,600 respectively; to transfer from stated value for common stock to capital surplus the amount of $2,535,000; and to transfer the deficit of earned surplus in the amount of $2,587,461.62 to capital surplus. All of these undertakings are to be as at February 29, 1944 and will result in the elimination of all earned surplus as at that date and leave a balance of $273,700.41 remaining in capital surplus. It is stated in the filing that this balance is to be available for the absorption of any and all losses not otherwise provided for which may be inherent in the stated amounts of applicant-declarant's assets, liabilities and reserves immediately prior to February 29, 1944.

The application-declaration indicates that NY PA NJ Utilities Company, the owner of the entire common stock of New Jersey Power & Light Company, also owns 12,068 shares of $6 Cumulative Preferred Stock of New Jersey Power & Light Company, this stock being carried at $1,197,080.81, purporting to be the cost to NY PA NJ Utilities Company of said stock.

The application-declaration has designated sections 6 (a), 6 (b), 7, 12 (c), and 12 (f), and Rules U–42, U–45, and U–50 as being applicable to the proposed transactions.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said matters, and that said application-declaration should not be granted or permitted to become effective except pursuant to further order of this Commission;

It is ordered, That a hearing on said matters under the applicable provisions of said act and the rules of this Commission thereunder be held on May 1, 1944, at 10 a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Eighteenth and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk in room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. Any person desiring to be heard in connection with these proceedings or proposing to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before April 27, 1944, his request or application therefor as provided by Rule XVII of the rules of practice of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated for that purpose, shall preside at the hearings in such matters. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said filing, particular attention be directed at such hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the proposed transactons are appropriate and in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers;

2. The propriety of the proposed accounting treatment on the books of New Jersey Power & Light Company in connection with the proposed transactions;

3. Whether, and if so, to what extent, NY PA NJ Utilities Company as a holder of preferred stock of New Jersey Power & Light Company should be permitted to participate in the proceeds of the refunding;

4. Whether the proposed transactions comply with all the provisions and requirements of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder; and

5. Whether it is necessary or appropriate to impose terms or conditions in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

By the Commission.

SHELL DEVELOPMENT CO., ET AL.

APPROVAL OF PROPOSAL FOR CROSS LICENSE AND LICENSING ARRANGEMENT

The ATTORNEY GENERAL:

I submit herewith a proposal for a cross license and licensing arrangement in connection with catalytic refining, between Shell Development Company, Standard Oil Development Company, Texaco Development Corporation, Standard Oil Company (Indiana), Universal Oil Products Company and the M. W. Kellogg Company. The proposal is detailed in the following instruments, attached hereto:

(1) Copy of the proposed agreement between the companies above-named, dated as of August 7, 1942.[1]

(2) Copies of a letter from the President of the Texaco Development Corporation to the Chief Counsel of the Petroleum Administration for War dated January 6, 1944,[1] amending the agreement referred to in (1) above in certain respects, and letters bearing various dates directed to the Chief Counsel of the Petroleum Administration for War by the other parties to the agreement concurring in the amendment described in the letter of the Texaco Development Corporation.[1]

(3) Copies of a letter from the President of Texaco Development Corporation dated July 14, 1943,[1] a letter from the President of Texaco Development Corporation dated November 12, 1943,[1] and letters from the other parties to the agreement,[1] all directed to the Chief Counsel of the Petroleum Administration for War, giving certain information concerning the patent position of the licensor group within the field of catalytic refining.

(4) A memorandum to me from the Petroleum Administrator for War dated November 4, 1943,[1] in which the Petroleum Administrator states that he believes the course of conduct proposed in the cross license and licensing agreement to be requisite to the prosecution of the war and that the royalties set forth in the agreement are reasonable. This memorandum is supplemented by a copy of a memorandum from the Chief Counsel of the Petroleum Administration for War dated October 12, 1943,[1] approving the proposed cross license and licensing agreement, and a summary of the agreement, undated.

(5) Copies of a letter from the Defense Plant Corporation dated October 6, 1943,[1] a letter from the Defense Supplies Corporation dated October 6, 1943,[1] and a letter from the War Department dated August 9, 1943,[1] directed to the Petroleum Administration for War, concerning the agreement referred to in (1) above.

It is my understanding that, with respect to catalytic refining patents, if any, which are vested in the Alien Property Custodian pursuant to Vesting Order No. 1, licenses will be available under the provisions of the final judgment entered March 25, 1942, and the supplemental judgment entered April 7, 1943, in the matter of United States of America v. Standard Oil Company (New Jersey), et al., in the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey.

[1] Filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

For the purposes of section 12 of Public Law No. 603, 77th Congress (56 Stat. 357), I approve the proposal; and after consultation with you I hereby find and so certify to you that the doing of any act or thing, or the omission to do any act or thing, by any person in compliance with my approval as herein expressed is requisite to the prosecution of the war.

Nothing in my approval of the above proposal is to be construed as derogating from, or in any way modifying, rights and obligations under the final judgment entered March 25, 1942, and the supplemental judgment entered April 7, 1943, in the matter of United States of America v. Standard Oil Company (New Jersey), et al., in the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey.

Nothing in this approval, furthermore, is to be construed as authorizing or requiring the doing of any act or thing, or the omission to do any act or thing, in violation of the Antitrust laws of the United States or the Federal Trade Commission Act after the termination of the present war and an additional period of six months thereafter.

Chairman.

AETNA OIL BURNER COMPANY

Aetna Oil Burner Company is a corporation located in Hartford, Connecticut, controlled by Gabriel Levine, who with his wife, Anna V. Levine, owns substantially all of its capital stock. Its business was the production and sale of oil burners and stoves, but recently it has been principally, although not wholly, engaged in defense work.

Subsequent to June 20, 1942, Aetna Oil Burner Company transferred and delivered a boiler, valves, circulator, and radiators, constituting new metal heating equipment, to Mrs. Levine, who installed the equipment in her home. This transfer and delivery of new metal heating equipment, at a total cost of more than $10, without a preference rating, was a violation of Conservation Order L–79. The War Production Board conducted an investigation of the violation, and in the course of the investigation Mr. Levine misrepresented facts and furnished a spurious invoice to representatives of the War Production Board with intent to mislead them. Aetna Oil Burner Company was engaged in the manufacture of heating equipment, and knew or should have known of Order L–79, and the violation must therefore be deemed wilful. As a result of the violation, critical materials were diverted to uses not authorized by the War Production Board and the war effort of the United States has been hampered and impeded. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.528 Suspension Order No. S–528. (a) Aetna Oil Burner Company, its successors and assigns, shall not produce or assemble any oil cooking stoves or oil heating stoves except to fill orders rated AA–3 or higher, unless specifically authorized in writing by the Regional Director of the Boston, Massachusetts, Regional Office of the War Production Board, and specific authority to act on applications for exceptions is hereby delegated to the Regional Director of the Boston, Massachusetts, Regional Office.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Aetna Oil Burner Company, its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on April 19, 1944, and shall expire on August 19, 1944.

Issued this 12th day of April 1944.

§ 3288.71 General Limitation Order L-74—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Oil burner" means any devise which is designed for burning fuel oil for furnishing heat. It includes, but is not limited to the following types:

(i) Mechanical, steam or air atomizer oil burner.

(ii) Vertical or horizontal rotary oil burner.

(iii) Mechanical vaporizing oil burner.

(iv) Pot type vaporizing oil burner.

It shall include any oil burner for any boiler burner unit or for any furnace burner unit, any oil burner used as part of any water heater and any combination oil and gas burner, but does not include any oil burner used as a part of any domestic cooking appliance or of any domestic heating stove as defined in L-23-c, or any oil burner used in connection with any locomotive scheduled under L-97, or any oil burner used as a part of any commercial cooking and food and plate warming equipment as defined in L-182.

(2) "Class A oil burner" means any oil burner which is designed by the producer or approved by the Underwriters Laboratory to burn No. 5, No. 6 or heavier fuel oil, or which regardless of what grade fuel oil it burns, is designed or manufactured specifically for shipboard use or for heat processing. An oil burner will be considered as designed or manufactured specifically for heat processing if it is produced for use in connection with devices intended for the application of heat for purposes other than for space heating or hot water supply systems. Heat processing will, therefore, include, but is not limited to rendering sea water drinkable, melting tar or asphalt for road or roof use, dehydrating milk, sterilizing, and the like.

(3) "Class B oil burner" means any oil burner which is designed by the producer or approved by the Underwriters Laboratory to burn No. 1 (except a Class C oil burner), No. 2, No. 3, or No. 4 fuel oil, but does not include any oil burner designed or manufactured specifically for shipboard use or for heat processing.

(4) "Class C oil burner" means any pot type vaporizing oil burner which is designed by the producer or approved by the Underwriters Laboratory to burn No. 1 fuel oil, but does not include any oil burner designed or manufactured specifically for shipboard use or for heat processing.

(5) "Fuel oil" means any liquid petroleum product commonly known as fuel oil, including Numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6, bunker C, diesel oil, kerosene, range oil, gas oil, or any other liquid petroleum product used for the same purposes as the above designated grades.

(6) "Replacement" means replacement of any oil burner by another oil burner.

(7) "New installation" includes an oil burner installed in a new heating plant or an oil burner installed as a conversion from any other fuel.

(8) "Producer" means any person who manufactures, fabricates or assembles oil burners.

(b) Restrictions on producers of Class B oil burners. No producer shall manufacture or assemble a Class B oil burner or deliver such a burner either assembled or in sets of parts except to fill an order already received, which has been approved on Form WPB-1319. He may produce or assemble such burners only to the extent necessary to fill orders on hand which he cannot fill from his inventory of completely assembled burners. Any person who wants to buy a Class B oil burner from a producer should file Form WPB-1319 in triplicate with the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington 25, D. C.

(c) Restrictions on delivery of Class B oil burners for installation; restrictions on installation. No dealer or distributor may deliver a Class B oil burner for installation, either assembled or in sets of parts, and no person may install a Class B oil burner, except as follows:

(1) Replacement. A dealer may deliver any Class B oil burner from his stock for installation as a replacement, and the installation may be made, if the owner of the premises has applied for and obtained the approval of the appropriate War Production Board District office on Form WPB 1319. The dealer may deliver and the installation may be made without approval from any source, if the burner to be replaced is over ten years old, or has actually broken down and is beyond repair during the season in which it is in use. No installation may be made for replacement unless the installer arranges to have the old burner scrapped or dismantled, but this requirement does not mean that the installer is entitled to take the old burner without the owner's consent or without crediting him with its value.

(2) New installations. Any person may deliver a Class B burner from a dealer's inventory for a new installation if the Petroleum Administration for War has specifically approved in writing the delivery of fuel oil for a Class B oil burner on the premises in question.[1] The authorization of a local War Price and Rationing Board to accept delivery of fuel oil will not be sufficient.

(3) Food processing installations. Any person may deliver a Class B burner from a dealer's inventory for use in raising and preparing crops, poultry, livestock and other agricultural products for market.

(4) Bureaus assembled in other products. If the War Production Board has approved the delivery of a Class B oil burner on Form WPB-1319 for physical incorporation in or assembly with another product, such as a water heater, further authority under this order is not required for delivery of the assembled unit, but the restrictions of L-79 (prohibiting delivery except to fill a rated order) must be complied with.

(5) Sales to dealers. Any dealer or distributor may sell or deliver any Class B oil burner to another dealer or distributor for resale.

(6) Oversea shipment. Any dealer or distributor may deliver a Class B burner to fill a rated order for shipment to a foreign country or a territory or overseas possession of the United States.

(d) Restrictions on sale of Class A and Class C oil burners:

(1) Class A oil burners may be delivered only on orders bearing a preference rating of AA-5 or higher. (In case of a new installation in the continental United States, application for preference rating must be accompanied by copy of authorization from the Petroleum Administration for War, permitting the delivery of fuel oil.)

(2) Class C oil burners may be delivered without a preference rating. (However, authorization for delivery of fuel oil must be obtained from the Petroleum Administration for War in accordance with its order PDO-13.)

(e) General exception. Regardless of the terms of this order, any Class B oil burner (as defined by this order as in force prior to June 28, 1943) authorized under an appeal from L-74 as in force prior to June 28, 1943, may be manufactured, fabricated, assembled and delivered.

(f) Appeals. Any appeals from the provisions of this order shall be filed on Form WPB-1477, formerly PD-500, with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(g) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-74.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

[1] Under PDO-13, as amended or supplemented from time to time. At present applications to the P. A. W. for approval are made by letter, which must be submitted in quadruplicate.

(i) Bureau of the Budget. The Bureau of the Budget has approved the use of Form WPB-1319 and other reporting requirements of this order, in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 20th day of April 1944.

WHOLESALE PRICES FOR NEW RUBBER TIRES AND TUBES

Maximum Price Regulation 143 is redesignated Revised Maximum Price Regulation 143 and is revised and amended to read as set forth herein.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation is issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected or have previously been promulgated and their use lawfully required by another Government agency.

Appendix I.

SECTION 1. What this regulation covers—(a) Transactions covered. This regulation applies to all wholesale sales of new rubber tires and tubes for automobiles, trucks, busses, trailers, off-the-road equipment, farm implements, tractors, industrial equipment, and motorcycles. "Rubber" means substitute rubber and all forms and types of rubber, including scrap, synthetic, balata, and reclaimed rubber. A tire or tube is "new" if it has been used less than 1,000 miles. "Wholesale sale" means a sale to a buyer who purchases for resale and not for his own use.

(b) Certain transactions not covered. (1) Maximum Price Regulation 415[1] covers sales to any agency of the United States Government.

(2) The Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[2] covers export sales and sales to exporters.

(c) Relation to other regulations. This regulation supersedes any other regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration, as to transactions covered by this regulation.

(d) Geographical applicability. This regulation applies in the 48 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the territories and possessions of the United States. However, as to sales in Puerto Rico, all references in this regulation to March 1942 shall be changed to April 10 to May 10, 1942, inclusive.

SEC. 2. Prohibition against sales at prices above the maximum. On and after the effective date of this regulation, no person shall sell or deliver new rubber tires or tubes at wholesale, and no person shall buy or receive such tires or tubes in the course of trade or business, at a price higher than the maximum price fixed by this regulation, regardless of any contract or other obligation. No person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing. Lower prices may, of course, be charged.

SEC. 3. Sales by manufacturers and private brand owners—(a) What this section covers. This section covers all wholesale sales by manufacturers and private brand owners, except sales of factory seconds, and sales by manufacturers to brand owners and other sales under cost-plus contracts. (Sales of factory seconds are covered by section 6; sales by manufacturers to brand owners and other sales under cost-plus contracts are covered by section 5.)

(b) Method of quoting or computing prices. This regulation does not require sellers and buyers to quote or compute wholesale selling prices by any particular method. The only restriction resulting from this regulation is that the net wholesale selling price, expressed in dollars and cents, when computed or quoted by the seller and buyer by the method chosen by them, shall not exceed the net wholesale price, expressed in dollars and cents, resulting from the application of the provisions of this regulation. (For example, a buyer and seller may agree to compute wholesale prices for synthetic rubber passenger car tires by applying discounts to the maximum retail prices fixed by Appendix A of Maximum Price Regulation 528 for such tires: Provided, That wholesale prices so computed do not exceed those determined under this section.) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be offered, demanded, charged or paid at all times and under any circumstances.

(c) Exhibit C tires and tubes. The maximum wholesale price for a new natural rubber tire or tube listed in Exhibits C filed by manufacturers or distributors in March 1942 with the Office of Price Administration, shall be determined by deducting a discount of 30 percent for tires and 35 percent for tubes from the retail price of the tire or tube set forth in such exhibits.

(d) Reclaimed rubber passenger war tires. The maximum price for a reclaimed rubber war tire shall be determined by deducting a discount of 30 percent from the maximum retail price fixed by Appendix A of Maximum Price Regulation 528. A "reclaimed rubber war tire" means a passenger car tire which has been manufactured primarily of reclaimed rubber under restrictions of the War Production Board and which has the words "War Tire" branded on the sidewall.

(e) All other tires and tubes. (1) The maximum wholesale price shall be determined by using the percentage discount which the seller had in effect to buyers of the same class during March 1942 on sales of each particular size, type, and brand of tire or tube. Each discount used shall be expressed as a percentage of the maximum retail price in effect during March 1942, and shall be determined by computing the dollar and cent difference between the highest net wholesale price charged the particular class of buyer on deliveries made during March 1942 (if no delivery was made during March 1942 to a particular class, use the highest net wholesale price offered to that class during March 1942), and the maximum retail price in effect during March 1942 on that size, type, and brand of tire or tube.

"Maximum retail price" as used in this regulation does not include the 16 percent increase resulting from the Dealer Tire Return Plan.

For any size which the brand owner did not deliver or offer for delivery during March 1942 to a buyer of a particular class, he shall use the discount computed as provided above for the most comparable size in the same brand and type.

(2) The discounts under (1) above shall be used as follows to determine the applicable maximum wholesale prices:

(i) Natural rubber passenger car and motorcycle tires and tubes. The discount to be used shall be the discount computed under (1) above for the same size, type, and brand of tire or tube as the tire or tube being priced. The discount so determined shall be applied to the maximum retail price (excluding any add-on) fixed by Appendix A of Maximum Price Regulation 528 for the tire or tube being priced. After deducting the percentage discount, the seller, in the case of passenger car tires and tubes, may add an amount not exceeding 16 percent of the maximum retail price. No add-on is permitted for motorcycle tires or tubes.

(ii) Synthetic rubber passenger car and motorcycle tires. The discounts to be used shall be the discounts computed under (1) above for each size in the seller's 100-level brand which he sold during March 1942. "100-level brand" means the seller's brand which during March 1942 had a retail maximum price for the 6.00–16, four ply, passenger car tire nearest $14.75, for a manufacturer's brand, or $13.25 for a private brand, and in the case of motorcycle tires, the seller's brand which had a retail maximum price for the 4.50–18 four ply tire nearest $10.80. To determine the maximum wholesale price for each size of tire, the 100-level discounts shall be applied to the prices listed in Appendix I of this regulation. However, until October 15, 1944, the maximum wholesale price may be increased by an amount not to exceed the amount specified in Appendix I of this regulation for each size and ply of tire.

(iii) Synthetic rubber passenger car and motorcycle tubes. The discounts to be used shall be the discounts computed under (1) above for each size in the seller's brand whose maximum retail price, in the case of passenger car tubes, was nearest $3.65 for the 6.00–16 size, and in the case of motorcycle tubes, was nearest $2.20 for the 4.50–18 size. To determine the wholesale maximum price, these discounts shall be applied to the maximum retail prices fixed by Appendix A of Maximum Price Regulation 528 for such tubes.

(iv) Tires and tubes other than passenger car and motorcycle. The discounts to be used shall be the discounts determined under (1) above for the same size, type, and brand of tire or tube as the tire or tube being priced. To determine the maximum wholesale price these discounts shall be applied to the maximum retail price fixed by Appendix A of Maximum Price Regulation 528 for the tire or tube being priced. However, in the case of such tires (except farm tractor and implement tires), until October 15, 1944, the maximum wholesale price may be increased by an amount not to exceed 6½ percent of the maximum retail price. (No adjustment resulting in a higher wholesale price may be made in the case of tubes or farm tractor and implement tires.)

(v) Definition of synthetic tires and tubes. Synthetic rubber tires and tubes means tires and tubes which contain any synthetic rubber and which are marked with the symbols designated by the War Production Board, Office of Rubber Director, to identify them as containing synthetic rubber. These symbols are an "S3" in the case of tires, and a colored circumferential band in the case of tubes.

SEC. 4. Sales by sellers other than brand owners—(a) What this section covers. This section covers all wholesale sales by sellers other than brand owners, except sales of factory seconds. (Sales of factory seconds are covered by section 6.)

(b) Method of quoting or computing prices. This regulation does not require sellers and buyers to quote or compute wholesale selling prices by any particular method. The only restriction resulting from this regulation is that the net wholesale selling prices, expressed in dollars and cents, when computed or quoted by the seller and buyer by the method chosen by them, shall not exceed the net wholesale price, expressed in dollars and cents, resulting from the application of the provisions of this regulation. (For example, a buyer and seller may agree to compute wholesale prices for synthetic rubber passenger car tires by applying discounts to the maximum retail prices fixed by Appendix A of Maximum Price Regulation 528 for such tires, provided that wholesale prices so computed do not exceed those determined under this section.) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be offered, demanded, charged or paid at all times and under any circumstances.

(c) Minimum discounts. The maximum wholesale prices for sales by sellers other than brand owners shall be determined by deducting the following discounts from the prices listed in Appendix I of this regulation for synthetic rubber passenger car and motorcycle tires and from the maximum retail prices fixed by Appendix A of Maximum Price Regulation 528 for all other tires and for all tubes:

	Percent
All tires except farm tractor	30
All tubes except farm tractor	35
Farm tractor tires and tubes	25

These maximum wholesale prices may be increased as follows:

(1) In the case of natural rubber passenger car tires and tubes other than Exhibit C, the seller may add an amount not to exceed 16 percent of the maximum retail price.

(2) In the case of synthetic rubber passenger car and motorcycle tires, until October 15, 1944, the maximum wholesale price may be increased by an amount not to exceed the amount specified in Appendix I of this regulation for each size and ply of tire.

(3) In the case of all tires except passenger car, motorcycle and farm tractor and farm implement, until October 15, 1944, the maximum wholesale price may be increased by an amount not to exceed 6½ percent of the maximum retail price.

(d) Other discounts. (1) A seller who, prior to the effective date of this revised regulation, had established under Maximum Price Regulation 143 a maximum wholesale price to a particular buyer which represented a smaller discount (excluding any add-on) than the applicable minimum discount set forth in (c) above, may determine maximum wholesale prices to that buyer for any brand by using such lower discount instead of the discount specified in (c), provided he files with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration for the district in which he is located, within fifteen days after the effective date of this regulation, a report including the following information:

(i) The name and address of the buyer.

(ii) The smallest discount or discounts that he proposes to give the particular buyer on future purchases of tires and tubes.

(iii) The smallest legal discount given this buyer prior to the effective date of this regulation, and the date of the last such sale.

(iv) The largest discount that he was required, under Maximum Price Regulation 143, to give to this particular buyer on any brand of tires and on any brand of tubes actually sold to him prior to the effective date of this revised regulation.

(v) A statement that the discount reported under (iii) above was properly determined under Maximum Price Regulation 143 prior to the effective date of this revised regulation.

(2) The Price Administrator or any Regional Administrator, or any District Director so authorized by his Regional Administrator, may disapprove or adjust discounts reported under this paragraph upon a determination that such discounts were not properly established under Maximum Price Regulation 143 prior to the effective date of this revised regulation, or that the discounts reported yield higher maximum prices than those applicable to the bulk of the seller's sales to the particular buyer prior to the effective date of this revised regulation.

SEC. 5. Manufacturers' sales to brand owners and other cost-plus sales—(a) Applicability of this section. This section covers sales of new rubber tires or tubes (whether they are made of natural, synthetic, or reclaimed rubber) by the manufacturer to the brand owner of the tires or tubes, even though the purchasing brand owner may also be a tire or tube manufacturer. This section also covers sales to any buyer to whom the seller was selling tires or tubes pursuant to a cost-plus contract during March 1942. This section does not cover factory second tires and tubes, which are covered by section 6.

(b) Maximum prices. A manufacturer may determine maximum prices under this section for sales to a particular buyer pursuant to any one of the methods set forth in subparagraphs (1) to (3) below. However, after selecting any one of these methods for determining maximum prices for sales to a particular buyer, the manufacturer may not use another method for determining maximum prices to that buyer without written permission to do so from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(1) Fixed price per tire or tube. The maximum wholesale prices under this subparagraph shall be determined upon the manufacturer's first sale or delivery of each size and type of tire or tube to the particular buyer by applying to the cost (determined according to subparagraph (5)) of the particular size and type of tire or tube the percentage mark-up (determined according to subparagraph (6)) applicable to that buyer. The price so established shall be the maximum wholesale price for all deliveries of that size and type of tire or tube to that buyer for a period, agreed upon by the seller and buyer, of not less than three months or more than six months. The manufacturer must report such prices to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., as required by paragraph (c). At least thirty days before the end of the first period agreed upon by the seller and the buyer, and at least thirty days before the end of each subsequent period, the manufacturer must file another report containing the information required by paragraph (c) (1) (vi), and must determine his maximum prices for each subsequent period on the basis of the unit costs filed in such report.

(2) Aggregate prices for all sales during an accounting period. The aggregate maximum prices for all sales during an accounting period agreed upon by the buyer and seller (not less than three months nor more than one year) of all types and sizes of tires or tubes to that buyer during that period, shall be determined by applying to the aggregate costs (determined according to subparagraph (5)) the percentage mark-up (determined according to subparagraph (6)) applicable to that buyer. The seller must file a report with the Office of Price Administration in accordance with paragraph (c) and thereafter the seller may not change the accounting period without written permission to do so from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(3) Freeze of March 1942 cost-plus contracts. If during March 1942, the seller had in effect with a particular buyer a written cost-plus contract, he may file a copy of such contract with the Office of Price Administation for approval. Such contract, if approved by the Office of Price Administration, shall determine his maximum prices for sales to that buyer. The Office of Price Administration will approve such a contract if it is consistent with the requirements of this regulation in regard to costs, mark-up and accounting period.

(4) Limitation on prices determined under (1) to (3) above. Notwithstanding the provisions of (1) to (3) above, a maximum price determined under this section may not exceed the maximum price of the seller to his lowest price class of buyer on sales of his own (manufacturer's) brand unless the seller receives written permission from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., to apply subparagraphs (1) to (3) without this limitation. Such permission will be granted only if the seller shows that such action is consistent with the normal relationship between the seller's prices on sales of his own brand to his lowest price class of buyer and his prices to the particular buyer for whom a price is being determined under this section. If the seller has elected to determine his price under (1) above, no individual size or type of tire or tube may be sold at a price which exceeds the limitations imposed by this subparagraph (4). If the seller has elected to determine his maximum prices under (2) or (3) above, the aggregate amount collected during the accounting period may not exceed the aggregate price resulting from the limitation imposed by this subparagraph.

If the buyer receives from the seller a written statement that the price charged does not exceed the maximum price permitted by this subparagraph, the buyer shall be deemed to have complied with this subparagraph.

(5) Computation of cost. The cost of any particular size or type of tire or tube or the aggregate costs for all types and sizes delivered to a particular buyer shall be the sum total of direct labor cost, direct material cost including waste, factory overhead, warehousing and shipping expense, administrative expense, and other commercial expense. The method of computing costs shall be the same method actually used during the ninety day period selected under subparagraph (6). If the seller elects to determine his maximum price under (1) above, the cost shall be the actual costs of producing and selling the tire or tube to the particular buyer for the last complete quarter prior to the filing of the report required by this section. If the seller made no sales to the particular buyer during the last complete quarter prior to the filing of such report, he shall use estimated current costs of producing and selling the tires or tubes to the particular buyer rather than actual costs. However, within sixty days after the first three months of actual production of the tires or tubes for the particular buyer, the seller must file the report required by paragraph (c) using actual costs for the three-month period. If the seller elects to determine his maximum price under (2) above, the cost shall be the aggregate actual costs of producing and selling all tires and tubes sold to the particular buyer during the accounting period for which a maximum aggregate price is being determined.

(6) Computation of mark-up. The percentage mark-up to be applied under (1) or (2) above shall be the average mark-up on all sales of tires and tubes to the particular buyer during any ninety-day period between July 1, 1941, and December 31, 1941. The mark-up shall be determined by subtracting from the total aggregate net sales of tires and tubes to the particular buyer during the period selected, the total actual aggregate costs as described in subparagraph (5) above, and expressing the remainder as a percentage of the total aggregate costs. If the seller made no sales to the particular buyer between July 1, 1941, and December 31, 1941, he shall use a percentage mark-up consistent with percentage mark-ups determined under this section.

(c) Reports and approvals of prices. (1) A manufacturer who determines any maximum prices under paragraph (b) (1) of this section shall file the report required by this paragraph with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within thirty days after the effective date of this regulation or within ten days after the particular buyer first agrees to buy tires or tubes for which a maximum price must be determined under this section, whichever is later.

A manufacturer may not accept payment for any such tires or tubes (unless specifically authorized to do so by the Office of Price Administration) until the reported maximum prices are approved by the Office of Price Administration. The reported maximum prices, however, shall be deemed to be approved unless within twenty days after the mailing of the report (or within twenty days after the mailing of any additional information which may have been requested), the Office of Price Administration notifies the manufacturer that his reported maximum prices have been disapproved or that action thereon has been deferred pending receipt of further information. The Office of Price Administration may approve or disapprove, and may at any time after approval, correct maximum prices reported under this section so as to make them consistent with the level of maximum prices established by this section.

The report to be filed by the manufacturer shall contain the following information:

(i) Name and address of the brand owner, and the brand or brands of tires or tubes being priced.

(ii) Total aggregate net sales of tires and tubes to the particular brand owner during any ninety-day period between July 1, 1941, and December 31, 1941 (specifying the ninety-day period used).

(iii) Total actual aggregate costs applicable to sales reported in (ii) above showing as separate sub-totals:

(a) Total factory costs.
(b) Total warehousing and shipping expense.
(c) Total administrative expense.
(d) Total other commercial expense, if any.

(iv) A description of the method used in determining items (b), (c), and (d) under (iii) above.

(v) The percentage mark-up on cost resulting from sales during period selected in (ii) above. (If the seller made no sales to the particular buyer between July 1, 1941, and December 31, 1941, he shall report the mark-up requested and state why it is consistent with other mark-ups determined to this section.)

(vi) Unit costs (showing same subtotals required in (iii) above) for each size and type of tire or tube for which a maximum price is being determined. The costs reported shall be actual costs of producing and selling the tire or tube to the particular buyer for the last complete quarter prior to the filing of the report, computed by the same method of computing costs as the method actually used during the ninety-day period reported under (ii). If no sales were made to the particular buyer during that quarter, estimated current production and sales expenses shall be reported for each size. If estimated costs must be used, the information required by this subdivision (vi) shall be refiled with the Office of Price Administration not later than sixty days after the first three months of production and sales to the particular buyer. At the time of refiling, actual costs for the three-month period shall be reported for each size and type of tire or tube, and new prices must be reported based on such actual costs.

(2) A manufacturer who determines any maximum prices under subparagraph (b) (2) of this section shall submit reports as required under subparagraph (1) above, but need not include the information required by subdivision (vi).

(d) Records required by this section. Any manufacturer who determines any maximum prices under paragraph (b) (2) or (b) (3) of this section shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, accurate records for each particular buyer whose maximum prices are determined under this section. The records shall include total aggregate costs showing sub-totals for factory costs, warehousing and shipping expense, administrative expense, and other commercial expense, computed by the same method of computing costs as the method actually used during the ninety-day period reported under (c). The requirements of this paragraph (d) are in addition to the record requirements set forth in section 10 for all sellers at wholesale.

SEC. 6. Factory seconds. The maximum price for any factory second tire or tube shall be determined by deducting from the maximum wholesale price (including any increase permitted by section 3 or 4) which would apply if the tire or tube were not a factory second, the following percentage discounts:

	Percent
Passenger car tires	25
All other tires	20

"Factory second" means a new tire or tube from which the brand name has been removed by the manufacturer or brand owner or upon which the manufacturer or brand owner has placed a special identifying mark to indicate that he has found it to be defective in his final inspection.

SEC. 7. Tires and tubes which cannot be priced under any other section. (a) The maximum wholesale price for sales of tires or tubes which cannot be priced under any other section shall be a price consistent with the level of maximum wholesale prices fixed by this regulation, specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration or calculated by the seller after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration. In each case covered by this section, the seller must file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a report containing the following information before offering the tires or tubes for sale:

(1) A description of the tire or tube for which a maximum price is sought, including the type, brand name, size, number of plies, and construction.

(2) A statement of the reasons why such tires or tubes cannot be priced under any other section.

(3) A proposed maximum retail price, and proposed maximum wholesale prices for all classes of buyers for whom maximum wholesale prices are to be established.

(4) A description of the proposed pricing method and a statement of the reasons why he believes that the use of this method will result in maximum prices which are consistent with the level of maximum wholesale prices fixed by this regulation.

(b) No seller required to report a maximum price under this section may offer the tires or tubes for sale (unless specifically authorized to do so by the Office of Price Administration) until the proposed maximum price is approved by the Office of Price Administration. The proposed maximum price, however, shall be deemed to be approved unless, within twenty days after mailing of the report (or within twenty days after the mailing of all additional information which may have been requested), the Office of Price Administration notifies the seller that his proposed maximum price has been disapproved or that action thereon has been deferred pending receipt of further information.

(c) The Office of Price Administration may approve or disapprove, and may at any time after approval, correct maximum wholesale prices proposed or established under this section so as to bring them into proper relationship with the level of maximum wholesale prices otherwise established by this regulation, and in connection with the approval or correction of such prices may issue orders establishing maximum prices for retail sales as well.

SEC. 8. Federal and State taxes. The Federal excise tax on new tires and tubes, if stated separately by the seller, may be added to the maximum wholesale prices of any new tires and tubes. Any other tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, or processing or use of a tire or tube, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows: If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased.

SEC. 9. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order.

SEC. 10. Records. Every person making a sale or purchase subject to this regulation, of new rubber tires or tubes, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, accurate records of each such sale or purchase showing the date, the name and address of the buyer and seller, the price paid or received, the quantity of each brand, type, and size of new rubber tires or tubes sold or purchased, and whether made of natural or synthetic rubber.

SEC. 11. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[4] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of this license or of one or more maximum price regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sales for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 12. Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded by direct or indirect methods in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of any tire or tube, alone or with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation or other charge, or by tying agreement or other trade understanding, or by making the terms and conditions of sale more burdensome to buyers than those available or in effect during March 1942, or by any other means.

SEC. 13. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 14. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provisions of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[5]

SEC. 15. Applications for adjustment. This section applies to a brand owner whose wholesale maximum prices are out of line with the level of maximum wholesale prices established for brand owners generally. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this regulation, the maximum wholesale prices for sales by such a brand owner may be determined under section 7 of this regulation. The brand owner must make application to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., as required by section 7.

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[MPR 528]

TIRES AND TUBES, RECAPPING AND REPAIRING

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation is issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Insofar as this regulation uses specifications and standards which were not, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry, or insofar as their use was not lawfully required by another Government agency, the Administrator has determined that no practicable alternative exists for securing effective price control with respect to the commodities and services subject to this regulation.

AUTHORITY: § 1315.1603 issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

Appendix E—Minimum quality specifications.

SECTION 1. What this regulation covers—(a) Transactions covered—(1) New tires and tubes. This regulation applies to all retail sales of new rubber tires and tubes for automobiles, trucks, busses, trailers, off-the-road equipment, farm implements, tractors, industrial equipment, and motorcycles. A tire or tube is "new" if it has been used less than 1,000 miles. "Retail sale" means a sale to a buyer for his use and not for resale. This regulation, however, does not apply to sales to any agency of the United States Government; such sales are covered by Maximum Price Regulation 415.[1] Neither does this regulation apply to sales at wholesale; such sales are covered by Revised Maximum Price Regulation 143.

(2) Used tires and tubes. This regulation applies to all sales of used rubber tires and tubes of a size and type listed in Appendix B, except sales for a purpose other than use on a wheel of a vehicle. A tire or tube is "used" if it has been used 1,000 miles or more, or if it is a recapped tire that has been used 1,000 miles or more after latest recapping.

(3) Recapped tires and recapping. This regulation applies to all recapping and all sales of newly recapped tires, in sizes listed in Appendix C, at both the retail and wholesale level. "Recapping" includes retreading and means any process of tread renewal in which rubber is applied to the tread surface of a tire. "Newly recapped tire" means any rubber tire which has been used less than 1,000 miles after latest recapping.

(4) Tire and tube repairing. This regulation applies to all vulcanized repairs to tires of the sizes and types listed in Appendix D, and all repairs, including cold repairs, to tubes (except special purpose tubes), at both the retail and wholesale level. "Vulcanized" refers to repairing by applying external heat. This regulation does not apply to temporary or emergency repairs to tire casings, such as cold patches applied with cement and not vulcanized. Neither does this regulation apply to repairs to special purpose tubes; "special purpose tubes" are tubes defined as such in Table B–VII of Appendix B. (Maximum Price Regulation 165,[2] as amended, covers emergency repairs to tire casings and repairs to special purpose tubes.)

(5) Definition of rubber. "Rubber" means substitute rubber and all types and forms of rubber, including scrap, synthetic, balata, and reclaimed rubber.

(b) Transactions not covered—(1) Sales for export. The Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[3] covers export sales and sales to exporters of any tires or tubes.

(2) Leasing or renting. Maximum Price Regulation 414[4] covers any supplying of tire mileage at stated prices per mile of service. Maximum Price Regulation 165, as amended, covers any other leasing or renting of tires or tubes.

(3) Termination sales under tire mileage contracts. Maximum Price Regulation 414 covers any termination sale or transfer of tires or tubes under a tire mileage contract.

(c) Relation to other regulations. This regulation supersedes any other regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration, including Revised Price Schedules 63[5] and 66,[6] as amended, Maximum Price Regulations 107,[7] and 165, as amended, and the General Maximum Price Regulation,[8] as to transactions covered by this regulation.

(d) Geographical applicability. This regulation applies in the 48 States of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the territories and possessions of the United States.

SEC. 2. Prohibition against dealing in tires and tubes, recapping and repairing at prices above the maximum. On and after the effective date of this regulation, no person shall sell or deliver, or recap or repair any tire or tube, and no person shall buy or receive any tire or tube or any recapping or repairing service in the course of trade or business, at a price higher than the maximum price fixed by this regulation, regardless of any contract or other obligation. No person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing. Lower prices may, of course, be charged.

"Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, any other organized group of persons, legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, its agencies, other governments, their political subdivisions, and their agencies.

SEC. 3. Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded by direct or indirect methods in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of any tire or tube, alone or with any other commodity, or in connection with the recapping or repairing of any tire or tube, or by way of commission, service, transportation or other charge, or by tying agreement or other trade understanding, or by making the terms and conditions of sale more onerous to buyers than they were during March 1942 (except as specifically permitted by this regulation).

SEC. 4. Trade in allowance. The seller must deduct from the maximum price of the tire or tube being sold a fair allowance for any tire or tube traded in to the seller by the buyer in connection with the sale. The "fair allowance" shall be the market price of the traded tire or tube in the seller's locality. If the traded tire or tube has no market value in the seller's locality, no allowance is required.

SEC. 5. Extra charges for repairs—(a) Used tires and tubes and recapped tires. No extra charge for repairs may be added to the maximum price of a sound used tire or tube or to the maximum price of a newly recapped tire when the tire carcass is furnished by the seller.

(b) Recapping. Where necessary repairs are made to a tire carcass furnished by the buyer for recapping, the seller may add to the maximum recapping price an amount not exceeding the maximum price for the repairs, provided he bills it separately in accordance with section 10.

SEC. 6. Extra charges for extra services other than repairs—(a) Meaning of extra service and extra charge. "Extra charge" means a charge which may be added to the applicable maximum price when an extra service is actually supplied in connection with a tire or tube sale or a recapping or repairing job. "Extra service" means a service (other than repairs) that is generally recognized as giving the buyer something in addition to the tire or tube or to the completed recapping or repairing job. The chief examples of such extra services are: extension of credit, mounting and demounting, loaning tires, and pick-up and delivery between the seller and buyer.

(b) Extra services offered during March 1942. This paragraph (b) states the rules for figuring maximum extra charges which apply to extra services offered during March 1942.

(1) No extra charge may be made for a service if the seller customarily supplied or offered that service during March 1942, and did not have a separate extra charge then in effect for it.

(2) A seller may charge the maximum price for tires or tubes or for recapping or repairing only if he continues to supply all services which he customarily supplied or offered and included in his price with no separate extra charge during March 1942. For any service which he discontinues, he must deduct from his maximum price the highest charge made for that service during March 1942 by his most closely competitive seller who had a separate extra charge in effect for that service.

(3) A seller who supplies an extra service for which he had an extra charge in effect during March 1942, may add an amount not exceeding his highest price then in effect for that extra service to the maximum price for tires or tubes or for recapping or repairing. He must bill such extra charge separately.

(4) Maximum extra charges shall be figured under paragraph (c) for any extra service which the seller did not supply or offer during March 1942.

(5) This subparagraph (5) applies if the business, assets, or stock in trade are sold or otherwise transferred after March 1942 and the transferee carries on the business, or continues to deal in the same type of commodities or service in an establishment separate from any other such establishment previously owned or operated by him. In such a case, the rules for extra services and for adding extra service charges which apply to the transferee shall be the same as those which would apply to his transferor if no such transfer had taken place.

(c) Extra services not offered during March 1942. This paragraph (c) states the rules for figuring maximum extra charges which apply to extra services not offered during March 1942. The maximum extra charge which the seller may add to the maximum price for tires or tubes or for recapping or repairing shall be the same as the maximum extra charge for the the same extra service of his most closely competitive seller who had a separate extra charge in effect during March 1942 for that service. The seller must bill such extra charge separately.

(d) No seller may require as a condition of sale that the buyer must receive any service for which the seller makes an extra charge, other than necessary repairs to the tire carcass in connection with recapping.

SEC. 7. Federal and State taxes. The Federal excise tax on new tires and tubes, if stated separately by the seller, may be added to the maximum prices of new tires and tubes. Any tax upon or incident to, the sale, delivery, or processing or use of a tire or tube or recapping or repairing, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows: If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased.

SEC. 8. Posting of prices. Every person engaged in the business of selling tires or tubes at retail, in the business of recapping tires, or in the business of repairing tires or tubes, shall keep posted at each place of business in a manner plainly visible to the purchasing public, the following, clearly identified as such:

SEC. 11. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order.

SEC. 12. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[1] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more maximum price regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 13. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 14. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provisions of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[2]

APPENDIX A—MAXIMUM RETAIL PRICES FOR NEW TIRES AND TUBES

(a) Passenger car and motorcycle tires and tubes—(1) Synthetic rubber tires and tubes. The prices set forth in Tables A–I and A–II are the maximum retail prices for new synthetic rubber passenger car and motorcycle tires and tubes of the sizes and plies listed in those tables. A "synthetic rubber" tire or tube means a tire or tube which contains any synthetic rubber and which is marked with the symbol designated by the War Production Board, Office of Rubber Director, to identify it as containing synthetic rubber. This symbol is an "S3" in the case of tires, and a colored circumferential band in the case of tubes.

(2) Natural rubber tires and tubes other than Exhibit C. The prices set forth in brand owners' retail price lists in effect on February 1, 1944, shall be the maximum retail prices for the new natural rubber passenger car and motorcycle tires and tubes listed in such price lists. If the prices set forth in such lists for passenger car tires and tubes do not include the 16 percent increase resulting from the Dealer Tire Return Plan, that amount may be added to such prices.

(3) Exhibit C tires and tubes. The retail prices set forth in Exhibit C, filed by manufacturers or distributors in March 1942 with the Office of Price Administration, shall be the maximum retail prices for the new natural rubber passenger car tires or tubes listed in such exhibits. Information concerning these prices can usually be obtained from the brand owner of the tire or tube, or it will be furnished upon request by the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(4) Reclaimed rubber war tires. The prices set forth in Table A–III are the maximum retail prices for new passenger car reclaimed rubber war tires of a size and ply listed in that table. A "reclaimed rubber war tire" means a passenger car tire which has been manufactured primarily of reclaimed rubber under restrictions of the War Production Board and which has the words "War Tire" marked on the sidewall.

(b) Tires and tubes other than passenger car and motorcycle. (1) The prices set forth in Tables A–IV and A–V are the maximum retail prices for new tires and tubes (other than passenger car and motorcycle) of a type, size and ply listed in such tables, whether constructed from natural, synthetic or reclaimed rubber.

(2) For tires or tubes not listed in Tables A–IV and A–V, the prices set forth in brand owners' retail price lists in effect on February 1, 1944, shall be the maximum retail prices for new tires and tubes (other than passenger car and motorcycle) of the types, sizes and plies listed in such price lists.

(c) Factory second tires and tubes. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b), the maximum retail prices for factory second tires and tubes shall be determined by deducting the following minimum discounts from the maximum retail price which would apply if the tire or tube were not a factory second:

	Percent
All tubes	25
All other tires	20

"Factory second" means a new tire or tube from which the brand name has been removed by the manufacturer or brand owner or upon which the manufacturer or brand owner has placed a special identifying mark to indicate that he has found it to be defective in his final inspection.

(d) Tires and tubes which cannot be priced under paragraphs (a), (b) or (c). The maximum retail price for a new tire or tube which can not be priced under paragraphs (a), (b) or (c), shall be a price consistent with the level of maximum prices otherwise fixed by this regulation, specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration. No seller may offer for sale a tire or tube covered by this paragraph until a maximum retail price has been approved by the Office of Price Administration. Applications for maximum retail prices under this paragraph may be filed by any seller, including the manufacturer or distributor of a tire or tube. Such applications must be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., and must contain the following information:

(1) A description of the tire or tube for which a maximum retail price is sought, including the type, brand name, size, number of plies and construction.

(2) A statement of the reasons why the tire or tube cannot be priced under paragraphs (a), (b), or (c) of this Appendix A.

(3) A proposed maximum retail price, a description of the proposed pricing method, and a statement of the reasons why the seller believes that the use of this method will result in a maximum retail price which is consistent with the level of maximum prices fixed by this regulation.

The Price Administrator may approve or disapprove, and may at any time after approval correct maximum retail prices proposed or established under this paragraph so as to make them consistent with the level of prices otherwise established by this regulation. If approval of a maximum wholesale price is required, application must be made in accordance with the provisions of section 7 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 142, and in connection with the approval or correction of maximum wholesale prices under Revised Maximum Price Regulation 143, the Price Administrator may issue orders establishing maximum retail prices.

repairs needed by the tubes being sold. In the case of unrepaired used special purpose tubes, the seller shall deduct the total of his maximum prices for the repairs needed by the tube being sold. However, the maximum prices of unrepaired tubes shall in no case be less than the prices set forth in Table B–VIII.

(f) Maximum prices where minimum quality specifications are not met. (1) The maximum prices for sound used tires and tubes which have been made sound by repairs, apply only when the repairing complies with the minimum quality specifications set forth in Appendix E.

(2) If any such repair does not comply with the minimum quality specifications in Appendix E, then as to the repair which does not so comply, the tire or tube shall be considered an unrepaired used tire or tube and shall be priced as such under paragraph (b) or (e).

(g) Sales on a per ton basis. (1) The maximum prices fixed by the other paragraphs of this appendix are on a per tire or tube basis. Used tires and tubes may not be sold at a bulk price unless the seller has applied for and received approval under this paragraph (g) to make sales of used tires or tubes at per ton prices.

(2) A seller who wishes to sell used tires on a per ton basis, or used tubes on a per ton basis, must file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., an application for approval of his proposed per ton price. (NOTE: This paragraph applies only to used tires or tubes and no applications will be approved under this paragraph for sales of mixed lots of used and scrap tires or tubes. Sales of mixed lots of scrap and used tires or tubes shall be considered sales of scrap tires or tubes if the used tires or tubes are not segregated from the scrap.) The application must include the following information:

(i) A statement as to whether his application covers used tires or used tubes, and the source of supply of the used tires or tubes.

(ii) The number of tons involved, and the number and percent in weight of passenger car tires or tubes, and the number and percent in weight of truck and bus tires or tubes.

(iii) For passenger car sizes, the percent usable as is, and the percent which can be made usable with repairs.

(iv) For truck and bus sizes, the range of sizes, the predominating size or sizes, the percent usable as is, and the percent which can be made usable with repairs.

(v) The proposed per ton price, and the reasons why the seller believes such price is consistent with the level of maximum prices fixed by this appendix.

(3) The maximum per ton price under this paragraph shall be a price consistent with the level of maximum prices fixed by this appendix, specifically approved by the Office of Price Administration. The seller may not offer to sell used tires or used tubes at a per ton price (unless specifically authorized to do so by the Office of Price Administration) until the Office of Price Administration has approved a maximum per ton price. The proposed maximum price, however, shall be deemed to be approved unless within twenty days after the mailing of the application (or within twenty days after the mailing of any additional information which may have been requested), the Office of Price Administration notifies the seller that his proposed maximum per ton price has been disapproved or that action thereon has been deferred pending receipt of further information. Within this period, the Office of Price Administration may, if it is deemed necessary, have an inspection of the used tires or used tubes made by one of its representatives. The Office of Price Administration may approve or disapprove, and may at any time after approval, correct maximum prices proposed or established under this paragraph so as to make them consistent with the level of maximum prices fixed by this appendix.

(h) Definitions. (1) "Tires with continuous tread design" mean tires not worn smooth for four or more consecutive inches in any direction, except regrooved and remolded tires.

(2) "Smooth tires" mean tires worn smooth for four or more consecutive inches in any direction, but not worn to the breaker strip at any point, and regrooved and remolded tires.

(3) "Basic tire carcasses" mean tires which should be recapped. Tires that should be recapped are:

(i) Worn to breaker strip at any point.

(ii) If passenger car tires, not worn through more than one body ply at any point. Moreover, if worn into body ply, the worn spot must not exceed a total length of four inches in any direction.

(iii) If truck or bus tires, not worn through more than two body plies at any point. Moreover, if worn into body plies, the worn spot must not exceed a total length of four inches in any direction.

(4) "Unsound tires" include tires which have any of the following:

(i) Fly separation.

(ii) Broken or exposed bead wires.

(iii) Breaks in the bead reinforcement plies.

(iv) Breaks or cuts in the carcass longer than half the width of the tire cross section.

(5) "Spot repair" means a vulcanized repair which in accordance with recognized commercial practice is applied to such tire damage as: surface blisters, cuts, and other injuries which can be satisfactorily repaired without fabric reinforcement, small injuries to not more than one ply in a four ply tire and to not more than two plies in a six ply tire; small injuries to not more than one-fourth of the total plies in heavier tires.

(6) "Reinforcement repair" means a vulcanized repair requiring fabric reinforcement which in accordance with recognized commercial practice is applied to such tire damage as worn tread spots or other injuries which involved ply damage exceeding that to which a spot repair should be applied but where as least two of the plies are sound and uninjured.

(7) "Sectional repair" means a vulcanized repair requiring fabric reinforcement which in accordance with recognized commercial practice is applied to such tire damage as breaks or cuts through the entire tire casing, nail holes enlarged by prolonged neglect, or other injuries which do not leave two of the plies sound and uninjured and thus involve ply damage exceeding that to which a reinforcement repair should be applied.

APPENDIX C—MAXIMUM PRICES FOR RECAPPED TIRES AND RECAPPING

(a) Retail sales (to a buyer for his use and not for resale)—(1) By seller who actually did the recapping—(i) Recapping (tire carcass furnished by buyer.) The maximum prices for recapping tires are the prices set forth in Tables C-I to C-VI, inclusive, for the applicable recapping operations.

(ii) Recapped tires (tire carcass furnished by seller.) The maximum price for the sale of a recapped tire is the sum of the maximum price for the applicable recapping operation plus the maximum price set forth in Tables C-I to C-VI, inclusive, for the particular tire carcass which is furnished by the seller.

(2) By seller who did not do the recapping—(i) Recapping (tire carcass furnished by buyer). The seller may add to the maximum price fixed by (1) above for this type of sale, the actual transportation expense paid by him in having the tire recapped. If the seller transports the tire himself, he may add to the maximum price fixed by (1), an amount not exceeding the cost of transportation by the common carrier having the lowest rate between the seller's and the actual recapper's shipping points. Where more than one tire is involved in a shipment, each tire may be charged only with its proportionate share of the total transportation expense incurred by the seller, and the total of the amounts added for transportation of all the tires in a shipment shall not exceed the total transportation expense of the seller for that shipment. The amount added for transportation expense must be stated separately from the maximum price.

(ii) Recapped tires (tire carcass furnished by the seller). The maximum prices are those fixed by (1) for this type of sale, and no additional charge may be made for transportation expenses.

(b) Wholesale sales (to a buyer for resale)—(1) Discounts—(i) Recapping (tire carcass furnished by buyer). The maximum wholesale price for recapping a tire shall be determined by deducting from the applicable maximum prices set forth in Tables C-I to C-VI, inclusive, a discount of at least 20 percent. If the seller had in effect on February 1, 1944, to a buyer of the same class for the same type of recapping a percentage discount greater than 20 percent, he must deduct a percentage discount at least as large as he had in effect on February 1, 1944, to that class of buyer. However, in no case is a discount greater than 35 percent required. If the seller did not have any percentage discount in effect on February 1, 1944, to a buyer of the same class for the same type of recapping, he must determine his percentage discount under subparagraph (2) below.

(ii) Recapped tires (tire carcass furnished by seller). The maximum wholesale price for a recapped tire shall be the maximum price for the recapping service supplied as calculated under (i) above, plus the maximum price set forth in Tables C-I to C-VI, inclusive, for the particular tire carcass which is furnished by the seller. The discount required under (i) above shall not apply to the maximum price for the tire carcass.

(2) Transportation expenses. No seller shall require any buyer and no buyer shall be permitted to pay a larger proportion of transportation expense than the seller required buyers of the same class to pay during February 1944 in connection with the delivery of tires for recapping and of recapped tires.

(3) Sellers who cannot apply (1) or (2) above. The percentage discounts to be deducted under (1) above, and the proportion of transportation expense to be borne under (2) above, by a seller who cannot make these determinations in accordance with (1) and (2), shall be consistent with those established by this regulation for competitive sellers in the same locality, specifically approved upon application by the seller to the appropriate District Office of the Office of Price Administration. The Price Administrator or any Regional Administrator, or any District Director so authorized by his Regional Administrator, may approve or disapprove and may, at any time after approval, correct discount and transportation provisions proposed or established under this subparagraph (3) so as to bring them into line with the level of such provisions otherwise fixed by this regulation.

(c) Maximum prices where minimum quality specifications are not met. (1) The maximum prices fixed by paragraphs (a) and (b) apply only when the recapping of a tire carcass furnished by the buyer of the recapped tire (tire carcass furnished by the seller) comply with the minimum quality specifications set forth in Appendix E.

(2) No charge may be made for recapping a tire carcass furnished by the buyer when the recapping does not comply with the minimum quality specifications in Appendix E.

(3) The maximum price for a recapped tire which does not comply with the minimum quality specifications in Appendix E shall be the maximum price which that tire would have as a used tire under Appendix B if it had not been recapped.

(d) Definitions. (1) "Grades A, C, and F camelback" mean camelback which complies with the specifications issued by the War Production Board for Grades A, C, and F camelback, respectively.

(2) "Passenger car type of tread" includes any tread of a type generally recognized as designed primarily for use on passenger automobiles.

(3) "Studded ground-grip type of tread" is a passenger car type of tread and includes any such tread designed for traction through mud, snow, sand, or soft ground.

(4) "Stop-start type of tread" must have at least 1⅔₂ inch tread design depth at the center circumference of the tire and must contain at least as much rubber in the undertread as, and a tread design depth at the center circumference of the tire which is at least ⅔₂ inch deeper than, the conventional truck and bus type of tread of the same recapper for the same size of tire. Stop-start type of tread includes any such extra heavy tread of a type generally recognized as designed primarily for city commercial use on trucks or busses.

(5) "Conventional truck and bus type of tread" includes any tread of a type generally recognized as designed primarily for ordinary "on the road" use on trucks or busses.

(6) "Ground-grip type of tread" must contain at least as much rubber in the undertread and have a tread design depth at the center circumference of the tire which is at least ⅔₂ inch deeper than the conventional truck and bus type of tread of the same recapper for the same size of tire. Ground-grip type of tread includes any such tread of a deep-cut, cleated type generally recognized as designed primarily for use on trucks for traction through mud, snow, sand, or soft ground.

(7) "Road grader type of tread" includes any tread of a type generally recognized as designed primarily for "off the pavement" use on the power driven wheels of highway maintenance and road construction machinery for traction through mud, snow, sand, or soft earth.

(8) "Earth mover type of tread" includes any tread of a type generally recognized as designed primarily for providing flotation in soft earth for "off the road" use on earth moving vehicles.

(9) "Rock service type of tread" includes any extra heavy tread of a type generally recognized as designed primarily for heavy duty service on rocks or gravel in such work as earth hauling, quarrying, logging, and road building.

(10) "Farm tractor type of tread" includes any tread of a type generally recognized as designed primarily for use on farm tractors.

(11) "Rice and cane special service type of tread" includes any deep-cut, high cleated tread of a type generally recognized as designed primarily for use in muck and water.

(12) "Motorcycle type of tread" includes any tread of a type generally recognized as designed primarily for use on motorcycles.

APPENDIX D—MAXIMUM PRICES FOR TIRE AND TUBE REPAIRING

(a) Retail sales (to a buyer for his use and not for resale)—(1) By seller who actually did the repairing. Maximum prices for repairing tires or tubes are the prices set forth for such repairing in Tables D-I to D-IV, inclusive.

(2) By seller who did not do the repairing. The seller may add to the maximum price fixed by (1) above, the actual transportation expense paid by him in having the tire or tube repaired. If the seller transports the tire or tube himself, he may add to the maximum price fixed by (1), an amount not exceeding the cost of transportation by the common carrier having the lowest rate between the seller's and the actual repairer's shipping points. Where more than one tire or tube is involved in a shipment, each tire or tube may be charged only with its proportionate share of the total transportation expense incurred by the seller, and the total of the amounts added for transportation of all the tires or tubes in a shipment shall not exceed the total transportation expense of the seller for that shipment. The amount added for transportation expense must be stated separately from the maximum price.

(b) Wholesale sales (to a buyer for resale)—(1) Discounts. The maximum wholesale price for repairing a tire or tube shall be determined by deducting from the applicable maximum prices set forth in Tables D-I to D-IV, inclusive, a discount of at least 20 percent. If the seller had in effect on February 1, 1944, to a buyer of the same class for the same type of repairing a percentage discount greater than 20 percent, he must deduct a percentage discount at least as large as he had in effect on February 1, 1944, to that class of buyer. However, in no case is a discount greater than 35 percent required. If the seller did not have any percentage discount in effect on February 1, 1944, to a buyer of the same class for the same type of repairing, he must determine his percentage discount under subparagraph (3) below.

(2) Transportation expenses. No seller shall require any buyer and no buyer shall be permitted to pay a larger proportion of transportation expense than the seller required buyers of the same class to pay during February 1944 in connection with the delivery of tires or tubes for repairing and of repaired tires or tubes.

(3) Sellers who cannot apply (1) or (2) above. The percentage discounts to be deducted under (1) above, and the proportion of transportation expenses to be borne under (2) above, by a seller who cannot make these determinations in accordance with (1) and (2), shall be consistent with those established by this regulation for competitive sellers in the same locality, specifically approved upon application by the seller to the appropriate District Office of the Office of Price Administration. The Price Administrator or any Regional Administrator, or any District Director so authorized by his Regional Administrator, may approve or disapprove and may, at any time after approval, correct discount and transportation provisions proposed or established under this subparagraph (3) so as to bring them into line with the level of such provisions otherwise fixed by this regulation.

(c) Maximum prices where minimum quality specifications are not met. The maximum prices fixed by paragraphs (a) and (b) apply only when the repairing complies with the minimum quality specifications set forth in Appendix E. No charge may be made for repairing which does not comply with the minimum quality specifications in Appendix E.

(d) Definitions. (1) Tire sizes are given in cross-sectional markings. Each size includes all tires in that cross-sectional group regardless of the rim diameter.

(2) "Spot repair" means a vulcanized repair which in accordance with recognized commercial practice is applied to such tire damage as: surface blisters, cuts, and other injuries which can be satisfactorily repaired without fabric reinforcement; small injuries to not more than one ply in a four ply tire and to not more than two plies in a six ply tire; small injuries to not more than one-fourth of the total plies in heavier tires.

(3) "Reinforcement repair" means a vulcanized repair requiring fabric reinforcement which in accordance with recognized commercial practice is applied to such tire damage as worn spots or other injuries which involved ply damage exceeding that to which a spot repair should be applied but where at least two of the plies are sound and uninjured.

(4) "Sectional repair" means a vulcanized repair requiring fabric reinforcement which in accordance with recognized commercial practice is applied to such tire damage as breaks or cuts through the entire tire casing, nail holes enlarged by prolonged neglect, or other injuries which do not leave two of the plies sound and uninjured and thus involve ply damage exceeding that to which a reinforcement repair should be applied.

If the well is located on non-sectionalized land, the drilling unit must consist of at least 40 contiguous surface acres, no portion of which falls within 300 feet of any other well on the same lease of property drilling to or producible from any pool below the base of the Fredonia formation, and the distance between any two points farthest apart on the drilling unit must not exceed a distance of 2,100 feet. At least 10 contiguous surface acres which surround the well and which are included within the drilling unit shall not be attributable to or fall within 200 feet of any other drilling or producible well located on the same lease or property; and

(ii) All separate property interests, with respect to all pools below the base of the Fredonia formation, in the drilling unit upon which the well is located must first be consolidated; and

(iii) The well must be located at least 500 feet from every other well drilling to or producible from any pool above the base of the Aux Vases formation, and at least 900 feet from every other well drilling to or producible from any pool below the base of the Aux Vases formation; and

(iv) The well must be located at least 300 feet from every lease line, property line, and subdivision line separating unconsolidated property interests with respect to all pools below the base of the Fredonia formation.

For all purposes of this paragraph (c) any well spudded prior to the effective date of this supplementary order and located on sectionalized land approximately in the center of a quarter-quarter section or approximately in the center of one-half of a quarter-quarter section may be deemed to be located at the nearest center of a quarter of a quarter-quarter section attributed or attributable to the well, provided no other drilling or producible well is located on that quarter of a quarter-quarter section.

(d) Computation of acreage attributable to oil wells in the Illinois Basin. (1) The acreage attributable to any oil well in the Illinois Basin spudded on or before December 23, 1941, shall be determined by assigning to the well an acreage equivalent to that of the existing well density contiguous to the well. The acreage attributed to any well, however, need not be greater than that required for a new well drilled to and completed in the same horizon pursuant to this supplementary order.

(2) The acreage attributable to any oil well in the Illinois Basin spudded after December 23, 1941, need not be greater than that required for a new well drilled to and completed in the same horizon pursuant to this supplementary order.

(e) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this supplementary order, or who, by any act or omission, falsifies records kept or information furnished in connection with this supplementary order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this supplementary order may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or may be subject to other appropriate action.

[Docket No. G-536]

WISCONSIN SOUTHERN GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 17, 1944.

Notice is hereby given that on March 29, 1944, an application was filed by the Wisconsin Southern Gas Company, a Wisconsin corporation having its principal place of business in Burlington, Wisconsin, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to authorize the construction and operation of the facilities hereinafter described.

The Applicant asserts that it is now engaged in the manufacture and distribution of manufactured gas in a number of municipalities in Racine and Walworth Counties, Wisconsin, including Burlington, Lake Geneva, Williams Bay, Delavan, Elkhorn and adjoining areas.

The proposed construction consists of a 4-inch gas pipe line approximately 50,000 feet in length extending from the city of Lake Geneva, Walworth County, Wisconsin, to the Wisconsin-Illinois state line, at or near the town of Genoa City, Wisconsin, for the purpose of connecting the gas distribution system of the Applicant with the natural-gas pipe-line facilities of the Natural Gas Pipe Line Company of America.

It appears from the application that the Wisconsin Southern Gas Company, upon completion of the proposed facilities, expects to interconnect such facilities with the natural-gas transmission system of the Natural Gas Pipe Line Company of America, and thereby obtain an adequate supply of natural gas which the Applicant proposes to substitute for manufactured gas for distribution in the communities and area which it presently serves in the State of Wisconsin.

Applicant asserts that the proposed facilities will make it possible to furnish industrial customers engaged in War work with gas from an adequate and reliable source, and supply several of its industrial customers with additional quantities of gas, enabling them to increase their War production work.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should, on or before the 8th day of May 1944, file with the Federal Power Commission a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act.

Secretary.

[Docket No. 5151]

CARADINE HAT CO.

COMPLAINT AND NOTICE OF HEARING

Complaint

Pursuant to the provisions of an act of Congress approved October 15, 1914, entitled "An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes" (the Clayton Act), as amended by an act approved June 19, 1936, entitled "An Act to amend section 2 of the act entitled 'An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies and for other purposes' approved October 15, 1914, as amended (U.S.C., Title 15, section 13) and for other purposes" (the Robinson-Patman Act), the Federal Trade Commission having reason to believe that Caradine Hat Company, a corporation, is violating and has been violating the provisions of the said Clayton Act as amended, hereby issues its complaint, stating its charges in that respect as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. The respondent, Caradine Hat Company, is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Missouri, with its principal office and place of business located at 8 South 4th Street, St. Louis, Missouri. The respondent is directly engaged, and is also indirectly engaged through its various subsidiaries, in the business of importing, manufacturing, distributing, and selling various types, styles, and grades of hats, and has sold and sells such products to four groups of customers: jobbers; retail chain stores; independent retailers; and retailers who are members of, or affiliated with, certain buying organizations.

The respondent facilitates its sales by the use of a staff of traveling salesmen who travel in various states of the United States soliciting and securing orders. Many additional orders are secured from customers through the mails after solicitation by salesmen and others.

The respondent owns in their entirety a number of subsidiaries, some of which are listed below. Each of said subsidiaries has its principal office located at 18 South 4th Street, St. Louis, Missouri.

The Superior Hat Company.
William T. Christmas Company.
Cardinal Hat Company.
The Independent Hat Company.
Richard Van Lier, Inc.
Fitwell Hat Company.
Helmet Corporation of America.

PAR. 2. Since June 19, 1936, in the course and conduct of its business the respondent has been and is now importing, manufacturing, selling and distributing various types, styles and grades of hats, and has sold, shipped, and does now sell and ship, such products, in commerce between and among the various states of the United States, from the state in which respondent's principal office, factories and warehouses are located, across state lines to purchasers thereof located in states other than the state in which respondent's principal office, plants and warehouses are located.

PAR. 3. The respondent in the course and conduct of its business since June 19, 1936, has been and is now in substantial competition with other corporations, individuals, partnerships and firms engaged in the business of manufacturing, selling and distributing various types, styles and grades of hats in commerce.

PAR. 4. In the course and conduct of its business as aforesaid, since June 19, 1936, the respondent has been, and is now, in the course of such commerce, directly and indirectly discriminating in price between different purchasers of its hats of like grade and quality, which products are sold for use, consumption, and resale within the several states of the United States, in that the respondent has been, and is now, selling such hats to some purchasers at a higher price than the price at which such hats are sold to other purchasers generally competitively engaged with the favored purchasers.

Respondent effects said discriminations in prices by granting and allowing larger discounts from list prices to its favored customers, and also by selling to some of such favored purchasers at lower net prices than to other competing purchasers. The extent of said discriminations in price varies from differentials of approximately fifteen percent to differentials of approximately thirty percent, depending upon the type and grade of product sold and the purchaser, and also depending upon whether the customer is, or is not, a member of a favored buying organization.

The favored customers generally are affiliated with, or are members of, certain buying organizations, representative of which are the following:

Twin City Wholesale Grocery Co., Minneapolis, Minn.
Allied Clothiers, Kansas City, Mo.
Allied Clothiers, St. Paul, Minn.
Northwestern Buyers and Jobbers, St. Paul, Minn.
Midwest Stores, Inc., Minneapolis, Minn.
Northwestern Purchasing Co., St. Paul, Minn.
Egyptian Retailers' Association, Ramsey, Ill.

The respondent customarily sells its products by having its salesmen call on its customers and solicit their orders. Its favored customers are usually certain retailers who are members of, or affiliated with, certain buying organizations; and its unfavored customers are customarily neither members of, nor affiliated with, such buying organizations.

The method of soliciting and receiving orders from either type of customer is the same. The respondent's salesmen call on such retailers and solicit their orders individually, and transmit such orders to the respondent, who invoices and ships the merchandise to the retailer. The only difference in the method of sale is that the respondent bills and collects from the respective buying organization for the purchase price of the hats purchased by its preferred customer while the nonpreferred customer is billed and pays the respondent direct. Such salesmen, however, call on such preferred and unpreferred customers at their respective and geographically separated places of business, solicit and receive their respective orders, and the respondent delivers its hats, when purchased, to both the favored and unfavored purchasers at their respective places of business.

Each of said preferred firms is a separate, distinct, and independent legal and business entity doing business with respondent as aforesaid, yet the basis upon which respondent grants the preferred net prices, discounts, and other allowances to each of said firms is that respondent considers and treats all the purchasers who are members of or affiliated with each favored buying organization collectively, as constituting the purchases of a single customer, and grants to each of said customers the preferred net prices, discounts, and other allowances which respondent has determined are applicable to a single purchaser who purchases approximately the amount purchased by all collective members of each of the respective buying organizations.

PAR. 5. The effect of the discriminations in prices as hereinbefore set forth may be substantially to lessen competition in the sale and distribution of the said products in the respective lines of commerce in which respondent and its customers are engaged, and has been, and may be, to injure, destroy or prevent competition in the sale and distribution of said products with the respondent and with its customers who receive the benefits of such discriminatory prices.

PAR. 6. Such discriminations in prices by respondent between different purchasers of hats of like grade and quality in interstate commerce in the manner and form aforesaid are in violation of the provisions of section 2 (a) of the act described in the preamble hereof.

Wherefore, the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission on this 15th day of April, A. D. 1944, issues its complaint against said respondent.

Notice

Notice is hereby given you, Caradine Hat Company, a corporation, respondent herein, that the 19th day of May, A. D. 1944, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requiring you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance at the place and on the date above stated be not required, due notice to that effect will be given you. The Rules of Practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule IX) provide as follows:

In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.

Failure of the respondent to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondent, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.

If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondent by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true.

Contemporaneously with the filing of such answer the respondent may give notice in writing that he desires to be heard on the question as to whether the admitted facts constitute the violation of law charged in the complaint. Pursuant to such notice, the respondent may file a brief, directed solely to that question, in accordance with Rule XXIII.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint, to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 15th day of April, A. D. 1944.

By the Commission.

Pursuant to the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and § 1499.18 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, and for the reasons set forth in the accompanying opinion, Order No. G-33 under § 1499.18 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation is hereby redesignated Revised Order No. G-33 under § 1499.18 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation and made to read as follows:

Counties of Mohave and Coconino in the State of Arizona, lying north of the Colorado River.

(b) How maximum prices at retail are established. If you are a seller of animal feeding salt any place in Region VII, you will determine your maximum prices in the following manner:

(1) To the purchase price paid your supplier f. o. b. point of origin, not, however, to exceed your supplier's maximum price as determined in accordance with the applicable regulation, you will add the cost of transportation to your railroad unloading point.

(2) If you do not unload direct from the railroad car into your warehouse or other storage place, you will also add the actual cost of local cartage or trucking, either by common carrier, contract carrier, or in your own conveyance, from the railroad car to your warehouse or other storage place, not, however, to exceed the lowest available cartage, contract carrier, or common carrier rate.

(3) If you buy salt in bulk and sell it in bags furnished by you, you may add the cost of the bags, not, however, to exceed the maximum price established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 55 for used bags or the maximum price established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 151 for new bags.

(4) To your laid-in cost, as determined in accordance with the foregoing paragraphs (1), (2), and (3), you will add a flat margin of 10¢ per cwt. for salt sold and delivered direct from the railroad car in which the shipment was received, and a flat rate of 15¢ per cwt. for salt sold and delivered f. o. b. your warehouse or other storage place; Provided, however, That for block salt sold in less than one-ton lots you will add 7¢ per block when the sale is made direct from the railroad car and 10¢ per block when the sale is made f. o. b. your warehouse or other storage place.

Your maximum price determined in accordance with the foregoing paragraphs (1), (2), (3), and (4) becomes your ceiling price, which must never be exceeded by you in making a sale of animal feeding salt, but you may sell below your ceiling price if you wish to do so.

(c) Higher established maximum prices may be maintained. If as a seller at retail of animal feeding salt you have established under the General Maximum Price Regulation a price that is higher than the price which you are able to establish under paragraph (b) of this Revised Order No. G–33, you may retain such higher maximum price and continue to sell in accordance therewith.

(d) Relation to other regulations. This Revised Order No. G–33 supersedes Order No. G–33 under § 1499.18 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, issued on April 3, 1943, and Amendment No. 1 thereto, issued June 21, 1943, as of the effective date hereof; but except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with or contradictory of any one or more of the terms and provisions of this Revised Order No. G–33, all of the terms and provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation remain in full force and effect and must be complied with by all persons selling animal feeding salt under this Revised Order No. G–33.

(e) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER CO., ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING OF AMENDED APPLICATIONS AND DECLARATIONS AND ORDER RECONVENING HEARING AND GIVING OPPORTUNITY FOR THE FILING OF BRIEFS AND FOR ORAL ARGUMENT

In the matter of Virginia Electric and Power Company, Virginia Public Service Company, Engineers Public Service Company, File No. 70-846; and in the matter of General Gas & Electric Corporation, File No. 70-850.

Applications and declarations having heretofore been filed by Engineers Public Service Company ("Engineers"), a registered holding company, Virginia Electric and Power Company ("Vepco"), a subsidiary company of Engineers, General Gas & Electric Corporation ("Gengas"), a registered holding company, and Virginia Public Service Company ("VPS"), a subsidiary company of Gengas, regarding the acquisition by Engineers from Gengas of all of the common stock of VPS and a claim of Gengas to certain escrow funds, the merger of VPS into Vepco, the issuance by the merged company of bonds, serial notes and preferred stock and other related transactions; and

The Commission having ordered hearings on such matters and hearings having been held before a trial examiner and having been continued subject to the call of the examiner; and

Engineers, Vepco and VPS having now filed an amendment amending in certain respects their proposals, which amendments may be summarized as follows:

1. The merged company will issue and sell $23,000,000 principal amount of 3% bonds instead of $24,500,000 principal amount of 3½% bonds.

2. The merged company will issue $9,000,000 principal amount of 2¼% and 2⅝% ten-year serial notes instead of $5,000,000 principal amount of 2¼% five-year serial notes.

3. Each share of VPS preferred stock will receive one share of new Vepco $5 dividend preferred stock plus, for the 7% VPS preferred stock, $24.50 in cash and for the 6% VPS preferred stock, $19 in cash, together with accrued dividends from March 31, 1944, to the date of the merger. 4. The merged company will restrict dividend payments on its common stock to an extent which will leave in surplus $11,020,000 over a period of ten years as compared with the original proposal of $6,000,000 over a period of five years.

5. Accounting adjustments will be made to write off, at the time of the merger, the excess costs ($5,921,601) to Vepco of the assets acquired over their cost to VPS and the gas plant adjustments ($1,677,707) now included in Vepco plant account. In addition, a reserve of $7,947,076 will be provided for electric and common utility plant adjustments of Vepco in order to permit their elimination when the amounts have been finally determined. The present net acquisition adjustment costs of the two companies aggregating $9,136,339 will be amortised over a period of not exceeding fifteen years by charges to gross income.

6. Vepco has agreed with the State Corporation of Virginia to a reduction in rates of some $300,000 annually, based on present level of use, principally to residential and municipal customers in that part of the area served by VPS where such rates are higher than those now charged by Vepco; and

It appearing to the Commission that a further hearing should be held for the purpose of receiving such evidence as may be relevant and material to such amended proposals, and also that opportunity should be given to interested persons to file briefs and to present oral argument to the Commission:

It is ordered, That the hearing be reconvened at 10:00 a. m. on April 26, 1944, at the offices of the Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, before Richard Townsend, the trial examiner heretofore designated;

All milk delivered by such producer shall be considered as milk delivered in excess of base for a period of two full calendar months following such producer's relinquishment of his base. At the conclusion of two calendar months such producer shall be allotted a new base in the following manner: The market administrator shall determine the daily average deliveries of milk by such producer during the two full calendar months following his relinquishment of base. Such daily average deliveries of milk shall be multiplied by the percentage that base deliveries were to total deliveries of milk to the market during such two calendar months by all base-holding producers on the market during that period.

Copies of this notice of hearing, of the tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, and order, as amended, now in effect, may be procured from the Hearing Clerk, Office of the Solicitor, United States Department of Agriculture, in Room 1331 South Building, Washington, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Dated: April 19, 1944.

Assistant to the War Food Administrator.

(c) During the period from March 1, 1944, to May 31, 1944, inclusive, Park Place Mercantile Company, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall in all ways conduct its operations as if it were a controlled merchant, as defined in Limitation Order L-219, whose mercantile inventory is greater than its inventory limit at the beginning of the quarterly period.

(d) Nothing in this order shall be deemed to relieve Park Place Mercantile Company, Inc., its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall take effect as of the date of issuance, and shall expire on June 1, 1944.

Subchapter A—Income and Excess Profits Taxes

[T. D. 5369]

PART 9—INCOME TAX UNDER THE REVENUE ACT OF 1938

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

BAD DEBTS AND WORTHLESS SECURITIES

In order to conform Regulations 103 [Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Supp.] and Regulations 101 [Part 9, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Supp.] to the provisions of section 504 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (Public Law 235, 78th Congress), enacted February 25, 1944, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.322–1 the following:

SEC. 504. RETROACTIVITY OF SEVEN-YEAR STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS RELATING TO BAD DEBTS. (Revenue Act of 1943.)

Section 169 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1942 (relating to the retroactive effect of section 322 (b) (5) of the Internal Revenue Code) is amended by striking out "after December 31, 1938" and inserting in lieu thereof "after December 31, 1937."

PAR. 2. There is inserted immediately preceding § 9.322–1 the following:

SEC. 169. STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS ON REFUNDS AND CREDITS. (Revenue Act of 1942.)

(a) Limit on amount of credit or refund. Section 322 (b) (2) [of the Internal Revenue Code] is amended to read as follows:

* * * * * * *

(5) Special period of limitation with respect to bad debts and worthless securities.—If the claim for credit or refund relates to an overpayment on account of

(A) the deductibility by the taxpayer, under section 23 (k) (1), section 23 (k) (4), or section 204 (c), of a debt as a debt which became worthless, or, under section 23 (g) (3) or (k) (2), of a loss from worthlessness of a security, or

(B) the effect that the deductibility of a debt or loss described in subparagraph (A) has on the application to the taxpayer of a carry-over or of a carry-back, in lieu of the three-year period of limitation prescribed in paragraph (1), the period shall be 7 years from the date prescribed by law for filing the return for the year with respect to which the claim is made. In the case of such a claim, the amount of the credit or refund may exceed the portion of the tax paid within the period provided in paragraph (2) or paragraph (3), whichever is applicable, to the extent of the amount of the overpayment attributable to the deductibility of items described in this paragraph.

* * * * *

(c) Effective date of amendment. The amendment inserting paragraph (3) of section 322 (b) shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938.

SEC. 504. RETROACTIVITY OF SEVEN-YEAR STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS RELATING TO BAD DEBTS. (Revenue Act of 1943.)

Section 169 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1942 (relating to the retroactive effect of section 322 (b) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code) is amended by striking out "after December 31, 1938" and inserting in lieu thereof "after December 31, 1937".

PAR. 3. Section 9.322–7 is amended as follows:

(A) By amending the last sentence of paragraph (a) thereof to read as follows:

The provisions of this paragraph are subject to the exceptions provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

(B) By inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(c) If the claim for credit or refund relates to an overpayment on account of:

(1) The deductibility by the taxpayer, under section 23 (k) (1), or section 204 (c), of a debt as a debt which became worthless, or, under section 23 (g) (2) or (k) (2), of a loss from the worthlessness of a security, or

(2) The effect that the deductibility of a debt or loss described in subparagraph (1) has on the application to the taxpayer of a carry-over, then in lieu of the three-year period from the date the return was filed in which the claim may be filed or credit or refund allowed or made, as prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section, the period shall be seven years from the date prescribed by law for filing the return (determined without regard to any extension of time for filing such return) for the taxable year for which the claim is made or the credit or refund allowed or made. In the case of such a claim, the amount of the credit or refund may exceed the portion of the tax paid within the period provided in paragraph (a) of this section to the extent of the amount of the overpayment attributable to the deductibility of items described in this paragraph. Such a credit or refund cannot exceed the sum of the following:

(i) The portion, if any, of the tax paid within the period provided in paragraph (a) of this section, and

(ii) The amount of overpayment due to the deductibility of items described in this paragraph.

The portion of an overpayment due to items described above in this paragraph shall be determined by treating the proper deduction of such items as the first adjustment to be made in computing such overpayment. Although claim for credit or refund is not filed and credit or refund is not allowed or made within the seven-year period described in this paragraph, credit or refund may nevertheless be allowed or made if claim therefor is filed or if such credit or refund is allowed or made within the two-year period prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section, subject to the provisions of (a) which limit the amount of credit or refund in the case of a claim filed within such period or, if no claim is filed, in the case of credit or refund allowed or made within such period. The seven-year statute of limitations does not apply to an overpayment due to the deductibility of a debt that became partially worthless during the taxable year, but only to an overpayment due to the deductibility of a debt which became entirely worthless during such year. The provisions of this paragraph with regard to an overpayment caused by the deductibility of a bad debt under section 23 (k) (1), or section 204 (c) or of a loss from the worthlessness of a security under section 23 (g) (2) or (k) (2) are likewise applicable to an overpayment caused by the effect that the deductibility of such a bad debt or loss has on the application to the taxpayer of a carry-over. For the limitation on the allowance of interest for an overpayment where credit or refund is subject to the provisions of section 322 (b) (5), see section 3771 (d) of the Internal Revenue Code, as added by section 124 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1942, and made applicable by section 504 of the Revenue Act of 1943.

(Sec. 504 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (Pub. Law 235, 78th Cong.), section 169 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (56 stat. 876), and sections 62 and 322 of the Revenue Act of 1938 and of the Internal Revenue Code (52 Stat. 490, 544; 53 Stat. 32, 91; 26 U.S.C. 62, 322))

PART 29—INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1941

RECOGNITION OF GAIN AND BASIS OF PROPERTY RECEIVED IN CERTAIN CORPORATE LIQUIDATIONS

Amending Regulations 111 to conform to section 120 of the Revenue Act of 1943, relating to recognition of gain and basis of property received in certain corporate liquidations.

In order to conform Regulations 111 [26 CFR, Cum. Supp., Part 29] to section 120 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (Public Law 235, 78th Congress) enacted February 25, 1944, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 29.27 (g)–1 (a) is amended by inserting immediately before the period at the end of subparagraph (2) the following:

or the gain is taxed as provided in section 112 (b) (7)

PAR. 2. Section 29.112 (a)–1 is amended by inserting immediately after "112 (b) (6)", appearing in the first sentence of the sixth paragraph, "and (7)."

PAR. 3. There is inserted immediately after § 29.112 (b) (6)–5 the following:

SEC. 120. ELECTION AS TO RECOGNITION OF GAIN IN CERTAIN CORPORATE LIQUIDATIONS. (Revenue Act of 1943.)

(a) In general. Section 112 (b) (relating to certain exchanges of property) is amended by inserting after paragraph (6) the following:

(7) Election as to recognition of gain in certain corporate liquidations.

(A) General rule. In the case of property distributed in complete liquidation of a domestic corporation, if—

(i) the liquidation is made in pursuance of a plan of liquidation adopted after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1943, whether the taxable year of the corporation began on, before, or after January 1, 1944; and

(ii) the distribution is in complete cancelation or redemption of all the stock, and the transfer of all the property under the liquidation occurs within some one calendar month in 1944—then in the case of each qualified electing shareholder (as defined in subparagraph (C)) gain upon the shares owned by him at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation shall be recognized only to the extent provided in subparagraphs (E) and (F).

(B) Excluded corporation. The term "excluded corporation" means a corporation which at any time between December 10, 1943, and the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation, both dates inclusive, was the owner of stock possessing 50 per centum or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote on the adoption of such plan.

(C) Qualified electing shareholders. The term "qualified electing shareholder" means a shareholder (other than an excluded corporation) of any class of stock (whether or not entitled to vote on the adoption of the plan of liquidation) who is a shareholder at the time of the adoption of such plan, and whose written election to have the benefits of subparagraph (A) has been made and filed in accordance with subparagraph (D), but—

(i) in the case of a shareholder other than a corporation, only if written elections have been so filed by shareholders (other than corporations) who at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation are owners of stock possessing at least 80 per centum of the total combined voting power (exclusive of voting power possessed by stock owned by corporations) of all classes of stock entitled to vote on the adoption of such plan of liquidation; or

(ii) in the case of a shareholder which is a corporation, only if written elections have been so filed by corporate shareholders (other than an excluded corporation) which at the time of the adoption of such plan of liquidation are owners of stock possessing at least 80 per centum of the total combined voting power (exclusive of voting power possessed by stock owned by an excluded corporation and by shareholders who are not corporations) of all classes of stock entitled to vote on the adoption of such plan of liquidation.

(D) Making and filing of elections. The written elections referred to in subparagraph (C) must be made and filed in such manner as to be not in contravention of regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary. The filing must be within thirty days after the adoption of the plan of liquidation, and may be by the liquidating corporation or by the shareholder.

(E) Noncorporate shareholders. In the case of a qualified electing shareholder other than a corporation—

(i) There shall be recognized, and taxed as a dividend, so much of the gain as is not in excess of his ratable share of the earnings and profits of the corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913, such earnings and profits to be determined as of the close of the month in which the transfer in liquidation occurred under subparagraph (A) (ii), but without diminution by reason of distributions made during such month; but by including in the computation thereof all amounts accrued up to the date on which the transfer of all the property under the liquidation is completed; and

(ii) There shall be recognized, and taxed as short-term or long-term capital gain, as the case may be, so much of the remainder of the gain as is not in excess of the amount by which the value of that portion of the assets received by him which consists of money, or of stock or securities acquired by the corporation after December 10, 1943, exceeds his ratable share of such earnings and profits.

(F) Corporate shareholders. In the case of a qualified electing shareholder which is a corporation the gain shall be recognized only to the extent of the greater of the two following—

(i) The portion of the assets received by it which consists of money, or of stock or securities acquired by the liquidating corporation after December 10, 1943; or

(ii) Its ratable share of the earnings and profits of the liquidating corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913, such earnings and profits to be determined as of the close of the month in which the transfer in liquidation occurred under subparagraph (A) (ii), but without diminution by reason of distributions made during such month; but by including in the computation thereof all amounts accrued up to the date on which the transfer of all the property under the liquidation is completed.

(c) Effective date. The amendments made by subsections (a) and (b) shall be applicable with respect to taxable years ending after December 31, 1943.

§ 29.112 (b) (7)–1 Corporate liquidations in calendar month in 1944.—(a) General. Section 112 (b) (7) provides a special rule, in the case of certain specifically described complete liquidations of domestic corporations occurring within some one calendar month in 1944, for the treatment of gain on the shares of stock owned by qualified electing shareholders at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation. The effect of such section is in general to postpone the recognition of that portion of a qualified electing shareholder's gain on the liquidation which would otherwise be recognized and which is attributable to appreciation in the value of certain corporate assets unrealized by the corporation at the time such assets are distributed in complete liquidation. Only qualified electing shareholders are entitled to the benefits of section 112 (b) (7). The determination of who is a qualified electing shareholder is to be made under section 112 (b) (7) (C) and § 29.112 (b) (7)–2. For the basis of property received on such liquidations, see section 113 (a) (18).

(b) Type of liquidation. The liquidation must be in pursuance of a plan of liquidation adopted after February 25, 1944. Such plan may be adopted at any time after February 25, 1944, and before the first distribution under the liquidation occurs. The Code also requires that the transfer of all the property, both tangible and intangible, of the corporation under the liquidation occur entirely within some one calendar month in 1944, but this requirement will be considered to have been complied with if cash is set aside under arrangements for the payment, after the close of such month, of unascertained or contingent liabilities and expenses, and such arrangements are made in good faith and the amount set aside is reasonable. Though it is not necessary that the corporation dissolve in the month of liquidation, it is essential that a status of liquidation exist at the time the first distribution is made under the plan and that such status continue to the date of dissolution of the corporation. A status of liquidation exists when the corporation ceases to be a going concern and its activities are merely for the purpose of winding up its affairs, paying its debts, and distributing any remaining balance to its shareholders.

If a transaction constitutes a distribution in complete liquidation within the meaning of the Code and satisfies the requirements of section 112 (b) (7), it is immaterial that it is otherwise described under the local law.

§ 29.112 (b) (7)–2 Qualified electing shareholder. No corporate shareholder may be a qualified electing shareholder if at any time between December 10, 1943, and the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation, both dates inclusive, it is the owner of stock of the liquidating corporation possessing 50 percent or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote upon the adoption of the plan of liquidation. All other shareholders are divided into two groups for the purpose of determining whether they are qualified electing shareholders: (a) shareholders other than corporations, and (b) corporate shareholders. Any shareholder of either of such two groups, whether or not the stock he owns is entitled to vote on the adoption of the plan of liquidation, is a qualified electing shareholder if:

(1) His written election to be governed by the provisions of section 112 (b) (7), which cannot be withdrawn or revoked, has been made and filed as prescribed in § 29.112 (b) (7)–3; and

(2) Like elections have been made and filed by owners of stock possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock owned by shareholders of the same group at the time of, and entitled to vote upon, the adoption of the plan of liquidation, whether or not the shareholders making such elections actually realize gain upon the cancellation of redemption of such stock upon the liquidation.

Example. The R Corporation has outstanding 20 shares of common stock on July 1, 1944, at the time of the adoption of a plan of liquidation within the provisions of section 112 (b) (7), each entitled to one vote upon the adoption of such plan of liquidation. At that time ten of such shares are owned by the S Corporation, two each by the X Corporation and the Y Corporation, one by the Z Corporation, and one each by A, B, C, D, and E, individuals. There are also outstanding at such time two shares of preferred stock, not entitled to vote on liquidation, one share being owned by F, an individual, and one share by the P Corporation. The S Corporation, being a corporate shareholder and the owner of 50 percent of the voting stock, may not be a qualified electing shareholder under any circumstances. In order for any other corporate shareholder to be a qualified electing shareholder, it is necessary that the X Corporation and the Y Corporation file their written elections to be governed by section 112 (b) (7). If this is done, the P Corporation will also be a qualified electing shareholder if it has filed a like election. Similarly, in the case of the individual shareholders, some combination of four of the individual holders of the common stock must have filed their written elections, before any individual shareholder may be considered a qualified electing shareholder, but if this is done, F will also be a qualified electing shareholder if he has filed a like election.

An election to be governed by the provisions of section 112 (b) (7) relates to the treatment of gain realized upon the cancellation or redemption of stock upon liquidation and can therefore be made only by or on behalf of the person by whom gains, if any, will be realized. Thus, the shareholder who may make such election must be the actual owner of stock and not a mere record holder, such as a nominee.

A shareholder is entitled to make an election relative to the gain only on stock owned by him at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation. The election is personal to the shareholder making it and does not follow such stock into the hands of the transferee.

§ 29.112 (b) (7)–3 Making and filing of written elections. An election to be governed by section 112 (b) (7) shall be made on Form 964 (revised) in accordance with the instructions printed thereon and with these regulations. The original and one copy shall be filed by the shareholder or by the liquidating corporation with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., attention of the Income Tax Unit, Records Division, within 30 days after the adoption of the plan of liquidation. A copy shall also be attached to and made a part of the shareholder's income tax return for his taxable year in which the transfer of all the property under the liquidation occurs.

§ 29.112 (b) (7)–4 Treatment of gain—(a) Computation of gain. As in the case of shareholders generally, for the purpose of computing gain, amounts received by qualified electing shareholders are treated as in full payment in exchange for their stock, as provided in section 115 (c), and gain from the receipt of such amounts is determined as provided in section 111. Gain or loss must be computed separately on each share of stock owned by a qualified electing shareholder at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation. The limited recognition and special treatment accorded by section 112 (b) (7) applies only to the gain on such shares of stock upon which gain was realized and not to net gain computed by setting off losses realized on some shares against gain on others.

(b) Recognition of gain. Pursuant to section 112 (b) (7) only so much of the gain on each share of stock owned by a qualified electing shareholder at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation is recognised as does not exceed the greater of the following:

(1) Such share's ratable share of the earnings and profits of the corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913, computed as of the last day of the month of liquidation, without diminution by reason of distributions made during such month, and including in such computation all items of income and expense accrued up to the date on which the transfer of all the property under the liquidation is completed; or

(2) Such share's ratable share of the sum of the amount of money received by such shareholder on shares of the same class and the fair market value of all the stock or securities so received which were acquired by the liquidating corporation after December 10, 1943. The mere replacement after December 10, 1943, of lost or destroyed certificates or instruments acquired on or before December 10, 1943, or the mere conversion of certificates or instruments into certificates or instruments of larger or smaller denominations will not constitute an acquisition within the meaning of the phrase "acquired after December 10, 1943." Nor will such an acquisition result from the issuance after December 10, 1943, of certificates of stock in connection with a subscription made and accepted on or before December 10, 1943.

(c) Treatment of recognized gain. In the case of a qualified electing shareholder other than a corporation that part of the recognized gain on a share of stock owned at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation which is not in excess of his ratable share of the earnings and profits of the liquidating corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913, determined as provided in section 112 (b) (7) (E) (i) is treated and taxed to him as a dividend. It retains its character as a dividend for all tax purposes. The remainder of the gain which is recognized is treated and taxed to him as a short-term or long-term capital gain, as the case may be. In the case of a qualified electing shareholder which is a corporation, the entire amount of the gain which is recognized is treated and taxed as a short-term or long-term capital gain, as the case may be.

Example. The X Corporation has only one class of stock outstanding, owned in equal amounts by three shareholders. The basis of the stock owned by each shareholder is $50, each having bought his stock in a single bloc prior to the date of the adoption of a plan of liquidation conforming to the requirements of section 112 (b) (7). One of such shareholders is an individual and two are corporations and all are qualified electing shareholders. The X Corporation has earnings and profits accumulated after February 28, 1913 (computed as provided in section 112 (b) (7)), of $80, its assets consisting of property (other than stock or securities acquired after December 10, 1943, and money) with a fair market value of $340, cash of $75, and stock and securities acquired after December 10, 1943, with a fair market value of $90, all of which assets are distributed in October 1944 to the shareholders pro rata in complete liquidation of the corporation, as provided in section 112 (b) (7). Each shareholder, therefore, receives, in cash and property, $135 and his gain is $85.

In the case of each shareholder $55 of this gain is recognized, since such amount represents the sum of the cash received by him and the fair market value of the stock and securities received by him which were acquired by the X Corporation after December 10, 1943, and is greater than his ratable share of the earnings and profits ($20). In the case of the corporate shareholders this amount is treated as capital gain. In the case of the individual shareholder, however, $20, being the amount of the shareholder's ratable share of the earnings and profits, is taxable to him as a dividend, and $35, being the difference between the shareholder's ratable share of the earnings and profits and the sum of the cash and stock and securities received by him, is recognised and treated as a short-term or long-term capital gain, as the case may be. The remainder of each shareholder's gain, $30, is not recognised. If the basis of each shareholder's stock had been $100, instead of $50, the corporate shareholders would be taxed on only $35 as capital gain and the individual shareholder on $20 as a dividend but only on $15 as a capital gain, since the total amount taxed is limited by the amount of gain realised by the shareholder upon the cancellation or redemption of his stock.

§ 29.112 (b) (7)–5 Records to be kept and information to be filed with return. Permanent records in substantial form shall be kept by every qualified electing shareholder receiving distributions in complete liquidation of a domestic corporation. Such shareholder shall file with his income tax return for his taxable year in which the liquidation occurs a statement of all facts pertinent to the recognition and treatment of the gain realised by him upon the shares of stock owned by him at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation, including:

(a) A statement of his stock ownership in the liquidating corporation as of the date of the distribution, showing the number of shares of each class owned on such date and the cost or other basis of each such share;

(b) A list of all the property including money received upon the distribution, showing the fair market value of each item of such property other than money on the date distributed and stating what items, if any, consist of stock or securities acquired by the liquidating corporation after December 10, 1943;

(c) A statement of his ratable share of the earnings and profits of the liquidating corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913, computed without diminution by reason of distributions made during the month of liquidation; and

(d) A copy of such shareholder's written election to be governed by the provisions of section 112 (b) (7). (See § 29.112 (b) (7)–3.)

For information to be filed by the liquidating corporation, see section 148 (e).

PAR. 4. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.113 (a) (18)–1 the following:

SEC. 120. ELECTION AS TO RECOGNITION OF GAIN IN CERTAIN CORPORATE LIQUIDATIONS. (Revenue Act of 1943.)

(b) Basis. Section 113 (a) (18) (relating to basis of property received in certain corporate liquidations) is amended by inserting after "paragraph (7) of section 112 (b)" the following: "of this Chapter or", and by striking out the comma preceding "of the Revenue Act of 1938".

(c) Effective date. The amendments made by subsections (a) and (b) shall be applicable with respect to taxable years ending after December 31, 1943.

PAR. 5. Paragraph (a) of § 29.113 (a) (18)–1 is amended to read as follows:

(a) Property included. Section 113 (a) (18) applies only to property, other than money, acquired:

(1) By a qualified electing shareholder;

(2) Upon a distribution in complete liquidation of a domestic corporation

(i) Pursuant to a plan of liquidation adopted after May 28, 1938, in accordance with which the distribution is in complete cancellation or redemption of all the stock and the transfer of all the property in the liquidation occurs within the month of December, 1936, or

(ii) Pursuant to a plan of liquidation adopted after February 25, 1944, in accordance with which the distribution is in complete cancellation or redemption of all the stock and the transfer of all the property in the liquidation occurs within some one calendar month of the calendar year 1944; and

(3) In cancellation or redemption of only those shares of stock which were owned by such qualified electing shareholder at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation and on which he realizes gain.

It applies to all the property, except money, so acquired, though such property may consist in whole or in part of stock or securities acquired by the liquidating corporation after April 9, 1936, if subdivision (i) is applicable, or after December 10, 1943, if subdivision (ii) is applicable.

PAR. 6. Paragraph (b) of § 29.113 (a) (18)–1 is amended as follows:

(A) By inserting before the period at the end of the first sentence thereof the following:

, or section 112 (b) (7) of the Internal Revenue Code, as the case may be

(B) By amending the example to read as follows:

Example. The X Corporation distributed all its property in complete liquidation during the month of October 1944, pursuant to the provisions of section 112 (b) (7) of the Code. A, an individual and a qualified electing shareholder, received, in cancellation or redemption of 100 shares of stock owned by him at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation, $1,000 in cash, property (other than stock or securities acquired by the corporation after December 10, 1943) with a fair market value of $12,000, and stock acquired by the liquidating corporation after December 10, 1943, with a fair market value of $4,000. The basis of the shares owned by A was $100 per share, or $10,000, A's ratable share of the earnings and profits of the X Corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913 (computed as provided in section 112 (b) (7) of the Code) was $2,500. His gain is $7,000, but under section 112 (b) (7) of the Code only $5,000 of this gain is recognised, $2,500 thereof being taxed as a dividend. The basis of all the property other than money received by A is $14,000, computed as follows:

Adjusted basis of stock canceled or redeemed	$10,000
Less money received	1,000
Remainder	9,000
Plus gain recognized	5,000
Basis of property acquired	14,000

This basis will be apportioned among the classes of property (other than money) received as follows: 12,000/16,000 of $14,000, or $10,500, to the property other than stock; 4,000/16,000 of $14,000, or $3,500, to the stock.

PAR. 7. Section 29.148–2 (b) is amended by renumbering subparagraph (2) as subparagraph (3) and by inserting immediately after subparagraph (1) the following new subparagraph:

(2) Liquidation within one calendar month of 1944. In the event that the corporation is a domestic corporation and the plan of liquidation, adopted after February 25, 1944, provides for a distribution in complete cancellation or redemption of all the capital stock of the corporation, and for the transfer of all the property of the corporation under the liquidation entirely within some one calendar month in the calendar year 1944, and any shareholder claims the benefit of section 112 (b) (7), such return shall, in addition to the information required by paragraph (b) (1) of this section, contain the following:

(i) A statement showing the number of shares of each class of stock outstanding at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation, together with a description of the voting power of each such class;

(ii) A list of all the shareholders owning stock at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation, together with the number of shares of each class of stock owned by each shareholder, the certificate numbers thereof, and the total number of votes to which entitled on the adoption of the plan of liquidation; and

(iii) A list of all corporate shareholders as of December 10, 1943, together with the number of shares of each class of stock owned by each such shareholder, the certificate numbers thereof, the total number of votes to which entitled on the adoption of the plan of liquidation, and a statement of all changes in ownership of stock by corporate shareholders between December 10, 1943, and the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation, both dates inclusive.

PAR. 8. Section 29.148–3 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following sentence:

If the distribution is in complete liquidation of a domestic corporation pursuant to a plan of liquidation adopted after February 25, 1944, in accordance with which all the capital stock of the corporation is canceled or redeemed and the transfer of all the property under the liquidation occurs within some one calendar month in the calendar year 1944, and any shareholder claims the benefit of section 112 (b) (7), the return on Form 1096 shall show (1) the amount of earnings and profits of the corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913, determined as of the close of such calendar month, without diminution by reason of distributions made during such calendar month, but including in such computation all items of income and expense accrued up to the date on which the transfer of all the property under the liquidation is completed, (2) the ratable share of such earnings and profits of each share of stock canceled or redeemed in the liquidation, and (3) the date and circumstances of the acquisition by the corporation of any stock or securities distributed to shareholders in the liquidation.

(Sec. 120 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (Pub. Law 235, 78th Cong.), sec. 62 I.R.C., 53 Stat. 32; 26 U.S.C. 62))

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1943, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1943.

PAR. 2. Section 29.400–1 is amended to read as follows:

§ 29.400–1 Scope and application of Supplement T. For the calendar years 1942 and 1943, in lieu of the tax imposed under sections 11 and 12, an individual who makes his return on a cash basis may elect to pay the tax imposed under section 400, if his gross income does not exceed $3,000, and if his gross income consists wholly of one or more of the following: Salary, wages, compensation for personal services, dividends, interest, or annuities. For the calendar year 1944 and subsequent calendar years, in lieu of the tax imposed under sections 11, 12, and 450, an individual who makes his return on a cash basis may elect to pay the tax imposed under section 400, if his gross income is less than $3,000, and if his gross income consists wholly of one or more of the kinds of income enumerated in the preceding sentence. For the purposes of the $3,000 limitation in effect for the calendar years 1942 and 1943, and for the purposes of the limitation of less than $3,000 for the calendar year 1944 and subsequent calendar years, the amount of an individual's gross income shall be determined without subtracting any amount on account of such individual's dependents. For example, A, a single person who is not the head of a family, has a gross income, consisting of salary, of $3,200 for 1942. He has two dependents. For the purpose of the $3,000 limitation, his gross income is $3,200, not $2,430 ($3,200 minus $770), and consequently he may not compute his tax under Supplement T (sections 400 to 404, inclusive). An individual deriving any other kind of income, such as income from the conduct of a business or from a trust of which he is a beneficiary, or gains from the sale or exchange of property, may not compute his tax under Supplement T. If an individual derives income from a partnership of which he is a member or from a trust of which he is a beneficiary, and the partnership or trust previously derived the income distributed to him from, for example, interest, he will be considered to have received income from a partnership or trust, rather than from interest, and consequently will not be entitled to compute his tax under Supplement T.

If the taxable year is the calendar year 1942 or the calendar year 1943, a husband and wife living together on July 1 of such taxable year may file separate returns on Form 1040A, if the gross income of each is from the prescribed sources and does not exceed $3,000, or they may file a single joint return on such form if their combined gross income is from the prescribed sources and does not exceed $3,000. If the taxable year is the calendar year 1944 or a subsequent calendar year, a husband and wife living together on July 1 of such taxable year may file separate returns on Form 1040A, if the gross income of each is from the prescribed sources and is less than $3,000 or they may file a single joint return on such form if their combined gross income is from the prescribed sources and is less than $3,000. A married person living with husband or wife at any time during the calendar year may not compute the tax under Supplement T if the other spouse makes an income tax return without regard to such Supplement (see § 29.404–1).

If an individual dies before the close of the calendar year, his tax may not be determined under Supplement T. Nor may the tax of the surviving spouse of an individual who has gross income and who dies before the close of the calendar year be determined under Supplement T. (See sections 404 and 47 (g).)

If the taxable year is the calendar year 1942 or the calendar year 1943, the following paragraph is applicable in determining the amount of tax under section 400.

In order to determine the amount of his tax an individual merely ascertains the amount of his gross income, subtracts $385 for each dependent for whom a credit is allowable and refers to the schedule set forth in section 400, as amended by section 104 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1942, to find the amount of his tax. If the taxpayer is the head of a family only by reason of his having one or more dependents, he may subtract from his gross income $385 for all except one of such dependents (see example (4) in § 29.401–1). If the taxpayer is a single person who is not the head of a family, his tax is set forth in the third column of such schedule. If the taxpayer is a married person making a separate return, but not including a taxpayer whose spouse makes a return without regard to Supplement T, the tax is set forth in the second part of such schedule. If the taxpayer is (1) the head of a family, or (2) a married person whose spouse has no gross income, his tax is set forth in the third part of such schedule. If the taxpayer is (1) a married person whose spouse has no gross income, (2) a married person making a joint return, or (3) the head of a family, the tax is set forth in the fourth column of such schedule. If the taxpayer is a married person making a joint return, but not including a taxpayer whose spouse makes a return without regard to Supplement T, the tax is set forth in the fifth column of such schedule. Under such schedule no tax is imposed upon a single person whose gross income, less credit for dependents, does not exceed $525, or upon a married person making a separate return whose gross income (less credit for dependents) does not exceed $650, or upon (1) a married person whose spouse has no gross income, (2) a married person making a joint return, or (3) the head of a family, whose gross income (less credit for dependents) does not exceed $1,275.

If the taxable year is the calendar year 1944 or a subsequent calendar year, the following paragraph is applicable in determining the amount of tax under section 400.

In order to determine the amount of his tax an individual merely ascertains the amount of his gross income and refers to the schedule in section 400, as amended by section 102 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1943, to find the amount of his tax. If the taxpayer is a single person who is not the head of a family, his tax is set forth in the first part of such schedule. If the taxpayer is a married person making a separate return, but not including a taxpayer whose spouse makes a return without regard to Supplement T, the tax is set forth in the second part of such schedule. If the taxpayer is (1) the head of a family, or (2) a married person whose spouse has no gross income, his tax is set forth in the third part of such schedule. If the taxpayer is a married person making a joint return, the third part is also used, but in order to find the amount of his tax, the amount of tax shown in such part shall be reduced by 3 percent of the smaller of the incomes of the two spouses, but not by more than $19. Under the schedule contained in section 400, as amended by section 102 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1943, no tax is imposed upon a single person whose gross income is less than $525, or upon a person whose gross income is less than $650, if such person is (1) a married person making a separate return, (2) a married person whose spouse has no gross income, (3) a married person making a joint return, or (4) the head of a family.

PAR. 3. Section 29.401–1 is amended by inserting immediately preceding the last paragraph thereof the following:

Example (5). For the calendar year 1944, F, an unmarried person, has a gross income of $2,832 derived wholly from salary and interest. On July 1 determine the tax imposed upon him for the calendar year 1944 under section 400, as amended by section 102 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1943, F refers to the first part of the schedule therein, which is applicable to a single person who is not the head of a family, and finds that the tax imposed upon a taxpayer whose gross income is at least $2,825 but less than $2,850 (and the number of dependents is 0) is $483. Since $2,832 is within this bracket, F's tax is $483.

Example (6). For the calendar year 1944, G has a gross income of $2,312, derived wholly from salary and dividends, and H, his wife, has a gross income of $671, derived wholly from wages and an annuity. On July 1, 1944, they are living together and G is supporting two dependent children, both of whom are under the age of 18. G and H file separate returns under Supplement T. To determine his tax for the calendar year 1944, G refers to the second part of the schedule contained in section 400, as amended by section 102 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1943, applicable to married persons making separate returns, and finds that the tax imposed upon a taxpayer whose gross income is at least $2,300 but less than $2,325 (and the number of dependents is 2) is $217. Since $2,312 is within this bracket and G has two dependents, G's tax is $217. To determine her tax for such year, H also refers to such second part, which is applicable to a married person making separate return, and finds that the tax imposed upon a taxpayer whose gross income is at least $650 but less than $675 (and the number of dependents is 0) is $5. Since $671 is within this bracket, H's tax is $5. Under such facts, if G and H file a joint return under Supplement T, their combined gross income is $2,983. To determine their tax, they refer to the third part of the schedule contained in section 400, as amended by section 102 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1943, which is applicable to a married person making joint return, and find that the tax imposed upon a taxpayer whose gross income is at least $2,975 but less than $3,000 (and the number of dependents is 2) is $243. Since G and H are filing a joint return, the amount of tax shown in such part shall be reduced by 3 percent of the smaller income of the two spouses (3 percent of $671, or $20.13), but not more than $19. (See the note at the foot of such part.) Since 3 percent of $671 is more than $19, the reduction of the tax shown in such table is limited to $19. Since $2,983 is within the bracket above discussed, the combined tax of G and H is $243 less $19, or $224.

Example (7). For the calendar year 1944, J has a gross income of $1,860, derived wholly from wages. He was married on April 1, 1944, and he and his wife were living together on July 1, 1944. He has no dependents. His wife, who has no gross income in 1944, dies on December 1, 1944. To determine his tax for the calendar year 1944, J refers to the third part of the schedule contained in section 400, as amended by section 102 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1943, which is applicable to a married person whose spouse has no gross income, and finds that the tax imposed upon a taxpayer whose gross income is at least $1,850 but less than $1,875 (and the number of dependents is 0) is $142. Since $1,860 is within this bracket, J's tax is $142.

Example (8). For the calendar year 1944, K has a gross income of $2,965. His wife, who has no gross income in 1944, dies on May 15, 1944, and on July 1, 1944, he is supporting and maintaining a home for two dependent children both of whom are under the age of 18. Since K would not occupy the status of head of a family except for the fact that he maintains a home for such children, one of such children is not counted for the purpose of such table. To determine his tax for the calendar year 1944, K refers to the third table of the schedule contained in section 400, as amended by section 102 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1943, which is applicable to the head of a family, and finds that the tax in the case of a taxpayer whose gross income is at least $2,950 but less than $2,975 (and the number of dependents is 1) is $205. Since $2,965 is within this bracket and K can take credit for only one dependent, K's tax is $205. If the wife had had gross income, the tax of neither spouse could be determined under Supplement T.

PART 29—INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1941

NONRESIDENT ALIENS BROUGHT INTO THE UNITED STATES UNDER AUTHORITY OF WAR MANPOWER COMMISSION

In order to conform Regulations 111 [Part 29, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, Cum. Supp.] to the provisions of section 132 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (Public Law 235, 78th Congress), enacted February 25, 1944, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.143–1 the following:

SEC. 132. NONRESIDENT ALIENS BROUGHT INTO UNITED STATES UNDER AUTHORITY OF WAR MANPOWER COMMISSION. (Revenue Act of 1943, Title I.)

(a) In general. Section 143 (b) (relating to withholding tax at source on nonresident alien individuals) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following: "In respect of the compensation for services performed by nonresident alien individuals brought into the United States under the authority of the War Manpower Commission for temporary employment essential to the war effort and subject to withholding under this subsection, the deduction and withholding shall be at the rate of 10 per centum, and there shall be no deduction or withholding under section 1622."

(b) Effective date. The amendment made by subsection (a) shall be applicable to all compensation paid on or after the tenth day after the date of the enactment of this Act.

PAR. 2. Section 29.143–1 is amended as follows:

(A) By inserting as the second sentence thereof the following:

See the second paragraph of this section for special rule with respect to compensation for services performed by a nonresident alien individual brought into the United States under the authority of the War Manpower Commission.

(B) By inserting as the second paragraph thereof the following:

On and after March 6, 1944, the rate of withholding provided with respect to compensation for services performed by a nonresident alien individual, or by a citizen of a possession of the United States not otherwise a citizen of the United States, brought into the United States under the authority of the War Manpower Commission for temporary employment essential to the war effort shall be at the reduced rate of 10 percent. In applying such reduced rate of withholding, however, to the compensation of a nonresident alien or other individual coming within the scope of this paragraph the proration of the personal exemption provided in § 29.143–3, is not applicable. The rate of 10 percent provided in this paragraph should, therefore, be applied against the gross amount of the compensation derived from labor or personal services by such an individual. The provisions of section 143 (b), as amended by section 132 of the Revenue Act of 1943, shall not be construed as cancelling or affecting any exemption from withholding in the case of any nonresident alien individual under existing law, regulations, or ruling, nor do such provisions affect the liability to tax of such a nonresident alien individual.

SEC. 4. The amendments made by this Act shall be effective as if they were a part of section 209 of the Revenue Act of 1942 on the date of its enactment.

PAR. 2. Section 35.711 (a)–2 is amended by striking the last sentence from the first paragraph immediately following the first example, and by inserting immediately after such paragraph the following new paragraph:

For the exclusion of nontaxable income from exempt excess output of mines and timber blocks and nontaxable bonus income provided in section 735 in the case of a producer of minerals, or a producer of logs or lumber from a timber block, as defined in section 735, see section 711 (a) (1) (I), as amended by Public Law 172 (78th Congress, 1st session), approved October 26, 1943. For the purposes of the exclusion pursuant to the provisions of section 711 (a) (1) (I) of nontaxable bonus income provided in section 735 (c), a corporation described in section 735 (c) (2) as one which extracts or recovers a mineral product from mine tailings and which owns no economic interest in the mineral property from which the ore containing such tailings was mined shall be deemed to be a producer of the minerals so extracted or recovered.

PAR. 3. There is inserted immediately preceding § 35.735–1 the following:

PUBLIC LAW 172 (78th Congress, 1st Session), approved October 26, 1943.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section 735 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code is amended to read as follows:

(c) Nontaxable bonus income. The term "nontaxable bonus income" means the amount of the income derived from bonus payments made by any agency of the United States Government on account of the production in excess of a specified quota of:

(1) A mineral product or timber, the exhaustion of which gives rise to an allowance for depletion under section 23 (m), but such amount shall not exceed the net income (computed with the allowance for depletion) attributable to the output in excess of such quota; or

(2) A mineral product extracted or recovered from mine tailings by a corporation which owns no economic interest in the mineral property from which the ore containing such tailings was mined, but such amount shall not exceed the net income attributable to the output in excess of such quota.

* * * * * *

SEC. 4. The amendments made by this Act shall be effective as if they were a part of section 209 of the Revenue Act of 1942 on the date of its enactment.

PAR. 4. Section 35.735–2 (a) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

For the purpose of the exclusion from excess profits net income of nontaxable bonus income on account of the production in excess of a specified quota of a mineral product extracted or recovered from mine tailings (see section 735 (c) (2)), a corporation which so extracts or recovers such a mineral product and which owns no economic interest in the mineral property from which the ore containing such tailings was mined shall be deemed to be a producer of minerals.

PAR. 5. Section 35.735–4 is amended by changing the first paragraph thereof to read as follows:

§ 35.735–4 Nontaxable bonus income. The term "nontaxable bonus income" means the amount of the income derived from bonus payments made by any agency of the United States Government on account of the production in excess of a specified quota of either of the following:

(a) A mineral product or timber, if the exhaustion of the mineral property or the timber block from which such product or timber was recovered gives rise to an allowance for depletion under section 23 (m). Such amount, however, shall not exceed the net income (computed with the allowance for depletion) attributable to the output in excess of the quota. Such net income so attributable shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the net income from the mineral property, computed as provided in § 35.735–2 (i), or the net income from the timber block, computed as provided in § 35.735–2 (i), as the output in excess of the quota bears to the total number of mineral units or timber units produced for the taxable year. If two or more metals, coal, or nonmetallic substances are contained in the minerals recovered from a mineral property, nontaxable bonus income must be determined with respect to each such metal, coal, or nonmetallic substance, and net income from the property must be allocated fairly between each type of metal, coal, or nonmetallic substance. In the case of any such bonus paid with respect to any such type of metal, coal, or nonmetallic substance the nontaxable bonus income shall not exceed the net income attributable to the output in excess of the specified quota of such type. Such net income shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the net income attributable to such type of metal, coal, or nonmetallic substance as the output in excess of the quota established for such type bears to the number of mineral units of such type produced for the taxable year.

(b) A mineral product extracted or recovered from mine tailings by a corporation which does not own an economic interest in the mineral property from which the ore containing such tailings was mined. Such amount, however, shall not exceed the net income attributable to the output in excess of the quota. Such net income so attributable shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the net income computed with respect to the mineral product extracted or recovered from the tailings as the number of mineral units in the output of the mineral product recovered or extracted from the tailings in excess of the quota bears to the total number of mineral units in the mineral product recovered or extracted from the tailings in the taxable year. Net income computed with respect to the mineral product extracted or recovered from mine tailings shall be computed pursuant to § 35.735–2 (i), except with respect to the allowance for depletion, as if such mine tailings were a mineral property.

(Sec. 62 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32; 26 U.S.C., 62) as made applicable by sec. 729 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code (54 Stat. 999; 26 U.S.C., 729 (a)) and Public Law 172 (78th Cong.), approved Oct. 26, 1943)

§ 522.201 Conditions upon which special learner certificates may be granted. Upon application to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, special certificates authorizing the employment of learners at subminimum wage rates in the cigar industry may be issued, to the extent necessary in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment, by the Administrator or his authorized representative under the following terms, when it appears that experienced workers are not available to an employer making application for a special learner certificate and that the issuance of a special certificate will not create unfair competitive labor cost advantages or impair or depress working standards established for experienced workers for work of a like or comparable character in the industry. For the duration of the war emergency an applicant for a learner certificate must also meet the conditions contained in section I (1) of Administrative Order 181. (8 F.R. 3079)

(b) If a worker who is being trained in any machine occupation has been employed in that same occupation within the previous two years, the hours of such employment shall be deducted from the maximum learning period. If a worker who is being trained in any hand occupation has been employed in that same occupation within the previous five years, the hours of such employment shall be deducted from the maximum learning period for that occupation.

(c) For the duration of the war emergency the provisions of section I (3) of Administrative Order No. 181 (8 F.R. 3079) relating to the issuance of certificates to meet abnormal labor turnover needs, shall be applicable to the employment of learners in authorized learner occupations in this industry.

§ 522.206 Effective period of certificates. (a) Special certificates issued to meet labor turnover needs may be issued for a period not longer than one year.

(b) Special certificates issued to new or expanding plants may be issued for a period not longer than necessary to complete the training of the total number of learners required by the new or expanding plant.

§ 522.207 Removal of plant or transfer of production. An applicant for a special learner certificate for expansion purposes, who is moving from a plant in another location or is transferring production from such plant, or who has recently so moved or transferred production, shall attach to his application a signed statement giving the following information for the purpose of enabling the Wage and Hour Division to determine whether there is satisfaction of the conditions prescribed by § 522.201:

The term "cigar" wherever used in this definition comprehends all types of cigars, including cheroots, stogies, and little cigars.

The manufacture of cigars from non-cigar types of leaf tobacco and the scrap tobacco therefrom includes the preliminary processing of such tobacco which is performed in the manufacturing plant as an integral part of the manufacturing operation; and

(2) "The leaf processing branch of the Cigar Industry" means the preparation or marketing (including wholesaling) of cigar types of leaf tobacco (as defined by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture) and the scrap tobacco therefrom for use in the manufacture of cigars and other tobacco products.

The term "preparation" as used herein includes all operations involved in making cigar leaf tobacco and scrap tobacco therefrom suitable for use in the manufacture of cigars, whether performed by employees of warehousemen, manufacturers, leaf dealers, or others. It includes, but not by way of limitation, the operations of grading, sorting, packing, sweating, fermenting, stemming, and conditioning. It does not include, however, such preliminary processing of cigar types of tobacco or scrap tobacco therefrom as is performed in a manufacturing plant as an integral part of the manufacturing operations attending the production of tobacco products other than cigars, nor does it include operations performed by a farmer or on a farm as an incident to or in conjunction with farming operations.

Signed at New York, New York this 19th day of April 1944.

Administrator.

Chapter VI—National War Labor Board

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The following amendments to §§ 802.38, 802.39, and a new section, § 802.39a, have been adopted by the Board. These amendments apply to all rulings and directive orders issued on or after May 1, 1944.

§ 802.38 Petitions for review. Within fourteen days after an agent of the Board mails to a party a directive order in a dispute case or a ruling denying or modifying an application for approval of a voluntary wage or salary adjustment, such party may mail to the agent of the Board which issued the directive order or ruling an original and four copies of a petition, including supporting documents, seeking review by the National War Labor Board of such ruling or directive order. The petition shall (1) state the petitioner's reasons for believing that one or more of the criteria set forth below is satisfied, (2) set forth fully and in detail the contentions of the petitioner with respect to the merits of each issue raised by the petition, with specific references to any pertinent portions of the record in the case, and (3) state that a copy of the petition has been served upon the other parties to the case, and the date of such service.

No such petition seeking review by the Board of a ruling or directive order of an agent of the Board shall be granted unless the petitioner has demonstrated by substantial proof that (1) the ruling or order exceeds the Board's jurisdiction, or (2) the ruling or order contravenes the established policies of the Board, or (3) a novel question is involved of such importance as to warrant national action, or (4) the procedure resulting in the ruling or order was unfair to the petitioner, and has caused substantial hardship. The party filing a petition shall at the same time serve a copy thereof, together with any supporting documents, upon each of the other parties to the proceeding.

§ 802.39 The answer. Within fourteen days after a copy of such a petition for review is mailed by the petitioning party to any other party to the case, such other party may mail an answer to the petition to the agency of the Board which issued the directive order or ruling. An original and five copies of the answer shall be transmitted to such agent of the Board and a copy shall at the same time be served upon each of the other parties to the case. Such an answer shall include a statement that a copy thereof has been served as required above, and shall show the date of such service. An answer may not contain a request for review of an order or any part thereof; such a request must be filed, if at all, in the form of a petition for review in the manner and within the time limit provided in § 802.38 above. Each answer should state fully but concisely the respondent's reasons for believing (1) that the petition ought not to be entertained, and (2) that, if the Board decides to entertain the petition, the petition should be denied on the merits.

§ 802.39a Petitions for review of rulings or directive orders modified upon reconsideration. If the ruling or directive order issued by an agent of the Board is modified by such agent in response to a petition for reconsideration or upon its own motion, the agent shall issue to the parties such ruling or order, as modified, in the same manner and with the same effect as is provided in § 802.37 above. The order or ruling as modified shall be subject to review in accordance with the provisions of §§ 802.38 and 802.39 above, except that the period prescribed therein for filing a petition for review or answer thereto shall be seven instead of fourteen days.

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The following sections or portions thereof have been amended as indicated:

§ 802.1 The New Case Committee.

(b) Procedure. The decision of the majority of the members of the New Case Committee with respect to the acceptance or assignment of a particular case shall be put into effect by the Committee on behalf of the Board, subject to the right of any member of the Committee to refer the matter to the Board, and the right of the Board to review the action of the Committee on its own motion.

§ 802.37 Stay of order or ruling of an agent of the Board. * * *

(b) Directive orders in dispute cases. (1) Agents of the Board shall issue their directive orders to the parties when made. The issuance of any provision of a directive order, however, which relates to a wage or salary adjustment, may be stayed if two or more public members of the agent dissent from the provision and request that its issuance be stayed. In such event a copy of the directive order and the request, for the stay, together with a statement of the reasons for such request, shall be immediately transmitted to the Board. The provision so sought to be stayed shall not be issued to the parties until the expiration of ten days after receipt in Washington of the request for the stay, unless (i) the issuance of such provision is earlier approved by the Board or (ii) within such ten-day period the Board sets the case down for review. In the latter event, the Executive Assistant to the Board shall communicate the Board's action to the agent of the Board, and the stay shall continue in effect until the case is finally disposed of.

(2) If after the issuance of a directive order by an agent of the Board, no timely petition for review is filed within the period prescribed in § 802.38, below, and if the Board within such a period does not review the agent's order on its own motion, the order shall on the day following the last day for filing such a petition, stand confirmed as the order of the Board and shall immediately be effective according to its terms: Provided, That the Board may at any time prior to the expiration of the time for the filing of a petition for review make such an order, or any part thereof, immediately effective pending any further proceedings.

(3) If a timely petition for review of a directive order of an agent of the Board is filed by a party in accordance with the provisions of § 802.38, below, or if the Board reviews such an order on its own motion, the entire order shall be suspended, unless and until, the Board directs, or has directed, otherwise, or the parties otherwise agree. However, the date of expiration of the escape period fixed in a directive order of an agent of the Board granting a maintenance of membership provision shall not be affected by the filing of a petition for review of this or any other provision of the order.

(4) If only a part of the order is sought to be reviewed, any party may petition the Board to make the rest of the order immediately effective according to its terms. The parties may in any case mutually agree upon the date when the order, or any part thereof, shall take effect, except that where a wage or salary adjustment is made subject to the approval of the Economic Stabilization Director, the parties may not by their agreement make such adjustment effective prior to the date of such approval.

§ 802.43 Reconsideration of Board orders or rulings in appeals cases. (a) When, pursuant to § 802.42, above, the Board has issued a directive order or ruling adopting as its own the order or ruling of its agent, the directive order shall, and the ruling may, immediately upon its issuance, be placed into effect in accordance with its terms. In such cases, a petition for reconsideration of the Board's action will not be entertained.

(b) (1) When, pursuant to § 802.42, above, the Board has issued a directive order or ruling reversing or modifying the order or ruling of its agent, the order or ruling of the Board shall be effective in accordance with its terms. A petition for reconsideration of any provision of the Board's order or ruling which effects a change in the order or ruling of the agent may be mailed to the Board by any party within fourteen days from the date that the order or ruling was mailed to such party. Such petition, if filed, shall be in writing and shall be accompanied by four copies, and additional copies thereof shall be served on the other parties to the case and upon the appropriate agent of the Board. The filing of such a petition shall not stay any provision of the Board's orders or rulings, unless the Board so directs.

RECONSIDERATION AND CLARIFICATION OF ORDERS AND RULINGS OF THE BOARD

§ 802.45 Interpretation and clarification of Board directives in dispute cases (other than directives on appeals from directives of a Board agent). (See § 802.12)

§ 802.46 Reconsideration of Board directives in dispute cases (other than directives on appeals from directives of a Board agent). (See § 802.13)

§ 802.47 Requests for interpretation and clarification of Board rulings (other than rulings on appeal from rulings of a Board agent). If, after the issuance by the Board of a ruling on an application for a voluntary wage or salary adjustment, a question arises concerning the interpretation of any provision of the ruling, any party to the application may file with the Board five copies of a request for clarification or interpretation of the ruling, provided that a copy of such request is at the same time transmitted by such party to all other parties to the application, and notice of the date of such transmittal is included in the request. Such other parties shall have ten days from the date of the receipt of a copy of the request in which to mail comments thereon to the Board. The request and the comments thereon shall be referred to the Post-Directive Committee (see § 801.12) which shall examine the same in the light of the record in the case. If the Committee reaches a unanimous decision as to the meaning of the Board's ruling, the decision shall be communicated to the parties. Where the decision of the Committee is not unanimous, or in any case where a member of the Committee so requests, the question shall be presented by the Chairman of the Committee to the Board for its determination.

§ 802.48 Petitions for reconsideration of Board rulings (other than rulings on appeals from rulings of a Board agent). A petition for reconsideration of a ruling of the Board on an application for approval of a voluntary wage or salary adjustment may be filed by any party to the application within fourteen days after the issuance of such ruling, provided that a copy of such petition is at the same time mailed by the petitioner to all other parties to the application, and notice of the date of mailing is included in the petition. Such petition shall be filed with five copies thereof, and shall set forth fully the reasons for requesting reconsideration of the application. The other parties to the application shall have ten days from the date of the receipt of a copy of the petition in which to mail to the Board comments thereon. The petition and the comments thereon shall be referred to the Post-Directive Committee, which shall examine the petition in the light of the record in the case and shall make a recommendation to the Board on the question involved. The Chairman of the Committee shall present the petition to the Board together with the recommendation of the Committee. The Board will either grant or deny the petition. If the petition is granted, the case will be reconsidered and such disposition made or further procedure ordered therein as the Board may determine.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

PART 921—ALUMINUM AND MAGNESIUM

ALUMINUM DISTRIBUTORS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage of aluminum for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 921.12 Supplementary Order M-1-j—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Aluminum" means aluminum in any of the forms and shapes constituting controlled material as defined in CMP Regulation No. 1, except ingot, pig, slabs, billets, shot and similar other raw forms.

(2) "Distributor" means any person who has received or proposes to receive physical delivery of aluminum into his stock for sale or resale in the same form, or after performing such operations as cutting to length, shearing to size, sorting and grading.

(3) "Producer" means any person who manufactures aluminum.

(4) "Delivery" includes deliveries received on consignment.

(b) Acquisition of aluminum. A distributor may obtain delivery of aluminum in any of the following ways:

(1) Purchase of idle or excess inventories. A distributor may obtain delivery of aluminum from a holder of idle or excess inventories by a "special sale" under Priorities Regulation No. 13. He no longer needs authorization of the War Production Board to make such a purchase, but the aluminum, once acquired, may only be disposed of as provided in CMP Regulation No. 4 dealing with distributors.

(2) Purchase from a producer. A distributor may obtain delivery of aluminum from a producer only after receiving the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board to do so. The specific authorization of the War Production Board will include written authorization to the distributor to use on his purchase orders for aluminum placed with producers or other distributors an AM symbol in either the 9500 or 9600 series. Assignments of AM numbers made prior to the issuance of this order shall remain in effect and constitute authorization to obtain delivery of aluminum from a producer to the extent provided below. The use of these AM numbers is subject to any conditions imposed by the War Production Board.

Orders on a producer bearing the symbol AM and a number in the 9500 series must, within the limit specified in the CMP Regulation No. 1, paragraph (t) and Direction 23 to that regulation, be accepted and filled by the producer as if they were authorized controlled material orders. Orders on a producer bearing the symbol AM and a number in the 9600 series may, but need not, be accepted by a producer; but any part of the order which is accepted must be filled as if it were an authorized controlled material order.[1]

Applications for authorization to place orders for aluminum on a producer and other distributors shall be made by letter in duplicate setting forth the relevant facts.

(3) Purchase from another distributor. A distributor who has been issued an AM number in either the 9500 or 9600 series may place an order for aluminum with another distributor. The other distributor may, but need not, fill any such order.

(c) Reports. Each distributor shall file monthly Form WPB-2538 dealing with orders accepted by the distributor and Form WPB-2685 dealing with shipments and unfilled orders, and any other reports that may be required from time to time by the War Production Board, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget under the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(d) General Provisions—(1) Communications to War Production Board. All communications concerning this order should be addressed to the Warehouse Section, Aluminum and Magnesium Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M-1-j.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Special instructions. The War Production Board may from time to time issue instructions to distributors with respect to making, withholding, accepting or refusing deliveries.

(4) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

Issued this 21st day of April 1944.

By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

[F. R. Doc. 44-6066; Filed, April 21, 1944; 11:16 a. m.]

[1] It is the intention of the War Production Board to issue AM numbers in the 9600 series only to a distributor who was authorized to order aluminum from producers prior to April 1, 1944.

PART 1123—SHELLAC

[Allocation Order M-106, Revocation]

Section 1123.1 Allocation Order M-106 is hereby revoked.

This action shall not be construed to affect in any way any liability or penalty accrued or incurred under said Order M-106.

PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

MONOCHLORODIFLUOROMETHANE

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of materials and facilities for the production of monochlorodifluoromethane for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 1226.28 Conservation Order M-28-a—(a) Systems for which no deliveries of monochlorodifluoromethane (F-22 gas) are permitted. No person (including users, dealers, and other suppliers and producers) shall knowingly deliver, or accept delivery of, any F-22 gas (monochlorodifluoromethane, sometimes called "Freon-22") for use in, or for resale for use in any new or used system which is of a type referred to in List A of Conservation Order M-28.

(The above restriction applies not only to systems used for ordinary civilian purposes, but also to those owned, operated, or used within the continental United States by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, including post exchanges and ships service stores, other than those used aboard ships.)

(b) User's orders must be certified. Whenever the owner of a system or any other user wishes to obtain F-22 gas for installation in a system or systems for which delivery and use of F-22 gas is not prohibited under (a) above, he may place his order with any supplier for the quantity needed in his current operations, and which will not cause the purchaser to have more than a minimum practicable working inventory, as defined in § 944.14 of Priorities Regulation 1. He must certify his order, or the vendor's delivery receipt, by a certificate endorsed on or attached to it, showing that the F-22 gas is to be used for such purposes only, in substantially the following form:

> The undersigned purchaser certifies to the seller and the War Production Board that the F-22 gas covered by this order will not be used or resold for any purposes prohibited by Order M-28-a.

Such certificate, which must be signed by the purchaser or his authorized official, will constitute a representation that what is stated in it is true. A supplier must not deliver any F-22 gas except under certified orders; and he must not make delivery under any order which is certified if he knows, or has any reason to believe that the certificate is untrue, incomplete, or inaccurate. In such a case the supplier must reject the order, and should explain why he is doing so, so that the prospective purchaser can comply with this order. The supplier must keep all accepted orders and certificates which he receives for a period of two years, for inspection by the War Production Board.

(c) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as issued and amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order, or any direction thereunder, shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(4) Communications. All communications concerning this order should be addressed to: War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. M-28-a.

Issued this 21st day of April 1944.

[Supplementary Order L-193-a]

SPROCKET CHAIN, SPROCKET CHAIN ATTACHMENT LINKS AND SPROCKET CHAIN WHEELS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of sprocket chain, sprocket chain attachment links and sprocket chain wheels for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 1226.53 Supplementary Limitation Order L-193-a—(a) Definitions. The definitions in General Limitation Order L-193 do not apply to this order. For the purpose of this order "sprocket chain" means any chain, except ladder chain, designed for the purpose of operating over toothed sprocket wheels.

(b) Inventory limitations. No person shall in the course of his business accept delivery of any sprocket chain, sprocket chain attachment links or sprocket chain wheels if his total inventory will after acceptance, exceed what he reasonably expects to use in his authorized operations, or resell, during the succeeding 45 days. No person may deliver sprocket chain, sprocket chain attachment links, or sprocket chain wheels if he knows or has reason to believe that such delivery will increase the recipient's inventory above this 45 day limitation.

(c) Exemptions. The provisions of paragraph (b) do not apply to Army maintenance depots, Navy yards, bases, stations and depots.

(d) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who wilfully furnishes false information to the War Production Board in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the War Production Board.

(e) Appeals. Any producer or purchaser of sprocket chain, sprocket chain attachment links or sprocket chain wheels who believes that the terms of this order result in undue hardship may appeal by letter stating the relief requested and the reasons it is necessary.

(f) Communications. All appeals and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to the General Industrial Equipment Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-193-a.

Issued this 21st day of April 1944.

[CMP Reg. 4, as Amended Feb. 10, 1944, Amdt. 1]

1. In the first unnumbered paragraph of paragraph (d) (4) (ii) insert "any kind or type of" between "cannot receive" and "steel from producers" in the second sentence. Add at the end of the second sentence of the same paragraph the following new sentence: "Consequently, in general, a person should plan to buy all his steel either under this paragraph or on authorized controlled material orders, but not both".

2. Amend paragraph (g) (2) to read as follows:

(g) (2) "Distributor" means any person who has received or proposes to receive physical delivery of aluminum into his stock for sale or resale in the same form, or after performing such operations as cutting to length, shearing to size, sorting and grading.

3. Amend paragraph (h) (1) to read as follows:

(h) (1) Deliveries of aluminum by distributors. Each distributor shall, to the extent of his available stock, fill authorized controlled material orders, orders bearing the symbol AM, and orders which he has been specifically directed in writing by the War Production Board to fill (i) except that he may reject any such order calling for delivery at any one time, to any one person at any one destination, of more than 2,000 lbs. of any gage, alloy and size of aluminum sheet, or more than 900 lbs. of any alloy, shape and size of aluminum wire, rod or bar, or more than 600 lbs. of any alloy, size or shape of aluminum tubing, extrusions or structural shapes and (ii) except that he also may reject any order from another distributor.

PART 3206—SCHEDULED PRODUCTS

[General Scheduling Order M-293, as Amended Apr. 21, 1944]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the production of certain products for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote national defense:

§ 3208.1 General Scheduling Order M–293—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "M–293 product" means any item listed in the tables to this order except Table 1. These items are identified in the Tables as Class X; Class Y and undesignated. The same products may be designated X and Y and, if so, are subject to the provisions applying to each class. Class X, Class Y and undesignated products are subject to all other provisions of this order.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any person to the extent that he is engaged in making an M–293 product.

(b) Operations reports. Each manufacturer must file an operations report on the applicable form shown in Column 1 of the appropriate table in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form at the times there shown. If no form is designated in Column 1, no operations report need be filed.

(c) Provisions covering Class X products—(1) Filing of shipping schedules of Class X products. Each manufacturer of Class X products must file with the War Production Board each month his shipping schedule, beginning with shipments to be made on and after the first of the following month, and other information called for on the form shown in Column 2 of the appropriate table, at the time shown and in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form, except when he is excused from filing by the War Production Board. A manufacturer who is so excused from filing is not excused from complying with paragraph (f) or any of the other provisions of this order. A manufacturer who has been excused may, nevertheless, if he wishes, file the Column 2 form with the War Production Board just as if he had not been excused. In any case, unless otherwise directed by the War Production Board, the manufacturer in arranging the sequence of shipments on his shipping schedules shall be governed by Priorities Regulation No. 1 and other applicable orders and regulations of the War Production Board. The shipping dates of purchase orders which are already part of a frozen schedule must not be changed. In preparing the Column 2 form for filing each month the manufacturer shall include all purchase orders received up to the close of business on a date which is as near as practicable to the date the form is due to be filed. Orders received after the close of business on that date shall not be included on the form for that month.

(2) Maintaining shipping schedules of Class X products when not filed. Each manufacturer of a Class X product who is excused from filing his shipping schedule by the War Production Board, must maintain his proposed shipping schedule on the forms shown in Column 2 of the appropriate table if so instructed by the War Production Board, otherwise in such manner that they can be readily transferred to that form. In arranging the sequence of shipments on his shipping schedule, unless otherwise directed by the War Production Board, the manufacturer shall be governed by Priorities Regulation No. 1 and other applicable orders and regulations of the War Production Board. The shipping dates of purchase orders which are already part of a frozen schedule must not be changed.

(3) Freezing of X product shipping schedules which are filed. When a manufacturer who has not been excused from filing, or one who has been excused but still wishes to file, files his schedule, that schedule is automatically frozen under Priorities Regulation 18 on the date it is filed, for shipments to be made during the periods specified in Column 4 of the appropriate table. This period begins on the first day of the month after the schedule is filed. If a previously frozen schedule covers shipments to be made before the beginning of the period, those shipments remain part of the frozen schedule.

(4) Freezing of X product shipping schedules of manufacturers who are excused from filing and do not file. If a manufacturer is excused and does not file, his shipping schedule becomes frozen under Priorities Regulation 18 at the close of business on the date he would have had to file his schedule if he were not excused, and at the close of business on the same day of each month after that. The schedule is frozen for shipments to be made during a period of two months, unless a shorter period of time is specified in Column 4 of the appropriate table, in which case it is frozen for the shorter period. This period in either case begins on the first day of the month following the date on which he would have had to file his schedule if he were not excused. If a previously frozen schedule covers shipments to be made before the beginning of the period, those shipments remain part of the frozen schedule.

NOTE: Subparagraph (5), formerly (4), redesignated Apr. 21, 1944.

(5) Production and shipment of X products. When a shipping schedule has become frozen, the manufacturer must schedule his production and make his shipments so as to meet the schedule without regard to preference ratings or directions from any governmental agency, except that the schedule may be amended by the War Production Board as explained in Priorities Regulation 18 and paragraph (g) of this order.

(d) Provisions covering Class Y products—(1) Authorization of orders required. No person shall place a purchase order with a manufacturer and no manufacturer shall accept a purchase order for any Class Y product unless the purchase order is accompanied by specific authorization of the War Production Board obtained on the form shown in Column 2 of the appropriate table. If a time for shipment is specified in the authorization of the War Production Board, a manufacturer must not accept a purchase order specifying any other shipping time. He must not accept an order which will interfere with a previously frozen schedule or on which delivery cannot be made on the specified date because of the requirements of Priorities Regulation No. 1 or any other applicable order or regulation of the War Production Board.

(2) Freezing of authorized orders for Y products. All authorized purchase orders for Class Y products which the manufacturer accepts, automatically become a "frozen schedule" under Priorities Regulation No. 18, and the manufacturer must schedule his production and make his shipments so as to meet the schedule without regard to preference ratings or directions from any governmental agency, except that the schedule may be amended by the War Production Board as explained in Priorities Regulation 18 and paragraph (g) of this order.

(3) Authorization of orders for Y products placed by distributors. A distributor who places a purchase order for a Class Y product must accompany it by an authorization as provided in subparagraph (1) above. If he wants to buy for immediate resale, the information called for by the application for authorization must be given about the customer and not the distributor. The application may be filled out and filed either by the distributor or by the customer. In either case the distributor must forward the authorization with his purchase order to the manufacturer. If the distributor is buying for stock, he must say so on his application and give all information called for by the application form in terms of the type of customers to whom he expects to sell. A manufacturer must obtain authorization for the transfer of a Y product to a distribution outlet owned or controlled by him. The term "distributor" includes wholesalers, retailers, jobbers, sales agencies and consignees for sale.

(e) Provisions covering undesignated products. No manufacturer of an undesignated M–293 product need file the form shown in Column 2 of the appropriate table unless specifically directed to do so by the War Production Board or unless he chooses to do so. If the manufacturer is directed to file, the shipping schedule shown on the form becomes frozen in accordance with the direction. If the manufacturer is not directed, but chooses to file the form, the shipping schedule shown on it does not become a frozen schedule until the War Production Board specifically directs the manufacturer that it is one.

(f) Special reporting provisions covering certain M–293 products—(1) Reports of requirements by purchasers of M–293 products. Any claimant agency listed on Table 1 may instruct its prime contractor (or the prime contractor of a procuring agency which the claimant agency represents) who is purchasing M–293 products required in his prime contracts, or any other person purchasing M–293 products except for incorporation into other M–293 products manufactured by himself, to file with the claimant agency a report on Form WPB–3003 or other form approved for the purpose by the Bureau of the Budget. In such a case the person must file the form giving the information called for concerning the purchase orders which he has placed or will place for each specified M–293 product required under the Table 1 programs, except those which are indicated on the tables as being exempt from this paragraph. The report must state how many of each M–293 product will be used as spares.

(2) Reports of shipping schedules. A claimant agency listed on Table 1 may send to a manufacturer a Form WPB–3003, or other form approved for the purpose by the Bureau of the Budget, which shows the requirements of purchasers described in paragraph (f) (1) above covering all M–293 products for Table 1 programs, except those indicated on the tables as being exempt from the provisions of this paragraph. If a manufacturer receives such a form filled out and certified by the claimant agency in accordance with the accompanying instructions, he must fill in only the proposed shipping dates determined in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 1 and other applicable orders and regulations of the War Production Board. The shipping dates of purchase orders which already are part of a frozen schedule must not be changed. He must file copies of the form with the claimant agency in accordance with the accompanying instructions and also with the War Production Board when requested to do so by the appropriate industry division. This schedule does not become a frozen schedule unless the War Production Board specifically directs the manufacturer that it is one.

(g) Other scheduling provisions. With respect to any M–293 product, the War Production Board may, notwithstanding any other order, preference rating, directive, rule or regulation (except Priorities Regulation 18) of the War Production Board, or of any other government agency:

(1) Revoke any authorization or approval to place a purchase order granted by it under paragraph (d) above;

(2) Direct the return or cancellation of any purchase order on the books of a manufacturer;

(3) Direct changes in the shipping schedule of a manufacturer;

(4) Cancel purchase orders placed with one manufacturer and direct that they be placed on another manufacturer;

(5) Take such other action as it deems necessary with respect to the production of, the placing of purchase orders for, or the shipment of M–293 products.

(h) Deviations from a frozen schedule. If a manufacturer is unable to fulfill on time a frozen schedule of any M–293 product, he must make shipments, so far as practicable, in the sequence required by the schedule. In any case where the manufacturer foresees an appreciable delay in or acceleration of production, the manufacturer must notify the War Production Board of the reason for the delay or acceleration and the revised dates on which he expects to be able to make shipments under each purchase order affected. The manufacturer shall notify the War Production Board, either by letter or telegram, at his option.

(i) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from, and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(j) Reports and communications. The list of M–293 products is arranged so that the name of the Industry Division appears at the top of the table covering M–293 products for which it is primarily responsible. All reports and forms required by the order and all appeals should be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., attention of the appropriate Industry Division so listed. All reports and forms required in paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), and (h) of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(k) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

DELIVERIES OF SOUTHERN YELLOW PINE LUMBER TO MINES AND SMELTERS

The following direction is issued pursuant to Conservation Order M-361.

(a) What this direction does. This direction, which is issued under Order M-361, paragraph (g), tells how a person who holds a serial number under Order P-56 (mines and smelters) may get the restricted southern yellow pine lumber he needs without having to file on form WPB 2720. All restricted southern yellow pine lumber covered by this purchase order or contract is required to conduct an operation for which I have been assigned serial number ——— by the War Production Board under Order P-56. (e) Exceptions to paragraphs (c) and (d) above. The foregoing prohibitions and restrictions of this order shall not apply to:

(1) Footwear made wholly without leather and without rubber or plastic soles where no two-tone effect is created. This exemption shall extend only to paragraph (c). However, shoes of multi-colored fabric (a single fabric containing more than one color) are permitted and may have bindings or other trimmings (not including tips, foxings, eye stays, platforms or heels) in one of the colors of the material.

(2) Special types of footwear made for the physically deformed or maimed.

(3) Football, baseball, hockey, skating, bowling, track, and ski shoes and other similar footwear designed for use in active participation in sports which require specially constructed footwear for such use. This does not include golf shoes.

Upon letter application the War Production Board may authorize deviations from the above mentioned standards when necessary to meet minimum civilian requirements for safety shoes.

(f) Restriction on dyeing. No person engaged in the business of shoe manufacturing shall dye any new footwear except in the colors mentioned in paragraph (c) (5) above.

(g) General exceptions. None of the restrictions of this order shall apply to military footwear.

(h) Restrictions relating to sales and deliveries. (1) No person shall sell or deliver any new footwear manufactured in the United States of America in violation of this order.

(2) No tanner or sole cutter shall deliver any leather to any shoe manufacturer if he knows or has reason to believe said leather is to be used in violation of the terms of this order.

(3) The prohibitions and restrictions of this paragraph shall not apply to:

(i) Deliveries of footwear or leather by, or to, any person having temporary custody thereof for the sole purpose of transportation or public warehousing.

(ii) Any bank, banker or trust company affecting or participating in a sale or delivery of footwear or leather solely by reason of the presentation, collection, or redemption of an instrument, whether negotiable or otherwise.

(4) In making sales or delivery of any footwear, no person shall make discriminatory cuts in quantity or quality between customers who meet such person's regularly established prices, terms and credit requirements, or between customers and his own consumption of said footwear. Reduction in sales or deliveries proportionate with any curtailment in supply available for non-military use shall not constitute a discriminatory cut.

(5) No manufacturer shall accept delivery of any upper leather or lining leather reserved by tanners pursuant to Conservation Order M–310, or directions issued thereunder, for the manufacture of the following types of footwear:

(i) Infants';

(ii) Misses' and children's;

(iii) Footwear for the physically maimed and deformed manufactured on the custom-made basis and not for stock; if his supply of leather suitable for such shoes and obtained on certificate pursuant to such directions shall thereby become larger than a 30-days' inventory. A 30-days' inventory shall be deemed to be the quantity of leather actually used for the production of shoes of these types during the preceding calendar month, unless no such footwear was produced in that month, in which case a 30-days' inventory shall be deemed to be the leather required to manufacture his scheduled production of such shoes for the following thirty days.

(i) Restrictions on production of lines of footwear. (1) No person shall in any six months' period beginning March 1, 1943 complete the manufacture of more civilian footwear within the following lines than the percentage of his civilian line quota for such line shown in the following schedule:

	Percent of each price range
Youths' and boys'	125
Infants'	125
Men's safety shoes	125
Men's work	115
Men's dress	100
Women's and growing girls'	100
House slippers	100
Women's safety shoes	100

With respect to misses' and children's footwear, no manufacturer may exceed 125% of his aggregate quotas for all his lines of misses' and children's footwear, but his production may be distributed among his established lines of misses' and children's footwear in any manner desired: Provided, however, That to the extent that a manufacturer's production of military footwear shows a decrease below that during his six months' base period, his production within any line of civilian footwear may exceed the civilian line quota for such line by its proportionate part of such decrease; and to the extent that such manufacturer's production of military footwear shows an increase over that during the six months' base period, each civilian line quota of such manufacturer shall be diminished by its proportionate part of such increase.

(2) No person shall manufacture any line of footwear (except military footwear) not manufactured by him in his six months' base period.

(3) Exceptions to paragraphs (i) (1) and (i) (2). (i) A lower priced line of the same type of civilian footwear may be substituted in whole or in part for a higher priced line.

(ii) The unused quota of any higher priced line may be added to a lower priced line of the same type of civilian footwear.

To the extent shown in the following schedule, any person may transfer the unused portion of any civilian line quota or quotas of men's dress or women's and growing girls' footwear to the production of the following types of footwear:

Type:	Percentage of unused quota permitted to be added
Men's work	115
Youths' and boys'	125
Misses' and children's	125

Provided, however, That in no event shall any unused quota be added to a higher priced line, And provided further, That in no event shall a new line be added until authorization has been obtained under paragraphs (d) (1) above and paragraphs (i) (3) (vi) below.

(iii) A person may exceed his civilian line quota for any line of women's safety shoes if a pairage equal to such excess is deducted from some other line or lines of footwear.

(iv) During any six months' period, beginning March 1 or September 1 in any year, a manufacturer whose total production for the period will be less than $250,000 (based on wholesale value) is not subject to paragraph (i) (1), provided that no new lines are added and provided the manufacturer does not exceed his aggregate production in pairs during his six months' base period by more than 50%. The exemption in this paragraph shall not apply to manufacturers affiliated, as a subsidiary or otherwise, with another.

(v) Paragraphs (i) (1) and (i) (2) shall not apply to footwear made for the physically maimed or deformed on a custom-made basis and not for stock.

(vi) The War Production Board may authorize transfers of quotas from one type of footwear to another, and may authorize new or additional production in: (a) lines of which there is a critical civilian shortage, or (b) lines of reasonably durable footwear utilizing non-critical materials. However, it will be the general policy of the War Production Board not to authorize new or additional production in a plant located in a Group I or Group II labor area unless the manufacturer shows that he will not require additional labor otherwise available for war production.

Application for such authorization shall be made by letter, describing fully the footwear manufactured or proposed to be manufactured, listing in detail all the materials to be used, and stating the pairs desired to be made in each price range, the source of the manpower that will be required, whether production will be reduced in any other line or lines, and all other facts pertaining to the application. Permission will not be granted to manufacture new lines unless the footwear to be made has been specifically priced by the Office of Price Administration and the certificate number of such action is furnished with the application.

(vii) [Deleted Mar. 9, 1944]

(4) The period selected by any person as his six months' base period shall apply to all lines and may not be subsequently changed.

(j) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(k) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, purchases, production and sales.

(l) All persons affected by this order shall file such reports and questionnaires as may be requested by the War Production Board, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(m) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M-217.

(n) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(o) Effective date. This order as amended shall become effective March 9, 1944 with the exception of paragraph (c) (2) which shall become effective on March 15, 1944, and paragraphs (c) (5), (e) (1), (e) (6) and (f), which shall become effective on April 15, 1944.

Issued this 21st day of April 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

SCHEDULE I—SPECIFICATIONS FOR SOLES

Abrasion. The material shall have a resistance to abrasion of not less than 4000 revolutions to abrade 50% of the thickness of the material, when tested on the type of machine used by and following the procedure of the National Bureau of Standards. The material may be tested on any other abrasive testing machine, using an appropriate number of abrasive strokes of revolutions to give abrasive action equivalent to the above.

Crackiness. The material shall not crack, after conditioning for 4 hours, at 32° F. and testing at that temperature, when bent 180° over a 3-inch mandrel. The material shall not crack, after aging for 48 hours at 120° F. ± 2° F. and reconditioning at 65 per cent ± 2 per cent relative humidity and 120° F. ± 2° F., when bent 180° over a 3-inch mandrel.

Tackiness. The material shall not become tacky or flow when subjected to a temperature of 120° F. ± 2° F. for 4 hours.

Stitch tear. Material which is used for stitched soles shall have a stitch tear strength of not less than 30 pounds when tested dry, and not less than 25 pounds when tested immediately after soaking in water for 4 hours. When the outsole is cemented securely to a backer or midsole, the test shall be made of the combined assembly.

Effect of water. After submerging in water at 75° F. ± 2° F. for 4 hours, the material shall not show visual evidence of delamination or separation and shall not show an increase in thickness of more than 20 per cent.

INTERPRETATION 1

The word "manufacture" in line two of paragraph (c) (1) of § 3290.101, (Conservation Order M-217), refers to the operation whereby the features mentioned in subdivisions (i) to (xvii), inclusive, of said paragraph became a part of the footwear.

Illustration: Subdivision (iv) refers to full overlaid tips or full overlaid foxings except on work shoes. The order prohibits the placing of full overlay tips or full overlay foxings on dress shoes after October 31, 1942. But it does not prohibit the completion of the shoe if an overlaid tip or an overlaid foxing has been affixed prior to said date. (Issued October 6, 1942.)

FOOTWEAR

The reference to "leather outsoles or outside leather taps," in paragraph (c) (8) of § 3290.101 Conservation Order M-217 designates outsoles and outside taps the wearing qualities of which are derived primarily from leather. For example: An outsole composed primarily of leather but having a paper coating would constitute a "leather outsole," since, presumably, the paper would soon disappear and the wearing quality of the sole would rest primarily upon the leather.

On the other hand, if a sole of durable substitute material were cemented on a thin leather sole so that the substitute material received the wear the leather sole would constitute a midsole rather than an outsole.

Similarly, a wooden sole having a leather heel insert to provide nonskid and soundproofing features is not a "leather outsole," because the wear of the shoe is derived mainly from the wooden portion of the sole. (Issued Oct. 18, 1943.)

[Interpretation 3 issued Dec. 17, 1943. A question and answer interpretation.]

DEFINITIONS

The definition of "price range" in paragraph (b) (11) of Conservation Order M-217 states that price range shall have the usual trade significance so long as the highest list price in the range does not exceed the lowest by more than 10% or 25¢ a pair, whichever is the greater. The January 12, 1944 amendment in paragraph (b) (10) (iii) of the order allows manufacturers of misses' and children's and youths' and boys' footwear to consider their production in each type up to a wholesale price of $1.75 a pair as one line. This does not, however, permit manufacturers to add 25¢ to the $1.75 and consider all misses' and children's and youths' and boys' footwear up to $2.00 as falling within the line. The exemption added by the amendment is one superimposed upon the existing treatment of price lines and cannot be construed to apply to any footwear having a net wholesale price of more than $1.75. (Issued Feb. 28, 1944.)

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

1. Section 1341.589 is added to read as follows:

§ 1341.589 Permitted increases for secondary packers of certain specified packed food products. (a) The secondary packer of maraschino and glace cherries, Concord grape juice and sauerkraut shall determine maximum prices per dozen containers or other unit for these products which are purchased by him in bulk, barrels or other large containers and further processed and repacked in smaller containers, by adding to his maximum prices for such products as established under section 2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, the difference in each case between his customary supplier's maximum price under section 2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation and his maximum price for the product f. o. b. factory as computed under Maximum Price Regulation No. 306, converted to the same units and adjusted where necessary to include incoming freight.

(b) In the event that a secondary packer cannot establish his maximum price under paragraph (a), he shall apply to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for authorization of a maximum price, as provided for processors in § 1341.563.

2. Section 1341.583 (g) (2) is amended to read as follows:

PART 1362—CERAMIC PRODUCTS, STRUCTURAL CLAY PRODUCTS AND OTHER MASONRY MATERIALS

VITRIFIED CLAY SEWER PIPE AND ALLIED PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Sections 4.1 and 5.3 are amended to read as set forth below:

SEC. 4.1 Maximum prices for "pick-up basis" and for "less than carload shipments by rail". (a) Maximum prices for the sale of sewer pipe products sold f. o. b. factory on a "pick-up basis," except the St. Louis Metropolitan Area, and for "less than carload shipments by rail" shall be a price not in excess of the highest price charged for a delivery on a "pick-up basis," and for "less than a carload shipment by rail" during the month of March 1942 for the same quality, kind, and quantity of sewer pipe products delivered to purchasers of the same class: Except that any manufacturer making sales on a "pick-up basis", f. o. b. factory, from a factory located within the Eastern Area, as defined in section 5.1 of this regulation, or any manufacturer making sales in "less than carload shipments by rail" delivered to a destination point within such area, may increase his established March 1942 maximum price by an amount not in excess of an amount determined in the following manner:

Reduce the discounts established during the month of March 1942 for sales of sewer pipe products covered by discount numbers 1 to 7, inclusive, by 3 points, those covered by discount numbers 8 to 16, inclusive, by 4 points, of the tables of list prices set forth in section 5.2 of this regulation.

(b) Maximum prices for the sale of sewer pipe products sold f. o. b. factory on a "pick-up basis" and/or "delivered" for the St. Louis Metropolitan Area are established in section 5.4 (e) of this article.

The term "pick-up basis" when used in reference to a sale means a transaction in which a purchaser takes delivery of sewer pipe products at the factory and removes the sewer pipe products from the factory by conveyance provided by the purchaser.

The term "less than carload shipment" means a shipment or quantity of vitrified clay sewer pipe and allied products which totals less than the minimum weight as set forth in the tariffs of railroad carriers upon which the railroad carload rate from the point of shipment to the point of destination is based.

SEC. 5.3 Percentage discounts. The percentage discounts set forth in the table below are so arranged that the applicable percentage discount for any item for delivery in any freight zone in the Eastern Area can be determined by the following procedure: select the discount number shown on the list price tables for the desired item. An identical number appears in the left-hand column of the table below. The horizontal line of figures at the top of the table indicates various rail freight rate zones per cwt. from Akron, Ohio, to points of destination. After determining the proper freight zone within which the destination point occurs, the applicable percentage discount will be found at the junction of the vertical freight zone column and the horizontal line at which the predetermined discount number appears.

PART 1448—EATING AND DRINKING ESTABLISHMENTS

FOOD AND DRINK SOLD FOR IMMEDIATE CONSUMPTION IN UPPER PENINSULA OF MICHIGAN

In the judgment of the District Director of the Escanaba District Office of Region III, the prices of food and beverages sold for immediate consumption in the counties of Alger, Baraga, Chippewa, Delta, Dickinson, Gogebic, Houghton, Iron, Keweenaw, Luce, Mackinac, Marquette, Menominee, Ontonagon, and Schoolcraft in the state of Michigan, have risen and are threatening further to rise to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

In the judgment of the District Director of the Escanaba District Office of Region III, the maximum prices established by this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to check inflation and to effectuate the purposes of the act. So far as possible, the Regional Administrator of Region III gave due consideration to prices prevailing between October 1 and 15, 1941, and consulted with the representatives of those affected by this regulation.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation is issued simultaneously herewith.*

Therefore, in accordance with the direction of the President to take action which will stabilize prices affecting the cost of living, and under the authority therewith delegated by the President pursuant to the act of Congress approved October 2, 1942, entitled "An Act to Aid in Stabilizing the Cost of Living" 77th Congress, Second Session, and under the authority of Executive Order 9250, Executive Order 9328, and the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, the District Director of the Escanaba District Office of Region III hereby issues this Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 3–15, establishing as maximum prices for food and drink sold for immediate consumption the prices prevailing therefore during the seven-day period beginning April 4, 1943, and ending April 10, 1943, in the counties of Alger, Baraga, Chippewa, Delta, Dickinson, Gogebic, Houghton, Iron, Keweenaw, Luce, Mackinac, Marquette, Menominee, Ontonagon, and Schoolcraft in the state of Michigan.

SECTION 1. Sales at higher than ceiling prices prohibited. If you own or operate a restaurant, hotel, cafe, bar delicatessen, soda fountain, boarding house, or any other eating or drinking establishments, you must not offer or sell any "food item" (including beverages) or "meal" within its proper class as set forth herein, at a price higher than the highest price at which you offered the same "food item" or "meal" in such class during the seven-day period beginning Sunday, April 4, 1943, and ending Saturday, April 10, 1943. You must not sell or offer to sell any other "food item" or "meal" at a price higher than the ceiling price which you figure according to the provisions of sections 2, 3, and 4 herein. You may, of course, sell at less than the ceiling prices.

SEC. 2. How you figure ceiling prices for food items and meals you did not sell in the seven-day period. You must figure your ceiling price for a food item or meal which you did not offer in the seven-day period, as follows:

(a) If you served the same food item or meal within thirty days prior to April 4, 1943, you may take as your ceiling price the highest price at which you offered the same food item or meal in its proper class during said thirty-day period. In any such case your records, as set forth in section 10 (c) herein, must include the menu or information showing the previous offering of such item or meal at the higher price.

(b) If you did not sell or offer to sell the food item or meal either during the seven-day period, or the thirty-day period, or if you do not have adequate records of prices charged during the thirty-day period, then you choose from the food items or meals for which a ceiling price has already been fixed, the food item or meal in the same class which is most similar to the food item or meal you are pricing and then proceed as follows:

(1) Determine the cost of the raw food which you use in preparing the new food item or meal.

(2) From the food items and meals for which you have already established ceiling prices, choose a food item or meal which currently has a raw food cost equal to or less than the raw food cost of the new food item or meal. The word "currently" as used herein means current at the time the pricing of the new food item or meal takes place.

(3) Take as your ceiling price for the new food item or meal your ceiling price for the food item or meal chosen for comparison. A food item or meal chosen for such comparison should be of the same class as the new food item or meal. If, however, you can find no food item or meal of the same class, you may use for comparison the most similar food item or meal of another class having a food cost equal to or less than your food cost for the new food item or meal.

(c) Once your ceiling price for a food item or meal has been fixed, it may not be changed, except as may be expressly provided herein.

SEC. 3. Class of food items and meals.—(a) Classes of meals. (1) For the purpose of classification under this regulation there shall be thirteen classes of meals as follows: breakfast, lunch, tea, dinner and supper on week days; breakfast, lunch, tea, dinner and supper on Sundays; children's breakfast, lunch and dinner.

(2) Where you differentiated in price or otherwise between any of the above classes of meals during the period, April 4 to April 10, 1943, you shall continue to maintain such differential. A meal shall be further classified according to the food item category hereinafter listed in which the main dish of such meal is grouped.

Example. A week day roast pork dinner would be in a different class from a week day roast pork lunch or a Sunday roast pork dinner or a week day vegetable plate dinner, but would be in the same class as a week day pork chop dinner.

(b) Classes of food items. (1) For the purpose of this regulation food items as herein referred to shall be classified into the following categories:

FOOD ITEMS

1. Fruits, fruit juices and vegetable juices.
2. Cereals.
3. Entrees: egg and combination egg dishes served at breakfast.
4. Entrees: meat and meat combination dishes served at breakfast.
5. Entrees: all other dishes served at breakfast.
6. Bread, rolls, buns, danish-pastries, etc., served at breakfast.
7. All other breakfast dishes including jam, jellies, and preserves.
8. Appetisers, except alcoholic cocktails.
9. Soups, including soups in jelly.
10. Beef: steaks and roasts.
11. Veal: steaks, chops, and roasts.
12. Pork: loin, chops, steaks, roasts.
13. Lamb or mutton: chops, roasts.
14. Poultry and fowl.
15. Fish and shell-fish.
16. Game.
17. Miscellaneous and variety meats, including liver and kidneys.
18. Prepared dishes such as stews, casseroles, ragouts, curries, etc.
19. Egg and cheese dishes and combinations thereof.
20. All other dishes such as spaghetti and combinations, vegetable platter, baked beans and combinations, chop suey, etc.
21. Vegetables, including potatoes.
22. Salads (except as served as a main course or appetiser course in a meal).
23. Desserts: cakes, cookies, pies, pastries, and other baked goods.
24. Desserts: ice creams, sherbets, water ices, including combinations with syrups, creams, fruits, and nuts.
25. Desserts: seasonal dessert specialties including but not limited to watermelons, cantaloupes, fresh fruits, and fresh berries.
26. Desserts: all others, including fruits, puddings and cheese.
27. Cold sandwiches: including garnishings, salads, and vegetables.
28. Hot sandwiches: including garnishings, salads, and vegetables.
29. All other food items served in a meal including mints and preserves.
30. Beverage foods, including coffee, cocoa, chocolate, tea and milk.
31. Non-alcoholic beverages, including sparkling and mineral waters.
32. Alcoholic malt beverages, including beer and ale.
33. Wines, including sparkling wines.
34. Liquors, including whiskeys, gins, and brandies.
35. Cordials, including fruit liquors.
36. All other alcoholic beverages.

(2) Where you customarily, during the period April 4 to April 10, 1943, differentiated in price or otherwise as to the serving of the same a la carte food item between any two or more of the following: breakfast, lunch, tea, dinner, and supper on week days; breakfast, lunch, tea, dinner, and supper on Sundays and children's breakfast, lunch and dinner, you shall continue to maintain such differentials, and where such differentials exist such food items shall be deemed to be distinguished as to class.

Example. Mashed potatoes offered a la carte for weekday lunches would be in the same class of food items as potatoes au gratin offered a la carte for weekday lunches but would be in a different class than mashed potatoes offered a la carte for weekday dinners or Sunday suppers or in connection with other meal menus if during the base period they were customarily distinguished in price or otherwise.

(c) Your ceiling prices for food items or meals served on those designated legal holidays by Federal Law or by the Law of the State of Michigan, may be the same as your Sunday ceiling prices for such establishments.

If you customarily charged more than usual Sunday prices for meals and food items served on Easter, Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's Eve, or New Year's Day, you may, notwithstanding the provisions of sections 1 and 2 herein, continue to charge higher prices on those particular days, such higher prices however, in no event to exceed 115% of your Sunday ceiling prices, and then only if the fact of having charged such higher prices can be established by old menus, advertisements, or other similar evidence, covering the actual holidays in question, for the year 1942 or earlier.

SEC. 4. No ceiling prices to be higher than the highest price in the base period. Under no circumstances are you permitted to charge a higher price for a food item or meal which you did not offer in the seven-day period than the highest price at which you offered a food item or meal under the same class during the seven-day period, except that, if, during the thirty-day period immediately prior to April 4, 1943, you served a food item or meal at a price higher than the highest price charged for food items or meals in the same class during the aforesaid seven-day period, then you may continue to sell that same food item or meal at the higher price. In any such case, your records, as set forth in section 11 herein, must include the menu or information showing the previous offering of such food item or meal at the higher price. The restriction of this section shall not apply to seasonal dessert specialties as specified in section 3, paragraph (b), Class 25.

Example. If, during the seven-day period, your highest price for a weekday dinner was $1.25, in general, that is the highest price you may charge for any weekday dinner. If, however, you served a chicken dinner at $1.50 on any weekday within 30 days prior to April 4, 1943, then you may continue to serve the same chicken dinner at $1.50 even though that is a higher price than any price charged for the same class during the seven-day period. But you may not add a new meal not served during the thirty-day period at a price in excess of $1.25. Observe the requirement that a supporting menu (or price list) be made available to justify such exception.

SEC. 5. Substitution of food items in meals. If you have already determined your ceiling price for a meal, you may substitute for any food item other than the entree (or main dish) in that meal any other food item of the same class without refiguring your ceiling price, provided the new food item costs you approximately as much and offers customers about the same value as the food item which it replaces. A meal becomes a "new" meal whenever the entree (or main dish) is changed or a new food item is substituted which costs you less or offers your customers lower value than the food item which it replaces, and you must therefore determine its ceiling price in accordance with the rules established by sections 1 and 2.

SEC. 6. Prohibition against discontinuing meals at certain prices. You must not now discontinue offering meals or food items at prices comparable to those charged by you in the seven-day period if by your doing so your customers would actually have to pay more than they did in the seven-day period. You will be in violation of this rule unless:

(a) You continue to offer meals and food items at different prices representative of the range of prices at which you offered meals and food items of the same class during the seven-day period, and unless:

(b) You continue to offer on week days at least as many different meals and food items at or below the lowest price charged by you for meals or food items of the same class on any week day that you select in the seven-day period, as you did on that day.

(c) You continue to offer on Sundays and legal holidays at least as many different meals and food items at or below the lowest price charged by you for meals and food items of the same class on Sunday, April 4, 1943, as you did on that day.

Example. Thus, you may select any weekday in the seven-day period as the base day for weekday meals and food items.

If you select Friday, April 9, 1943, to determine the lowest price and the number of weekday meals and food items offered at the price, and if on that day you offered six weekday dinners, of which two were priced at 40¢, and one each at 50¢, 55¢, 60¢, and 75¢, you must continue to offer at least two weekday dinners at 40¢.

SEC. 7. Evasion. (a) You must not evade the provisions of this regulation by any scheme or device, including:

(1) Dropping food items from meals, deteriorating quality or reducing quantity without making sufficient reduction in price so as to maintain the raw food cost ratio at least equal to such ratio prior to the deterioration or reduction.

(2) Withdrawing the offer, or increasing the price of any meal ticket, weekly rate, or other arrangement by which customers may buy food items or meals at less than the prices they must pay when purchasing by item or meal.

(3) Increasing any cover, minimum, bread-and-butter, service, corkage, entertainment, check-room, parking, or other special charges, or making such charges when they were not in effect in the seven-day period.

(4) Requiring as a condition of sale of an item or meal the purchase of other items or meals.

(5) Discontinuing a no tipping practime without a compensating reduction in your maximum prices.

(6) Reducing the selection of meals offered at table d'hote prices when the food items which you customarily offered in such meals are being offered at a la carte prices which, when added together, total more than the table d'hote price for the complete meal, or give your customers less value for their money.

(b) You will not be considered evading the provisions of this regulation, however, if you do any of the following things, even though you did not do any of those things during the seven-day period:

(1) You may limit your customer to one pat of butter per meal, and when necessitated by the restrictions of the rationing program, you may vary the size of such pats of butter. In such case, however, you shall adjust the price of such servings of butter, whenever a separate charge is made therefor in direct proportion to the change in size of serving. The resulting figure, if it contains a fraction of a cent, shall be adjusted to the next lower cent if the fraction is less than one-half and to the next higher cent if the fraction is one-half greater.

(2) You may reduce the quantity or eliminate altogether, ketchup, chili sauce, and any other condiment which is rationed.

(3) You may reduce the amount of sugar served according to your available supply.

(c) You must not, however, make the curtailment authorized in the foregoing subparagraphs and furnish these items at an additional charge.

Example. If during the seven-day period you furnished ketchup, you may not discontinue furnishing this item free and at the same time offer to furnish it for an additional charge.

SEC. 8. Rules for new proprietors and new establishments. (a) If you acquire another's business subsequent to the effective date of this regulation and continue the business in the same place, you are subject to the same ceiling prices and duties as the previous proprietor. Prior to the commencement of business, however, you may apply to the nearest District Office of the Office of Price Administration for permission to price under paragraph (b) of this section. If such permission is granted it may be subject to such conditions as the Office of Price Administration deems necessary.

(b) If you open an eating or drinking place after the seven-day period, you must fix ceiling prices in line with the ceiling prices of the nearest eating or drinking place of the same type as yours. If you operate a concession in conjunction with a public event and were not in operation during the base period, you shall establish your prices in line with a similar type of eating or drinking place operating during the time of the base period. If the ceiling prices so fixed are too high and threaten to have an inflationary effect on the prices of food and drink, the Office of Price Administration may issue an order requiring you to reduce your ceiling prices. You are subject to the record requirements of section 10 and the posting requirements of section 11 immediately upon the opening of your place.

(c) Changing type of service. If you operated an eating or drinking establishment in the same establishment where you operated an eating or drinking place during the period April 4th to 10th, but changed your type of operation, you shall apply to your nearest District Office of the Office of Price Administration for your proper maximum prices.

(d) Seasonal eating and drinking establishments. If you are the proprietor of a seasonal eating or drinking establishment you must figure your ceiling prices as follows:

(1) If your establishment was in operation during the base period from April 4–10, 1943, use the rules set forth in sections 2, 3, and 4 of this regulation.

(2) If your establishment was not in operation during the base period from April 4–10, but another establishment of the same type and within reasonable distance was in operation during that period, fix your ceiling prices as a new proprietor under the provisions of section 8 paragraphs (a) and (b) herein.

(3) If you cannot price under subparagraphs (1) or (2) herein, and your establishment is not yet in operation, you shall apply for approval of maximum prices to the Office of Price Administration District Office for the area in which your establishment is located. Your application must be filed at least 10 days prior to the date on which you plan to commence operations and must include the following information:

(i) Your name and address and address of your establishment.

(ii) A brief description of your business and the manner of operation.

(iii) A list showing the prices you charged during the previous season as well as the prices you propose to charge during the present or coming season, differentiating between week day, and Sunday and Holiday prices.

(iv) The date on which you plan to commence operation.

(v) The names of two establishments similar to yours in your vicinity.

You may then charge the prices listed if they are not disapproved by the Office of Price Administration prior to the date specified for the commencement of operations. The Office of Price Administration may, at any time, after proper investigation and hearing, establish or re-establish such maximum prices for your business as it deems proper and equitable.

(4) If your establishment is already in operation and you cannot price under subparagraphs (1) or (2) herein, you shall, within 10 days of the effective date of this order, file application with the Office of Price Administration District Office for the area in which your establishment is located for approval of the prices which you are presently charging. Such application shall include the same information as set forth for applications under subparagraph (3) herein. Such listed prices shall be your maximum prices, but shall be subject to modification or adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 9. Taxes. If in the seven-day period you stated and collected the amount of any tax separately from the price you charged, you may continue to do so. You may also separately state and collect the amount of any new tax or any increase in the amount of a previous tax on the sale of food or drink or on the business of selling food or drink, if the tax is measured by the number or price of items or meals.

SEC. 10. Records—(a) Filing of menus. General Order No. 50 required you to file with your war price and rationing board on or before May 1, 1943, a signed copy of each menu or list of your prices in effect during the seven-day period beginning Sunday, April 4, 1943, and ending Saturday, April 10, 1943. If you have not already filed, you must do so immediately. Failure to do so will also constitute a violation of this regulation.

(b) Filing by proprietors not in operation during the seven-day period. The proprietor of an eating or drinking place which was not open during the seven-day period (including newly opened places) shall file menus or a price list in accordance with paragraph (a) above, except that (1) the filing shall be for the seven-day period beginning with the first Sunday that place is open after April 4, 1943, and (2) the filing shall be made within three weeks of such first Sunday.

(c) Records of the seven-day period. You must make available for examination by any person during ordinary business hours a copy of each menu used by you in the seven-day period from April 4–10, 1943, or if you are a new proprietor, in the seven-day period referred to in paragraph (b) above. If you did not use menus, or if your menus were incomplete, you must make available for such examination a list of the highest prices you charged in such seven-day period.

(d) Customary records. You must preserve all your existing records relating to your prices, costs and sales. You must also continue to maintain such records as you ordinarily kept. All such records shall be subject to examination by the Office of Price Administration.

(e) Future records. Beginning with the effective date of this regulation, you must keep, for examination by the Office of Price Administration, two copies of each menu used by you each day. If you do not use menus you must prepare, in duplicate, and preserve for such examination, a record of the prices charged by you each day, except that you need not record prices which are the same as, or less than, prices you previously recorded for the same items or meals. Proprietors who operate a number of eating or drinking places in the same city which have customarily been subject to central control may keep the records required by this paragraph for those places at a central office or the principal place of business within the city.

SEC. 11. Posting. (a) If you made menus available to customers in the seven-day period April 4 to 10, 1943, inclusive, you shall continue to make them available. All menus shall include prices for meals and food items offered.

(b) Within one week after the effective date of this order:

(1) Your menus must contain in clear and legible printing or writing the following statement:

All prices listed are at or below our ceiling price which by OPA regulation are the highest prices we charged for the same item or meal from April 4–10, 1943. Our records of prices for such period are available for your inspection.

(c) If you did not use menus during the April 4–10 period, you may either (1) institute the use of menus, abiding by the foregoing requirement, or (2) you must post a price list including prices for all meals and food items offered, near the cashier's desk, if any, or in such other location of your establishment that it may be easily seen and read by customers at the time of purchase. Such price list shall conform to the requirements of paragraph (b) above.

SEC. 12. Operation of several places. If you own or operate more than one eating and drinking place, you must do everything required by this regulation for each place separately.

SEC. 13. Relation to other maximum price regulations. The provisions of this regulation shall supersede other regulations, including the General Maximum Price Regulation, now or hereafter issued by the Office of Price Administration, insofar as they establish maximum prices for meals and food items sold by eating and drinking places. However, a price charged during the seven-day period of this regulation shall not become a maximum price under this regulation if it exceeded the maximum price established by another regulation applicable at that time. In such case the lawful maximum price applicable at that time shall be the maximum price hereunder.

SEC. 14. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this order shall be applicable to all eating and drinking places (as hereinafter defined in section 15 (e)) located in the counties of Alger, Baraga, Chippewa, Delta, Dickinson, Gogebic, Houghton, Iron, Keweenaw, Luce, Mackinac, Menominee, Ontonagon, and Schoolcraft, in the state of Michigan.

SEC. 15. Definitions and explanations. (a) "Person" means individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, and any agency of the foregoing.

(b) "Meal" means a combination of food items sold at a single price. Examples of meals are a five-course dinner, a club breakfast, and a blue-plate special. Two or more kinds of food which are prepared or served to be eaten together as one dish are not a "meal." Examples of such dishes are: ham and eggs, bread and butter, apple pie and cheese.

(c) "Offered" means offered for sale and includes the listing or posting of prices for items and meals even though the items and meals so offered were not actually on hand to be sold.

(d) "Food item" means an article or portion of food (including beverages) sold or served by an eating or drinking place for consumption in or about the place or to be taken out for eating without change in form or additional preparation. It includes two or more kinds of food which are prepared or served to be eaten together as one dish, such as ham and eggs, bread and butter, apple pie and cheese.

Food items, otherwise identical, are not the same for the purpose of establishing maximum prices under sections 1 and 2, if they are offered for sale in different classes. (See section 3 (b) for "classes of food items.")

Example. Lamb chops offered a la carte for dinner or lunch are in class 13 while if offered for breakfast, they are in class 4.

(e) "Eating and drinking place" shall include any place, establishment or location, whether temporary or permanent, from which any food item or meal is sold, except those which are specifically exempted in section 17 hereof. It shall include by way of example, but not by way of limitation, such movable, places where food is dispensed as field kitchens, lunch wagons, "Hot Dog" carts, etc.

(f) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 and in the General Maximum Price Regulation, issued by the Office of Price Administration, shall apply to other terms used herein.

SEC. 16. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended.

SEC. 17. Exemptions. Sales by the following eating or drinking places are specifically exempted from the provisions of this regulation.

(a) Eating and drinking places operated in connection with special church, temple, synagogue, Sunday School, or other religious occasions.

(b) Eating and drinking places located on board common carriers (when operated as such), including railroad dining cars, club, bar and buffet cars, and peddlers aboard railroad cars traveling from station to station.

(c) Hospitals, except for food items and meals served to persons other than the patients, when a separate charge is made for such food items and meals.

(d) Eating and drinking places operated by any school, college or university which is a non-profit institution (that is, where no part of the net earnings inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual), which sells food items or meals on a non-profit or cost basis (or as near thereto as reasonable accounting methods will permit), and substantially all sales of which are made to students, faculty members and employees of such institution. For purposes of this paragraph, persons receiving instruction on the premises of such institution by arrangement with the War Department or the Department of the Navy shall be considered students.

SEC. 18. Special orders. The provisions of this regulation to the contrary notwithstanding, the Office of Price Administration may from time to time issue special orders providing for the reduction of the maximum price of any food item or items or meal or meals sold or offered for sale by a seller or sellers when, in the judgment of the Administrator, such action is necessary or desirable to prevent excessive charges, to prevent inflation, to stabilize prices affecting the cost of living, or to carry out the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

SEC. 19. Adjustments. (a) The Office of Price Administration may adjust the maximum prices for any eating establishment under the following circumstances:

(1) The establishment will be forced to discontinue operations unless it is granted an adjustment of the maximum prices established by this regulation.

(2) Such discontinuance will result in serious inconvenience to consumers in that they will either be deprived of all restaurant service or will have to turn to other establishments that present substantial difficulties as to distance, hours of service, selection of meals or food items offered, capacity, or transportation.

(3) By reason of such discontinuance, the same meals or food items will cost the customers of the eating establishment as much or more than the proposed adjusted prices.

(b) If you are the proprietor of an eating establishment which satisfies the requirements specified above, you may apply for an adjustment of your maximum prices by submitting to your Office of Price Administration District Office an application in duplicate. The application should contain the following information:

(1) Your name and address.

(2) A description of your eating establishment, including the type of service rendered, such as cafeteria, table service, etc.; classes of meals offered, such as breakfast, lunch and dinner; number of persons served per day during the most recent thirty-day period, (in counting the number of persons served, anyone who was served more than once is to be counted separately for each occasion he was served); and such other information that may be useful in classifying your establishment.

(3) The reasons why your customers will be seriously inconvenienced if you discontinue operation.

(4) The names and addresses of the three nearest eating places of the same type as yours.

(5) A list showing your present maximum prices and requested adjusted prices.

(6) A profit and loss statement for your restaurant business for the most recent three-month accounting period, and a copy of your last income tax return if one was filed separately for your restaurant business.

Applications for adjustment under this section may be acted upon by the District Director of the Escanaba District who has been authorized to do so by order of the Regional Administrator.

SEC. 20. Amendments. You may petition for an amendment of any provision of this regulation (including a petition pursuant to Supplementary Order No. 28) by proceeding in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, except that the petition shall be filed with and acted upon by the Regional Administrator.

SEC. 21. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1 shall apply to every person making sales subject to this regulation. Licensing Order No. 1 provides, in brief, that a license is required of all persons selling under price control. The license is automatically granted and may be suspended for violation of any applicable maximum price regulation. Any person whose license is suspended must cease selling during the period of such suspension.

SEC. 22. Revocation. This regulation may be modified, amended, corrected, or revoked at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

This regulation shall become effective April 3, 1944.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[Docket No. G-542]

EL PASO NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 20, 1944.

Notice is hereby given that on April 11, 1944, an application was filed by the El Paso Natural Gas Company, a Delaware corporation having its principal place of business in El Paso, Texas, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to authorize the construction and operation of the facilities hereinafter described.

The proposed construction consists of a 16-inch gas pipe line, approximately 31.5 miles in length commencing at the company's Eunice residue gas compressor station in Lea County, New Mexico, and running in a southerly direction to Applicant's gas treating plant located at Jal Plant No. 1 in Lea County, New Mexico; installation of five 800 hp. gas-driven compressor units and appurtenant facilities at the Eunice residue gas compressor station located near the town of Eunice, New Mexico; installation of four 24-inch gas scrubbing towers, together with additional pumping facilities at the Eunice and Jal gas treating plants, located near the towns of Eunice and Jal, New Mexico.

The Applicant asserts that the proposed facilities, upon their completion, will be used for the purpose of conserving natural gas in the Lea County field from which Applicant produces natural gas for its pipe line system, and for the additional purpose of utilizing a minimum of 20,000,000 cu. ft. of residue gas daily, which Applicant represents is being wasted and vented through the air for lack of market on account of its unsuitability for use without treatment and compression.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application, should, on or before the 5th day of May 1944, file with the Federal Power Commission a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act.

It appearing that the proposed coordination of operations is necessary in order to assure maximum utilization of the facilities, services and equipment, and to conserve and providently utilize vital equipment, materials, and supplies, of the carriers, and to provide for the prompt and continuous movement of necessary traffic, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, It is hereby ordered, That:

1. The plan for joint action above referred to is hereby approved and the carriers are directed to put the plan in operation forthwith, subject to the following provisions, which shall supersede any provisions of such plan that are in conflict therewith.

2. Each of the carriers forthwith shall file a copy of this order with the appropriate regulatory body or bodies having jurisdiction over any operations affected by this order, and likewise shall file, and publish in accordance with law, and continue in effect until further order, tariffs or supplements to filed tariffs, setting forth any changes in rates, charges, operations, rules, regulations, and practices of the carrier which may be necessary to accord with the provisions of this order and of such plans; and forthwith shall apply to such regulatory body or bodies for special permission for such tariffs or supplements to become effective on the shortest notice lawfully permissible, but not prior to the effective date of this order.

4. The provisions of this order shall not be so construed or applied as to require any carrier subject hereto to perform any service beyond its transportation capacity, or to authorize or require any act or omission which is in violation of any law or regulation, or to permit any carrier to alter its legal liability to any shipper. In the event that compliance with any term of this order, or effectuation of any provision of such plan, would conflict with, or would not be authorized under, the existing interstate or intrastate operating authority of any carrier subject hereto, such carrier forthwith shall apply to the appropriate regulatory body or bodies for the granting of such operating authority as may be requisite to compliance with the terms of this order, and shall prosecute such application with all possible diligence. The coordination of operations directed by this order shall be subject to the carriers' possessing or obtaining the requisite operating authority.

5. All records of the carriers pertaining to any transportation performed pursuant to this order and to the provisions of such plan shall be kept available for examination and inspection at all reasonable times by accredited representatives of the Office of Defense Transportation.

6. The plan for joint action hereby approved and all contractual arrangements made by the carriers to effectuate the plan shall not continue in operation beyond the effective period of this order.

The application submitted to the Order Administrator shall contain (1) a statement with respect to the location of each plant in a turkey area or areas where he is to process hen turkeys pursuant to the provisions hereof, and (2) a representation that 100 percent of the processed turkeys will be handled only in accordance with the provisions of this order. If the Order Administrator declines to approve the application, the application shall be forwarded to the Director. The Director may issue a letter of authorization to the applicant if he determines that the issuance of such authorization is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense. No person shall serve as, or represent himself to be, an authorized processor unless he has received from the Order Administrator or the Director a letter of authorization, as aforesaid; and an authorized processor shall not process hen turkeys except in the turkey area or areas specified in the letter of authorization issued by the Order Administrator or the Director.

(c) Restrictions. (1) No person, except as hereinafter provided, shall (i) sell, contract to sell, give, or deliver hen turkeys or processed turkeys or (ii) purchase, contract to purchase, receive, or accept delivery of hen turkeys or processed turkeys.

(2) No person, other than an authorized processor, shall process hen turkeys within a turkey area or areas.

(3) No person shall ship or transport hen turkeys grown or located in a turkey area to any point outside of such area, except to an authorized processor in an adjoining turkey area.

A turkey buyer may purchase and accept delivery of hen turkeys only in the event such hen turkeys are to be resold and delivered by him to an authorized processor.

(5) Each authorized processor shall set aside and thereafter hold 100 percent of the hen turkeys processed by him. The processed turkeys set aside or required to be set aside by an authorized processor may be sold or delivered by the authorized processor only to the United States Army Quartermaster Market Center, to a wholesale receiver, or such may be delivered to a cold storage warehouse. Each authorized processor who sells or delivers processed turkeys to a whole-

(6) No person owning processed turkeys set aside or required to be set aside hereunder shall use such processed turkeys, in any manner whatsoever, or permit the use of such processed turkeys by another.

(8) Notwithstanding the provisions of (c) (1), (c) (5) and (c) (6) hereof, processed turkeys set aside or required to be set aside hereunder may be sold, delivered, used, or removed from storage, subject only to the provisions of (c) (9) hereof, if such processed turkeys are offered, in writing, for sale to the U. S. Army Quartermaster Market Center and rejected by said U. S. Army Quartermaster Market Center.

(9) The owner or operator of cold storage, wherein processed turkeys are set aside or required to be set aside, may permit the removal of processed turkeys, set aside or required to be set aside hereunder, from cold storage, owned or operated by him, only if he obtains a certificate from the owner of such processed turkeys stating that (i) such processed turkeys have been sold to a governmental agency; (ii) the processed turkeys have been rejected by the U. S. Army Quartermaster Market Center, or (iii) the processed turkeys have been released by the Director. If, however, the released hen turkeys are purchased by a turkey buyer or an authorized processor, such hen turkeys shall again become subject to the restrictions of this order.

(2) The Director may, notwithstanding the provisions hereof, release any hen turkeys or processed turkeys from the restrictions hereof, if the Director determines that such release is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

(e) Exemption. The provisions of this order shall not apply to hen turkeys used for home consumption by the owner of the hen turkeys.

(f) Records and reports. (1) Each authorized processor shall notify the U. S. Army Quartermaster Market Center for the State where said authorized processor has processed hen turkeys that the processed turkeys are available for inspection at the authorized processor's plant, the cold storage warehouse, or the wholesale receiver's warehouse. The notification shall state where the processed turkeys will be available for inspection, when shipment is to be made to the cold storage warehouse or wholesale receiver, and to whom payment is to be made if the processed turkeys are sold to the U. S. Army Quartermaster Market Center.

(2) Each wholesale receiver who receives processed turkeys shall, upon receipt of said processed turkeys, notify the Office of the Quartermaster General at the address shown below. The notice of the arrival of the processed turkeys and that they are available for inspection at a given address shall be sent to the

(3) The Director shall be entitled to obtain such information from, and require such reports and records by, any person as may be necessary or appropriate, in the Director's discretion, to the enforcement or administration of the provisions of this order.

(4) Every person subject to this order shall, for at least two years (or for such period of time as the Director may designate), maintain an accurate record of his transactions in processed turkeys.

(g) Audits and inspections. The Director shall be entitled to make such audit and inspection of the books, records and other writings, premises or stock of processed turkeys of any person subject to this order.

(h) Contracts. The restrictions of this order shall be observed without regard to contracts heretofore or hereafter entered into, or any rights accrued or payments made thereunder. This order shall not, however, be construed as reducing the amount of the processed turkeys which any person is required to offer or deliver pursuant to contracts heretofore or hereafter entered into with any governmental agency.

(i) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional or unreasonable hardship on him may file a petition for relief with the Order Administrator. Such petition shall be addressed to Order Administrator, War Food Order No. 97, Dairy and Poultry Branch, Office of Distribution, War Food Administration, Washington 25, D. C. Petition for such relief shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Order Administrator may take any action with reference to such petition which is consistent with the authority delegated to him by the Director. If the petitioner is dissatisfied with the action taken by the Order Administrator on the petition, he shall obtain, by requesting the Order Administrator therefor, a review of such action by the Director. The Director may, after said review, take such action as he deems appropriate, and such action shall be final. The provisions of this paragraph (i) shall not be construed to deprive the Director of authority to consider originally any petition for relief from hardship submitted in accordance herewith. The Director may consider any such petition and take such action with reference thereto that he deems appropriate, and such action shall be final.

(j) Violations. Any person who violates any provision of this order may, in accordance with the applicable procedure, be prohibited from receiving, making any deliveries of, or using hen turkeys or processed turkeys, or any other material subject to priority or allocation control by any governmental agency. In addition, any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order is guilty of a crime and may be prosecuted under any and all applicable laws. Further, civil action may be instituted to enforce any liability or duty created by, or to enjoin any violation of, any provision of this order.

(k) Delegation of authority. The administration of this order and the powers vested in the War Food Administrator, insofar as such powers relate to the administration of this order, are hereby delegated to the Director. The Director is authorized to redelegate to any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture any or all of the authority vested in him by this order; and one such employee shall be designated by the Director to serve as Order Administrator.

R. 3253) or War Food Order No. 96-1 (9 F. R. 3628), or such amount of such corn as is necessary to make his inventory equal to a 30-day supply, whichever amount is the greater.

(3) Any feeder, upon application to the County committee for the county where corn owned by him is located, may be authorized by such committee, in writing, to transport such corn to any point outside of the designated area for the purpose of feeding livestock or poultry owned by him.

The request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. Such request shall be acted upon by the Chief of AAA or any employee of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency designated by him.

PART 602—GENERAL ORDERS AND DIRECTIVES

LIMITATION OF BITUMINOUS COAL DELIVERY

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States will result in a shortage in the supply of bituminous coal for defense, for private account and for export; and the following regulation is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

602.176 Industrial consumer requests for assistance in securing and maintaining stocks.
602.177 Prohibited operating practices.
602.178 Joint responsibility of industrial consumer and producer to assure that production is in no event curtailed.

602.180 Damages for breach of contract.
602.181 Violations.
602.182 Application for modification and exception; inquiries and communications.
602.183 Approval by Bureau of the Budget.
602.184 Action under other regulations.
602.185 Solid Fuels Administration for War Regulation No. 10 and amendments thereto superseded.

AUTHORITY: §§ 602.171 to 602.185, inclusive, issued under E.O. 9332, 8 F.R. 5355; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236 and 56 Stat. 176.

§ 602.171 Definitions. For purposes of this regulation:

(a) "Coal" or "bituminous coal" means all bituminous and subbituminous coal produced in Districts 1–23, inclusive, except Districts Nos. 8 and 21, as described in the Annex to the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, as amended.

(b) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or organized group of persons.

(c) "Producer" means any person (except when engaged in retail dealer transactions) engaged in the business of mining or preparing bituminous coal (or the sales agent of such person).

(d) "Wholesaler" means any distributor, jobber, forwarder, commercial dock operator (river, lake, or tidewater), or other person (except when engaged in retail dealer transactions) who acts in the capacity of a seller in a transaction involving the resale of bituminous coal.

(e) "Industrial consumer" means any person who consumes bituminous coal and acts in the capacity of a buyer or consignee of such coal either in a transaction of purchase thereof from a producer or wholesaler, or pursuant to an order placed with a producer or wholesaler. "Industrial consumer" also means any person who consumes 10,000 tons or more bituminous coal per year irrespective of the source (producer, wholesaler or retail dealer) from which such coal is purchased or obtained.

(f) "Public utility" means an industrial consumer who renders a public service by supplying electricity, water, or gas to a community.

(g) "Retail dealer" means any person (including the retail outlet, branch or department of a person who is also a producer or wholesaler) who acts in the capacity of a seller of bituminous coal in a transaction involving the sale, or sale and delivery, of broken bulk bituminous coal, physically handled in less than carload lots without regard to quantity or frequency of delivery.

(h) "Order" means any contract, spot order, offer to purchase, shipping instruction, requisition or any other arrangement made by an industrial consumer or by a wholesaler, designed to purchase or secure bituminous coal.

(i) "Days' supply" means the total amount of coal (produced in Districts Nos. 1–23, inclusive, and Canada) that the purchaser estimates will be in storage, upon the last day of the calendar month in which he places an order for bituminous coal, at his bin, dock, pile, in railroad cars, or vessels, or at other storage facilities auxiliary to each of his plants (or railroad system) including the total amount of coal held in storage away from each plant (or railroad system) (exclusive of such coal in transit which is not expected to arrive at the purchaser's plant, railroad system, or storage facility by the end of the month in which the order is placed) for the purchaser's account or under his control, divided by the average number of tons that it is reasonably expected the plant (or railroad system) will consume each day, including Sundays and legal holidays, during the calendar month following the month of placing an order for coal. A railroad system, in computing days' supply, shall include coal in cars on its system for its own use.

When a storage facility is auxiliary to more than one plant (or railroad system), the tonnage in such facility shall be divided by the sum of the average number of tons that is reasonably expected each plant (or railroad system) will consume each day, including Sundays and legal holidays, during the calendar month following the month of placing an order for such coal and the result of this process of division shall be deemed to be the days' supply of each plant (or railroad system) contained in such common storage facility.

Days' supply shall be computed separately for those sizes and qualities of bituminous coal which are not substantially interchangeable in the operation of the plant (or railroad system).

The definition of "days' supply" is subject to the proviso that a railroad system which uses certain eastern coals (those produced in Districts 1–4, inclusive, 6, 7, 8 and 13) and also uses coals produced elsewhere may compute separately its days' supply of such eastern coals upon the basis of its estimated monthly consumption of such eastern coals, and its days' supply of such other coals upon the basis of its monthly consumption of such other coals.

(j) "Monthly consumption requirements" means requirements of a plant (or railroad system) for the month during which deliveries are requested and should be computed separately for those sizes and qualities of bituminous coal which are not substantially interchangeable in the operation of the plant (or railroad system); Provided, however, That a railroad system which uses certain eastern coals (those produced in Districts 1–4, inclusive, 6, 7, 8 and 13) and also uses coals produced elsewhere, may compute separately its monthly consumption requirements of such eastern coals (upon the basis of its monthly consumption of such eastern coals) and its monthly consumption requirements of such other coals (upon the basis of its monthly consumption of such other coals).

(k) "Special purpose coals" include those bituminous coals that are to be:

(1) Charged into coke ovens for the production of coke for metallurgical uses, production of gas, or for the recovery of by-products;

(2) Used for foundry or other metallurgical purposes in which the coal or its products of combustion come in direct contact with the metal during the processing;

(3) Used for foundry facings requiring special chemical or physical characteristics;

(4) Used for production of water gas;

(5) Charged into producers for the production of gas; or

(6) Used as a raw material because of special chemical or physical characteristics to form a component part of chemicals, or directly entering into the chemical processes.

§ 602.172 Limitations based on bituminous coal stocks of industrial consumers—(a) Stock Limitation Table. Except as provided by paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section and by §§ 602.178 and 602.182 of this regulation, no industrial consumer shall place an order for delivery, or receive during any calendar month, bituminous coal produced in Districts 1 to 13, inclusive, except Districts 5, 9, 10, 11 and 12 in amounts which exceed his monthly consumption requirements, except that in addition thereto he may order and receive during any calendar month not more than 20 percent of his estimated consumption requirements for November 1944 to the extent that such additional orders and receipts are necessary for the purpose of acquiring an inventory which, by November 1, 1944, will not exceed 30 days' supply calculated upon the basis of his estimated consumption requirements for November 1944: Provided, however, That no industrial consumer shall place an order for delivery, or receive, during any calendar month, bituminous coal produced in Districts 7 or 8 in amounts exceeding the maximum percentage (to the nearest carload or barge lot) of his monthly consumption requirements as specified in the following table:

Days' supply (see § 602.171 (i))	Maximum percentage of monthly consumption requirements[1]
	Public Utilities		Other Industrial Consumers
	Percent A[2]	Percent B[3]	Percent A[2]	Percent B[3]
Less than 15 days	150	150	115	115
15 to 20 days	130	150	100	110
21 to 25 days	110	120	95	105
26 to 35 days	105	110	65	100
36 to 40 days	100	105	65	95
41 to 50 days	65	105	65	65
51 to 55 days	65	100	65	65
56 to 69 days	50	65	50	50
70 days or more	50	50	50	50

[1] A railroad system which uses coal from Districts 9, 10 or 11 and from Districts 1 to 4, inclusive, 6, 7, 8 and 13, and which computes separately its days' supply of coal from each such group of districts upon the basis of its monthly consumption of coal from each such group of districts (as provided in §602.171 (i) and (j)) shall not order for delivery or receive in the aggregate during any calendar month from Districts 1 to 4, inclusive, 6, 7, 8 and 13, an amount of coal greater than its average monthly purchases of coal from that group of districts during January, February, March and April 1944.

[2] Applicable to purchasers of bituminous coal shipped from any mine, yard, dock or other place via any method of transportation and to any destination except those referred to in footnote 3. A public utility having more than 40 days' supply may order and receive in addition to the amount of coal it is permitted to order and receive by the Stock Limitation Table such additional coal as is necessary to maintain 40 days' supply; likewise, an industrial consumer having more than 20 days' supply may order and receive that additional amount of coal necessary to maintain 20 days' supply.

[3] Applicable to purchasers of bituminous coal shipped to Canada via any method of transportation and to purchasers of bituminous coal directly shipped via tidewater to any destination in New York Harbor or New England. A public utility having more than 55 days' supply may order and receive in addition to the amount of coal it is permitted to order and receive by the Stock Limitation Table such additional coal as is necessary to maintain 55 days' supply; likewise, an industrial consumer having more than 35 days' supply may order and receive that additional amount of coal necessary to maintain 35 days' supply.

(b) (i) No restrictions as to the amount of coal which may be purchased are imposed by this regulation upon orders for bituminous coal for vessel fuel or bunker fuel, or upon orders for bituminous coal produced in Districts Nos. 5, 12 or 14 to 23, inclusive.

(ii) No industrial consumer shall place an order for delivery, or receive, from all sources combined during the period May 1, 1944 to May 15, 1945, special purpose coal in excess of the amount representing the difference between his inventory of such coals as of May 1, 1944, and the amount of his consumption requirements for such coals for the period from May 15, 1944 to May 15, 1945, except that no such person is required to maintain less than a 30 days' supply of special purpose coals.

(iii) No industrial consumer who receives coal (other than special purpose coal) via the Great Lakes, or both via the Great Lakes and all-rail, shall place an order for delivery, or receive, from all sources combined during the period May 1, 1944 to May 15, 1945 coal in excess of the amount representing the difference between his inventory as of May 1, 1944 and his consumption requirements for the period May 1, 1944 to May 15, 1945, except that no person who receives coal via the Great Lakes and also all-rail shall be required to maintain less than a 30 days' supply of coal.

No commercial dock operator shall ship, except upon specific direction of the Solid Fuels Administration for War, any surplus tonnage which results from the restrictions imposed by this paragraph with respect to the amount of coal permitted to be received by an industrial consumer (including a railroad system) from commercial dock operators. Commercial dock operators are required to observe the requirements of SFAW Regulation No. 20 and to spread the coal on their docks as of March 21, 1944 among their customers equitably so as to permit all of them to build reasonable stockpiles.

(c) (i) The Stock Limitation Table (paragraph (a) of this section) is not applicable to orders for coal produced in Districts Nos. 9, 10 and 11. No industrial consumer having 120 days' supply or more of bituminous coal shall order or receive from Districts Nos. 9, 10 and 11 more than 100% of his monthly consumption requirements unless he first obtains written permission so to do from the Solid Fuels Administration for War.

(ii) In order to encourage the building of stockpiles of Districts Nos. 9, 10 and 11 coals up to 90 days' supply, assurance is given that when it becomes necessary to reinstate a specific Stock Limitation Table for these coals so long as any industrial consumer has a stockpile containing not less than 40 nor more than 90 days' supply he will not be required to draw down at a greater rate than any other industrial consumer having a stockpile containing 40–90 days' supply; and that any industrial consumer who has less than 40 days' supply, or who has reduced his stockpile to less than 40 days' supply, may be required to draw down his stockpile at a different rate than those who continue to have in excess of a 40 days' supply.

When the specific Stock Limitation Table is reinstated, the rate of draw down on industrial consumers' stocks above 90 days may be and is likely to be considerably greater than the rate of draw down on stocks within the range of 40 to 90 days' supply.

Those industrial consumers who fail to utilize to the full existing facilities and opportunities to stock coal from these districts are likely to experience difficulty in obtaining an adequate fuel supply after the Stock Limitation Tables are reinstated.

(d) On or before the 10th day of each month, the Advisory Boards for the producing districts subject to this section, the Lake Dock Coal Advisory Committee and the Tidewater Dock Coal Advisory Committee shall recommend in writing to the Solid Fuels Administrator for War such variations in the Stock Limitation Table as they deem appropriate in order to meet production and distribution problems.

§ 602.173 Voluntary efforts to level industrial consumers' stocks; information concerning non-cooperative consumers. This section is suspended until further action by the Solid Fuels Administration for War.

§ 602.174 Restrictions on shipment to industrial consumers unless orders comply with § 602.172 and are submitted on time and contain certain information. (a) Except as provided or permitted by paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) of this section and by § 602.178 of this regulation, producers and wholesalers and retail dealers are prohibited from shipping bituminous coal to an industrial consumer on any order during any calendar month by any method or combined methods of transportation unless:

(1) The order for coal produced in Districts 1–13, inclusive, except District 12, has been received on or before the 24th day of the preceding calendar month, or the order for coal produced in Districts Nos. 12 and 14–23, inclusive, has been received on or before the 30th day of the preceding calendar month; and

(2) The order is not for an amount of coal in excess of the amount permitted to be ordered in accordance with the Stock Limitation Table contained in § 602.172 and other provisions of this regulation; and

(3) The written order or confirmation of the order contains or is amended to contain the following information and a statement that such information is correct:

(i) Separately by uses the specific number of tons ordered from the producer or wholesaler with whom the order is placed;

(ii) Separately by uses the estimated days' supply of the plant as of the last day of the calendar month during which the order is placed; and in the case of a railroad system, separately by uses, the estimated days' supply of coal produced in Districts 1 to 4, inclusive, 6, 7, 8 and 13; and the estimated days' supply of coal produced in all other districts and Canada.

(iii) Separately by uses the monthly consumption requirements of the plant; and in the case of a railroad system separately the monthly consumption requirements of coals produced in Districts Nos. 1 to 4, inclusive, 6, 7, 8 and 13 coals and the monthly consumption requirements of coals produced in other districts.

(iv) Separately by uses and groups of districts the total tonnage of coal ordered from Districts Nos. 1 to 4, inclusive, 6 and 13 (Group I); and from Districts Nos. 7 and 8 (Group II); and from all other districts and Canada (Group III) for delivery to the plant (or railroad system) during the same calendar month from all suppliers of bituminous coal.

(b) Any person who orders and receives from a commercial dock, in a retail dealer transaction, in excess of 2400 tons of coal per year shall indicate in his first order served upon each supplier of bituminous coal subsequent to May 1, 1944, separately by kinds and sizes his inventory of coal as of May 1, 1944. Such persons, as well as others, are required to comply with the provisions of Regulation No. 21.

(c) Compliance with the provisions of this section may be temporarily excused by any Area Distribution Manager only to the extent it appears necessary to permit the shipment or receipt of coal to meet emergency situations likely to result in hardship to any person who has not wilfully violated any of the provisions of this regulation.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section or of § 602.172, industrial consumers should make every reasonable effort to make known to producers and wholesalers that they are ready, willing and able to accept coal in addition to the amount ordered to the extent that such coal is available and offered in accordance with the provisions of § 602.178.

(e) The provisions of this section shall not apply to an order for vessel or bunker fuel, to an order from any purchaser who does not order for delivery during the calendar month and will not receive during the calendar month from all sources combined more than 50 tons or one carload of bituminous coal, or an order of the War Department, Navy Department, War Shipping Administration, Maritime Commission, Office of Lend-Lease Administration, or Office of Economic Warfare.

(f) Producers and wholesalers are prohibited from shipping bituminous coal on any order of a wholesaler unless the order contains the names and locations of the customers of the wholesalers and the information required to be submitted to the wholesaler by the wholesaler's customer (industrial consumer) under subparagraph (3) of paragraph (a) of this section; Provided, however, That the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply (i) to an order of a commercial dock operator with respect to coal not segregated and earmarked for a particular industrial consumer for shipment to the commercial dock by rail, lake, tidewater, or river, or (ii) to an order for shipment to a lower lake dumping port or to a tidewater dumping port if the coal is not segregated and earmarked for transshipment to a specific industrial consumer, or (iii) to an order received by a commercial dock operator located on Lake Superior, or on the west bank of Lake Michigan north of, and including Waukegan, Illinois.

§ 602.175 Reports by producers, commercial dock operators, and lake or tidewater forwarders. (a) Each producer in Districts Nos. 1 to 13, inclusive, except Districts Nos. 5 and 12, and each commercial dock operator, lake or tidewater forwarder shall report before the last day of each month preceding the calendar month of shipment and each producer in Districts Nos. 12 and 14 to 23, inclusive, shall report on or before the fifth day of the month of shipment on Form SFA No. 79 to be supplied by the Solid Fuels Administration for War (with the cooperation of the Advisory Boards which have agreed to help make proper distribution of such form): (1) any information which has been furnished to him by industrial consumers, wholesalers or other persons pursuant to this regulation; (2) the tonnage which is expected to be shipped during the month on each order received; (3) separately, by sizes, the total tonnage expected to be produced; (4) separately, by sizes, the tonnage expected to be produced and for which the producer has no orders on hand; (5) separately, by sizes, the total tonnage to be shipped to Federal agencies or Departments; and (6) such other information as is required to be set forth on Form SFA 79 as revised by such amendments or instructions relating thereto as have been or may be issued, and approved by the Bureau of the Budget. Such reports as may be required from commercial dock operators, lake or tidewater forwarders shall be filed with the Solid Fuels Administration for War, Washington 25, D. C., and such reports as may be required from producers may be filed, at the address specified in Appendix A, annexed hereto and made part hereof, with the Area Distribution Manager of the Solid Fuels Administration for War for the district in which the mine is located.

(b) The Area Distribution Manager shall make available to designated representatives of the appropriate Bituminous Coal Producers Advisory Board any information contained in the reports required to be filed by producers and wholesalers under this section. Such information shall be deemed to be confidential and is not to be compiled, abstracted, or disclosed by the Area Distribution Manager, any member of the Advisory Board, or any other person, except in so far as is necessary to accomplish the purposes of this regulation, or as authorized by the Solid Fuels Administration for War.

§ 602.176 Industrial consumer requests for assistance in securing and maintaining stocks. Any consumer who has been informed by a producer or a wholesaler that an order cannot be filled to the extent permitted by § 602.172 of this regulation, shall endeavor to secure coal from other suppliers and may request assistance in obtaining coal by filing a request in writing with the Area Distribution Manager for the area from which the consumer normally obtains coal. The request for such assistance shall be filed in duplicate and shall be accompanied by a copy of the order or orders not expected to be filled and a copy of the order or orders, prepared in strict conformity with this regulation, which he desires to serve upon any producer or wholesaler designated by the Area Distribution Manager as having available a supply of coal. The Area Distribution Manager shall, upon receipt of an application pursuant to this section, transmit one copy thereof to the appropriate Bituminous Coal Producers Advisory Board, which shall forthwith consult with the Area Distribution Manager and shall transmit to him in writing its recommendation concerning the sources of supply which will be voluntarily available to the applicant in the event the applicant voluntarily places appropriate orders with such sources of supply. The Advisory Board and the Area Distribution Manager may recommend to the Solid Fuels Administrator for War the issuance of such directions as appear to be appropriate for the purpose of securing for any applicant, pursuant to this section, coal sufficient to meet such applicant's requirements, to the extent permitted by § 602.172 and other specified factors taken into account by the Advisory Board or the Area Distribution Manager.

A consumer who is doubtful as to which Area Distribution Manager or Managers he should apply, may request the Solid Fuels Administrator for War, Washington 25, D. C., for assistance.

§ 602.177 Prohibited operating practices. No preparation, sizing or crushing of coal shall be engaged in by any person in order to avoid fulfilling any order of an industrial consumer served in accordance with this regulation, or any order of a retail dealer.

§ 602.178 Joint responsibility of industrial consumer and producer to assure that production is in no event curtailed. Notwithstanding any other provision of this regulation, no producer is required to curtail his production by reason of this regulation. In the event a producer does not have adequate orders on which shipments may be made consistent with this regulation during any calendar week, he shall arrange to the exent necessary in order to permit operation of the mine without curtailment, for the distribution of surplus coal during that calendar week; and it is the joint responsibility of industrial consumers and producers to take all steps necessary to assure that the operation of no mine is curtailed for the lack of adequate orders. If a producer expects to have surplus coal which he cannot dispose of under voluntary arrangements with purchasers in accordance with this section, he shall forthwith notify the Area Distribution Manager for his district concerning the situation.

§ 602.179 Representations. (a) All statements required by this regulation to be contained in written orders and confirmations of orders, as well as those to be contained in reports to be filed with Area Distribution Managers, shall be deemed made to the Solid Fuels Administrator for War. Producers and wholesalers shall, on behalf of the Solid Fuels Administrator for War, keep and preserve for a period of not less than two years all written orders and confirmations of orders served upon them containing the statements required by this regulation. These orders and confirmations required to be kept by this regulation shall, upon request, be submitted for inspection, copy, and audit by the duly authorized representatives of the Solid Fuels Administrator for War.

(b) The producer, wholesaler or retail dealer may rely upon any statement made by a purchaser pursuant to this regulation.

§ 602.180 Damages for breach of contract. No person shall be held liable for damages or penalties under any contract for any default which shall result directly or indirectly from compliance with this regulation.

§ 602.181 Violations. Any person who violates any provision of this Regulation or who, by any statement or omission, wilfully falsifies any records which he is required to keep, or who wilfully certifies false or misleading information to the Solid Fuels Administrator for War, or any person who obtains a delivery of bituminous coal by means of a wilfully false or misleading statement, may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control. The Solid Fuels Administration for War may also take any other action deemed appropriate, including the making of a recommendation for prosecution under section 35 (A) of the Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. sec. 80) or under the Second War Powers Act (Public No. 507, 77th Cong., March 27, 1942).

§ 602.182 Application for modification and exception; inquiries and communications. (a) It is recognized that the Stock Limitation Table and other provisions of § 602.172 of this regulation indicating the maximum percentages of bituminous coal consumption requirements that may be ordered and received by industrial consumers should be deviated from because of conditions peculiar to an individual plant (or railroad system). Any industrial consumer who desires to order and receive a greater percentage of his consumption requirements of coal for certain uses at a plant (or railroad system) may submit an original and two copies of an application in writing to the Area Distribution Manager for the area from which the consumer normally obtains coal for permission properly to order and receive delivery of coal at such plant (or railroad system) in amounts in excess of those permitted by the Stock Limitation Table or other provisions of § 602.172 of this regulation. The application shall set forth all data, including, among other matters, the inability of the consumer efficiently to draw coal from stocks at the plant (or railroad system); the specific hazards involved in the transportation of coal from mines to his plant (or railroad system); the distance of the plant (or railroad system) from sources of supply; and climatic or other conditions relied upon by the consumer in support of his application. The application shall clearly state whether and in what respect the consumer believes his situation with respect to coal differs from that of other consumers in the same or in different localities. The Area Distribution Manager shall transmit one copy of such an application to the Bituminous Coal Producers Advisory Board for the district from which the consumer normally obtains coal. After consultation with the appropriate Advisory Board, the Area Distribution Manager shall make appropriate recommendations to the Solid Fuels Administrator concerning the action to be taken with respect to each application.

(b) Any application by any person, including a retail dealer, for modification of or exception from any provision of this regulation shall be filed in triplicate with the Washington Office of the Solid Fuels Administration for War. The application shall set forth, in detail, the provisions sought to be modified or from which an exception is sought, and the reasons and data in support of such modification or exception.

§ 602.183 Approval by Bureau of the Budget. The reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

§ 602.184 Action under other regulations. Nothing contained in this regulation shall be deemed to preclude the Solid Fuels Administrator for War from taking appropriate action under Solid Fuels Administration for War Regulation No. 1 or under any other regulation.

§ 602.185 Solid Fuels Administration for War Regulation No. 10 and amendments thereto superseded. All provisions (including § 602.174) of Solid Fuels Administration for War Regulation No. 10 (8 F.R. 15773) and amendments thereto are superseded by this regulation except that provisions governing permissible coal shipments or limitations upon coal shipments shall remain in effect until May 1, 1944.

This regulation shall become effective forthwith except that provisions governing permissible coal shipments or limitations upon coal shipments shall apply only in respect to shipments on or after May 1, 1944.

Issued this 20th day of April 1944.

HAROLD L. ICKES,
Administrator.

Pursuant to authority contained in the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, Selective Service Regulations, Second Edition, are hereby amended in the following respect:

1. Amend § 622.12 to read as follows:

§ 622.12 Class I–A–O: Available for noncombatant military service; conscientious objector. In Class I–A–O shall be placed every registrant who would have been classified in Class I–A but for the fact that he has been found, by reason of religious training and belief, to be conscientiously opposed to combatant military service in which he might be ordered to take human life, but not conscientiously opposed to noncombatant military service in which he could contribute to the health, comfort, and preservation of others.

2. Amend the regulations by deleting § 622.13 in its entirety.

3. Amend the regulations by deleting § 622.14 in its entirety.

4. Amend § 622.15 to read as follows:

§ 622.15 Class I–C: Member of land or naval forces of United States. (a) In Class I–C shall be placed or retained:

(1) Every registrant who is, or who by induction, enlistment, or appointment becomes, a commissioned officer, warrant officer, field clerk, pay clerk, or enlisted man of the Regular Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard, the federally recognized active National Guard, the Officers' Reserve Corps, the Army of the United States, the Regular Army Reserve, the Enlisted Reserve Corps, the Naval Reserve, the Marine Corps Reserve, the Coast Guard Reserve (other than temporary), or any other branch or component of the land or naval forces; or

(3) Every registrant who has been separated from the land or naval forces by death at any time; or

(4) Every registrant who has been separated from the land or naval forces by Honorable Discharge based on physical or mental disability; Provided, That if the local board finds that any such registrant is "making a contribution" to the war effort by reason of his occupation in support of the war effort, by reason of his occupation in war production, or by reason of being engaged in an agricultural occupation or endeavor, he shall not be classified in Class I–C but shall be classified in Class II–A under § 622.21, in Class II–B under § 622.22, or in Class II–C under § 622.25–1, as the case may be. The classification of such registrant classified in Class I–C may be reopened and he may be placed in a class immediately available for service under the provisions of Part 623.

(5) When the local board receives authentic information that a registrant is in the land or naval forces, he shall be classified in Class I–C without regard to the manner in which he entered such land or naval forces.

5. Amend §622.21 to read as follows:

§ 622.21 Class II–A: Man supporting war effort. (a) In Class II–A shall be placed any registrant found to be a "necessary man" in support of the war effort.

(b) In Class II–A shall be placed any registrant who by reason of his occupation is found to be "making a contribution" in support of the war effort and who is:

(1) Age 38 or over, or

(2) Age 18 through 37, and

(i) Who is found to be qualified for limited military service only, or

(ii) Who is found to be disqualified for any military service. (This shall be deemed to include every registrant who would be placed in Class I–C, Class IV–C, or in Class IV–F if it were not for the fact that he qualifies for classification in Class II–A under the provisions of this section.)

6. Amend § 622.22 to read as follows:

§ 622.22 Class II–B: Man in war production. (a) In Class II–B shall be placed any registrant found to be a "necessary man" in war production.

7. Amend § 622.22–1 to read as follows:

§ 622.22–1 Certain procedure must be followed to entitle Federal Government employees to Class II–A or Class II–B deferment. No registrant employed in or under the Federal Government shall be retained or placed in Class II–A or Class II–B unless a request for his deferment shall have been made in accordance with the provisions of (1) Public Law 23, 78th Congress, approved April 8, 1943, and (2) Executive Order No. 9309, dated March 6, 1943.

§ 622.22–2 Length of deferments in Class II–A and Class II–B. (a) Class II–A and Class II–B deferments shall be for a period of six months or less. If there is a change in the registrant's status during the period of deferment in Class II–A or Class II–B, his classification shall be reopened and considered anew.

(b) At the expiration of the period of a registrant's deferment in Class II–A or Class II–B, his classification shall be reopened and he shall be classified anew. The registrant should be continued in Class II–A or Class II–B for a further period of six month or less if such classification is warranted. A registrant, age 18 through 37 (other than a registrant who has been found to be disqualified for any military service or to be qualified for limited military service only) shall not be continued in Class II–A or Class II–B unless the local board finds that his employer has made a reasonable but unsuccessful effort to secure or train a replacement for the registrant during the period of deferment. The same rules shall apply when again classifying a registrant at the end of each successive period for which he has been classified in Class II–A or Class II–B.

9. Amend § 622.24 to read as follows:

§ 622.24 "Necessary man" defined. A registrant shall be considered a "necessary man" only when all of these conditions exist: (1) He is, or but for a seasonal or temporary interruption would be, engaged in war production or in support of the war effort; (2) his removal would cause a serious loss of effectiveness therein; (3) he cannot be replaced; and (4) he meets such other conditions and qualifications as may be prescribed from time to time by the Director of Selective Service.

10. Amend the regulations by deleting § 622.25 in its entirety.

11. Amend § 622.25–1 to read as follows:

§ 622.25–1 Class II–C: Man in agriculture. (a) In Class II–C shall be placed any registrant who is found to be "necessary to and regularly engaged in" an agricultural occupation or endeavor essential to the war effort.

(b) In Class II–C shall be placed any registrant who by reason of being engaged in an agricultural occupation or endeavor is found to be "making a contribution" to the war effort and who is:

(1) Age 38 or over, or

(2) Age 18 through 37, and

(i) Who is found to be qualified for limited military service only, or

(ii) Who is found to be disqualified for any military service. (This shall be deemed to include every registrant who would be placed in Class I–C, Class IV–C, or in Class IV–F if it were not for the fact that he qualifies for classification in Class II–C under the provisions of this section.)

12. Amend the regulations by adding a new section to be known as § 622.25–2 to read as follows:

§ 622.25–2 Length of deferments in Class II–C. (a) Class II–C deferments shall be for a period of six months or less. If there is a change in the registrant's status during the period of deferment in Class II–C, his classification shall be reopened and considered anew.

(b) At the expiration of the period of a registrant's deferment in Class II–C, his classification shall be reopened. The registrant should be continued in Class II–C for a further period of six months or less if such classification is warranted. A registrant, age 18 through 37 (other than a registrant who has been found to be disqualified for any military service or to be qualified for limited military service only), shall not be continued in Class II–C unless the local board is satisfied that a satisfactory replacement is not available. The same rules shall apply when again classifying registrant at the end of each successive period for which he has been classified in Class II–C.

(c) When a registrant in Class II–C leaves an agricultural occupation or endeavor essential to the war effort, he shall be reclassified in Class I–A, Class I–A–O, or Class IV–E unless, before leaving such agricultural occupation or endeavor, he requests a determination and a determination is made that it is in the best interest of the war effort for him to leave such agricultural occupation or endeavor for other work.

(d) Any registrant in Class II–C may file with his local board a written request for a determination required under paragraph (c) of this section. When the registrant's board has made a determination upon such request, it shall advise him thereof in writing.

17. Amend § 622.32 by adding a new paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 622.32 Class III–D: Man deferred by reason of extreme hardship and privation to wife, child, or parents. • • •

Director's Authority

20. Amend paragraph (a) of § 622.42 to read as follows:

§ 622.42 Class IV–B: Official deferred by law and men relieved from liability for training and service. (a) In Class IV–B shall be placed any registrant who is the Vice President of the United States, a Governor of a State, any other State official chosen by the voters of the entire State, a member of the Congress of the United States, a member of a State legislative body, a judge of a court of record of the United States or of a State; or who is a commissioned officer in the Coast and Geodetic Survey; or who is a commissioned officer of the Public Health Service or the Public Health Service Reserve, whether on active duty or in an inactive status, who is not a member of the land or naval forces; or who is a cadet of the advanced course, senior division, of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps or the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps; or who has been accepted for admittance (commencing with the academic year next succeeding such acceptance) to the United States Military Academy as a cadet or to the United States Naval Academy as a midshipman or to the United States Coast Guard Academy as a cadet, but only during the continuance of such acceptance; or who has not entered the armed forces of the United States or of a cobelligerent government and who by reason of the belligerent status of the United States or of a cobelligerent country is taken into custody or interned by the enemy or by the government of another country.

21. Amend § 622.43 to read as follows:

§ 622.43 Class IV–C: Registrants not acceptable for training and service because of nationality or ancestry, neutral aliens requesting relief from training and service, aliens not acceptable to the armed forces or to the Director of Selective Service, and aliens who have departed and are not residing in the United States. In Class IV–C shall be placed any registrant:

The local board shall forward the original of such form to the Director of Selective Service through the State Director of Selective Service and shall retain the duplicate in the registrant's Cover Sheet (Form 53).

(d) Who is an alien and has departed from and is no longer residing in the United States. Such alien shall be classified in Class IV–C even though he is a delinquent, but this classification shall in no way relieve him from liability for prosecution for violation of the selective service law. If any registrant so classified under this paragraph returns to the United States to reside therein, his classification shall be reopened and he shall be classified anew;

Provided, That if the local board finds that any such registrant is "making a contribution" to the war effort by reason of his occupation in support of the war effort, by reason of his occupation in war production, or by reason of being engaged in an agricultural occupation or endeavor, he shall not be classified in Class IV–C but shall be classified in Class II–A under § 622.21, in Class II–B under § 622.22, or in Class II–C under § 622.25–1, as the case may be.

From and after the effective date of any such schedules, no such products or materials shall be produced, fabricated, processed or assembled except in conformity with the issued schedules and except as specifically permitted by any such schedules. Any schedule issued pursuant hereto may also contain any other restrictions concerning such materials and products that may be deemed necessary and appropriate, such as restrictions on the sale, purchase, transfer, delivery or uses thereof.

In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Appeal. Any appeals from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. PART 1358—TOBACCO

CIGAR CUTTINGS AND CLIPPINGS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the prices of cigar cuttings and clippings have advanced to a point and in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328, and it is necessary in order to prevent further advances, to issue a temporary maximum price regulation establishing prices at levels prevailing during the five days immediately prior to its issuance. The prices for cigar cuttings and clippings established by this regulation are not below those which will reflect to producers prices equal to the highest of those required by the provisions of section 3 of the act.

§ 1358.258 Maximum prices for cigar cuttings and clippings. Under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328, Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 35—Cigar Cuttings and Clippings, which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: § 1358.258 issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

TEMPORARY MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION NO. 35—CIGAR CUTTINGS AND CLIPPINGS

Sec.

1. Explanation of the regulation.
2. Maximum prices for cigar cuttings and clippings.
3. Relation of this regulation to the General Maximum Price Regulation.
4. Records to be kept.
5. What is prohibited under this regulation.
6. Petitions for amendment.

SECTION 1. Explanation of the regulation. (a) This regulation fixes maximum prices for all sales of cigar cuttings and clippings, except export sales which are subject to the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation,[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

"Cigar cuttings and clippings" means cuttings and clippings and other scraps or pieces of tobacco resulting from cigar manufacturing operations.

(b) This regulation is applicable to the forty-eight states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the territories and possessions of the United States.

(c) This regulation shall become effective April 22, 1944, and unless sooner revoked or superseded by a permanent regulation shall expire at 11: 59 p. m. on June 20, 1944.

(d) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions contained in the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in the General Maximum Price Regulation, apply to the terms used in this regulation.

SEC. 2. Maximum prices for cigar cuttings and clippings. (a) For a sale of cigar cuttings and clippings, the maximum price to a particular purchaser is the highest price charged by the seller for the same quantity of the same or substantially the same type of cigar cuttings and clippings sold to that purchaser or a purchaser of the same class.

If a seller during the period April 17, 1944 to April 21, 1944, inclusive, customarily made no distinction between types of cigar cuttings and clippings and sold all types at the same price to each class of purchasers, his maximum price to a particular purchaser is the highest price charged that purchaser or a purchaser of the same class for the same quantity irrespective of the type being sold.

"Type of cigar cuttings and clippings" refers to the customary practice, if any, of the particular seller to separately price cigar cuttings and clippings because of different kinds or grades of tobacco leaf or because of the quality or condition of the cuttings and clippings. If a seller had no such practice, all his sales shall be deemed sales of the same type of cigar cuttings and clippings.

"Highest price charged" means the highest price which the seller charged for the same quantity of the same or substantially the same type of cigar cuttings and clippings in any delivery made by him during the period April 17, 1944, to April 21, 1944, inclusive, to a purchaser of the same class.

If the seller made no such delivery, the "highest price charged" means his highest offering price for the same quantity of the same or substantially the same type of cigar cuttings and clippings for delivery during that period to a purchaser of the same class.

(b) If the seller did not deliver or offer to deliver the same or substantially the same type of cigar cuttings and clippings during the period April 17, 1944, to April 21, 1944, inclusive, to a purchaser of the same class, his maximum price is the highest price charged for a delivery of the same quantity thereof during that period by his most closely competitive seller to a purchaser of the same class.

(c) If the seller delivered or offered to deliver the same type of cigar cuttings and clippings to purchasers of the same class during the period April 17, 1944, to April 21, 1944, inclusive, but did not deliver or offer to deliver to such purchasers the quantity thereof being priced, his maximum price for such quantity shall be determined on a proportionate basis.

(d) On all sales of cigar cuttings and clippings a seller must maintain his customary discounts, allowances and other price differentials in effect during the period April 17, 1944, to April 21, 1944, inclusive.

SEC. 3. Relation of this regulation to the General Maximum Price Regulation. (a) The following provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation and amendments to that regulation are applicable to every seller of cigar cuttings and clippings:

(1) Transfer of business or stock-in-trade. (Section 1499.5)

(2) Federal and state taxes. (Section 1499.7, except that the base period April 17, 1944 to April 21, 1944, inclusive, must be substituted for March 1942, and the date April 21, 1944 must be substituted for March 31, 1942.)

SEC. 4. Records to be kept. (a) As to all sales of cigar cuttings and clippings covered by this regulation, every seller must preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration all of his existing records relating to prices which he charged during the period April 17, 1944 to April 17, 1944, inclusive, and his offering prices for delivery during that period; and he must prepare on or before May 12, 1944 on the basis of all available information and records, and thereafter keep for examination by any person during ordinary business hours, a statement showing (1) the highest prices for the items sold to each class of purchasers during that period and (2) all of his customary allowances, discounts and other price differentials.

(b) In addition he must keep records of the same kind as he has customarily kept relating to the prices which he charged for cigar cuttings and clippings during the period April 17, 1944 to April 21, 1944, inclusive, together with the basis upon which he determined his maximum prices.

SEC. 5. What is prohibited under this regulation. (a) No buying or selling above maximum prices. On and after April 22, 1944, regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, no person may sell or deliver, and no person in the course of trade or business may buy or receive cigar cuttings and clippings at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation; and no person may agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of these acts. However, prices lower than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

(b) Evasion. The price limitations contained in this regulation may not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to any cigar cluttings and clippings for which maximum prices are fixed by this regulation, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, packing or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

(c) Penalties for violations. Any person violating a provision of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(d) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sales for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 6. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking a modification of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

This temporary maximum price regulation shall become effective April 22, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 22d day of April 1944.

Administrator.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 20 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 4 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 4. Toll or conversion agreements—(a) Copper. The maximum price which may be charged by one person for treating or processing the copper scrap or copper alloy scrap of another by smelting, remelting or other method to produce copper shall be an amount equal to the difference between the maximum price for such scrap established by this regulation and the maximum price for the copper processed or produced from such scrap.

(b) Brass or bronze alloy ingot or shot. The maximum price which may be charged by one person for treating or processing the copper scrap or copper alloy scrap of another by smelting, remelting or other method to produce brass or bronze alloy ingot or shot shall be a price or charge approved by the Office of Price Administration for the particular service.

Requests for approval of toll or conversion charges for the production of brass or bronze alloy ingot or shot should be made by letter addressed to the Nonferrous Metals Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. A copy of the proposed toll or conversion contract should be enclosed or the letter should state the proposed charge and summarize the other terms of the contract. When a toll or conversion charge is submitted for approval in this manner, it shall be deemed to be approved unless the Administrator specifically disapproves such charge within fifteen days from the date on which receipt of the request for approval is acknowledged. Approval shall, however, apply only to the charge for the service to be performed under the particular contract as to which the request is made.

PART 207—NAVIGATION REGULATIONS

LOWER ATCHAFALAYA RIVER (BERWICK BAY), MORGAN CITY, LA.

Pursuant to section 7 of the River and Harbor Act of August 8, 1917 (40 Stat. 266; 33 U.S.C. 1), the provisions of § 207.240 are hereby modified and made applicable to the movement of vessels and the composition of tows passing, in either direction, through the Southern Pacific Railroad bridge across the Lower Atchafalaya River at Morgan City, Louisiana, during periods of critical velocity or whenever the District Engineer finds it necessary in the interests of safety, the title and regulations being amending to read as follows:

§ 207.240 Atchafalaya River, La.; special regulations to govern navigation through the reach of the Lower Atchafalaya River (Berwick Bay) in the vicinity of the Southern Pacific Railroad bridge at Morgan City, La. (a) Whenever the velocity of flow, either southward or northward, through the reach of the Lower Atchafalaya River (Berwick Bay) at Morgan City, Louisiana, reaches or exceeds a critical velocity as determined by the District Engineer, United States Engineer Department at Large, in charge of the locality, or whenever the District Engineer finds it necessary for the protection of life and property, the movement of vessels and the composition of tows passing through the Southern Pacific Railroad bridge shall be governed by these regulations. Day and night visual signals will be displayed at the center of the drawspan above the operator's house on top of the bridge structure when the regulations are in effect. During periods of foggy or inclement weather, or when for any other reason the visual signals cannot readily be seen, notice that the signals are being displayed will be given by blasts of a fog horn (located on the bridge) as follows:

(1) To indicate that signals are being displayed to govern only traffic moving southward through the bridge, one blast of six seconds' duration each minute.

(2) To indicate that signals are being displayed to govern only traffic moving northward through the bridge, one blast of six seconds' duration, followed by one short blast, each minute.

(3) To indicate that signals are being displayed to govern both southbound and northbound traffic through the bridge, one blast of six seconds' duration, followed by two short blasts, each minute.

(b) By day the visual signals will consist of:

(1) Two red balls displayed vertically, one above the other, from a pole, to indicate that vessels and tows southbound through the bridge shall be governed by these regulations.

(2) Two red cylinders displayed vertically, one above the other, from a pole, to indicate that vessels and tows northbound through the bridge shall be governed by these regulations.

(c) At night the visual signal will be a light displayed immediately above the usual bridge light: (1) On the north side of the bridge to indicate that these regulations are in effect with respect to southbound traffic; (2) on the south side of the bridge to indicate that these regulations are in effect with respect to northbound traffic. This light will be red when the bridge is closed and green when the bridge is open.

(d) When the above signals governing southbound traffic are displayed, unless otherwise directed by the District Engineer tows moving south through the bridge shall not exceed one barge with the towing vessel in the rear or lashed securely to the side of the barge. If the river's flow is in a southward direction, the tow shall be drifted through the navigation opening of the bridge at a speed not exceeding the velocity of flow. If the river's flow is in a northward direction, the tow shall move through the navigation opening of the bridge at the minimum speed required to maintain steerageway.

(e) When the above signals governing northbound traffic are displayed, unless otherwise directed by the District Engineer tows moving north through the bridge shall not exceed two barges arranged in tandem with the towing vessel in the rear pushing the tow with its bow made up to the stern of the rear barge, or lashed securely alongside and near the stern of the rear barge. If the river's flow is in a southward direction, the tows shall move through the navigation opening of the bridge at the minimum speed required to maintain steerageway. If the river's flow is in a northward direction, the tow shall be drifted through the navigation opening of the bridge at a speed not exceeding the velocity of flow.

(f) The above regulations, except those governing speed of movement through the navigation opening, shall not apply to tows with two towing vessels of sufficient power, one ahead and one astern of the tow.

(g) Vessels and tows proceeding with the current shall have the right of way over vessels and tows proceeding against the current. When two vessels or tows are about to enter the navigation opening through the bridge from opposite directions at the same time, the vessel or tow proceeding against the current shall stop short of the opening until the vessel or tow having the right of way shall have passed through.

(h) Vessels and tows desiring to pass through the navigation opening of the bridge shall approach the opening along the axis of the channel and shall proceed with due regard for direction and velocity of the current and any tendency to drift either to the right or to the left so as to pass through without danger of striking the bridge or the fenders. No vessel or tow shall attempt passage through the navigation opening until the bridge is fully open. The coordination of operations directed by this order shall be subject to the carriers' possessing or obtaining the requisite operating authority.

5. All records of the carriers pertaining to any transportation performed pursuant to this order and to the provisions of such plan shall be kept available for examination and inspection at all reasonable times by accredited representatives of the Office of Defense Transportation.

6. The plan for joint action hereby approved and all contractual arrangements made by the carriers to effectuate the plan shall not continue in operation beyond the effective period of this order.

7. Communications concerning this order should refer to it by the Supplementary Order number which appears in the caption on page 1 hereof, and, unless otherwise directed, should be addressed to the Division of Motor Transport, Office of Defense Transportation, Washington, D. C.

This order shall become effective April 26, 1944, and shall remain in full force and effect until the termination of the present war shall have been duly proclaimed, or until such earlier time as the Office of Defense Transportation by further order may designate.

1. The carriers and each of them, named in Appendix 1 hereof (hereinafter collectively called "carriers"), respectively, in the transportation of shipments of household goods as common carriers by motor vehicle, shall establish an office (hereinafter referred to as "registration office") at Parkersburg, West Virginia, to facilitate the movement of such shipments, in the following manner:

(a) Each carrier shall register with the registration office shipments which the carrier may be unable to transport by reason of the restrictions contained in General Order ODT 43 (9 F.R. 3261);

(b) Each carrier shall register with the registration office all empty or partially loaded equipment for which the carrier has no shipments available;

(c) The manager or employees of the registration office shall advise the carriers as to shipments registered and empty equipment or the unloaded space therein which is available: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize the manager or any employee of the registration office to dispatch equipment, direct traffic, or exercise any supervision or control over the movement of any shipment, or part thereof, in any manner whatsoever;

(d) The manager of the registration office, and each carrier, shall prepare and maintain such records, and make such reports, as the Office of Defense Transportation may prescribe, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942. Such records shall be kept available for examination and inspection at all reasonable times by accredited representatives of the Office of Defense Transportation; and

(e) The cost of maintaining the registration office shall be apportioned among the carriers as they shall agree on, or in the event the carriers are unable to agree thereon, shall be apportioned as the Office of Defense Transportation shall determine and direct.

2. Shipments exchanged pursuant to this order shall be exchanged in accordance with the following conditions:

(c) The rates and charges applicable to the transportation, storage in transit, packing and unpacking, and other accessorial services performed in respect of any shipment shall be the lawfully applicable rates and charges of the carrier with whom the shipper entered into the contract of carriage;

(d) The duties and obligations of the originating carrier to the shipper shall not be altered by an exchange made pursuant hereto; and

(e) The carriers shall not exchange shipments with each other except as provided herein.

3. Any common carrier by motor vehicle, duly authorized or permitted to engage in the transportation of household goods, and having suitable equipment and facilities therefor, may make application in writing to the Division of Motor Transport, Office of Defense Transportation, Washington, D. C., for authorization to participate in the functioning of the registration office established pursuant hereo. A copy of every such application shall be served upon the manager of the registration office. Upon receiving such authorization, such carrier shall become subject to this order and shall thereupon be entitled and required to participate in the functioning of the registration office in accordance with all the provisions and conditions of this order, in the same manner and degree as the carriers named in Appendix 1 hereof.

4. Nothing contained in this order shall be so construed or applied as to relieve any carrier subject hereto from registering with district offices and obtaining clearance authority as provided in General Order ODT 43 (9 F.R. 3261), or required by any other General Order, or as to relieve any carrier from any other requirements of the Office of Defense Transportation, or from any other regulatory or legal requirement, or as to require or permit any carrier to perform any transportation service not authorized or sanctioned by law, or to render any service beyond its transportation capacity, or to alter its legal liability to any shipper or other carrier.

5. Each carrier subject to this order engaged in interstate transportation shall file a copy of this order with the Interstate Commerce Commission, and, if engaged in intrastate commerce, shall file a copy hereof with each appropriate State regulatory body having jurisdiction over any operations affected hereby.

OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION.

[RO 5C,[1] Order 3]

AUTHORIZATION TO ACCEPT CLASS R COUPONS

Pursuant to the authority conferred upon the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing by § 1394.8153 (b) (4) (iv) of Ration Order No. 5C, as amended, the following order is prescribed:

(a) Findings. Under the laws of the State of Kansas tax exempt gasoline for non-highway purposes may be sold to consumers by licensed distributors only, and such transfers must be made in quantities of forty gallons or more. The purchaser of tax exempt gasoline must present to the seller an exemption permit and a signed exemption statement.

Exemption permits and statements are issued by the State Director of Revenue of the Commission of Revenue and Taxation to any person who satisfies the Director that he needs gasoline for non-highway uses and that gasoline obtained on exemption statements will only be used for such purposes. The exemption statement, which is executed in triplicate at the time of sale, is signed by both the seller and purchaser and stipulates the amount and kind of gasoline transferred. Copies of the exemption statement are retained by the buyer and seller and the original is transmitted to the State Director in lieu of taxes.

If gasoline which is obtained on a tax exemption statement is used for other than non-highway purposes, the purchaser's exemption permit is revocable by the State Director. In Kansas there are approximately 1,100 licensed distributors who have qualified to make tax exempt sales of gasoline. Each distributor is required to maintain and keep, for a period of two years, a full record or records of all motor vehicle fuels received, used or sold by such distributor, together with invoices and bills of lading and such other pertinent papers as may be required by the State Director. In substance, the laws of the State of Kansas carefully safeguard the sale of tax exempt gasoline, and contain strict standards in order to assure that such transfers will be made for non-highway purposes. The use of the exemption statement and the keeping of full records will enable the investigators of the Office of Price Administration to determine whether or not prohibited transfers are being made. Hence, it appears that authority may be extended to licensed distributors located in the State of Kansas to make tax exempt transfers of gasoline in exchange for Class R coupons to persons who have been issued exemption permits and exemption statements without facilitating the unlawful acquisition of Class R coupons.

(b) Order. It is hereby ordered that licensed distributors in the State of Kansas who are permitted by that State to make tax exempt sales of gasoline are authorized to accept Class R coupons at their retail facilities for such tax exempt sales where these sales are made in quantities of forty gallons or more and are made as tax exempt sales in compliance with the laws of the State of Kansas.

(c) Definitions. The definition of terms and rules of construction contained in § 1394.7551 of Ration Order 5C shall apply to this order.

(d) Effective period. This order shall become effective April 21, 1944, and shall remain in effect until modified or revoked.

SWEET POTATOES IN NORTH GEORGIA DISTRICT AREA

Order No. G-1 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 376, as amended. Certain fresh fruits and vegetables. Adjustment of maximum prices for the sale of sweet potatoes at retail in the North Georgia District area.

For the reasons set forth in an accompanying opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the District Director of the Atlanta District Office of the Office of Price Administration by section 4 (c) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 376, as amended, and Regional Delegation Order No. 34, it is hereby ordered:

(a) Purpose of order. It is the purpose of this order to adjust the maximum prices which may be charged in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation No. 376, as amended, for the sale at retail by sellers making retail sales which, were it not for this order, would be subject to Maximum Price Regulation No. 376, as amended, by establishing maximum prices by this order for such sales of sweet potatoes at retail.

(b) Maximum prices. The maximum price which may be charged on and after the effective date of this order for such sales of sweet potatoes as set forth in paragraph (a) above shall be a price calculated by the retail seller as follows: The seller shall take the cost which he paid, less all trade and cash discounts, for the particular lot of sweet potatoes from which the sale is being made, delivered to his store, when such purchase is made from a customary type supplier, in a customary quantity, and delivered to his store by a customary mode of transportation, and multiply such net cost by 1.40, and the resulting figure shall be his maximum selling price. If the sweet potatoes for which the seller is calculating a maximum price were not purchased from a customary type supplier, in a customary quantity, and delivered to his store by a customary mode of transportation, he shall find out what the sweet potatoes would have cost him if he had purchased them from a customary type supplier, in a customary quantity, and delivered to his store by a customary mode of transportation; and he shall multiply that net cost by 1.40 (rather than multiply the actual cost by 1.40), and the resulting figure shall be his maximum price. If a seller calculates a maximum selling price which exceeds 10¢ per pound, he may not use the price so calculated as his maximum price but his maximum price shall be 10¢ per pound.

(1) Any maximum price calculated hereunder which results in a fraction of less than a half cent shall be reduced to the next lower cent, or if it results in a fraction of a half cent or more it may be increased to the next whole cent.

(c) Records. Each retail seller subject to this order shall, before offering for sale any sweet potatoes after the effective date of this order, calculate his maximum price for each lot of potatoes purchased on the purchase invoice or other evidence of purchase given him by his supplier of each lot of sweet potatoes. He shall preserve such invoices and the calculations contained thereon for the purpose of examination by the Office of Price Administration so long as this order shall remain in effect.

(d) Relationship to Maximum Price Regulation No. 376, as amended. It is not the intention of this order to modify or change any sections, parts, or provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 376, as amended, which are not in conflict with the provisions of this order, and each seller shall continue to remain subject to such applicable provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 376, as amended, which are not in conflict with this order.

(e) Definitions. (1) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, the General Maximum Price Regulation, and Maximum Price Regulation No. 376, as amended, issued by the Office of Price Administration, shall apply to the terms used herein.

(2) The "North Georgia District Area" means the territory located within the Counties of Lincoln, Wilkes, Taliaferro, Hancock, Washington, Johnson, Laurens, Dodge, Wilcox, Crisp, Lee, Terrell, Randolph, Quitman, or any county north or northwest of the named counties in the State of Georgia.

(f) Geographical applicability. This order applies to and is limited to sales by retail sellers making sales through their places of business located within the "North Georgia District Area."

(g) Modification. This order may be revoked, amended, modified, or corrected at any time by the District Director.

(h) Effective date. This order shall become effective April 8, 1944: Provided, however, That any seller subject to this order, if he prefers, may continue to establish his maximum prices in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation No. 376, as amended, until April 18, 1944.

Issued this 8th day of April 1944.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter VI—Solid Fuels Administration for War

STATEMENT CONCERNING SHIPMENT TO LAKES[1]

Under § 602.391 of SFAW Regulation No. 20 some producers have erroneously construed the section to mean that equal or regular shipments of coal shall be made within each month and have, for example, shipped 2,500 tons per week in order to fulfill a 10,000 ton per month commitment. Such shipments are too small to permit quick dumping into vessels and prompt release of railroad cars.

The words "regular equal monthly shipments" as used in § 602.391 of the regulation contemplate that the monthly shipments would be made from the mines in as large quantities as necessary to assure the expeditious dumping of coal into vessels and the prompt release of railroad cars. It also contemplates that the coal would move in as even a flow as is consistent with achieving this objective.

Under Regulation No. 20 it is expected that lake commitments, subject to modifications or cut-backs by SFAW, will be fulfilled by November 1, 1944 and that during the season of lake navigation there will also be, to the extent practicable, an even flow of coal all-rail.

Dated: April 24, 1944.

Deputy Solid Fuels Administrator for War.

GENERAL PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT, INC.

General Playground Equipment, Inc., 1133 South Courtland Avenue, Kokomo, Indiana, is a corporation engaged among other things, in the business of manufacturing playground equipment. It has not kept either adequate inventory records or production records, in violation of Priorities Regulation No. 1. Between January 1, 1943, and January 1, 1944, it violated Conservation Order M-126 by fabricating, assembling, and delivering 65 items of playground equipment, by assembling and delivering 421 items of such equipment, and by delivering 108 items of such equipment; all of these items contained iron or steel. The responsible officers of General Playground Equipment, Inc., were aware of the regulations and orders of the War Production Board governing its business and its violations of Priorities Regulation No. 1 and Conservation Order M-126 must be deemed wilful.

These violations of Priorities Regulation No. 1 and Conservation Order M-126 have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board and have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.518 Suspension Order No. S-518. (a) General Playground Equipment, Inc., its successors or assigns, shall not directly or indirectly put into process, process, manufacture or assemble any iron or steel item, article, or part listed on Conservation Order M-126, irrespective of any special exception or permission provided for in said order, which said exception or permission shall not be applicable to respondent's operations, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) The restrictions set forth herein shall not apply to orders bearing preference ratings of AA-2X or higher for items, articles or parts so excepted or permitted.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve General Playground Equipment, Inc., from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on April 24, 1944, and shall expire on July 24, 1944.

WINTHROP MILLS

Winthrop Mills is a corporation operating a woolen mill in Winthrop, Maine. In August, 1943, it began construction of a carbonizing plant as an addition to its mill at an estimated cost of about $13,000, which was in excess of the $5,000. limitation for that type of construction provided by Conservation Order L-41. Furthermore, it continued such construction notwithstanding it received two warnings from the War Production Board in October 1943, that the construction was unlawful. The beginning of this construction was a negligent violation of Conservation Order L-41, and became wilful after receipt of the warnings in October.

In the course of this construction, the corporation on August 27, 1943, placed an order for twelve cast iron brackets and twelve cast iron post caps certifying under the provisions of CMP Regulation 5 that they were for essential maintenance, repair or operating supplies. It received these products in September and used them for this new construction. These actions constituted grossly negligent violations of CMP Regulation 5.

These violations of Conservation Order L-41 and CMP Regulation 5 have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board, and have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.530 Suspension Order No. S-530. (a) Neither Winthrop Mills, its successors, assigns, nor any other person, shall do any construction on the carbonizing plant of Winthrop Mills at Winthrop, Maine, including putting up or altering the structure, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Winthrop Mills, its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on April 24, 1944.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 3, as Amended Apr. 25, 1944]

§ 944.23 Priorities Regulation 3—(a) Purpose of this regulation. This regulation states the rules for the use of preference ratings, what kind of purchase orders or services may be rated and how a rating may be put on an order. It also places restrictions on the use of ratings and includes lists of products for which ratings may not be used at all or for which certain kinds of ratings may not be used. In general this regulation should be consulted before using a rating whether it was gotten directly from the War Production Board or from a customer.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this regulation:

(1) "Person" and "material" mean the same thing they do in Priorities Regulation 1.

(2) "Assignment" of a preference rating. A preference rating is assigned to a person when the War Production Board or someone that it has authorized issues an order or preference rating certificate giving him the right to use the rating.

(3) "Application" of a preference rating. A preference rating is applied when the person to whom it is assigned uses the rating. A rating is applied also when any governmental agency which is authorized by the War Production Board rates an order for delivery of material directly to it.

(4) "Extension" of a preference rating. A preference rating is extended when it is used by the person to whom it is applied or extended by another person.

(c) Use of ratings in general. (1) When a regulation, preference rating order or preference rating certificate assigns a rating to any person, either by naming him or by describing the class of persons to which he belongs (as is done in the schedules to CMP Regulation 5), that person may apply the rating to get delivery of material or the performance of certain services. Also, a person may under certain conditions extend a rating which has been applied or extended to his deliveries of material, but not one applied to services. More detailed rules as to how and when ratings may be applied or extended are set out below in this regulation.

(2) When a War Production Board order or certificate states the quantities and kinds of material or the particular services which are rated, the person to whom it is assigned may use the rating to get only that quantity and kind of material or that particular service named in the order or certificate. If the quantities of material are not stated in the order or certificate assigning the rating it may be applied only to get the minimum amount needed.

(3) No person may place rated orders for more material than he is authorized to rate even though he intends to cancel some of the orders or reduce the quantity of material ordered to the authorized amount before it is all delivered.

(d) When ratings may be extended for material. The following provisions of this paragraph (d) apply to all extensions of preference ratings to get deliveries of material, unless they are modified by or are inconsistent with the provisions of any particular order.

(1) A manufacturer of Class B products under the Controlled Materials plan and a holder of Form WPB–2613 (formerly PD–870) may not extend his customers' ratings (except AAA) as explained in more detail in CMP Regulation 3 and in Priorities Regulation 11B.

(2) When a person has received a rated order for the delivery of material, he may extend the rating to get the material which he will deliver on that order, or which will be physically incorporated in material which he will deliver. If the material is to be processed, this includes the portion of it which would normally be consumed or converted into scrap or by-products in the course of processing.

(3) If a person has made delivery of material, or has incorporated it into other material which he has delivered on a rated order, he may extend the rating to replace it in his inventory. However, if after delivering the material he still has a practicable working minimum inventory he may not extend the rating to replace the material delivered; and if by making the delivery his inventory is reduced below this minimum, the rating may be extended to get only the amount necessary to restore the inventory to a practicable working minimum. Any material ordered to replace in inventory must be substantially the same as the material which the person delivered or incorporated in the material which he delivered, except for minor variations in size, shape or design. Substitution of less scarce materials which do not substantially alter the purpose for which the material is to be used is, however, permitted. The Conservation Division of the War Production Board from time to time publishes a list showing the relative scarcity of materials, entitled "Materials Substitution and Supply List." The latest copy may be obtained from any War Production Board office.

(4) A person to whom a rating has been applied or extended to get material may not extend that rating to get containers or closures to pack the material except as permitted by any order in the Containers, Part 3270, Series (Orders P–140 and P–146 are the only ones that now permit the extension of such ratings). Nor may he extend such rating to get any material for his own plant improvement, expansion or construction, or to get machine tools or other items which he will carry as capital equipment, or to get business machines for his own use whether purchased or leased, or to get maintenance, repair or operating supplies for his own use. Other orders or regulations, such as CMP Regulation 5 and some orders in the "P" series, assign ratings which may be used by the proper persons to get maintenance, repair or operating supplies and minor capital additions.

(e) Additional restrictions upon use of ratings for certain materials. Because of special circumstances which exist with respect to certain materials and products, the use of preference ratings to get items on Lists A or B attached to this regulation is restricted as follows:

(1) Items as to which preference ratings have no effect; List A. Any item on List A may be produced or delivered without regard to preference ratings. No person shall apply or extend any rating to get any of these items and no person selling any such item shall require a rating as a condition of sale. Any rating purporting to be applied or extended to any such item shall be void and no person shall give any effect to it in filling an order.

(2) Items to which blanket MRO ratings do not apply; List B. Blanket MRO ratings may not be applied to get any item on List B, except as permitted by the list. A blanket MRO rating means a rating assigned by CMP Regulation 5 of 5A, or by any other War Production Board regulation, order (including an order in the "P" series), form or certificate which assigns a rating for maintenance, repair or operating supplies without specifying the kind and quantity of the material to which the rating may be applied. Where the quantity of material is specified in terms of dollar value only, the rating is a blanket MRO rating. No person shall give any effect to any rating applied to his deliveries of any item on List B if he knows or has reason to believe that it is a blanket MRO rating. Any blanket MRO rating applied to an order for any item on List B which was not delivered before the date the item was added to the list shall be deemed void. The restrictions of this paragraph are not applicable when the blanket MRO rating is applied to get an item on the list for use on board ship, but in such a case the rating may not be extended by the person to whom it is applied.

(3) Illustration. A manufacturer of a product listed in Schedule II of CMP Regulation 5 is assigned a rating of AA–2 for operating supplies. He may not use the rating to buy wooden shelving for his own use since it is on List B. A contractor has received an order bearing a rating of AA–3 to install wooden shelving in an Army camp. He may extend that rating to get the wooden shelving from the manufacturer since in this case the shelving is production material as to him and not operating supplies. If, however, wooden shelving were on List A instead of List B, neither rating could be used.

(f) Use of ratings for services—(1) Ratings may not be used for personal services. Preference ratings may never be used to get labor or personal services as distinct from services performed in the course of a regular business involving the use of plant, machinery or equipment owned by the person furnishing the services. For example, ratings may be used to get a repair job done in a repair shop as explained below but may not be used to compel an individual employee to work on a repair job or to obtain the services of a consulting engineer.

(2) Three cases where ratings may be used for services. There are only three situations in which a preference rating may be used to get services, as distinct from the production or delivery of material:

(i) A rating assigned for the purpose. If the War Production Board assigns a rating to a named person to get specified services, he may use the rating for that purpose.

(ii) For processing. When a person has a rating which he may use to get processed material, he may (unless prohibited by another regulation or order) furnish the unprocessed material to a processor and use the same rating to get it processed.

(iii) For repairs. A blanket MRO rating may be applied by the person to whom it is assigned to get his plant, machinery or equipment repaired even if the repair job does not involve the delivery of repair parts or materials. See paragraph (e) (2) for definition of a blanket MRO rating. A rating assigned on Form WPB–541 (formerly PD–1A) or WPB–542 (formerly PD–3A), or any other rating which may be applied to the delivery of specific repair parts or materials, may also be applied to the installation of the repair parts or materials or to the repair job alone if it is found that installing the parts or materials is not necessary. However, in the case of ordinary plumbing, heating, electrical, automotive or refrigeration repairs, a rating may not be applied to repair work even if the rating is expressly applicable to repair parts or materials. As used in this subparagraph, "repair" means to fix a plant, machinery or equipment after it has broken down or when it is about to break down. "Repair" does not mean upkeep or maintenance service such as periodic inspection, cleaning, painting, lubricating, etc.

(3) Ratings for services only may not be extended. A person to whom a rating for services, as distinct from the production or delivery of material, has been applied or extended may not extend the rating for any purpose.

(g) How to apply or extend a rating. (1) When a person applies or extends a preference rating he must put the rating (and symbol, if appropriate) on the order together with a certification signed as prescribed in Priorities Regulation 7. He may use the standard certification set out in that regulation, or if he prefers the following:

CERTIFICATION

The undersigned purchaser hereby represents to the seller and to the War Production Board that he is entitled to apply or extend the preference ratings indicated opposite the items shown on this order, and that such application or extension is in accordance with Priorities Regulation 3 as amended, with the terms of which the undersigned is familiar.

(Name of Purchaser)

By _____ (Signature and Title of Duly Authorized Officer)

The person who receives the certification shall be entitled to rely on it as a representation of the buyer unless he knows or has reason to know that it is false.

NOTE: (Subparagraphs (2) and (3) deleted April 25, 1944. They are superseded by paragraphs (o) and (p) of Priorities Regulation 7, which state the rules for placing rated orders orally or by telephone or telegraph.)

(4) When a person applies or extends a rating he shall also include on his purchase order or contract any information which may be required by any applicable War Production Board order. However, he is not required to include the serial number of the preference rating certificate assigning the rating.

(5) Each person who applies or extends a rating must keep at his regular place of business all documents including purchase orders and preference rating orders and certificates which authorize him to apply or extend the rating. These documents, orders and certificates must be kept in such a way that they can be readily segregated and furnished to representatives of the War Production Board for inspection.

(6) When either certification authorized in this paragraph (g) is used it will not be necessary to use any other certification in order to apply or extend a preference rating, nor will it be necessary to furnish a copy of any preference rating order no matter what any regulation, preference rating order or preference rating certificate says unless it expressly states that this regulation does not apply. This does not affect the requirements of Priorities Regulation No. 9 (§ 944.30) when ratings are applied to certain types of exports, in which case its terms control.

(7) No person shall knowingly purport to apply or extend a preference rating to any order unless he is entitled to do so. No person shall apply or extend a rating for material or services after he has received the material or after the services have been performed, and any person who receives such a rating shall not extend it.

(h) Provisions applicable to extensions; deferment and grouping. No matter what any applicable preference rating order or certificate may say,

(1) No person may extend any rating to replace inventory after three months have passed from the time he could have first extended it;

(2) When a person has two or more ratings of the same grade which were assigned by different preference rating certificates or orders he may combine them and extend them to one delivery; and

(3) When a person has two or more ratings of different grades, or where they were assigned by the same or different certificates or orders, he may extend them to deliveries under one purchase order. However, the purchase order must show the amount of each material to which a particular grade of rating is extended. If the type and quantity of the material is such that the supplier can readily determine the exact effect of the extension of the rating on his production and delivery schedule from percentage figures alone, then the purchase order may show the amount of the material to which the particular grade of rating is extended on a percentage basis; otherwise, it must be shown as a separate item. In order to avoid production or delivery of material in quantities smaller than the minimum commercially practicable a person may combine ratings of different grades and extend the rating of the lowest grade to the total production or delivery.

(i) Restrictions in other orders. When any person applies or extends a rating he shall be subject to any applicable rule or restriction which may be set forth in the order of the War Production Board which assigns the rating or any other order which regulates transactions in the material or the facilities for which he is using the rating. This includes restrictions as to the kind and amount of material to which ratings may be applied or extended, requirements for written approval of any particular transaction, restrictions on certain uses of material or facilities and any other rules which may be applicable to the particular transaction. However, the rules of paragraphs (g) (4) and (g) (6) apply unless some other order or certificate expressly says that they do not.

INTERPRETATION 1, REVOCATION

Interpretation 1 of Priorities Regulation 3 is hereby revoked. (Issued Nov. 17, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 2

The restrictions on the use of ratings for the items on Lists A and B apply to orders for such items which had been placed before the date the item was put on the list but were not yet filled. (Issued Nov. 17, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 3

FIRE PROTECTIVE EQUIPMENT

Blanket MRO ratings may be used to obtain repair parts and material for existing fire protective equipment, but may not be used to obtain end items of fire protective equipment. The term "Fire protective equipment", on List B attached to Priorities Regulation 3, includes only end items and does not include materials or parts required for the repair or maintenance of existing fire protective equipment.

For example, a fire extinguisher or a fire hose coupling is an end item of fire protective equipment and therefore may not be obtained on blanket MRO ratings, whereas a part required to repair an extinguisher or coupling is not an end item and therefore may be obtained on blanket MRO ratings. Similiarly, blanket MRO ratings may not be used to obtain a fire sprinkler system nor to extend an existing sprinkler system, but such ratings may be used to repair or replace sprinkler heads which have been opened up by fire or damaged in any other way. However, blanket MRO ratings may not be used to repair or replace new equipment which is still usable. (Issued Feb. 26, 1944.)

A great many orders of the War Production Board permit the delivery of materials pursuant to preference ratings assigned by a P-19-h Order, or by an order in the P-19 series. Forms CMPL-224 and CMPL-127 are generally used in place of orders in the P-19 series. It is expressly stated on Form CMPL-224:

"This authorization is issued in lieu of preference rating order of the P-19 series. Any reference in any order of the War Production Board to said preference rating orders shall constitute a reference to this authorization."

It is set forth in CMPL-127:

"This authorization is issued in lieu of Preference Rating Order P-19-h or P-55. Any reference in any order of the War Production Board to said Preference Rating Order P-19-h or P-55 shall constitute a reference to this authorization."

Consequently, it is proper for any person to deliver material or equipment pursuant to a rating assigned by Forms CMPL-224 or CMPL-127, if he is permitted under existing orders of the War Production Board to deliver said material pursuant to a rating assigned by a P-19-h order or an order in the P-19 series. (Issued Aug. 13, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 5

(a) Restrictions of other orders on use of ratings or delivery. The provisions of paragraph (e) relate only to the items which appear on the lists. When any other order of the War Production Board restricts the use of preference ratings to obtain any product, or restricts delivery of a product in any way, those restrictions are applicable even though that product is not listed in Priorities Regulation 3 (§ 944.23). This rule specifically applies to the items which were on List C before the amendment of August 10, 1943.

(b) "Masking" tape. Blanket MRO ratings may be used to get industrial pressure sensitive adhesive tape (paper and cloth), also called "masking" tape. This type of tape is not included in "Gummed stay and sealing tape, paper and cloth."

This interpretation is not applicable to adhesive tape backed with cellophane or similar transparent materials derived from cellulose which may not be obtained with blanket MRO ratings. (Issued Dec. 18, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 6

EFFECT OF PREFERENCE RATING CERTIFICATE REFERRING TO PRODUCT OF A PARTICULAR MANUFACTURER

(a) When a preference rating certificate in assigning a rating to a product describes the product by its trade name or by the manufacturer's name and catalogue number, the rating may ordinarily be used to get the product from any manufacturer if the model actually obtained is substantially identical in size, operation and function with that named in the certificate.

(b) The rule stated in the preceding paragraph is consistent with the statement in paragraph (c) (2) of Priorities Regulation 3 (§ 944.23), that a preference rating may be applied only to the specific quantities and kinds of material authorized. Ordinarily a reference in a preference rating certificate to a particular product of a particular manufacturer is no more than a shorthand way of describing the product. It is safe to assume, unless the certificate clearly states otherwise, that what is being rated is a certain kind and size of product which may be obtained from any manufacturer who makes that kind and size. If it is intended to confine the rating to a particular product of a particular manufacturer, the certificate should say so explicitly. (Issued Sept. 8, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 7

LIMITATIONS ON THE RIGHT TO USE RATINGS TO GET MATERIALS PROCESSED

(a) What this interpretation covers. This interpretation explains the limitations on the use of a preference rating assigned to the delivery of a material to get material processed under paragraph (f) (2) (ii) of the regulation.

(b) Controlled materials. Preference ratings cannot be used to buy controlled materials (steel, copper, and aluminum in controlled material form) from a producer or warehouse and consequently no rating may be used to get material processed into a controlled material by a producer or warehouse. There is one exception to this general rule which is covered by paragraph (d-1) of CMP Regulation No. 6, which assigns a preference rating to steel producers for use in getting steel processed into a controlled material form.

(c) Class B products. Paragraph (g) (3) of CMP Regulation No 1 prohibits allotments of controlled materials to B product manufacturers except by the War Production Board and, as explained in Interpretation No. 16 to CMP Regulation No 1, also prohibits a customer from furnishing controlled materials to a B product manufacturer. A special exception to this general rule is provided in Direction 36 to CMP Regulation No. 1. In all cases not covered by the exception, it is improper for a person to furnish controlled materials to a B product manufacturer for processing and consequently no preference rating can be used to get such processing done. In this connection, attention is called to the fact that all products, whether Class A products or Class B products, which are bought for use as maintenance, repair, or operating supplies are treated as though they were Class B products. This is covered by paragraph (k-1) (2) of CMP Regulation No. 1. As pointed out in Interpretation No. 13 to CMP Regulation No. 1, a Class A repair part is handled on a Class B basis and therefore paragraph (g) (3) of the regulation is applicable.

(d) Ratings not to interfere with authorized controlled material orders. While a person who has been assigned a rating to get material may use the rating to get the use of the facilities of a controlled materials producer to have the material processed (if the material, when processed, is not a controlled material) rated orders for the use of a controlled materials producer's facilities must not interfere with the acceptance, production, or delivery of orders which he is permitted to fill under paragraph (t) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 1. Attention is called to Interpretation No. 4 to Priorities Regulation No. 1 on this subject. (Issued Nov. 18, 1943.)

ELECTRONIC INTERCOMMUNICATING SYSTEMS AND WIRE INTERCOMMUNICATING SYSTEMS

List B of Priorities Regulation 3 (§ 944.23) forbids the use of blanket MRO ratings to obtain electronic intercommunicating systems or wire intercommunicating systems. This restriction applies only to getting systems not yet installed. Therefore, blanket MRO ratings may be used to obtain repair parts and materials for existing intercommunicating systems. Also, those blanket MRO ratings which may be used for minor capital additions, may within prescribed dollar limits be used to add stations to an existing intercommunicating system to bring it to its designed capacity. Thus, if an intercommunicating system is designed for 16 stations, with only 12 stations originally installed, four stations may be added by the use of blanket MRO ratings. However, an expansion beyond the 16 stations, or any enlargement of or an extension beyond the designed capacity, may not be obtained by use of blanket MRO ratings.

In conjunction with the above interpretation, it should be pointed out that a related item, signal and alarm equipment, also appears on List B of Priorities Regulation 3. With respect to signal and alarm equipment, blanket MRO ratings may be used to get parts and materials for repair and maintenance of existing equipment. However, since signal and alarm equipment is generally installed without a specific margin of unused designed capacity, no additions or extensions by the use of blanket MRO ratings are permitted. (Issued Jan. 6, 1944.)

CERTAIN MRO RATINGS ASSIGNED UNDER P-98-b ARE NOT BLANKET MRO RATINGS

Paragraph (e) (2) of Priorities Regulation 3 prohibits the use of a "blanket MRO rating" to get any item on List B. See that paragraph for a definition of a "blanket MRO rating". Some of the items which are on List B also appear on Schedule B of Preference Rating Order P-98-b. That schedule provides a way to get a rating for the items which appear on it so that such P-98-b ratings will not be "blanket MRO ratings". These ratings are assigned to specific purchase orders for a specific kind and quantity of the material desired.

Therefore, when a rating assigned pursuant to Schedule B of P-98-b (as evidenced by the symbol MRO-P-3) is applied to a purchase order for any item which is set out on Schedule B of that order that rating is valid, despite the fact the item is also on List B of Priorities Regulation 3.

The order does not require the purchaser to furnish a copy of his approved purchase order to the supplier, and the supplier should give effect to the rating and certification unless he knows or has reason to believe that the purchase order has not been rated as provided in Schedule B of Order P-98-b. (Issued Jan. 24, 1944.)

USE OF RATING TO OBTAIN LEASED MACHINERY

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Priorities Regulation 3:

(a) A preference rating which has been assigned for the delivery of an item of machinery or equipment may be used to lease the equipment as long as the following conditions are fulfilled:

(1) The lease must be a long-term semi-permanent arrangement where both parties contemplate the comparatively permanent installation of the machine or equipment. For instance, a rating could be used to obtain a machine under lease where the lease was for one year, with provision for renewal at the end of each year, and both parties expected that the lease would be renewed from time to time. However, the rating could not be used to obtain a machine for a month's use.

(2) If the rating is limited by specific dollar amount, it may be used only to lease machinery or equipment whose fair market value is no greater than the amount specified. For example, CMP Regulation No. 5 assigns a rating for the purchase of minor capital additions not exceeding $500. This rating can be used to lease a machine if its fair market value is not more than $500.

(b) If the instrument assigning the ratings specifies a lease rather than a purchase, it is not necessary to comply with the above conditions.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

IDENTIFICATION OF BLANKET MRO RATINGS

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Priorities Regulation 3:

Generally speaking, ratings accompanied by the symbol "MRO" are blanket MRO ratings when they are applied to get an item on List B of Priorities Regulation 3. Therefore, any person receiving an order for a List B item bearing a rating accompanied by the symbol "MRO" must assume that the rating is a blanket MRO rating and give it no effect, unless the person who applied or extended it demonstrates (1) that it is not a blanket MRO rating or (2) that it is an extension of a blanket MRO rating applied on an order which was filed before the item was added to List B. (See paragraph (c) (2) of Priorities Regulation 3 for definition of "blanket MRO rating.")

It should not be assumed, however, that all blanket MRO ratings are accompanied by the "MRO" symbol. Several "P" and "U" Orders assign blanket MRO ratings which are accompanied by symbols other than "MRO." For example, a blanket MRO rating is assigned by Preference Rating Order P-68, but the symbol accompanying the rating is "S-8".

The question has been raised whether the War Production Board assigns the symbol "MRO" in connection with the assignment of a rating on Form WPB-541 (PD-1A) for a List B item. The answer to this question is "No." Therefore, no rating which was assigned on Form WPB-541 for a List B item could properly be accompanied by the "MRO" symbol.

RECORDS OF EXPORTERS

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Priorities Regulation 3:

Paragraph (g) (5) of Priorities Regulation No. 3 requires each person who applies or extends a rating to keep all documents including preference rating orders and certificates which authorize him to apply or extend the rating at his regular place of business. The Foreign Economic Administration and its predecessors, the Board of Economic Warfare and the Office of Economic Warfare, have assigned preference ratings to exporters for export by endorsing appropriate legends upon export licenses. The original of every export license, however, is required by other government regulations to be surrendered to export officials at the time of shipment. Consequently, persons who receive their assignments of preference ratings on export licenses are not in a position to retain the original of the export license and thus are not required to do so by paragraph (g) (5) except only in those cases where other government regulations do not require the surrender to the government of the documents referred to.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

SALES OF CONTROLLED MATERIALS BY WAREHOUSES AND DISTRIBUTORS

§ 3175.4 CMP Regulation 4—(a) Purpose and scope. This regulation describes the procedure to be followed by warehouses and distributors in delivering controlled materials from stock (including consigned stock) except that in the case of steel, deliveries from one distributor to another are governed by Orders M-21-b-1 and M-21-b-2.

Steel

(b) Definitions with respect to steel. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation and for the purpose of any other CMP regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Steel" means carbon steel, alloy steel, and wrought iron, in the forms and shapes listed in Schedule I of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(2) "Distributor" means any person (including a warehouse, jobber, dealer or retailer) who is engaged in the business of receiving steel for sale or resale in the form received or after performing such operations as cutting to length, shearing to size, torch cutting or burning to shape, sorting and grading, pipe threading, or corrugating or otherwise forming sheets for roofing and siding; but a person who, in connection with any sale, bends, punches or performs any fabricating operation designed to prepare steel for final use or assembly shall not be deemed a distributor with respect to such sale.

(c) Rejection of orders. (1) A distributor must reject all orders except those which he is required or permitted to fill under paragraph (d).

(2) [Deleted Jan. 13, 1944.]

(3) A distributor must not deliver any steel on an authorized controlled material order bearing a specific allotment number except in the period for which the allotment was made or within 15 days before or 30 days after such period. For example, a distributor receiving an order bearing the allotment number N-1-4Q43 may fill the order at any time during the period September 15, 1943, through January 31, 1944. Orders bearing symbols such as MRO which do not have to bear any quarterly identification are not subject to this provision.

(4) A distributor may reject any order for steel on which the customer does not specify immediate delivery. Even if he elects to accept an authorized controlled material order calling for future delivery, he is not allowed to set aside the steel covered by such order. He must deliver it on any order calling for immediate delivery that he is required to fill under paragraphs (d) (1), (2) or (3), and may deliver it on any order calling for immediate delivery that he is permitted to fill under paragraph (d) (4).

(5) A distributor may reject any order calling for the delivery of steel which he does not have in stock or which he does not know is in transit to his stock.

(6) A distributor may reject all or any part of an order which the War Production Board specifically authorizes him to reject. If a delivery would deplete his stock to a point where his function in the distribution of steel would be seriously impaired, he may apply to the War Production Board for authority to reject the order and may delay filling the order until his application is acted upon.

(d) Orders which must be filled. A distributor must fill the following kinds of orders unless he is required or permitted to reject them under paragraph (c):

(1) A distributor must fill all authorized controlled material orders.

(2) A distributor must fill orders for delivery to farmers as required by Priorities Regulation No. 19.

(3) A distributor must fill orders bearing preference ratings of AAA.

(4) A distributor may fill other orders as follows, but is not required to do so regardless of whether rated or not:

(i) Orders in amounts of $25 or less. No endorsement is required on such orders.

(ii) Orders calling for delivery to one customer during any calendar quarter of not more than 10 tons of carbon steel, 1,000 pounds of stainless steel and 2 tons of other alloy steel, providing such deliveries of any one product group and type to one customer do not exceed the amounts shown below:

	Quantities in pounds per quarter unless otherwise stated
	Carbon (Including wrought iron)	Stainless	Alloy (Other than stainless)
Tool steel, including drill rod	300	------	300
Mechanical tubing	1,000*	100*	300*
Wire rope and strand	300*	------	------
Music Wire	300	------	------
All other steel products	20,000	1,000	4,000

*Feet per quarter.

Each order placed under this paragraph (d) (4) (ii) must be accompanied by or endorsed with both the standard form of certification in CMP Regulation No. 7 and the following sentence: "This order is placed under paragraph (d) (4) (ii) of CMP Regulation No. 4."

The purpose of this paragraph (d) (4) (ii) is to permit persons using small quantities of steel to obtain their requirements without the use of allotments; it is not to allow users of large quantities to obtain steel in addition to their purchases on authorized controlled material orders. Therefore, a person who buys any steel under this paragraph (d) (4) (ii) cannot receive any kind or type of steel from producers or distributors in any quarter in excess of the amounts shown in the above table whether it is received on authorized controlled material orders or otherwise. Consequently, in general, a person should plan to buy all his steel either under this paragraph or on authorized controlled material orders, but not both. Purchases of steel from persons other than producers or distributors do not affect the amount which can be bought under this paragraph. Such purchases are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation 13 and paragraph (u) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

Copper

(e) Definitions with respect to copper. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation and for the purpose of any other CMP regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Copper wire mill product" means bare, insulated or armored wire or cable for electrical conduction made from copper or copper base alloy or copper-clad steel containing more than 20% copper by weight.

(2) "Brass mill product" means sheet, wire, rod or tube made from copper or copper base alloy. This does not include copper wire mill products.

(3) "Warehouse" means any industrial supplier, mill supplier, plumbing supply house, electrical wholesaler or other person engaged in the business of distributing brass mill products or copper wire mill products to industry or trade otherwise than as a controlled materials producer and includes warehouses owned by mills.

(4) "Item of copper wire mill product" means any wire or cable made from copper, copper base alloy or copper-clad steel containing more than 20% copper by weight for electrical conduction which is different from all other items of that form by reason of one or more differences of its specifications, such as size, alloy or insulation. Differences in temper or length do not differentiate items.

(5) "Item of brass mill product" means sheet, wire, rod or tube made from copper or copper base alloy, which is different from all other items of that form, by reason of one or more differences of its specifications, such as size, shape, gauge, thickness or alloy. Differences in temper or length do not differentiate items except in the case of copper and brass sheet, where differences in temper will constitute different items.

(6) "Warehouse stock" means brass mill or copper wire mill products physically located in warehouse inventories, whether owned or held on consignment by the warehouse.

(f) Delivery of brass mill or copper wire mill products—(1) Delivery from warehouse stock. (i) A warehouse shall fill authorized controlled material orders for brass mill or copper wire mill products, in accordance with this regulation, if it can fill the orders from its stock. In no case, however, may a warehouse fill an order for brass mill or copper wire mill products unless the purchaser has the right to accept delivery under the provisions of this paragraph (f) which limit the amount of brass mill and copper wire mill products which a purchaser may get from a warehouse. A warehouse is entitled to rely on a certificate furnished by any of its customers under paragraph (f) (1) (iv) of this regulation, unless it knows or has reason to believe the certificate to be false.

(ii) Beginning May 15, 1944 no person shall place orders for delivery from warehouse stock of any item of brass mill product to any one destination, during any calendar week which aggregates more than 500 pounds gross weight, or, effective immediately, for delivery, during any one calendar month, which aggregate more than 2,000 pounds gross weight and no person shall accept any delivery in excess of these amounts. However, the 500 pound limitation does not apply to a single continuous length of rod, tube, pipe, sheet or strip and neither the 500 pound nor the 2,000 pound limitation applies to condenser tubes or to the resale of brass mill products obtained by brass mill warehouses through an authorization issued by a Regional Office of the War Production Board or by the Copper Recovery Inventory Branch, War Production Board, 350 5th Avenue, New York City, New York.

(iii) No person shall place orders for delivery from warehouse stock of any item of copper wire mill product to any one destination, during any one calendar month, which aggregate more than 3,000 pounds copper content and no person shall accept any such delivery in excess of this amount, except that this limitation does not apply to the resale of copper wire mill products obtained by copper wire mill warehouses through an authorization issued by a Regional Office of the War Production Board or by the Copper Recovery Inventory Branch, War Production Board, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York City, New York.

(iv) No person shall place an order under this paragraph (f) (1) and no warehouse shall accept an order unless it is accompanied by, or endorsed with, a certificate in the form provided in CMP Regulation No. 7 (or a certificate prescribed by any regulation or order of the War Production Board for use in placing an authorized controlled material order), signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7.

(2) Shipments direct to customer or to fill specific orders. If a warehouse wants to order material to fill a specific authorized controlled material order of a customer instead of filling it from stock, it may order the material either for direct shipment to the customer or for shipment via the warehouse, by placing on its order the customer's name and allotment number or symbol. Such an order is to be treated as an authorized controlled material order. The warehouse may not treat the delivery to the customer as made from stock and may not request a replacement. However, in the case of brass mill products, a warehouse may order from another warehouse only if it does not have the material in inventory and needs it for immediate delivery to a customer on an authorized controlled material order. It must state these facts on its order.

(3) Rejection of orders. (i) A warehouse must not fill any order for brass mill or copper wire mill products except those which it is required or permitted to fill under paragraph (f) (1) or (f) (2) above.

(ii) A warehouse must not deliver any brass mill or copper wire mill product on an authorized controlled material order except in the quarter for which the allotment appearing on the order is valid. Orders bearing symbols such as "MRO" or "SO" which do not have to bear any quarterly identification may be filled during any quarter, but such orders must indicate when delivery is required if for other than immediate delivery.

(iii) A warehouse may reject any order calling for immediate delivery of brass mill or copper wire mill products which it does not have in stock or know to be in transit to its stock.

(iv) A warehouse may reject an order calling for future delivery. If it elects to accept the order, it must not set aside or hold any material to fill it.

Aluminum

(g) Definitions with respect to aluminum. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation and for the purpose of any other CMP Regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Aluminum" means aluminum in any of the forms and shapes constituting controlled material as defined in CMP Regulation No. 1.

(2) "Distributor" means any person who has received or proposes to receive physical delivery of aluminum into his stock for sale or resale in the same form, or after performing such operations as cutting to length, shearing to size, sorting and grading.

(h) (1) Deliveries of aluminum by distributors. Each distributor shall, to the extent of his available stock, fill authorized controlled material orders, orders bearing the symbol AM, and orders which he has been specifically directed in writing by the War Production Board to fill (i) except that he may reject any such order calling for delivery at any one time, to any one person at any one destination, of more than 2,000 lbs. of any gage, alloy and size of aluminum sheet, or more than 900 lbs. of any alloy, shape and size of aluminum wire, rod or bar, or more than 600 lbs. of any alloy, size or shape of aluminum tubing, extrusions or structural shapes and (ii) except that he also may reject any order from another distributor.

(2) No distributor shall deliver any aluminum except to fill an authorized controlled material order or pursuant to a specific direction of the War Production Board.

General Provisions Applicable to Steel, Brass Mill Products, Copper Wire Mill Products and Aluminum

(i) Directions to distributors and warehouses. Each distributor and warehouse shall comply with such directions as may be issued from time to time by the War Production Board with respect to making or withholding deliveries of steel, brass mill products, copper wire mill products or aluminum, and with respect to the earmarking of stocks of such material.

(j) Placement of authorized controlled material orders. A delivery order for steel, brass mill products, copper wire mill products or aluminum, shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order, if but only if,

(1) It is specifically designated as an authorized controlled material order by any regulation or order of the War Production Board; or

(2) It is endorsed with the appropriate certification and allotment number or symbol in the way prescribed by paragraph (a) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(3) A delivery order for steel, brass mill products, copper wire mill products or aluminum, placed with a distributor or warehouse shall be considered as calling for immediate delivery unless the order specifically provides otherwise.

(k) Verbal delivery orders. Any delivery order requiring shipment within seven days may be placed verbally or by telephone by stating to the distributor or warehouse the substance of the information required by this regulation, Provided, That the person placing the order furnishes to the distributor or warehouse, within fifteen days after placing the same, written confirmation of the order complying with the requirements of this regulation. In case of failure to receive written confirmation within fifteen days, the distributor or warehouse shall not accept any other order from, or deliver any additional material of any kind to, the purchaser until such written confirmation is furnished. On or before the twentieth day of each month any distributor or warehouse who has received in the prior month a delivery order by telephone, shall notify the appropriate Regional Compliance Office of the War Production Board, of any case in which a purchaser has failed to furnish to him the written confirmation when due.

(l) Special provisions with respect to AAA orders. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this regulation, an authorized controlled material order placed with a distributor or warehouse bearing a rating of AAA shall be filled in preference to any other authorized controlled material orders regardless of time of receipt.

(m) Communications. All communications concerning this regulation should be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: CMP Regulation No. 4 (specify whether steel, copper or aluminum).

Issued this 25th day of April 1944.

Recording Secretary.

INTERPRETATION 1

DISTRIBUTORS OF AUTOMOTIVE REPLACEMENT PARTS

The definitions of "distributor" and "warehouse" appearing in paragraphs (b) (2) and (c) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 4 are not deemed to include persons engaged solely in the business of distributing automotive replacement parts. Consequently, such persons may sell, for use as automotive replacement parts, such items as bulk or spooled primary and spark plug wire, battery cables and magnet wire, without reference to the terms of CMP Regulation No. 4, but subject to the provisions of General Limitation Order L-158 and other applicable regulations or orders. PART 3274—MACHINE TOOLS AND INDUSTRIAL SPECIALISTS

[Conservation Order M-319, as Amended Apr. 25, 1944]

MANUFACTURED ABRASIVE GRAIN

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of manufactured abrasive grain for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3274.91 Conservation Order M-319—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Manufactured abrasive grain" means: (i) Any silicon carbide or fused aluminum oxide which has been classified as to particle size by mechanical, hydraulic, pneumatic, or other methods, and (ii) Abrasive optical finishing powders, abrasive flours, blasting grain, reclaimed grain, refractory grain, firesand, and other manufactured abrasive and refractory grain specialties, whether or not classified as to particle size.

Unfused or levigated alumina, and natural abrasives such as emery, garnet, corundum, and flint are not subject to this order.

(2) "Silicon carbide" means that product which results from combining silica and coke in a resistance-type electric furnace.

(3) "Fused aluminum oxide" means that product resulting from the fusion of alumina, or the fusion and purification of bauxite in an electric furnace, reduced by sledging or crushing to ungraded lumps or fine particles.

(4) "Reclaimed grain" means: (i) Any manufactured abrasive grain recovered from wheel stubs or other baked or fired abrasive or refractory stock, including lathe room turnings and dressings. The term does not include green shavings; (ii) Any manufactured abrasive grain recovered from coated abrasive products; (iii) Any manufactured abrasive grain previously used in grain form or on wheels, in blasting, grinding, or polishing operations.

(5) "Fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain" means any abrasive grain manufactured from silicon carbide which has been classified into any of the following grit sizes: 280, 320, 400, 500, 600, 1F, 2F, 3F, 4F, XF, 8F, STF, and DCF. The term does not include reclaimed grain.

(6) "Producer" means any person who produces manufactured abrasive grain.

(7) "Importer" means any person who imports manufactured abrasive grain from sources outside the United States.

(8) "Branch outlet" means any branch store, branch warehouse, or other direct agent of a producer or importer, used for purposes of distributing manufactured abrasive grain.

(9) "Distributor" means any purchaser of manufactured abrasive grain for purposes of resale without further processing.

(10) "Ultimate consumer" means any purchaser of manufactured abrasive grain other than a distributor.

(11) "Period of authorization" means the period in which any producer or importer is authorized to use, and any person is authorized to accept delivery of manufactured abrasive grain pursuant to authorization on Form WPB-2781 (PD-886). Each period of authorization shall be of two calendar months' duration. The first period of authorization shall be for the months of May and June 1944; the second period shall be for the months of July and August 1944, etc.

Provisions Relating to Fine Grit Silicon Carbide

(b) Restrictions on use and delivery of fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain. (1) Except as permitted by paragraph (d) of this order, beginning May 1, 1944: (i) No producer or importer shall himself use, and no producer, importer, branch outlet, or distributor shall deliver to any person any fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain unless specifically authorized to do so by the War Production Board on Form WPB-2781 (PD-886); (ii) No person shall accept delivery of any fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain unless specifically authorized to do so by the War Production Board on Form WPB-2781 (PD-886).

(2) Deliveries pursuant to authorization on Form WPB-2781 (PD-886) may be made and accepted at any time during the two months period covered by the application or during the first ten days of the next month. An order which has been authorized by the War Production Board on Form WPB-2781 (PD-886) must be accepted by the producer, importer, branch outlet or distributor, and the producer, importer, branch outlet or distributor must make delivery under it unless it does not meet his regularly established prices and terms. However, within any given two-month period of authorization, delivery of orders for fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain may be scheduled without regard to preference ratings in the sequence best suited to maximum production and customers' needs.

(3) No producer or importer authorized to use, and no person authorized to accept delivery of fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain by an authorization on Form WPB-2781 (PD-886) shall use such abrasive grain for any purposes other than the purposes authorized on the form except when otherwise specifically directed by the War Production Board.

(c) Applications for authorization to use or accept delivery of fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain. (1) Every person requiring authorization to use or accept delivery of fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain during May and June 1944 shall apply immediately if he has not already done so. Applications for subsequent periods shall be filed by the 15th day of the first month of the preceding period of authorization (i. e., on May 15th for the July and August period, etc.). All such applications shall be made on Form WPB-2781 (PD-886). Copies of Form WPB-2781 revised April 20, 1944, may be obtained at local Field Offices of the War Production Board.

Each applicant when filing his application with the War Production Board must also file one copy of his application with the producer from whom he expects to obtain the abrasive grain applied for. If the applicant is placing his order through a branch outlet or distributor, and does not know the name of the producer, he must file two copies with the branch outlet or distributor. The confidential information required to be reported on the application need only be furnished on the original of each application.

(2) No application need be filed by a branch outlet or distributor through whom an ultimate consumer is ordering fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain, but the War Production Board, when acting on the ultimate consumer's application, will simultaneously grant or deny to the branch outlet or distributor authorization to accept delivery for, and to redeliver to, the ultimate consumer.

(3) Whenever any order for fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain, previously authorized on Form WPB-2781 (PD-886) is cancelled, the producer, importer, branch outlet, or distributor, with whom such order was placed, shall immediately notify the War Production Board of the cancellation.

(d) Small order exemption for fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain. (1) After May 1, 1944, any ultimate consumer who has not received a specific authorization on Form WPB-2781 (PD-886) for a particular two months period may accept delivery of fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain in such period without specific authorization, but the list value of the total quantity of fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain which he accepts from all sources combined in that period of authorization may not exceed $350.

(2) Subject to the inventory limitations contained in paragraph (g), any branch outlet or distributor may accept delivery of fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain for stock to fill small orders. No specific authorization on Form WPB-2781 (PD-886) shall be required for a branch outlet or distributor to accept delivery of such abrasive grain, but each such order for abrasive grain placed by a branch outlet or distributor with a producer, importer, or another branch outlet, must be accompanied by a certification by the branch outlet or distributor, signed manually, or as provided by Priorities Regulation No. 7, substantially as follows:

The abrasive grain specified on this purchase order is required by the undersigned for stock to fill small orders pursuant to paragraph (d) (1) of Conservation Order M-319, with the terms of which the undersigned is familiar. Delivery of this order will not increase the undersigned's inventory of the specified sizes and types of abrasive grain beyond a supply required under the undersigned's current practices for resale on such small orders during a period of sixty days.

(Name and address of distributor or branch outlet)

By---

(3) Beginning May 1, 1944, any producer, importer, branch outlet, or distributor, may deliver abrasive grain to fill orders authorized by paragraphs (d) (1) and (d) (2). However, the total quantity of abrasive grain which any producer or importer may deliver in any period of authorization pursuant to this paragraph (d) (3) shall not exceed the quantity which the War Production Board shall authorize him to deliver on such orders during such period. On or before May 15, 1944, and on or before the 15th day of each alternating succeeding calendar month, each producer or importer shall apply on Form WPB-2781 (PD-886) for the quantity of abrasive grain which he estimates will be required to fill orders authorized by paragraphs (d) (1) and (d) (2) during the next succeeding period of authorization. Deliveries of orders authorized by paragraphs (d) (1), (d) (2), and (d) (4) shall, so far as practicable, be scheduled evenly throughout each period of authorization without regard to preference ratings in the sequence best suited to maximum production and customers' needs.

(4) Delivery of sample lots of fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain may be made, or may be accepted without specific authorization when the quantity of abrasive grain to be delivered to any person for experimental purposes in any period of authorization does not exceed 25 pounds of any grit size. Persons desiring to accept delivery of such abrasive grain shall state on their purchase order that the grain is desired for experimental purposes. All shipments of abrasive grain made by producers or importers pursuant to this paragraph shall be deducted from the quantity of abrasive grain authorized for delivery against small orders pursuant to paragraph (d) (3).

(e) Necessity for placement of orders. Every person who has been authorized on Form WPB-2781 (PD-886) to accept delivery of fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain must place an order with the authorized supplier named in the approved application as soon as he receives it from the War Production Board. In the event that no order is placed within fourteen days from the date the application was approved by the War Production Board or if the orders which the applicant has placed within that time cover less than the quantity of abrasive grain authorized, the authorization to accept delivery of the quantity of abrasive grain not covered by a purchase order shall be automatically canceled and the authorized supplier who will have received a copy of the original authorization shall immediately notify the War Production Board of the quantity of abrasive grain so canceled, in order that it may be made available for allocation to other consumers.

General Provisions

(f) Use and delivery of manufactured abrasive grain other than fine grit silicon carbide. Use and delivery of manufactured abrasive grain other than fine grit silicon carbide abrasive grain shall be in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 1 and other applicable regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(g) Limitation on inventories. No person other than a producer or importer shall purchase or accept delivery of any size and type of manufactured abrasive grain if his inventory thereof is or will by virtue of such purchase or acceptance become, greater than the quantity of such size and type of abrasive grain which will be required under his current practices for use or resale during a period of sixty days: Provided, however, That the delivery of manufactured abrasive grain pursuant to the following designated types of purchase orders shall be permitted to effect such an increase;

(1) Purchase orders placed by any procurement agency of the United States pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled, "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(2) Purchase orders placed by the Army, Navy, or Maritime Commission for manufactured abrasive grain required for bases or supply depots outside the continental United States, or for bases or supply depots within the continental United States which are maintained for emergency purposes, or to supply such bases or supply depots outside the continental United States.

(3) Any other purchase order specifically excepted from this restriction by the War Production Board.

(h) Proposed production schedules to be filed. On or before June 5, 1944, and bi-monthly thereafter on or before the 5th day of each alternate succeeding calendar month, each producer shall file with the War Production Board his proposed schedule of production of manufactured abrasive grain for the next succeeding two calendar months. Proposed schedules for the production of manufactured abrasive grain shall be filed on Form WPB-2780 (PD-887).

Approved production schedules will be furnished to all producers by the War Production Board for each period of authorization. In the event that a producer finds that the quantity of manufactured abrasive grain which he is able to produce in any period will vary appreciably from the quantity indicated on his schedule as approved, he shall immediately notify the War Production Board of the amount of increase or decrease in available material and the reasons therefor.

(i) Other allocation and scheduling directions. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this order, the War Production Board may at any time;

(1) Direct the return or cancellation of any order for manufactured abrasive grain;

(2) Direct or change any schedule of production or delivery of manufactured abrasive grain;

(3) Allocate orders for manufactured abrasive grain placed with one person to another person;

(4) Revoke any authorization to use or accept delivery of manufactured abrasive grain, granted pursuant to this order;

(5) Take such other action as it deems necessary with respect to the placing of orders for, or the production, use, or delivery of, manufactured abrasive grain.

(j) Intra-company deliveries. The prohibitions and restrictions of this order with respect to deliveries of manufactured abrasive grain shall apply not only to deliveries to other persons, including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also to deliveries from one branch, division, or section, of a single integrated enterprise to another branch, division, or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(k) Notification to customers. Each producer, importer, branch outlet, or distributor shall, as soon as practicable, notify each of his regular customers of the requirements of this order, but failure to give or receive such notice shall not excuse any such person from complying with the terms hereof.

(l) Reports. All producers, importers, branch outlets, or distributors, affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board shall from time to time request, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget, pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(m) Applicability of regulations. All transactions affected by this order are subject to applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(n) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priorities control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(o) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made on Form WPB-1477 (formerly PD-500) or by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from, and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. PART 3274—MACHINE TOOLS AND INDUSTRIAL SPECIALTIES

[Conservation Order M-319, Interpretation 2, as Amended Apr. 25, 1944]

USE OF SMALL ORDER CERTIFICATION BY PRODUCERS WHO ARE ALSO DISTRIBUTORS

Interpretation 2 of Conservation Order M-319 is hereby amended to read as follows:

A question has arisen as to whether a person who produces certain sizes and types of abrasive grain, but who also purchases abrasive grain from other producers for resale without further processing, may use the small order certification described in paragraph (d) (2) of Conservation Order M-319 to obtain abrasive grain for stock to fill small orders. Paragraph (a) (9) defines a distributor as any purchaser of manufactured abrasive grain for purposes of resale without further processing. To the extent that a producer obtains abrasive grain from other producers for resale without further processing, he is a distributor within the meaning of M-319 and, as such, may accept delivery of abrasive grain for stock to fill small orders, if he signs the certification required by paragraph (d) (2). The grain which he obtains by this means, however, can only be used to fill small orders placed with him, and is subject to the sixty-day inventory limitation contained in paragraph (g). This grain, when obtained, should not be reported as a part of his inventory in making out his proposed production schedule (Form WPB-2799), nor should he include it in the WPB-2781 application which he files as a producer, pursuant to paragraph (d) (3), for authorization to deliver his own grain to fill small orders.

Issued this 25th day of April 1944.

PART 3284—BUILDING MATERIALS

[Limitation Order L-327, as Amended Apr. 25, 1944]

AIRCRAFT LIGHTING EQUIPMENT

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of materials used to produce aircraft lighting equipment for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3284.48 Limitation Order L-327—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order "aircraft lighting equipment" means any light or lamp assemblies (whether portable or not) specifically designed or constructed for use on aircraft, either for purposes of illumination or indication. The term includes all parts, equipment, and devices specifically designed or constructed for use in conjunction with such light or lamp assemblies. The following are examples of types of assemblies included in this definition:

(1) "Landing light," meaning a light or lamp assembly, including any retractable mechanism or adapter, designed to illuminate the ground or other area for the purpose of facilitating the landing of aircraft;

(2) "Position light," meaning a light or lamp assembly used on aircraft to indicate its position and direction of motion;

(3) "Anchor or riding light," meaning a light or lamp assembly used on floating aircraft to indicate its position when anchored;

(4) "Formation light," meaning a light or lamp assembly used to facilitate formation flying;

(5) "Recognition light," meaning a light or lamp assembly used for the identification of friendly aircraft;

(6) "Instrument light," meaning a light or lamp assembly used to illuminate or irradiate aircraft instruments;

(7) "Cabin light," meaning a light or lamp assembly designed for the purpose of illuminating the interior of aircraft;

(8) "Signal light," meaning a light or lamp assembly designed to be operated manually for the purpose of signaling from aircraft;

(9) "Indicator light," meaning a light or lamp assembly which indicates a condition or the functioning of a device or indicates some action taken or to be taken;

(10) "Approach light," meaning a light or lamp assembly mounted on aircraft and designed for the purpose of facilitating the landing of aircraft on aircraft carriers.

The term "aircraft lighting equipment" does not include pyrotechnic devices, gunsights or bombsights, indicator lights incorporated as an integral part of radio and radar apparatus, or aviation ground lighting equipment as defined in Order L-235.

(b) Restrictions on manufacture, sale, and delivery. On and after April 10, 1944, no person may manufacture, assemble, sell or deliver any aircraft lighting equipment except:

(1) Aircraft lighting equipment certified by The Aeronautical Board of the United States, Washington, D. C., as conforming to specifications or drawings issued by such Board, or

(2) Aircraft lighting equipment certified by the Matériel Command of the Army Air Forces of the United States, Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, as conforming to specifications or drawings issued by or acceptable to such Command, to the extent that Aeronautical Board specifications or drawings are not applicable, or

(3) Aircraft lighting equipment certified by the Bureau of Aeronautics of the Navy Department of the United States, Washington, D. C., as conforming to specifications or drawings issued by or acceptable to such Bureau, to the extent that Aeronautical Board specifications or drawings are not applicable, or

(4) Aircraft lighting equipment certified by the Civil Aeronautics Administration of the U. S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C., as conforming to the Civil Air Regulations, or

(5) Aircraft lighting equipment to be used only for purposes of experimentation, research and development, or test, or

(6) Aircraft lighting equipment specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board. (Each person filing a request for authorization pursuant to this subparagraph shall provide information by letter in triplicate, including the following: Description of lighting equipment and/or accessories, giving type, specification, drawing numbers, and value; quantity; customer's name and location; purchase order number and date received; delivery schedule; prime contract number; and reasons why equipment certified under paragraphs (b) (1), (b) (2), (b) (3), or (b) (4) of this order cannot be used), or

(7) Parts required for the maintenance and repair of existing aircraft lighting equipment, and complete assemblies where required for replacement of aircraft lighting equipment damaged beyond repair, to the extent that equipment certified under paragraphs (b) (1), (b) (2), (b) (3), or (b) (4) of this order is impracticable for such replacement.

(c) Restrictions on installation. On and after April 10, 1944, no person may install any aircraft lighting equipment unless the manufacture, assembly, sale, and delivery of such equipment is permitted under the provisions of paragraph (b) of this order or unless specific authorization to install such equipment has been obtained from the War Production Board in the manner prescribed in paragraph (b) (6) of this order.

(d) Table of acceptable aircraft lighting equipment.[1] The table supplementing this order lists certain types, drawings, and specifications of acceptable aircraft lighting equipment and manufacturers whose products have been certified under paragraphs (b) (1), (b) (2), (b) (3), and (b) (4) of this order. This table will be brought up to date from time to time to include new certifications granted subsequent to the latest revision of this table.

(e) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all present and future regulations of the War Production Board.

(f) Appeals. Any appeal under the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of appeal.

(g) Communications. All communications and appeals concerning this order shall be addressed to War Production Board, Building Materials Division, Lighting and Fixtures Section, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-327.

(h) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PART 3288—PLUMBING AND HEATING EQUIPMENT

[General Limitation Order L-79, as Amended Apr. 25, 1944]

PLUMBING, HEATING AND COOKING EQUIPMENT

§ 3288.31 General Limitation Order L-79—(a) What this order does. The purpose of this order is to conserve the supply and direct the distribution of plumbing, cooking and heating equipment by preventing the sale of certain essential items on List A except for necessary replacements, or on rated orders. These are items, the production of which is restricted, and which can be made available to essential users only. The order provides a rating to enable sellers to get these items for necessary replacement. It permits other items of plumbing and heating equipment to be bought by sellers on unrated orders without restriction but provides a preference rating to enable sellers to buy these non-restricted items when a rating is needed. No preference ratings are assigned to consumers and deliveries to consumers for replacement and repair do not have to be on rated orders. It must be noted, however, that deliveries of certain parts for plumbing and heating equipment are also subject to applicable provisions of other limitation orders. The order supersedes the previous version of L-79, as well as General Preference Order P-84.

(b) Assignment of preference ratings. Preference rating AA-3 is assigned to any seller to enable him to get the following:

(1) Equipment shown in List A, including repair parts.

(2) Repair parts only for items on List B, and repair parts for stoves rationed by the O. P. A. under Ration Order 9-A.

(3) All other equipment, material and parts which are used to supply, store and heat water, to cook food, to remove waste matter and water borne waste, to treat waste matter chemically, and to heat buildings, including electric heat controls.

Any rating under this paragraph (b) cannot be used, however, to get equipment specifically designed for industrial processing, fire protection, the production or transmission of power, or for use by a public utility; equipment using electricity as fuel; heat exchangers subject to L-123; domestic water systems as covered by L-257; liquefied petroleum gas equipment as defined in L-86; fans, blowers and exhausters as covered by L-123 except those on List A of this order (L-79); steel or wrought iron pipe or steel sheets; industrial and domestic sump pumps; equipment specifically designed for refrigerating or dehumidifying; or portable items such as pans, domestic stove lid lifters and domestic stove pokers which are not designed to be built into or fastened to the building in which they are used. Directions will from time to time be issued specifying items which are subject to this paragraph (b) and items which are excluded.

(c) Exception. No rating is assigned to any delivery to which a rating is assigned by CMP Regulation 9A.

(d) Inventory restrictions on sellers. (1) A seller who is a repair man as defined in CMP Regulation 9A may not accept delivery of any item of parts or materials obtained by applying a rating under this order if his inventory of that item of parts or materials is or would by accepting delivery become larger than he needs to continue his repair and maintenance services for a 60-day period, according to his current method of operation. However, if the supply of any item which he has on hand is less than the permitted amount, he may accept delivery of the smallest commercial amount of that item which his distributor normally sells, even if that will increase his supply beyond the amount specified.

(2) A seller who is not a repair man as defined in CMP Regulation 9A is subject to the limitation of inventory prescribed in Order L-63.

(e) Up-rating. In the case of ratings applied or extended by sellers under Order P-84 prior to its revocation, deliveries may be re-rated in accordance with the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 12. However, any person with whom such an order was placed is authorized to treat it as re-rated without requiring any notice or certificate to be furnished to him by the seller: Provided, That any manufacturer or seller who re-rates any orders placed with him under this paragraph must so re-rate all orders placed with him which can be re-rated.

(f) Restrictions on deliveries of items on List A. No person may deliver or accept delivery of equipment included in List A of this order except:

(1) Equipment which has previously been used.

(2) Equipment which is delivered to fill a rated order.

(3) When the delivery is to a consumer for installation to replace existing equipment which is worn out, damaged beyond repair or destroyed, but not to replace useable equipment or to make a substitution which would provide more extensive facilities than are necessary to replace the part or parts worn out, damaged or destroyed.

(g) When a consumer needs a preference rating and how he gets it. Consumers are not assigned ratings by this order and will not need ratings unless they want to buy items on List A for purposes other than replacement. When a rating is needed, application may be made on Form WPB–1319 to the nearest War Production Board field office.

However, if the material is to be used in new construction of a type which is restricted under Order L–41, the consumer must use the form specified in Schedule C of that order. Industries and government institutions may use CMP Regulations 5 and 5A ratings for repair parts and replacement items.

(h) Consumer's certificates. No seller may deliver an item on List A to fill a consumer's unrated order unless he obtains a certificate in substantially the following form:

I need the item included in this purchase to replace equipment worn out, damaged beyond repair, or destroyed. I will not use it to replace useable equipment or to make a substitution which would provide more extensive facilities than are necessary to replace the parts which are worn out, damaged, or destroyed.

Address of installation _____
Consumer's signature _____
Address _____

Any certification is a representation to the War Production Board as well as to the seller. No one may deliver relying on a certification being true if he knows or should know it is false, but anyone who reasonably relies on the truth of a certificate is not to be held responsible if it turns out to be false. No one shall make a false statement in a certification. Sellers shall retain certificates in their files for two years for inspection by WPB representatives.

(i) Salvage. No person may install equipment on List A for replacement unless he takes any replaced metal parts or equipment, not coated with a fused or nonmetallic surface, and arranges for its further use, or turns it in for salvage to any authorized scrap metal dealer within thirty days after the replacement. This requirement does not mean that the installer is entitled to take old equipment without the owner's consent or without crediting him with its value.

(j) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories and sales.

(k) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(l) Violations and false statements. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(m) Appeals. Any person affected by this order may appeal from its provisions by filing Form WPB 1477 (formerly PD–500) with a field office of the War Production Board.

(n) Communications. All reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order, except appeals, shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–79.

(o) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Seller" means any person who buys plumbing, heating, or cooking equipment for resale, whether or not he makes the installation. A manufacturer who sells directly to the consumer is to be considered a seller with respect to those sales.

(2) "Consumer" means any person who buys plumbing, heating, or cooking equipment for installation or use on premises owned or occupied by him.

Recording Secretary.

INTERPRETATION 1

NOTE: Interpretation 1 is obsolete.

INTERPRETATION 2

Office of Price Administration requirements not affected. Question has been raised as to whether this order dispenses with the necessity of conforming to the requirements of O. P. A. Ration Order 9–A.

The words "without restriction" as used in L–79 refer only to restrictions placed by the War Production Board, and Order L–79 is not intended in any way to affect rationing or other requirements of the Office of Price Administration or any other agency. (Issued Feb. 29, 1944.)

INTERPRETATION 3

SUBSTITUTION REQUIRING CHANGE OF DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM PROHIBITED

The restrictions of paragraph (f) (3) of Limitation Order L–79 prohibit the substitution of one type of heating system for another (e. g. cast iron heating boiler for heating furnace) if it will require the change of a useable distribution system. (Issued Apr. 13, 1944.)

CEILING PRICES OF CERTAIN FOODS SOLD AT RETAIL IN GROUP 3 AND GROUP 4 STORES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 422 is amended in the following respect:

1. In section 39 (b) (2) the undesignated paragraph commencing with the word "Berries" is amended to read as follows:

"Berries" means blackberries, boysenberries, gooseberries, loganberries, black raspberries, red raspberries, strawberries and youngberries. Each of these eight kinds of berries shall be treated as a separate item and priced separately. Whenever fresh berries are sold in quarts or pints, they must have a minimum net weight of 20 ounces per quart or 10 ounces per pint. If you purchase berries on the basis of a price per pound and sell them in pints or quarts, you must multiply your cost per pound by 20/16 to figure your "net cost" per quart, and by 10/16 to figure your "net cost" per pint.

This amendment shall become effective at 12:01 a. m. April 27, 1944.

CEILING PRICES OF CERTAIN FOODS SOLD AT RETAIL IN GROUP 1 AND GROUP 2 STORES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 423 is amended in the following respect:

1. In section 28 (b) (2) the undesignated paragraph commencing with the word "Berries" is amended to read as follows:

"Berries" means blackberries, boysenberries, gooseberries, loganberries, black raspberries, red raspberries, strawberries and youngberries. Each of these eight kinds of berries shall be treated as a separate item and priced separately. Whenever fresh berries are sold in quarts or pints, they must have a minimum net weight of 20 ounces per quart or 10 ounces per pint. If you purchase berries on the basis of a price per pound and sell them in pints or quarts, you must multiply your cost per pound by 20/16 to figure your "net cost" per quart, and by 10/16 to figure your "net cost" per pint.

This amendment shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., April 27, 1944.

(iii) Sales in matched bundles. The maximum price for any dressed or dressed and dyed fur or peltry sold in a matched bundle shall be a price in line with the highest price at which the seller delivered the same type of dressed or dressed and dyed fur or peltry in a matched bundle during the base period, making downward adjustments for differences in size, quality, condition, grade, fineness, color and texture and suitability for use with the lot. Provided, That until the seller has received written authorization from the Office of Price Administration under paragraph (d), his maximum price for any dressed or dressed and dyed fur or peltry sold in a matched bundle may not exceed the highest price at which he delivered the same type in a matched bundle during the base period.

(3) Reduction of highest prices. The highest price at which the seller delivered a type of fur or peltry during the base period may be reduced by the Office of Price Administration if, and to the extent that, it is in excess of the general level of prices prevailing during the base period among sellers of the same class for furs or peltries of the same type.

(d) Maximum prices for furs or peltries not priced under paragraph (c). (1) Until he has received written authorization from the Office of Price Administration to establish maximum prices:

(2) All other sellers. Every seller other than a hunter or trapper shall, in connection with every sale of furs or peltries other than sales made through auction companies or brokers, deliver to the purchaser an invoice showing:

(ii) Name and address of seller and purchaser,

(iii) Shipping terms, if any,

(iv) Terms of sale,

(b) Size, color, grading, quality and assortment, and,

(c) If sold on a bundled basis, the bundle number,

(vi) Identifying lot number for each lot sold,

(vii) Quantity of each type and grade sold, and, if bundled, number of bundles and number of skins in each bundle,

(viii) Selling price per skin for each type, grade or bundle sold, and

(ix) Maximum price per skin for each type, grade or bundle.

(g) Records—(1) Current records. Every seller must keep a duplicate of the invoice delivered by him in connection with every sale, and every buyer, in the course of trade or business, must keep the invoices received by him in connection with every purchase for which a maximum price is established by this section. Every seller and every purchaser of raw, dressed or dressed and dyed furs and peltries must keep a record either in the form of the duplicate invoice or otherwise of each sale or purchase of furs or peltries, including the type of fur or peltry, the quantity of each type, and the price at which each fur or peltry was purchased or sold (a seller or purchaser who sold or purchased through an auction company or broker must also state that fact in his record and state the name and address of the auction company or broker). In addition, every seller must record on either his retained duplicate of the invoice delivered in connection with every sale, or elsewhere in his records, the fact that he purchased the furs from a hunter or trapper, or in the case of a purchase from another person, the name of that person or persons and identifying lot and purchase invoice number or numbers covering such purchase by the seller.

(2) Base period records. Every seller must preserve the records required by § 1499.11 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, and such other records relating to purchases and deliveries during the base period as may be in his possession on the effective date of this section.

(3) Auction companies and brokers. Every auction company and every broker must keep the records required by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and must also supply to his consignor or principal the information required in subparagraph (1).

In addition, every auction company which sells an original consignment at auction in separately graded lots (regardless of whether such lots are made exclusively from skins contained in that consignment, or whether skins from several consignments are made into a single lot) must maintain records for each such consignment which will:

(i) State the date of receipt of the consignment,

(ii) State the number of skins contained in the consignment,

(iii) State the name and address of the consignor,

(iv) State the consignor's maximum price for the consignment,

(v) State whether such maximum price was determined under paragraph (c) or (d) of this section,

(vi) State the lot numbers of the graded lots which include skins from this consignment,

(vii) State the number of skins from this consignment included in each lot listed in (vi),

(viii) State the selling price per skin for each graded lot listed in (vi),

(ix) State the name and address of the purchaser or purchasers, and

(x) Identify by lot number and sample number each sale to each such purchaser.

For purposes of this subparagraph each type of fur or peltry included in an original consignment shall be considered a separate consignment.

(h) Prohibitions. (1) No seller shall sell, offer for sale or deliver any furs or peltries at a higher selling price than the prices established under paragraph (c) or (d) of this section.

(2) No seller shall change his customary discounts, allowances, or other price differentials if the change would result in a higher net price.

(3) No seller shall make a sale of furs or peltries which is conditioned directly or indirectly on the purchase of any other commodity or service.

(4) No person shall, in the course of trade or business, buy or receive any fur or peltry which was sold in violation of subparagraphs (1), (2) or (3) of this paragraph. However, dealers purchasing furs from a breeder, trapper or hunter at prices higher than the maximum prices established by this section shall not be deemed to have violated this section unless they know or have reason to believe that such purchases are subject to this section.

(5) No person shall, for the purpose of evading the price limitations set forth in this regulation, sell, purchase, deliver, contract, deal or otherwise operate with or through any other person under common control with, controlled by, controlling or otherwise affiliated with the seller. No person shall do any other act which directly or indirectly increases the consideration paid for any fur or peltry. Any practice which is a device to secure the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price is as much a violation as an outright raising of the maximum price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, discounts, special privileges, tying agreements, trade understandings and all similar practices.

(6) No person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the acts prohibited in this paragraph (h).

[MPR 529]

SECOND HAND PAPERBOARD SHIPPING CONTAINERS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for second hand paperboard shipping containers by a specific maximum price regulation.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation. Insofar as this regulation uses specifications and standards which were not, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or insofar as their use was not lawfully required by another Government agency, the Administrator has determined, with respect to such standardization, that no practicable alternative exists for securing effective price control with respect to the commodities subject to this regulation.

§ 1347.807 Maximum prices for second hand paperboard shipping containers. Under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328, Maximum Price Regulation No. 529 (Second Hand Paperboard Shipping Containers), which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

Appendix A.—Maximum prices for sales of second hand paperboard shipping containers.

SECTION 1. Applicability—(a) Commodity. This regulation establishes maximum prices for sales of second hand paperboard shipping containers. The term, "second hand paperboard shipping container," shall include any used corrugated or solid fibre paperboard shipping containers except fibre drums which is either:

(1) "Reusable," that is, can be used as a shipping container without being repaired, or

(2) "Repairable," that is, can be made reusable by repair or alteration, or

(3) "Reconditioned," that is, has been repaired or altered so as to be reusable.

Any used paperboard shipping container which is not reusable or repairable is wastepaper and is not a second hand paperboard shipping container. Any used container which has an outside surface tear or a hole in the fibre or which is not knocked down flat shall not be considered as a reusable or repairable container. All sales of used or second hand paperboard shipping containers to any person who uses wastepaper as a raw material in any manufacturing process are sales of wastepaper, regardless of the condition of the containers. Maximum prices for sales of such wastepaper shall be determined under Maximum Price Regulation No. 30.[1]

(b) Levels covered. The maximum prices established by this regulation apply to sales by all persons at all levels of distribution, except where otherwise specifically stated.

(c) Relationship of this regulation to other regulations. This regulation supersedes the General Maximum Price Regulation[2] with respect to all sales of second hand paperboard shipping containers for which maximum prices are established by this regulation. It will be noted that under this regulation maximum prices are now established for certain sales which have hitherto been exempt from all price control by reason of their exemption from the General Maximum Price Regulation. This regulation does not apply to any sales for which maximum prices are established by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 187[3] (Certain Paperboard Products), or

(d) Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable to the forty-eight States and to the District of Columbia.

SEC. 2. Export sales. The maximum prices at which any person subject to this regulation may export second hand paperboard shipping containers for which maximum prices are established by this regulation shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[6] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 3. Imports. No person importing second hand paperboard shipping containers shall pay a total price therefor, including United States customs duties paid directly or indirectly by him, which exceeds the maximum price established by this regulation for a domestic sale of the same containers.

SEC. 4. Federal and state taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing or use of second hand paperboard shipping containers imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or any subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such second hand paperboard shipping containers and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto:

If, at the time the seller determines his maximum price the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased, and in such case the seller shall not include such amount in determining the maximum price under this regulation.

SEC. 5. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order.

SEC. 6. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[7]

SEC. 7. Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, delivery, purchase, or receipt of or relating to second hand paperboard shipping containers alone or in connection with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charges or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying agreement, or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

SEC. 8. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of license as provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 9. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1[8] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 10. Records and reports. (a) Every person making sales or purchases of second hand paperboard shipping containers shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall remain in effect, complete and accurate records of each such sale or purchase, showing the following:

(1) Date of purchase or sale.

(2) Name and address of the buyer or seller.

(3) Quantity and weight purchased or sold, broken down to show whether containers are reusable, repairable, or reconditioned.

(4) Prices paid or received.

Such records may be in the form of the invoice or a copy thereof furnished in connection with each such sale or purchase, providing the invoice contains the information specified above.

(b) On or before May 22, 1944 every person who purchases second hand paperboard shipping containers for resale shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., an inventory statement of second hand paperboard shipping containers on hand as of May 1, 1944. This inventory statement shall show the number of pounds of second hand paperboard shipping containers owned or possessed by him or for his account and shall be broken down to show the location of all second hand paperboard shipping containers covered by it.

(c) Persons required to keep records by paragraph (a) of this section shall keep such other records and shall submit such reports as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

SEC. 11. Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

(b) Transportation and delivery charges. (1) When the distance between the point of shipment and the point of delivery is 10 miles or less: (i) If delivery is by rail, or by truck or other carrier owned, controlled or hired by the seller, then the applicable price set forth in paragraph (a) above shall apply on a delivered basis; (ii) If sales are made f. o. b. seller's place of business, shipment to be made by carrier other than by railroad, then the maximum price f. o. b. truck shall be the applicable price set forth in paragraph (a) above less the sum of $0.25 for each hundred pounds of second hand paperboard shipping containers in the shipment.

(2) When the distance between the point of shipment and the point of delivery is in excess of 10 miles, then the following rules shall apply: (i) When shipment is made by rail the maximum prices f. o. b. cars shall be those set forth in paragraph (a); (ii) When shipment is made by the seller either in his own truck or by common or contract carrier (other than by rail) the maximum price shall be the applicable price set forth in paragraph (a) less $0.25 for each hundred pounds of second hand paperboard shipping containers contained in the shipment plus the actual cost of transportation incurred by him; (iii) If the purchaser sends a truck owned or controlled by him to take delivery at seller's place of business, then the maximum price shall be the applicable price set forth in paragraph (a) less the sum of $0.25 for each hundred pounds of second hand paperboard shipping containers contained in the shipment.

(c) If the weight of any such delivery contains 5% or less of wastepaper, including any used containers which have an outside tear or hole in the fibre and which are not knocked down flat, then the total weight may be treated as a delivery of second hand paperboard shipping containers. If, however, the weight of any such delivery contains more than 5% of wastepaper, including any used containers which have an outside tear or hole in the fibre and which are not knocked down flat, then the charge for the entire shipment shall not exceed the appropriate maximum price established under this regulation, applied only to the actual weight of second hand paperboard shipping containers in such shipment.

(d) Upon sales of mixtures of repairable containers with reusable and reconditioned containers, the maximum price for repairable containers applies if the repairable containers in the mixture constitute more than 5%. If any such mixture contains 5% or less by weight of repairable containers, then the entire shipment may be treated as reusable or reconditioned containers.

(e) Brokerage Allowance. Under the circumstances stated in this paragraph (e) an allowance not in excess of 40¢ for each hundred pounds of second hand paperboard shipping containers may be paid to a broker for selling or negotiating for the sale of second hand paperboard shipping containers. The maximum price at which a broker may sell second hand paperboard shipping containers shall not exceed the sum of the price paid by him under this regulation for such containers plus 40¢ for each hundred pounds of second hand paperboard shipping containers in the shipment. The broker may include in the computation of the price paid by him, any amount actually paid to another for repairing, reconditioning and/or sorting such containers. In no event, however, may the broker's selling price exceed the maximum price established under paragraphs (a) (b) (c) and (d) of this Appendix A for the type of second hand paperboard shipping containers involved in the broker's sale plus the sum of 40¢ for each hundred pounds of second hand paperboard shipping containers in the shipment.

In addition the following requirements must be satisfied:

(1) The sale must comply with all the requirements of this regulation;

(2) The containers must not have been repaired or sorted by the broker or by any person with whom the broker has any connection consisting of a community or ownership or other beneficial interest, profit-sharing arrangement, agreement for division of losses, or control based on close family relationship.

(3) The allowance must not be split or divided with any other person; and

(4) The allowance must be shown on a separate invoice or as a separate item on the invoice accompanying the delivery. In connection with each delivery the broker must send to the purchaser a statement that the broker does not engage in the business of repairing or sorting second-hand paperboard shipping containers.

A "broker" is any person who complies with the requirements of this paragraph (e) and who purchases and resells reusable or reconditioned second hand paperboard shipping containers or who arranges for the sale thereof.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent a buyer from paying a finder's fee for the procurement of second hand paperboard shipping containers, provided the total amount paid by him does not exceed the maximum price which a broker might receive under this regulation for selling or negotiating for the sale of second hand paperboard shipping containers. For the purpose of this paragraph (e) it is immaterial whether or not title is taken by the person to whom the brokerage allowance is paid.

This Maximum Price Regulation No. 529 shall become effective May 1, 1944.

NOTE: All of the reporting and record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

You are required to post this list in plain view of your customers either at the points in your store where the soaps and cleansers you sell are displayed or at the points where purchases of soap are ordinarily paid for. It appearing that the proposed coordination of operations is necessary in order to assure maximum utilization of the facilities, services, and equipment, and to conserve and providently utilize vital equipment, materials, and supplies, of the carriers, and to provide for the prompt and continuous movement of necessary traffic, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, It is hereby ordered, That:

1. The plan for joint action above referred to is hereby approved and the carriers are directed to put the plan in operation forthwith, subject to the following provisions, which shall supersede any provisions of such plan that are in conflict therewith.

2. Each of the carriers forthwith shall file a copy of this order with the appropriate regulatory body or bodies having jurisdiction over any operations affected by this order, and likewise shall file, and publish in accordance with law, and continue in effect until further order, tariffs or supplements to filed tariffs, setting forth any changes in rates, charges, operations, rules, regulations, and practices of the carrier which may be necessary to accord with the provisions of this order and of such plan; and forthwith shall apply to such regulatory body or bodies for special permission for such tariffs or supplements to become effective on the shortest notice lawfully permissible, but not prior to the effective date of this order.

4. The provisions of this order shall not be so construed or applied as to require any carrier subject hereto to perform any service beyond its transportation capacity, or to authorize or require any act or omission which is in violation of any law or regulation, or to permit any carrier to alter its legal liability to any shipper. In the event that compliance with any term of this order, or effectuation of any provision of such plan, would conflict with, or would not be authorized under, the existing interstate or intrastate operating authority of any carrier subject hereto, such carrier forthwith shall apply to the appropriate regulatory body or bodies for the granting of such operating authority as may be requisite to compliance with the terms of this order, and shall prosecute such application with all possible diligence. The coordination of operations directed by this order shall be subject to the carriers' possessing or obtaining the requisite operating authority.

5. All records of the carriers pertaining to any transportation performed pursuant to this order and to the provisions of such plan shall be kept available for examination and inspection at all reasonable times by accredited representatives of the Office of Defense Transportation.

6. The plan for joint action hereby approved and all contractual arrangements made by the carriers to effectuate the plan shall not continue in operation beyond the effective period of this order.

(b) Sales of special milk. (1) Except as hereinafter provided in paragraph (2) of this section (b), any person selling special milk, as hereinafter defined, at retail or wholesale in any County in the State of Kentucky, who is permitted under the provisions of this order or has been permitted under the provisions of any previous order issued by the Regional Administrator of Region III to increase the price of approved fluid milk (raw or pasteurized regular, standard milk) sold by him, may add an amount equal to such increase and/or the sum of such increases to the retail and wholesale prices of special milk established for him under the provisions of § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation or under the provisions of any previous order issued by the Regional Administrator of Region III.

(2) The adjusted maximum price of plain homogenized milk, chocolate drink, buttermilk and skim milk as established under the preceding paragraph (1) shall in no event exceed the adjusted maximum price of approved fluid milk (raw or pasteurized regular, standard milk) established under the applicable provisions of this order.

For sales of two or more such units, such seller shall, however, multiply such fractional unit figure by the number of units in such sale; for example, a maximum price of 7½¢ per unit may be adjusted to 8¢ for the sale of one unit, but must be 15¢ for the sale of two units, etc.

(e) Reports. Each person, other than a retail store, adjusting his maximum prices pursuant to the provisions of this order, shall, within five (5) days after such action, notify the Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, Union Commerce Building, Cleveland Ohio, by letter, of his maximum prices established pursuant to this order, together with a statement of his previous maximum prices.

(3) "Sale or delivery at retail" means a sale or sales of approved fluid milk in glass or paper containers to an ultimate consumer, other than an industrial or commercial user.

(4) "Sale or delivery at wholesale" refers to a sale of approved fluid milk or special milk in glass, paper or other containers to any person, including an industrial or commercial user, other than an ultimate consumer. [Haulage Request TR-2 as Amended Apr. 21, 1944]

TRANSPORTATION OF ESSENTIAL MATERIALS

It is requisite to the prosecution of the war that the maximum amount of essential materials be delivered to essential war industries with a minimum dislocation of the general economy, with a minimum of delay and with a minimum of strain upon transportation facilities already severely taxed. This can best be accomplished through voluntary arrangements which permit materials to be consumed as near as may be to their source. Now, therefore, it is hereby requested that:

SECTION 1. Purchases, sales, exchanges, and common use of facilities. All persons engaged in producing, supplying or distributing the materials listed on Schedule X hereto annexed (herein referred to as "Schedule X materials"), may arrange for such purchases, sales, exchanges or loans of Schedule X materials and for such common use of transportation and storage facilities as may be requisite or necessary in order to attain the most efficient utilization of such facilities. All such arrangements shall remain subject to review and adjustment by the War Production Board to the end (1) that no producer, supplier, or distributor of any Schedule X material shall be deprived of an opportunity to share equitably in the available supply of such material and the use of transportation and storage facilities, (2) that no consumer shall be inequitably treated in the distribution of Schedule X materials by reason of such arrangements, and (3) that such arrangements shall not go beyond the purpose and objective of this request.

SEC. 2. Reports. All persons who effect arrangements for purchases, sales, exchanges, or loans of Schedule X materials and for common use of transportation and storage facilities, pursuant to section 1 hereof, shall inform the War Production Board thereof by letter, giving the following information:

1. Names and addresses of parties, including names and addresses of persons to whom inquiries concerning the report should be directed.

2. Effective date and duration of arrangement.

3. Kind and quantity of material involved.

4. Location of points of origin and destination of Schedule X materials to be shipped or location of storage facilities to be jointly used.

5. A statement that to the best of the informant's knowledge and belief, no supplier, distributor or producer of the material involved in the arrangement is or will be deprived by the arrangement of an opportunity to share equitably in the available supply and uses of transportation and storage facilities.

6. A statement that to the best of the informant's knowledge and belief, no consumer of the material involved in the arrangement is or will be treated inequitably in the distribution of such material by reason of the arrangement.

A separate letter for each Schedule X material involved shall be filed, and if in furnishing the information called for by subparagraphs 3 and 4 above, the quantity of the material involved and the actual location of points of origin and destination or of storage facilities are estimated, supplemental information giving the exact, rather than the estimated, quantity and location, shall be furnished by letter to the War Production Board monthly throughout the duration of the arrangement. Further information may be specifically requested in particular cases.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of section 3 have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

SEC. 3. Revocation of Transportation Request No. 1. This request superseded and revoked Transportation Request No. 1 issued January 9, 1943,[1] covered by Certificate No. 27,[2] pursuant to Public Law No. 603, 77th Congress, but any action taken pursuant to the provisions of said Transportation Request No. 1 and said Certificate No. 27, prior to the date of the issue of this request (July 10, 1943), has the protection thereof.

SEC. 4. Certification of this request. Having consulted with the Attorney General, the Chairman of the War Production Board issued a certificate under section 12 of Public Law No. 603, 77th Congress (56 Stat. 357), with respect to this Haulage Request TR-2. (Certificate No. 93[3])

SEC. 5. Communications. All communications concerning this request and all information filed hereunder shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington (25), D. C., Reference TR-2 (Specify Material).

Issued this 21st day of April 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

TITLE 10—ARMY: WAR DEPARTMENT

Chapter III—Claims and Accounts

PART 33—GRATUITY UPON DEATH

DESIGNATION OF BENEFICIARIES

Section 33.4 is amended to read as follows:

§ 33.4 Classes of beneficiaries.—(a) Preferred beneficiaries. Under the law, preferred beneficiaries in the order named, are first, the widow or widower, and second, the child or children, and are so referred to in these regulations. Under the law as now construed payment may not be made to a married child in any case, or to an unmarried child over 21 years of age unless actually dependent on the deceased. An unmarried child over 21 years of age will be required to furnish proof of actual dependency to establish eligibility for the gratuity.

(b) Designated dependent relative. (1) A designated dependent relative means a relative other than a preferred beneficiary, with an insurable interest, and who has been designated by the deceased member of the Army of the United States as the person to whom the 6 months' gratuity should be paid in the event there is no preferred beneficiary eligible at the time of decease to receive such gratuity. A designated dependent relative may include any person who is related to the member of the Army of the United States either by consanguinity (that is, by blood) or by affinity (that is, by marriage) and who has an insurable interest (see subparagraph (2) of this paragraph) in the person making the designation. Only those designated relatives found to have an insurable interest are eligible as beneficiaries. A husband is related by affinity to all persons related to his wife by consanguinity, and the wife is related by affinity to all persons related to her husband by consanguinity. Neither is related by affinity to any person related to the other by affinity, and blood relations of the husband and blood relations of the wife are not related to each other by affinity. A friend is not eligible for designation as a beneficiary.

(2) (i) A father, mother, brother, or sister of a member of the Army of the United States is deemed to have an insurable interest in such member by relationship alone, without affirmative proof of dependency.

(ii) Insurable interest in a member of the Army of the United States on the part of other relatives must be demonstrated affirmatively for payment. The term "insurable interest" is dependent upon the facts in each individual case at the time of death, but as an aid to a determination as to what constitutes an insurable interest the following should be considered, and will ordinarily meet the requirements of the law: Evidence tending to show that such relative stood in place of parent to such member of the Army of the United States; contributions from one to the other for support, education, etc., or a debtor-creditor relationship between the member of the Army and the relative; other conditions and circumstances resulting in the reasonable expectation of some benefit or advantage from the continuance of the life of such member of the Army of the United States.

(iii) The test of insurable interest has no application in the determination of the rights of preferred beneficiaries.

(c) Undesignated dependent relative. In the absence of an eligible preferred or designated beneficiary at the time of death, undesignated grandchildren, parents, brothers or sisters, and grandparents may, under conditions set forth in this paragraph (c), be beneficiaries elegible to receive the death gratuity.

(1) If there is no widow, widower, child, or eligible previously designated dependent relative the gratuity is payable to any grandchild, parent, brother or sister, or grandparent shown to have been dependent upon the officer or enlisted person prior to his death. This provision of law is effective from 27 August 1940.

(2) "Dependent prior to death" is construed to define a class of dependents of the relationship specified and having an insurable interest in the life of the deceased person. All determinations relative thereto are made within the War Department as directed by the Secretary of War.

(3) Insurable interest is established by relationship without requirement for affirmative evidence in the cases of parents and brothers or sisters. In the cases of grandchildren and grandparents it is to be determined from the circumstances in each case, due consideration being given to factors stated in paragraph (b) (2) (ii) of this section.

(4) The order of succession for these payments is:

(i) Grandchildren,
(ii) Parents,
(iii) Brothers or sisters,
(iv) Grandparents,

each constituting a group all the eligible members of which having an insurable interest share equally in the amount of gratuity payable. (41 Stat. 367, 41 Stat. 766, 57 Stat. 599; 10 U.S.C. Sup. 903) [Pars. 2 and 5, AR 600–600 12 April 1944]

APPENDIX B—PUBLIC CIRCULARS UNDER EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 8389, APRIL 10, 1940, AS AMENDED, AND REGULATIONS ISSUED PURSUANT THERETO

LIMITATIONS ON ACQUISITIONS OF SECURITIES FOR BLOCKED ACCOUNTS

APRIL 26, 1944.

Public Circular No. 14, as amended, under Executive Order No. 8389, as amended, Executive Order No. 9193, sections 3 (a) and 5 (b) of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended by the First War Powers Act, 1941, relating to foreign funds control.

Public Circular No. 14 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(1) Acquisitions of securities not authorized in certain cases. No license or other authorization now outstanding or hereafter issued, unless expressly referring to this public circular, shall be deemed to authorize any blocked country or any national thereof to acquire, directly or indirectly, securities of any one issue of a corporation if the securities so acquired together with the aggregate of all other securities held, directly or indirectly, by such blocked country or national, constitute more than three percent of the outstanding securities of that issue. Banking institutions shall not effect any such acquisitions if they have reasonable cause to believe that the terms hereof are being violated.

(2) Reports required on Form TFR-14. Beginning with the quarter ending June 30, 1944, banking institutions shall file quarterly reports on Form TFR-14 with respect to securities of domestic corporations held for any blocked country or national thereof which aggregate, at the end of the quarter, one percent or more of the outstanding securities of the issue of which they form a part. A separate report for each blocked country or national shall be filed in duplicate with the appropriate Federal Reserve Bank on or before the end of the month following the calendar quarter. This reporting requirement shall be deemed to be in lieu of that required under any license now outstanding or hereafter issued so far as such license requires the filing of reports with respect to securities held for any blocked account or to the acquisition or sale of securities for any blocked account, unless such license specifically requires reports notwithstanding this circular.

(3) Sub-account regarded as part of entire account. For the purposes of this circular, securities in a sub-account shall be regarded as held for the national in whose name the entire account is maintained.

L. BRUCKER STOVE & HARDWARE COMPANY, INC.

L. Brucker Stove & Hardware Company, Inc., is a Missouri corporation, engaged in the sale at retail of hardware, plumbing and heating equipment, at 306 North Main Street, St. Charles, Missouri. After March 14, 1942, it extended A-10 ratings on numerous occasions to replace new plumbing and heating equipment in inventory when the material so replaced was not sold for necessary emergency repairs, but for new installations, in violation of Preference Rating Order P-84. After April 16, 1942, respondent sold and delivered numerous items of new plumbing and heating equipment, the cost of which to the purchaser was more than $5.00, in violation of General Limitation Order L-79, such sales being made on unrated purchase orders not accompanied by any certificates specified in the order. The company failed to keep records as required by the respective orders, in violation of Priorities Regulation No. 1, General Limitation Order L-79, and Preference Rating Order P-84.

All of these violations were wilful, and have resulted in a diversion of scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board, and have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.529 Suspension Order No. S-529. (a) Deliveries of material to L. Brucker Stove & Hardware Company, Inc., its successors or assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference ratings shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other orders or regulations of the War Production Board, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, preference ratings assigned under the provisions of General Limitation Order L-79, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) No allocation including allotments shall be made to L. Brucker Stove & Hardware Company, Inc., its successors or assigns, directly or indirectly, of any material or product, the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve L. Brucker Stove & Hardware Company, Inc., its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same way be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on April 25, 1944, and shall expire on July 25, 1944.

Recording Secretary.

CARTMELL'S SALES & SERVICE

Robert J. Cartmell, doing business as Cartmell's Sales & Service, sells and services farm machinery, milk cooling equipment, and refrigerating equipment, in Middlebury, Vermont. In January, 1943, he installed a frozen food locker storage plant in Morrisville, Vermont; the installation was not on a preferred order, and it was therefore in violation of Limitation Order L-38. In July and August, 1943, he used copper tubing for interconnecting refrigerant lines larger than ⅝ inch size (O. D.) in food locker installations in Fairhaven and Woodstock, Vermont, although Limitation Order L-126, Schedule II, prohibited the use of such tubing larger than ⅜ inch size (O. D.). This was a violation of Limitation Order L-126, Schedule II. In 1943 Mr. Cartmell made four sales of new metal plumbing equipment for more than $10, to ultimate consumers, which equipment he knew was unlike any the purchasers had before; he stamped on the orders (his printed forms) for the equipment "material for maintenance, repair or operating supplies—rating A-10 under Preference Rating Order P-10" and told the purchasers that in order to obtain the equipment they had to sign the certificates, although he knew that the orders were not for maintenance, repair or operating supplies. This was in violation of Limitation Order L-79. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.531 Suspension Order No. S-531. (a) Deliveries of material to Robert J. Cartmell, doing business as Cartmell's Sales & Service, or otherwise, his successors or assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference rating shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating orders, preference rating certificates, general preference orders, or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) No allocation, including allotments, of any material or product, the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the War Production Board, shall be made to Robert J. Cartmell, doing business as Cartmell's Sales & Service, or otherwise, his successors or assigns, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) The provisions of this order shall not apply to repair parts for the servicing of refrigerating equipment and farm machinery.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Robert J. Cartmell, doing business as Cartmell's Sales & Service, or otherwise, his successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall take effect on April 25, 1944, and shall expire on August 25, 1944.

BUSWAYS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of copper and other materials for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1226.87 General Limitation Order L-273—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Manufacture" means to fabricate, process or assemble materials into busway.

(3) "Busway" means any bus duct, busway, or other device for the transmission and distribution of electric energy at 600 volts or less, and consisting of prefabricated (factory fabricated) sections or units made up of rigid copper conductors of any shape or arrangement, separated by insulators or insulating material and enclosed in a case or attached to a supporting framework, and assembled into a connected system in the course of installation, and includes plug-in devices, feed-in boxes, over-current protective devices, and any other parts designed for use therewith.

(i) "Plug-in type busway" means busway having a case (or framework) designed primarily to afford protection against accidental contact and/or extra rigidity for use with plug-in devices; and

(ii) "Feeder type busway" means busway having a case (or framework) affording mechanical protection and rigidity for the support normally required, but designed primarily to assure maximum current carrying capacity without excessive temperature rise.

(iii) The term "busway" shall not include

(a) Busway designed for use with movable or rolling trolleys; or

(b) Busway having a cross-sectional area per conductor of less than 50,000 circular mils; or

(c) Extensions of any size or type of busway or conductors not exceeding ten feet in length furnished as an integral part of a switchboard, panelboard, or distribution transformer bank; or

(d) Step type busway designed to be used as a distribution center wherein provision is made to tap branch circuit wiring to over-current protective devices directly from the busway conductors through the use of lugs bolted on such conductors, and not having provision for the use of plug-in devices.

(b) Restrictions on acceptance of orders, and deliveries. On and after April 5, 1943, no manufacturer, dealer or other person shall accept any order for any new busway, or deliver any busway under any order tendered before or after that date, unless such order bears a preference rating of AA-5 or higher.

(c) Restrictions on mechanical and electrical design. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (d) of this order, no person shall manufacture or deliver, and no person shall accept delivery of, any busway which is not manufactured in accordance with the following restrictions:

(1) (i) Plug-in type busway. No person shall manufacture any plug-in type busway having any line or phase copper conductors of any size except the sizes designated below, and such busway shall not contain more than the specified quantities of steel per linear foot:

Reference No.	Nominal ampere rating	Copper circular mill area for conductor	Conductor tolerance	Steel maximum lbs. per linear foot
Plug-in type			Percent
1	250	134,000	±5	4.5
2	400	301,000	±5	4.5
3	600	472,000	±5	4.5

Provided, that no person shall manufacture any such busway, with provision for the use of plug-in devices, of larger size or capacity than Size No. 3 above unless and until specifically authorized to do so by the War Production Board pursuant to paragraph (d) of this order; and if authorized, the sizes of copper conductors used shall conform to the conductor sizes, and the steel used therein per linear foot shall not exceed the quantities specified below for corresponding sizes of feeder type busway.

(ii) Feeder type busway. No person shall manufacture any feeder type busway having any line or phase copper conductors of any size except the sizes designated below, and such busway shall not contain more than the specified quantities of steel per linear foot:

Reference No.	Nominal ampere rating	Copper circular mill area per conductor	Conductor tolerance	Steel maximum lbs. per linear foot
Feeder Type			Percent
1	250	134,000	±5	4.5
2	400	301,000	±5	4.5
3	600	472,000	±5	4.5
4	800	637,000	±5	6.0
5	1,000	957,000	±5	6.0
6	1,350	1,273,000	±5	7.0
7	1,600	1,486,000	±5	8.0
8	2,000	1,914,000	±5	8.0
9	3,000	3,190,000	±5	9.0
10	4,000	5,104,000	±5	10.0

Provided, That no person shall manufacture any feeder type busway in Sizes 9 or 10 above unless and until specifically authorized to do so by the War Production Board, pursuant to paragraph (d) of this order, after it has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the latter that the use of runs of smaller size feeder type busway would not be practicable.

(iii) For the purpose of this order, the "nominal ampere rating" shall be deemed to indicate the approximate capacity of the designated size of busway under average installation conditions and continuous operation, but shall not be construed to prohibit the use of the designated size for carrying a load in excess of, or less than, such nominal ampere rating; and the "steel maximum lbs. per linear foot" shall mean the permitted average weight in pounds of steel per linear foot included in the case (or framework), insulator supports, covers, nuts, bolts, straps, and other hardware, but excluding any hangers, or other supporting members which are used for attaching the busway to the structure in which installed.

(2) (i) No person shall manufacture more than one model or design of plug-in type busway, or of feeder type busway, in any of the sizes provided for under the preceding paragraph (c) (1), except that any person may produce not more than two models or designs in Size No. 1 of plug-in type busway. The use of any of the following types or arrangements of busway parts shall not be deemed to constitute a separate model or design within any of the sizes provided for under the preceding paragraph (c) (1):

(a) Conductors in single phase, two pole; three phase, three pole; three phase, four wire; two phase, four wire, or two phase, five wire;

(b) Use, or non-use, of plug-in or ventilating openings in Sizes No. 1 to No. 3 inclusive, of any busway;

(c) Use of additional sealing compound to afford weatherproof construction;

(d) Variations in length of sections, or in size or shape of such associated fittings as elbows, crosses, tees, connections between busway sections of different sizes or types, or special end construction to fit switchboards, panelboards and other devices not a part of the busway system.

(ii) After April 24, 1943, no person shall manufacture any plug-in type or feeder type busway, in any size, or of any design or model, unless and until he has first filed with the War Production Board by letter, in triplicate, a description of the size and model or design of such busway. Such description shall clearly set forth the following information with regard to such busway:

(a) Nominal cross-sectional dimensions of line or phase copper conductors;

(b) Average weight in pounds of steel used per linear foot, computed in accordance with (c) (1) (iii) above;

(c) Insulator spacing when ten foot sections are used;

(d) Type of plating or finish used on bus bar;

(e) Type of paint or finish used on case or framework;

(f) Case design with nominal dimensions and thickness, U. S. S. gauge, of the busway case (or framework).

The models or designs so described shall constitute the standard models or designs adopted by the manufacturer as those which he proposes to manufacture in accordance with paragraph (c) (2) (i) above.

(iii) Except as permitted under paragraph (c) (2) (i), no person shall alter or change any such model or design manufactured by him to such an extent that it does not substantially conform to the description adopted and furnished by him pursuant to this order, or manufacture any busway of any other model or design for any particular installation, unless and until he has been specifically authorized to do so by the War Production Board, pursuant to paragraph (d) of this order, after it has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the latter that such change of the standard model or design would result in the conservation of additional quantities of steel or other critical materials, or the more effective utilization of labor or production facilities without increase in the use of such materials, or that the manufacture of an exceptional model or design is essential on account of the exceptional installation conditions of the particular installation.

The application for such specific authorization shall be made by letter, in triplicate, and shall include a description of the proposed model or design as specified above under (c) (2) (ii). If such authorization is granted, all busway manufactured pursuant thereto shall be in conformity with such description, and if a new standard model or design is thereby established in any size for a particular manufacturer, such model or design shall replace his former model or design in such size.

(3) No person shall manufacture any feeder type busway unless it is so designed that any designated size will carry, under continuous duty, a full power load equivalent to the nominal ampere rating for such size as indicated under paragraph (c) (1) (ii) above, and without exceeding a temperature rise of 70° C. in any part of the conductors when the busway is so placed in various horizontal positions that the maximum temperature rise in any conductor is attained at the heat saturation point (when measured for "hot-spot" temperatures in accordance with American Institute of Electrical Engineers Standards, "A. I. E. E. No. 1, June 1940").

(4) No person shall manufacture any plug-in type or feeder type busway which contains in, or as a plating or finish on, the case (or framework), nuts, bolts, washers, name plates or identification plates any of the following materials: copper, chromium, nickel, cadmium, or alloys thereof. Zinc may not be used as a finish or plating on the case or framework.

(d) Authorizations. Application for authorization by the War Production Board under paragraphs (c) (1) (i), or (c) (1) (ii), or for a particular installation under (c) (2) (iii) above, shall be made by the manufacturer, by letter, in triplicate, setting forth facts sufficient to enable the War Production Board to determine the necessity or justification for such an authorization.

(e) Exemptions. The restrictions and limitations of paragraph (c) of this order shall not apply:

(1) [Deleted Apr. 26, 1944]

(2) To the use of component parts of busway which on April 5, 1943, had been fabricated or processed to the extent that use in conformity with this order would be impractical; or

(3) [Deleted Apr. 26, 1944]

(4) To the manufacture and delivery of any busway not exceeding 100 feet in length when used as an extension to or in a rearrangement or repair of a presently installed busway system.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of all regulations of the War Production Board, as issued and amended from time to time.

(2) [Deleted Oct. 26, 1943.]

(3) [Deleted Oct. 26, 1943.]

(4) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order, or any direction thereunder, shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

HOW TO OBTAIN ALUMINUM PATTERN EQUIPMENT UNDER CMP

The following amended direction is issued pursuant to CMP Regulation 5:

(a) The word "patterns" as used in the following instructions means only match plates, patterns, core boxes, core driers, flasks and bottom boards made of aluminum. It does not include such items as jigs, dies, molds, fixtures, or other tooling of a type which has only one special use since these are provided for in Direction 35 to CMP Regulation No. 1.

(b) Patterns (including finished aluminum patterns) are castings under CMP and hence controlled materials.

(c) When the purchaser of a pattern furnishes the pattern foundry with all the required weight of aluminum in the form of obsolete or defective patterns:

(1) No preference rating or CMP allotment symbol, number or certification is required on the order to the foundry or to the pattern maker;

(2) Any foundry may remelt aluminum scrap in the form of obsolete or defective patterns furnished by the prospective purchaser of the new pattern (and only such type of aluminum scrap) without prior authorization; and

(3) Wherever possible, old patterns should be used to make new patterns.

(d) When the purchaser of a pattern does not furnish all the aluminum, he may place an authorized controlled material order for aluminum patterns by affixing the symbol MRO on his order and the certification set forth in CMP Regulation No. 7, executed as provided in that regulation.

NOTE: Remainder of the paragraph imposing a 600 pound limit on the use of new aluminum for patterns deleted April 26, 1944.

(e) [Deleted Apr. 26, 1944]

(f) Pattern manufacturers are hereby authorized to use the MRO symbol endorsed on their customers' orders to obtain aluminum pattern castings. Pattern manufacturers are not required to apply for an allotment of aluminum notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any CMP regulation.

(g) Foundries fill only authorized controlled material orders for aluminum patterns (except as provided in paragraph (c) above,) which they may recognize by the symbol MRO and the certification described in CMP Regulation No. 7.

(h) The foregoing direction also applies to a company which makes its own aluminum patterns. Except as provided in paragraph (c) above, every such company places authorized controlled material orders on its own pattern foundry so that the foundry may make delivery of the patterns.

(i) Nothing in this direction shall be construed to relieve any person from complying with the provisions of Supplementary Order M-1-l which requires that only low-grade aluminum ingot (as defined in the order) be used for aluminum pattern equipment, and prohibits contamination of aluminum. Pattern foundries, and not the purchaser or user of patterns, must file Forms WPB-2530 (formerly CMP-19) and WPB-2685 (formerly CMP-24) monthly. Foundries regularly producing aluminum castings have been assigned an AM license number which must be shown on all orders for ingot. Foundries which do not have an AM license may secure ingot for patterns only by indicating on their order "MRO patterns".

This direction supersedes all previous instructions relating to the acquisition of aluminum for the manufacture of patterns.

Recording Secretary.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

[Limitation Order L-232 as Amended Apr. 26, 1944]

WOODEN SHIPPING CONTAINERS

§ 3270.56 Limitation Order L-232—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Wooden shipping container" means any new shipping container made wholly or partially of wood which is used for the shipment and delivery of commodities. The term does not include trunks, luggage, military locker boxes, field picking boxes, or boxes consisting of more than 50% of corrugated or solid fibre (by area).

(2) "Restricted crop" means any fruit or vegetable listed in Table II of Schedule B.

General Restrictions

(b) Restrictions—(1) Manufacture, sale or delivery of containers. No person shall manufacture, sell or deliver any wooden shipping containers or parts which he knows or has reason to believe will be used or accepted in violation of any provision of this order.

(2) Manufacture and assembly of containers. No person shall commercially manufacture or assemble any wooden shipping container for the purposes described in the several tables of Schedule A, which does not meet the specifications contained in those tables. The restrictions of this paragraph shall not apply to barrels, drums, kegs, kits or pails.

(3) Manufacture of container parts. No person shall commercially manufacture any wooden parts designed for any wooden shipping container described in the several tables of Schedule A which, when assembled, will not conform with the specifications of those tables. The restrictions of this paragraph shall not apply to barrels, drums, kegs, kits or pails.

(4) Coloring. No manufacturer, dealer in, or commercial user of wooden shipping containers or parts shall dye, stain, or otherwise color containers or parts which are described in Schedule A. The restrictions of this paragraph shall not apply to barrels, drums, kegs, kits or pails.

(5) Printing. All stamping, printing and labeling, unless otherwise required by law, shall be placed on only one outside surface of any wooden shipping container covered by the several tables of Schedule A of this order, whether it be an end, a side, bottom, top or cover. The restrictions of this paragraph (b) (5) shall not apply to barrels, drums, kegs, kits or pails or to paper, labels or markings which only:

(i) State the capacity of the container in terms of whole or fractional pints, quarts, pecks, or bushels; or

(ii) in the case of baskets and hampers are identifying markings provided for in regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture issued under the United States Standard Container Act of 1928; or

(iii) are designed for the purpose of encouraging salvage and reuse of the container, provided the label or printing does not include the name, brand, trade-mark or other reference to any person, firm, partnership or corporation.

Restrictions on Packing and Shipping Commodities Other Than Restricted Crops

(c) Restrictions—(1) Commodities for which wooden shipping containers are forbidden. No person shall commercially pack or ship in wooden shipping containers any of the commodities listed in Table I of Schedule B. This shall not, however, restrict the shipment of any commodity listed which has already been packed on the date it was included in this table or the shipment of any listed commodity in wooden shipping containers which were in the shipper's inventory or in transit to him on the date it was included in this table, but only for a period of sixty days thereafter.

(2) Quota restriction on packing. Packers of a commodity listed in Table II of Schedule B, other than a restricted crop, are restricted in the quantity of that commodity which they may pack in wooden shipping containers in each calendar quarter to a percentage of the quantity that they packed in wooden shipping containers in the same quarter of the base period. The percentage and base period for each commodity are shown in the table.

Restrictions on Fruits and Vegetables Listed in Table II of Schedule B (hereafter called "Restricted Crops")

(d) Restrictions. (1) In the case of the restricted crops listed in Table II of Schedule B, no person shall, in any calendar year, commercially pack in wooden shipping containers a greater quantity of restricted crops than the total quantity of the designated quotas of each of the restricted crops that he packed in wooden shipping containers in 1942. After determining his quota of wooden shipping containers based on what he packed in 1942, he may use these containers to pack any of the restricted crops interchangeably.

(2) The restrictions of paragraph (d) shall not become effective until July 1, 1944 (except in the case of table and juice grapes), and the quotas for the second half of 1944 shall be based on the second half of 1942.

(3) It is the policy of the War Production Board that each grower of a restricted crop be allowed to market in wooden shipping containers the quantity of restricted crops contemplated by the quotas. Under this policy every packer, so far as practicable, should use his permitted quantity of wooden containers to pack the restricted crops of each of the growers for whom he packs without prejudice to each of them, provided they are prepared to meet current prices and terms. If this policy is not observed voluntarily, the War Production Board may issue specific directives to named packers, and failure to comply with these directives will be deemed a violation.

(4) A packer may not pack a greater quantity of restricted crops grown by him in wooden shipping containers than the total of the designated quotas of restricted crops grown by him and packed in wooden shipping containers in 1942.

(5) If a grower, who did not do his own packing in 1942, wants to do his own packing, he must notify the War Production Board by letter stating the name of the person who packed for him in 1942 and the quantity of each restricted crop packed in wooden shipping containers during that year. Such notice must be filed within ten days before a grower begins his packing. He may then pack a quantity of restricted crops in wooden shipping containers permitted by the quotas set up in the table, based upon the quantity of his restricted crops which were packed in wooden shipping containers in 1942. The War Production Board may then reduce the quota of the packer who packed for him in 1942 where such action seems necessary to keep the total consumption of wooden shipping containers down to the levels contemplated by this order.

Certification

(e) Certification for fruit and vegetable containers. On and after July 1, 1944, no person shall sell or deliver any new wooden shipping containers for the shipment of fruits and vegetables without obtaining a certificate from the purchaser. The certificate may be either the one set forth in paragraph (v) of Order P-140 (if the purchaser is using a rating to buy his containers) or the standard certificate provided for in paragraph (d) of Priorities Regulation No. 7. In case the former is used, the purchaser shall add the following words to the certification:

The undersigned, purchaser, further certifies that he is familiar with the provisions of Order L-232 and that the containers which he is buying will not be used in violation of the terms of that order.

If he uses the standard certification, he shall add the words, "Reference L-232."

Miscellaneous

NOTE: Paragraphs (f) to (i), formerly (d) to (g), redesignated April 26, 1944.

(f) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of appeal.

(g) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L-232.

(i) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of paragraph (c) (3) has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 26th day of April 1944.

Recording Secretary.

'Inside length' of the container shall be its outside length minus the combined thickness of both ends and of the center piece (if any).

(b) An optional variation of up to 1/16" under or up to 1/16" over the specified inside lengths is allowed. A tolerance of up to 1/16", plus or minus, in the specified inside depths and inside width is allowed for shrinkage and manufacture.

(c) No cleats may be so used as to increase inside dimensions except where an asterisk appears in Column (1) of Table II or where, and as, specified in any footnote after that table. Where an asterisk appears in Column (1) of Table II, one or more cleats of 1/16", 3/16", 1/8", 5/16", 11/16", or 3/8" thickness may be attached to the top of each end piece, or end frame, provided such cleat or cleats do not increase the inside dimensions of the container by more than the specified thickness of the cleat or cleats.

(d) Exceptions. (1) The restrictions of paragraphs (b) (2), (3), (4) and (5) of this order and of this Table II shall not apply to:

(i) The manufacture or assembly of wooden shipping containers by any person from wooden parts cut to size by him before March 4, 1943; provided, such manufacture or assembly is completed by August 31, 1943:

(ii) The assembly of wooden shipping containers by any person from cut-to-size wooden parts bought and received by him before April 1, 1943; provided, such assembly is completed by August 31, 1943;

(2) The restrictions of this Table II shall not apply to the manufacture or assembly of wooden shipping containers, or the manufacture of wooden parts for wooden shipping containers, to be delivered:

(i) To or for the account of the Army, the Navy, the Coast Guard, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or the Department of Agriculture (for Lend-Lease purposes), provided, the government agency's specifications require wooden shipping containers which do not comply with Table II.

(ii) To any person for use in packing fresh fruits or vegetables for delivery to or for the account of such government agencies; provided, the government agency's specifications require wooden shipping containers which do not comply with Table II; and provided further, such person furnishes the container or container-parts supplier with a written certification in substantially the following form, signed by an authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7;

"This is to certify that specifications of orders received by the undersigned from (designate government agency) require wooden containers not conforming with Order L-232. The material ordered herewith is for that purpose only.

Company_____
By_____
Title_____ Date_____"

Such certification shall constitute a representation to the supplier and to the War Production Board as to the truth of the facts stated therein. The supplier may rely upon such representation unless he has knowledge or reason to believe that it is not true.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

TEXTILE BAGS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States having created a shortage in the supply of textile bags for defense, for private account and for export, the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3270.23 Conservation Order M-221—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Textile bag" means any hand or machine sewed bag made for commercially packing, storing or shipping some commodity and of cotton, burlap or other textile fabric including open mesh fabrics woven from cotton and twisted paper yarns, but excepting shopping bags, carry-out bags, bale covers, textile wrappings and combination textile-paper bags (bags made of textile laminated with paper).

(2) "New textile bag" means any textile bag when neither the fabric nor the bag has been previously used.

(3) "Used textile bag" means any textile bag when the bag or the fabric previously has been used one or more times.

(4) "Bag maker" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing new textile bags.

(5) "Dealer" means any person whose principal business is that of buying, selling, or reconditioning empty textile bags.

(6) "User" means any person who acquired 500 or more empty new or used textile bags for use in his business during 1942 or who acquires such amount during any subsequent calendar year.

(7) A person shall be deemed a "commercial emptier" at such times when in any of the three immediately preceding calendar months he acquired in his business and emptied 400 filled textile bags.

(8) "Export" means any shipment from the continental United States (the 48 states and the District of Columbia).

(9) "Burlap laminated bag" means any bag made of burlap laminated to paper, with any adhesive or water-proofing substance.

General Restrictions for All Persons

(b) Joint responsibility. No person shall deliver textile bags to any other person if he has reason to believe that the other person is not entitled to accept them under the provisions of this order or that they will be used for any purpose prohibited by this order.

(c) Sampling bag-contents. No person shall sample the contents of any new or used textile bag except by opening the closure or by inserting a probe or trier without damage to the fabric.

(d) Sand bags. No person shall purchase or accept delivery of any new or used textile bag to be used for protection against air raids or other war hazards.

(e) Size-changing. No dealer, user, or commercial emptier shall change the size of any burlap textile bag while it has a commercial use as a bag, with or without mending.

(f) Processing of used bags for sale. No dealer, user, or commercial emptier shall sell or deliver any used textile bag to any person for his own use unless the bag has been processed and repaired and all holes, including trier or probe holes, properly mended or patched. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the delivery of any bag for the purpose of repair or delivery to the owner. For the purposes of this provision, "process" means to clean a used textile bag by washing, vacuuming, or any other method sufficient to prepare the bag for further re-use.

(g) Sale of used raw sugar bags. No dealer, user or commercial emptier shall sell or deliver any No. 1 jute (gunny) sugar bag suitable for packing Puerto Rican or Cuban raw sugar to any person for any use other than packing Puerto Rican or Cuban raw sugar. For the purposes of this paragraph, the jute bags referred to shall be limited to bags which have been used for packing raw sugar and which have no holes at all or have no more than seven trier holes, all of which have been patched or mended.

(h) Export of empty bags. Unless specifically authorized by the War Production Board, no person shall export any empty new or used burlap textile bag or any empty new or used open mesh textile bag. The requirement for such authorization is in addition to, and not in place of, any applicable export licensing requirements of the Office of Economic Warfare. Application for authorization for such export shall be made by letter or telegram to the War Production Board stating the pertinent facts, including (1) the destination of the bags (2) the source from which the bags have been or are to be acquired, and (3) the quantity, size and material of the bags. Such applications concerning exports which also require licensing by the Office of Economic Warfare should be submitted through that agency to the War Production Board. The restriction of this paragraph shall not apply to:

(1) Foreign re-users. The export of empty used bags which previously contained any of the following products and which, in accordance with established practice of the industry involved, are being exported in the expectation that they will be re-used by foreign suppliers of the same product for further packing of that product: sugar, asbestos, or any other product designated by the War Production Board because it so impregnates the bag material as to make the bag unsuitable for packing any other commodity without excessive cleaning.

(2) Transshipment. Completing the transshipment of textile bags which are in transit from a point outside the continental United States to another such point and which have been landed in the continental United States (in a free zone or free port or in bond) pending such transshipment.

(3) Exports to Canada. The export of empty new or used burlap textile bags or new or used open mesh textile bags to Canada.

Additional Restrictions for Bag Makers

(i) Overstitching. No bag maker shall overstitch the raw edge or selvage edge of any new textile bag except new wool bags.

(j) Eyelets, grommets. No bag maker shall manufacture any new textile bags with metal eyelets or metal grommets.

(k) Bag sizes for certain commodities—(1) Sizes permitted. No bag maker shall manufacture any new textile bag designed for packing any commodity listed below, except in any size of more than 100 lbs. or in any of the sizes specified below for that commodity:

Bag designed for packing commodity specified	Bag size (net weight capacity unless otherwise specified)
(1)	(2)

Cement (standard portland)	94 lbs.
Flour (milled wheat) [1]	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.

Potatoes [2]	2-5-10-15-25-50-100 lbs.
Processed feed (mixed, mill)	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.
Rice	2-3-5-10-15-25-50-100 lbs.
Salt	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.
Seeds	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs., 1, 2 bu. [3]
Starch (corn)	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.
Sugar (refined cane, beet)	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.

[1] "Flour (milled wheat)" means any flour product produced by milling wheat, including blends of wheat flours and bleached, bromated, enriched phosphated, and self-rising flours, but excluding durum wheat products (semolina), farina, pancake flour, and cake flour.

[2] Additional sizes are permitted as follows: ½ bu. for hybrid seed corn; 8 bu. for cotton seed.

[3] These restrictions do not apply to open mesh bags used for packing potatoes.

(2) Exception for export by bag maker. The size restrictions of paragraph (k) (1) above shall not apply to the manufacture of bags to be exported, empty, by the bag maker. However, the export-authorization requirement of paragraph (h) above shall apply if the bags are made of burlap.

(3) Exception for export by user. The size restrictions of paragraph (k) (1) above shall not apply to the manufacture of bags ordered by any person for packaging any listed commodity to be exported by him, provided the bag maker receives from such person a written certification as provided for in Exhibit A attached to this order. However, the export-authorization requirement of paragraph (h) above shall apply if the bags are made of burlap.

Additional Restrictions for Commercial Emptiers

(l) Emptying bags. No commercial emptier shall remove the contents of any textile bag except by opening the closure, unless the contents have become so caked or solidified that salvage of the bag is not practicable.

(m) Time-limit on holding empty bags. Within 60 days after emptying any number of textile bags, a commercial emptier shall use, or transfer to dealers or users, an equal number of empty used textile bags from his inventory. Such disposition may be deferred beyond the 60-day period in the following cases:

(1) Seasonal re-use. If the commercial emptier needs the bags for packing a seasonal product (whether or not produced by him), he may retain them until the product becomes available for packing, subject, however, to the inventory restriction of paragraph (n) below.

(2) Carload accumulation. If, in accordance with his past practice, the commercial emptier wishes to accumulate a carload quantity of such bags for return to users for further packing of the kind of product last packed in them, he may retain such bags until he has accumulated a carload quantity.

Additional Restrictions for Users

(n) Inventory restriction. No user shall accept delivery of any empty new or used textile bags at a time when, or when by virtue of the delivery, his inventory of new or used empty textile bags is or will be in excess of a practical minimum working inventory for the uses which are not prohibited by this order. Except in the case of bags required by a user for packing a seasonal product (whether or not produced by him), such inventory shall not exceed the aggregate number of new or used empty textile bags which will be required to carry on his business during the next 60 days.

(o) Quota restriction on acceptances of burlap bags. (1) During 1943, no user shall accept delivery of more than his quota of new burlap textile bags for packing the products below. His quota shall be the larger of the following amounts: (i) 500 such bags for all the products or (ii), for each class of product listed below, the specified percentage of the number of such bags he accepted during the calendar year 1941 for packing that class:

Class of product (1):	Quota percentage (2) (Percent)
Petroleum waxes	100
Stearic acid (cakes or slabs)	100
Salt	100
Refined sugar (restricted to covers or balers for smaller packages totaling approximately 100 pounds)	100

The above restriction does not apply to bags made of "scrim" (burlap weighing less than 7 ounces per yard—40" width) nor to bags for packing mohair, wool, or wool products. The number of any such bags accepted by any user during 1941 shall not be included in computing any quota above.

(2) The provisions of subparagraph (1) shall apply to the calendar year 1944 and succeeding calendar years except that the quota restriction will be based on the number of bags accepted during either the calendar year 1941 or 1942, whichever is the greater, and the number of "scrim" bags or bags for packing mohair, wool or wool products accepted during 1941 or 1942, whichever year is taken as the base period, shall not be included in computing the quota.

(3) During 1944 and each succeeding calendar year each person packing wheat or small grains in the States of California, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington or Arizona may accept delivery of not more thn 100% of the number of new Calcutta Wheat bags that he used during the calendar year 1940 for packing those products. These may only be used for packing wheat or small grains in those states. However, if he used less than 500 such bags during 1940 he may accept delivery of 500 such bags for packing those products during 1944.

(p) Products permitted for burlap bags. No user shall use any new textile bag made of burlap for packing any products other than the following:

Mohair; wool; wool products; petroleum waxes; stearic acid (cakes or slabs); agricultural products except refined cane or beet sugar (not in balers or covers for smaller packages totalling approximately 100 pounds), corn sugar refined beyond the crude or chip stage, fertilizer tankage, or fertilizer.

(q) Products permitted for cotton bags. No user shall use any new textile bags made of cotton for packing any products other than the following:

Agricultural products; cement; chemicals; core sand; currency, coin, or securities; fertilizer; glues; gypsum; malt; meats; metal abrasives; metal parts; pastes; plaster; sand; shellfish; tire chains; or such other products as may be authorized by the War Production Board, pursuant to application on Form WPB-1319 (PD-556).

"Agricultural products" includes, but is not limited to, beans; coffee; cotton; feed; flour; fruits; grain; meal; nuts; potatoes; poultry grits; rice; salt; seeds; starch; sugar; tobacco; vegetables.

(t) Use of wool bags. No user shall use any wool bag except as provided below. A "wool bag" is any new or used textile bag, made of burlap, between 5½ and 7½ feet in length, ordinarily used to package wool. Such bag shall not be considered a wool bag when no longer capable of carrying any of the following: grease wools, scoured wools, noils, wool wastes or mohair.

(1) General. Wool bags shall be used only for packing or wrapping wool or wool products and only in accordance with the further restrictions of paragraphs (s) (2), (3), and (4) below.

PART 3280—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

[General Conservation Order M-217, Interpretation 5]

SHOES MANUFACTURED FOR DYEING BY RETAILERS OR CONSUMERS

The following interpretation is issued with respect to General Conservation Order M-217:

Paragraph (c) (4) restricts the manufacture of footwear of more than one color. Where a manufacturer produces a line of footwear designed especially for taking dye on the tip, foxing, saddle or other portions, so that it can be converted into a two-tone shoe (such as a spectator or saddle oxford type), and he has reason to believe that it will be converted by retailers or consumers, he is putting material into process for the manufacture of footwear of more than one color. This is prohibited by the paragraph.

PART 3292—AUTOMOTIVE VEHICLES, PARTS AND EQUIPMENT

REPLACEMENT PARTS FOR ARMY DELIVERED FROM INVENTORY

The following interpretation is issued with respect to L-158:

Paragraph (m) (1) of the order (which was paragraph (L) (1) before the amendment of April 12, 1944) permits delivery on certain Army orders of replacement parts "in distributors' inventory available for immediate delivery". PART 3293—CHEMICALS

[Conservation Order M-374 as Amended Apr. 26, 1944]

BEVERAGE CANE SPIRITS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of industrial alcohol and of sugar, molasses, and grain, and facilities for the production of industrial alcohol, for defense, for private account and for export. The use of such raw materials as sugar, molasses and grain is necessary to the production of industrial alcohol for the manufacture of synthetic rubber and munitions. It is therefore deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense, to allocate facilities for the production of beverage cane spirits (as defined in this order), and to control the importation of beverage cane spirits so as to prevent further uncontrolled diversion of sugar and molasses to the production of these spirits:

§ 3293.616 Conservation Order M-374—(a) Definitions. (1) "Beverage cane spirits" means ethyl alcohol of 50 proof or higher made from molasses, sugar, sugar cane or sugar cane juice, and produced for beverage purposes or tax paid for beverage purposes. The term includes any solution, compound or mixture containing ethyl alcohol of 50 proof or higher, such as, for example, rum, cordials or gin.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of beverage cane spirits.

(3) "Import" means to transport in any manner into the continental United States or into Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or the territories of Hawaii and Alaska, from any foreign country, or from any territory or possession of the United States other than those mentioned above. It includes shipments into a free port, free zone or bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs (bonded warehouse) in the continental United States and shipments in bond into the continental United States for trans-shipment to Canada, Mexico or any other foreign country.

(4) Beverage cane spirits shall be deemed "in transit" if it is afloat, if an on-board ocean bill of lading has actually been issued with respect to it, or if it has actually been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier, for transportation to a point within the continental United States.

(b) Restrictions on production of beverage cane spirits. On and after March 15, 1944, no person shall produce beverage cane spirits except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board. The provisions of this paragraph shall be applicable to the continental United States, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands of the United States and the territories of Hawaii and Alaska.

(c) Restrictions on imports of beverage cane spirits. On and after March 15, 1944, no person shall import, attempt to import, purchase for import, or make any contract or other arrangement for the importing of any beverage cane spirits without first having obtained authorization to do so from the War Production Board. This paragraph applies to the importation of beverage cane spirits regardless of the existence on March 15, 1944, or thereafter, of any contract or other arrangement for importation.

(d) Applications for authorization to produce or import. Any person requiring authorization to produce or import beverage cane spirits may apply by letter, in triplicate, to the War Production Board, stating the amount, by calendar quarter, of beverage cane spirits applicant desires to produce or import. Applicant must also state the amount of beverage cane spirits he has produced or imported, by calendar quarters, during the years 1940, 1941, 1942, 1943 and 1944. All quantities should be expressed in terms of proof gallons. It will be the policy of the War Production Board to permit production or importation of beverage cane spirits to the extent consistent with the fulfillment of requirements of sugar, molasses and industrial alcohol for the defense of the United States.

(e) Exceptions. Paragraphs (c) and (d) of this order do not apply:

(1) To beverage cane spirits which, on or before March 15, 1944, were in transit to a point within the continental United States; or

(2) To beverage cane spirits consigned as gifts or as samples, or for use as samples, or imported for personal use, where the quantity of each consignment or shipment is not more than two proof gallons. No person shall split up a single order of beverage cane spirits into smaller orders for the purpose of coming within this exception.

(3) To shipments of beverage cane spirits in bond into the continental United States for trans-shipment to Canada, Mexico or any other foreign country.

(4) To any bank or other person who participates, by financing or otherwise, in any arrangement which such bank or person knows or has reason to know involves the importation after March 15, 1944 of beverage cane spirits, provided such bank or person either has received a copy of the authorization issued by the War Production Board under the provisions of paragraph (d), or is satisfied from known facts that the proposed transaction comes within the exceptions set forth in this paragraph (e).

(f) Special directives. The War Production Board may from time to time issue special directives to producers concerning the kind of raw materials which may be used for the production of beverage cane spirits. This paragraph applies only to the continental United States, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands of the United States and the territories of Hawaii and Alaska.

(g) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(h) Reports. No beverage cane spirits, which are imported after March 15, 1944, shall be entered through the United States Bureau of Customs for any purpose (other than pursuant to paragraph (e) (2) of this order) whether for consumption, for warehouse, in transit, in bond, for re-export, for appraisal, or otherwise, unless the person making the entry shall file with the entry a certificate in duplicate, stating the following information: (1) Name of importer; (2) Date of bill of lading (this is only necessary if the beverage cane spirits were in transit on or before March 15, 1944); (3) Date and number of importer's WPB authorization; (4) Quantity of beverage cane spirits covered by the entry; (5) Port of entry; (6) Port of origin of shipment. The certificate shall be signed manually by a duly authorized official of the importer or as provided by Priorities Regulation No. 7. The standard form of certification provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7 may not be used instead of the certificate described above. The filing of such certificate a second time shall not be required upon any subsequent entry of the same shipment of beverage cane spirits through the United States Bureau of Customs for any purpose; nor shall the filing of such certificate be required upon the withdrawal of any beverage cane spirits from bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs, regardless of the date when such material was first transported into the continental United States. Both copies of the certificate shall be promptly transmitted by the Collector of Customs to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M-374.

(i) Bureau of the Budget Approval. The reporting provisions of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M-374.

This amended order shall become effective May 5, 1944.

PART 3294—IRON AND STEEL PRODUCTION

MALLEABLE IRON CASTINGS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of malleable iron castings for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3294.113 Order M-21-1—(a) Inventory limitations. No person may accept delivery of any malleable iron castings if his inventory of such castings will after acceptance exceed what he reasonably expects to use in his authorized operations during the next 45 days. No person may deliver malleable iron castings if he knows or has reason to believe that such delivery will increase the recipient's inventory above this 45-day limitation.

(b) Exception. This order shall not apply to the delivery of any malleable iron castings produced before March 22, 1944, to a delivery of less than 2000 pounds from any one pattern or mold which would raise the inventory of the person accepting delivery from less than a forty-five day supply to an inventory in excess thereof, or to a minimum production run as explained in Interpretation No. 7 to Priorities Regulation No. 1.

(c) Appeals. Any producer or purchaser of malleable iron castings who believes that the terms of this order result in undue hardship may appeal by letter stating the relief requested and the reasons it is necessary.

(d) Communications. All appeals and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to Redistribution Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-21-1.

All applications must contain:

Companies which have previously submitted any of the above-required data may omit such items from the data submitted with their applications.

[MPR 530]

IMPORT PRICES FOR PULPWOOD PRODUCED IN THE PROVINCES OF QUEBEC, NEW BRUNSWICK AND NOVA SCOTIA IN THE DOMINION OF CANADA

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum import prices for pulpwood produced in the Provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia in the Dominion of Canada.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and of Executive Orders 9250 and 9328. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation. Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected or have previously been promulgated and their use lawfully required by another government agency.

§ 1347.808 Import prices for pulpwood produced in the Provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia in the Dominion of Canada. Under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328, Maximum Price Regulation 530 (Import Prices For Pulpwood Produced In The Provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia In The Dominion of Canada) which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

Sec.

2. Less than maximum prices.

4. Evasion.
5. Enforcement.
6. Records and reports.
7. Petitions for amendment.

Sec.
8. Definitions.
9. Import prices for pulpwood produced in the Provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia in the Dominion of Canada.

SECTION 1. Prohibitions. (a) On and after May 1, 1944, regardless of any contract except those made on or before February 2, 1944, agreement, lease or other obligation, no person in the course of trade or business shall import from the Provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia in the Dominion of Canada into the continental limits of the United States of America, pulpwood produced in the Provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia in the Dominion of Canada at prices in excess of the maximum prices set forth in Section 9 of this regulation; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing: "Provided, That the maximum prices established herein shall not apply to pulpwood which is produced in the Provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia in the Dominion of Canada on limits owned or operated by a United States consuming mill or its subsidiary when the pulpwood is sold to the United States consuming mill owning the operation or controlling the subsidiary.

(b) Prohibited practices. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollars-and-cents prices is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price.

SEC. 2. Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in section 9 of this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

SEC. 3. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to buy at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery, but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, receive or agree to receive pulpwood at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by letter or order.

Unless the Office of Price Administration or a duly authorized representative thereof shall, by letter mailed to the applicant within 10 days from the filing of such application approve, disapprove, adjust, amend or extend the time within which to do any of the foregoing, such application shall be deemed to have been approved, subject to nonretroactive written disapproval or adjustment at any later time by the Office of Price Administration.

This regulation shall become effective May 1, 1944.

H. A. IRVING CO.

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of Harry A. Irving, A. L. Hoffman, Phelps E. Hollywood, William R. Ernst and Norma E. Irving, copartners trading as H. A. Irving Company.

Complaint. The Federal Trade Commission, having reason to believe that the parties respondent named in the caption hereof and hereinafter more particularly designated and described, since June 19, 1936, have violated and are now violating the provisions of subsection (c) of section 2 of the Clayton Act (U.S.C. Title 15, section 13), as amended by the Robinson-Patman Act, approved June 19, 1936, hereby issues its complaint, stating its charges with respect thereto as follows:

PARAGRAPH ONE. Respondents Harry A. Irving, A. L. Hoffman, Phelps E. Hollywood, William R. Ernst and Norma E. Irving, since June 19, 1936, have engaged and are now engaged as copartners trading as H. A. Irving Company, with their principal office and place of business located at 206 Sansome Street, San Francisco, California, and have engaged and are now engaged in the business of canning, packing, distributing and selling sea food products.

The respondents, since June 19, 1936, have owned a controlling stock interest in Sea Pride Packing Corporation, Ltd.; which corporation has operated since June 19, 1936, two packing plants, one of which is located at Monterey, California, and another at Terminal Island, California, and have engaged and are now engaged in the business of canning, packing and distributing canned sardines, canned tuna, canned mackerel, fish meal and fish oil. This corporation has its principal office and place of business located at 206 Sansome Street, San Francisco, California, where respondents' principal office and place of business is also located.

The respondents since June 19, 1936, have owned a controlling stock interest in Carmel Canning Company, which company has operated since June 19, 1936, a packing plant located at Monterey, California, and have engaged and are now engaged in the business of canning, packing and distributing canned sardines, fish meal and fish oil. This company has its principal office and place of business located at 206 Sansome Street, San Francisco, California, where respondents' principal office and place of business is also located.

The respondents since June 19, 1936, have engaged in business as sales agents for Sea Pride Packing Corporation, Ltd., and Carmel Canning Company, and for other corporations, firms and individuals who are engaged or who have engaged in the business of canning, packing and distributing sea food products.

PAR. TWO. The respondents, as the controlling stockholders and as sales agents for Sea Pride Packing Corporation, Ltd., and Carmel Canning Company, have, directly and indirectly, engaged in the business of distributing and selling canned sardines, canned tuna fish, canned mackerel and other sea food products in their own name and for their own account for resale, and also in the name of Sea Pride Packing Corporation, Ltd., and Carmel Canning Company, for respondents' own account for resale.

The respondents sell and distribute their sea food products through two separate and distinct methods. Their principal method of selling and distributing sea food products is through the efforts of their own sales agents or intermediaries located in various sections of the United States, who, under respondents' direction, negotiate and sell respondents' sea food products in respondents' name and at respondents' prices and on respondents' terms, and for which services to the respondents such sales agents or intermediaries are paid by respondents the customary rate of commissions or brokerage fees.

The respondents' secondary method of sale and distribution is by the direct sale of their sea food products to certain buyers who are also paid by respondents commissions or brokerage fees on their own purchases.

Such buyers customarily designate themselves as "brokers" and their business as "brokerage", although they are generally known to the trade as "buying brokers" or "speculative brokers". Such buyers purchase merchandise in their own name and for their own account directly from those sellers, and only from those sellers, who will pay them commissions or brokerage fees on their own purchases. It is the custom of such buyers, after the purchase and receipt of such merchandise, to store it in their own warehouses or in public warehouses, where it is immediately covered by the respective buyers' insurance. Normally such buyers utilize warehouse receipts covering the merchandise they have purchased and stored as collateral or security in obtaining loans from banks. Such buyers sell such merchandise in their own name and for their own account and at their own prices and on their own terms, and assume full and complete credit risk on such merchandise as they buy and sell in their own name and for their own account. Where such merchandise is lost or damaged in transit from the sellers to the buyers, such buyers file claims against and collect damages from the respective transportation companies. Such buyers collect such damages in their own name and for their own account.

Such buyers mask these operations under the fictionalized designation of "brokers" or "merchandise brokers" for the sole purpose of coloring the name and method of their operation, in order to collect commissions or brokerage fees from the few remaining sellers who will pay such buyers commissions or brokerage fees on purchases made in such buyer's own names and for such buyers' own accounts.

The respondents, to distinguish their sea food products from the sea food products sold by competitors, and to facilitate sales, utilize registered and unregistered trade marks and brands for the various sea food products they sell. These brands or trade marks are generally known as packers' or sellers' brands. Representative of respondents' brands are "Sea Pride," "Salomer," "Sea Knight," "Calistar," "Sea Mist," "Valid," "Bright Eye," "Cali-Gem," "Diver," "Ben-Sen," "Life Saver" and "Linde De Luxe." The respondents also sell their sea food products unlabeled or unbranded and under the labels or brands of their respective buyers which labels or brands are generally known to the trade as private or buyers' labels or brands.

PAR. THREE. The respondents, in the course and conduct of their said business since June 19, 1936, have sold and distributed a substantial portion of their sea food products directly to buyers located in states other than the state in which the respondents are established, and as a result of said sales and the respondents' instructions, such sea food products are shipped and transported across state lines to such buyers located in the various states of the United States.

PAR. FOUR. The respondents, since June 19, 1936, in connection with the interstate sale and distribution of sea food products in their own name and for their own account, for resale, have sold such sea food products to numerous buyers located in the various states of the United States other than the state where respondents are established, and have been and are now paying or granting, or have paid or granted, directly or indirectly, commissions, brokerage fees or other compensation, allowances or discounts in lieu thereof, to numerous buyers of said sea food products sold under respondents' own labels or brands, unlabeled, or under buyers' labels or brands.

A representative, but by no means complete, list of buyers, some or all of whom designate themselves as "brokers", and who classify their business as "merchandise brokerage", who since June 19, 1936, have purchased sea food products unlabeled or under the respondents' labels or brands or under such respective buyers' labels or brands from the respondents for such buyers' own account for resale, and who have received and accepted, and who are now receiving and accepting, directly or indirectly, from said respondents on their own purchases of sea food products, commissions, brokerage fees or allowances and discounts in lieu thereof, is as follows:

Lloyd A. Gray Company, Inc., Jacksonville, Florida;

William H. Stanley, Inc., New York, New York;

Spence-Tomlin Company, Albany, Georgia;

Hutchings Brokerage Company, Mobile, Alabama;

Hunt & Stembridge, Inc., Dothan, Alabama;

B. G. Lafaye Company, New Orleans, Louisiana.

PAR. FIVE. The paying and granting by respondents, directly or indirectly, of commissions, brokerage fees or other compensation and allowances or discounts in lieu thereof, to buyers of sea food products on their own purchases which are resold unlabeled or under either the buyers' or sellers' labels, and the acts and practices of the respondents in promoting sales of sea food products by paying to buyers, directly or indirectly, commissions, brokerage fees or other compensation and allowances or discounts in lieu thereof, as set forth above, are in violation of subsection (c) of section 2 of the Clayton Act as amended.

Wherefore, the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission on this 21st day of April, A. D. 1944, issues its complaint against said respondents.

Notice. Notice is hereby given you, Harry A. Irving, A. L. Hoffman, Phelps E. Hollywood, William R. Ernst and Norma E. Irving, copartners trading as H. A. Irving Company, respondents herein, that the 26th day of May, A. D. 1944, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said Act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requiring you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance be not required, due notice to that effect will be given you. The rules of practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule IX) provide as follows:

In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.

Failure of the respondent to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondent, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.

If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondent by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true.

Contemporaneously with the filing of such answer the respondent may give notice in writing that he desires to be heard on the question as to whether the admitted facts constitute the violation of law charged in the complaint. Pursuant to such notice, the respondent may file a brief, directed solely to that question, in accordance with Rule XXIII.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint, to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 21st day of April, A. D. 1944.

By the Commission.

CANTON AND CARTHAGE RAILROAD CO.

ORDER REROUTING FREIGHT TRAFFIC

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of April 1944.

It appearing, that due to the destruction of a bridge by flood on the Canton & Carthage Railroad Company that carrier by railroad is unable to transport the traffic offered to it; in the opinion of the Commission an emergency exists requiring immediate action to best promote the service in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people; It is ordered, That:

(a) Bridge destruction; rerouting of freight traffic. Effective at once and until further order of the Commission the Canton & Carthage Railroad Company is hereby directed to forward freight traffic routed over its lines by routes most available to expedite its movement and prevent congestion, without regard to the routing thereof made by shippers or by carriers from which the traffic is received, or to the ownership of cars, and that all rules, regulations, and practices of said carriers with respect to car service are hereby suspended and superseded only as conflicting with the directions hereby made; provided that the billing covering all cars rerouted shall carry a reference to this order as authority for the rerouting.

(b) Rates to be applied. Inasmuch as the routing of traffic pursuant to the order is deemed to be due to carriers' disability, the rates applicable to traffic routed pursuant to this order shall be the same as would have applied had the shipments moved as originally routed.

(c) Division of rates. In executing the orders and directions of the Commission provided for in this order the common carriers involved shall proceed without reference to contracts, agreements, or arrangements now existing between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to said traffic; such divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; and upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act. WHEELING ELECTRIC CO. AND AMERICAN GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 24th day of April, A. D. 1944.

Wheeling Electric Company ("Wheeling"), a public utility company, and its corporate parent, American Gas and Electric Company ("American Gas"), a registered holding company, having filed a joint declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly sections 7, 12 (c) and 12 (d) thereof, and Rules U-42, U-43 and U-50 promulgated thereunder with respect to the following transactions:

Wheeling will borrow from three New York City banks, Irving Trust Company, Bankers Trust Company and Guaranty Trust Company of New York, the sum of $2,000,000 and will issue notes therefor bearing 2% interest. Semi-annual payments on account of principal will be made which will liquidate the loan in six years. The proceeds of the loan, together with treasury funds of Wheeling to the extent necessary, will be applied to:

(1) Redemption and cancellation of 24,856 shares of 6% preferred stock of Wheeling now in the hands of the public at the redemption price of $110 per share plus any dividends unpaid to the date of redemption;

(2) Purchase for cancellation of 972 shares of said 6% preferred stock from American Gas for $94,882.75 (stated to be American Gas' cost of such shares) plus accrued dividends thereon to the date of delivery.

The accrued dividends will be paid by Wheeling out of general funds. Upon the redemption or purchase and cancellation of all of the 6% preferred stock the capital of Wheeling will be reduced by $2,582,800. Wheeling will amend its charter to eliminate from its capital structure the said preferred stock so that the authorized shares of Wheeling will consist solely of 150,000 shares of no par value common stock. Wheeling presently has no outstanding funded debt.

The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has authorized the issuance of promissory notes and the use of the proceeds together with other funds for the redemption and retirement of Wheeling's outstanding preferred stock.

Said declaration having been filed on March 29, 1944, and notice of said filing having been duly given in the manner and form prescribed by Rule U-23 under said act and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said declaration within the period specified within such notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that the standards of section 7 will be satisfied by the issuance of the proposed note in that it is to be issued solely for the purpose of discharging the outstanding preferred stock of the declarant within the meaning of section 7 (c) (2) (A), that it is reasonably adapted to the security structure and earning power of declarant and other companies in the same holding company system within the meaning of sections 7 (d) (1) and 7 (d) (2), that it is appropriate to the economical and efficient operation of the business in which declarant is engaged within the meaning of section 7 (d) (3) and that the terms and conditions of the issue and sale are not detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers within the meaning of section 7 (d) (5); and

The Commission further finding that the acquisition and retirement of the preferred stock of Wheeling will not adversely affect its financial integrity or its working capital or result in the circumvention of any of the provisions of the act or of the rules, regulations or orders thereunder within the meaning of section 12 (c) and that the sale by American Gas to Wheeling of the preferred stock of Wheeling held by it and the acquisition thereof by Wheeling at the cost thereof to American Gas require no adverse findings under the provisions of sections 12 (d) and 12 (f) and will not be detrimental to the public interest or the interests of investors or consumers and will not result in the circumvention of the provisions of this act or the rules, regulations or orders thereunder:

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to said Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 that the said declaration be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission (Commissioner Healy dissenting for the reasons set forth in his memorandum of April 1, 1940).

WHEREAS the joint resolution of Congress approved May 8, 1914 (38 Stat. 770), designating the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day, recites that "the service rendered the United States by the American mother is the greatest source of the country's strength and inspiration":

And I call upon the people of the United States to give public and private expression on Mother's Day to the esteem in which our country holds its mothers, through the display of the flag at their homes and other suitable places, through tokens and messages of affection, and through prayers offered up in their places of worship that God will strengthen and protect all sons and daughters exposed to the dangers of war and that He will be near all mothers who need His comfort in the time of grief.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

(D) By striking out example (3) in paragraph (b) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Example (3). The excess profits tax imposed upon the W Corporation for the calendar year 1942 is $500,000, for the calendar year 1943 is $300,000, and for the calendar year 1944 is $400,000. The amounts paid by the corporation in repayment of indebtedness throughout the year 1942 total $100,000, throughout the year 1943 total $60,000, and throughout the year 1944 total $90,000. The outstanding indebtedness of the corporation during the years 1942, 1943, and 1944 is as follows:

The credit allowable for debt retirement for 1942 is $10,000, computed as follows:

40 percent of $100,000, the total repaid in 1942 (see section 783 (a) and § 35.783–1 (a))	$40,000
But the credit for debt retirement for 1942 may not exceed whichever of the following amounts is the lesser (see section 783 (b) (1) and (3) and § 35.783–1 (b) (2)):
10 percent of $500,000 (amount of tax imposed)	$50,000
40 percent of $25,000 (amount by which indebtedness September 1, 1942, $200,000, exceeds indebtedness at close of taxable year 1942, $175,000)	10,000

The credit allowable for debt retirement for 1943 is zero, computed as follows:

40 percent of $60,000, the total repaid in 1943 (see section 783 (a) and § 35.783–1 (a))	$24,000
But the credit for debt retirement for 1943 may not exceed whichever of the following amounts is the lesser (see section 783 (b) (1) and (2) and § 35.783–1 (b) (3)):

40 percent of zero (amount by which amount of indebtedness September 1, 1942, $200,000, or smallest amount of indebtedness at close of any preceding taxable year ending after September 1, 1942 (December 31, 1942), $175,000, whichever amount ($200,000 or $175,000) is the lesser, $175,000, exceeds amount of indebtedness at close of taxable year (December 31, 1943), $190,000)	zero

The credit allowable for debt retirement for 1944 is $30,000, computed as follows:

40 percent of $90,000, the total repaid in 1944 (see section 783 (a) and § 35.783–1 (a))	$36,000

But the credit for debt retirement for 1944 may not exceed whichever of the following amounts is the lesser (see section 783 (b) (1) and (2) and § 35.783–1 (b) (3)):

(E) By striking out the last computation, together with the parenthetical matter, under example (4) in paragraph (b), which begins as follows: "40 percent of $85,000", and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

40 percent of $85,000 (amount by which amount of indebtedness September 1, 1942, $100,000, or smallest amount of indebtedness at close of any preceding taxable year ending after September 1, 1942 (December 31, 1942), $85,000, whichever amount ($100,000 or $85,000) is the lesser, $85,000, exceeds amount of indebtedness at close of taxable year (December 31, 1943), $270,000)	$34,000

PAR. 3. There is inserted immediately after § 35.783–1 the following new section:

§ 35.783–2 Election to take certain credit for debt retirement for taxable years beginning after September 1, 1942, and ending before February 25, 1944—(a) Scope of section. Section 251 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1943 provides in effect that, if by reason of the amendment to section 783 (b) (2) (relating to one of the limitations on the credit for debt retirement in the case of a taxable year beginning after September 1, 1942), made by section 251 (a) of such act a taxpayer would be entitled, had the election provided for in section 783 (a) been duly made, to take any credit for debt retirement with respect to a taxable year ended prior to February 25, 1944 (the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1943), in any amount to which such taxpayer would not be entitled were it not for such amendment, the election of the taxpayer to take such credit in such amount may be made on or before May 25, 1944 (the ninetieth day after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1943). Section 783 (a) provides in effect, with respect to the election to take credit, that, if the taxpayer desires to take the credit for a taxable year in which amounts are paid in repayment of the principal of indebtedness, the election to take the credit must be made in the taxpayer's return for such year.

This section applies only to the election of the taxpayer to take credit for debt retirement against the excess profits tax for a taxable year beginning after September 1, 1942, and ending before February 25, 1944, in any amount to which such taxpayer would not be entitled were it not for the amendment made by section 251 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1943. The election to take the credit against the tax for such taxable year in any other amount and the election to take the credit against the tax for any other taxable year in any amount shall be made in accordance with section 783 (a) and § 35.783–1 (a).

The amount of the credit to which this section is applicable may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. The excess profits tax imposed upon the X Corporation for the calendar year 1943 is $800,000. The amounts paid by the corporation in repayment of indebtedness throughout the year 1943 total $170,000. The outstanding indebtedness of the corporation during the years 1942 and 1943 is as follows:

	Paid	Borrowed	Total indebtedness
January 1			$500,000
July 10	$100,000		400,000
September 1			400,000
October 22	50,000		350,000
December 3		$20,000	370,000
1943
January 1			370,000
November 5	170,000		200,000
December 31			200,000
Total paid	170,000

The credit allowable for debt retirement for 1943 under the law in force after the amendment made by section 251 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1943 is $68,000, computed as follows:

40 percent of $170,000, the total repaid in 1943 (see section 783 (a) and § 35.783–1 (a))	$68,000

But the credit for debt retirement for 1943 may not exceed whichever of the following amounts is the lesser (see section 783 (b) (1) and (2) and § 35.783–1 (b) (3)):

10 percent of $800,000 (amount of tax imposed)	$80,000
40 percent of $170,000 (amount by which amount of indebtedness September 1, 1942, $400,000, or smallest amount of indebtedness at close of any preceding taxable year ending after September 1, 1942 (December 31, 1942), $370,000, whichever amount ($400,000 or $370,000) is the lesser, $370,000, exceeds amount of indebtedness at close of taxable year (December 31, 1943), $200,000)	68,000

The credit allowable for debt retirement for 1943 under the law in force prior to the amendment made by section 251 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1943 would have been $60,000, computed as follows:

40 percent of $170,000, the total repaid in 1943 (see section 783 (a) and § 35.783–1 (a))	$68,000

But the credit for debt retirement for 1943 under the law in force prior to the amendment may not exceed whichever of the following amounts is the lesser (see section 783 (b) (1) and section 783 (b) (2) in force prior to the amendment):

10 percent of $800,000 (amount of tax imposed)	$80,000
40 percent of $150,000 (amount by which lowest amount of indebtedness during period beginning September 1, 1942, through close of preceding taxable year (December 31, 1942), $350,000, exceeds indebtedness at close of taxable year (December 31, 1943), $200,000)	60,000

The amount of the credit to which this section is applicable is $8,000 ($68,000 minus $60,000). The election to take credit in such amount with respect to a taxable year beginning after September 1, 1942, and ending before February 25, 1944, is governed by the provisions of this section, while the election to take credit in the amount of $60,000 with respect to such taxable year is governed by the provisions of § 35.783–1 (a).

(b) Manner and time of making election. If the taxpayer desires to make the election to which this section applies, such election must be made in the taxpayer's excess profits tax return, either the return or an amended return, for the taxable year beginning after September 1, 1942, and ending before February 25, 1944, with respect to which the credit is allowable. If the taxpayer's excess profits tax return for such taxable year is filed on or before the last day on which the taxpayer's return for such year is required to be filed (including any extension of time for filing the return granted pursuant to section 53), such election must be made on or before whichever of the following dates is applicable:

(1) May 25, 1944, if such last day is on or before May 25, 1944, or

An election not to take the credit to which this section applies, once made by filing a return for the taxable year on which such credit is not taken, is irrevocable after the expiration of the time prescribed for making the election under this section. An election to take such credit, once made by filing a return for the taxable year on which such credit is taken, similarly becomes irrevocable.

If the taxpayer files an excess profits tax return for the taxable year on or before the last day on which the taxpayer's return for such year is required to be filed (including any extension of time for filing the return granted pursuant to section 53) and if the taxpayer makes the election under this section in the return, the taxpayer should claim on such return such allowable credit for the taxable year as it desires to take, not only the credit to which the election under this section applies but also the credit to which the election under § 35.783–1 (a) applies.

If the taxpayer has filed an excess profits tax return for the taxable year prior to the expiration of the time prescribed for making the election under this section and if the taxpayer did not make such election in the return or desires to make a new election under this section, the election under this section may be made in an amended return filed by the taxpayer within the time prescribed for making such election. If such election is made in an amended return, such return shall fully and accurately set forth all the information required by the return form and by these regulations with respect to the computation of the tax, including the recomputation of the credit for debt retirement, the excess profits tax due, and the post-war credit under section 780 (a). The recomputation of the credit for debt retirement shall include (1) any allowable credit for debt retirement for the taxable year duly claimed by the taxpayer on the return previously filed and with respect to which the election under § 35.783–1 (a) has become irrevocable and (2) any allowable credit for debt retirement for the taxable year which the taxpayer elects to take pursuant to this section. If the election under § 35.783–1 (a) has not become irrevocable, the recomputation should include, in lieu of the credit mentioned in clause (1) of the preceding sentence, any allowable credit for debt retirement for the taxable year which the taxpayer desires to take pursuant to an election under § 35.783–1 (a). Such amended return shall not constitute a claim for credit or refund of an overpayment of tax. If the application of the credit for debt retirement, as recomputed, results in an overpayment of the excess profits tax for the taxable year, a timely claim for credit or refund should be filed in the usual manner. No interest will be allowed or paid upon any such overpayment. For limitations upon credits and refunds generally, see section 322.

(Sec. 62 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32; 26 U.S.C., 62), as made applicable by sec. 729 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code (54 Stat. 989; 26 U.S.C., 729 (a)), and in sec. 251 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (Pub. Law 235, 78th Cong.))

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

TITLE 29—LABOR

Subtitle A—Office of the Secretary of Labor

PART 4—DETERMINATIONS RELATING TO OVERTIME, SUNDAY, AND HOLIDAY PAY

AMENDMENT OF DETERMINATION UNDER EXECUTIVE ORDER 9240 AS TO THE FISH PROCESSING INDUSTRY

On June 7, 1943, the Secretary of Labor ordered, pursuant to Executive Order 9248, that the provisions of Executive Order 9240 shall not apply to employees engaged in the processing of fish, including the canning and reduction thereof, and operations incidental thereto, in the States of Washington, Oregon, and California and the Territory of Alaska. Upon application, an investigation has been made of the necessity and advisability of extending this order so that it will apply to the Fish Processing Industry in all other States and Territories, and Possessions of the United States. I find, upon the basis of this investigation, that the nature and exigencies of the operations in this industry make it necessary and advisable for the successful prosecution of the war to determine that the provisions of Executive Order 9240 shall not apply to the Fish Processing Industry in the United States, its Territories, and Possessions.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the power vested in me by Executive Order 9248, I hereby amend my Determination of June 7, 1943, to provide that Executive Order 9240 entitled "Regulations Relating to Overtime Wage Compensation" shall not apply to employees engaged in the processing of fish including the canning and reduction thereof and operations incidental thereto in the United States, its Territories, and Possessions.

Dated: April 24, 1944.

FRANCES PERKINS,
Secretary of Labor.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Rev. SR 14 to GMPR, Amdt. 127]

BUTCHERS' FROCKS SOLD BY DEFENSE SUPPLIES CORPORATION, THE AMERICAN MEAT INSTITUTE, AND MEAT PACKERS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new section 3.13 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 3.13 Butchers' frocks sold by Defense Supplies Corporation, the American Meat Institute, and meat packers. Maximum prices for sales of butchers' frocks manufactured under Quartermaster Corps tentative specifications P. Q. D. No. 120, dated January 15, 1942, and sold by Quartermaster Corps to Defense Supplies Corporation are established as follows:

(a) Sales by Defense Supplies Corporation: $2.56 net per garment, f. o. b. warehouse.

(b) Sales by the American Meat Institute, Chicago, Illinois: $2.57 net per garment, f. o. b. warehouse.

(c) Sales by meat packers: a price not to exceed $2.57 per garment, plus the actual incoming transportation cost per garment which the packer paid.

(d) Prior to or at the time of shipment, the American Meat Institute shall furnish to persons purchasing these garments from it, the following notice:

We are sending this notice to you pursuant to requirement of the OPA. This notice advises you as to your ceiling price for the butchers' frocks which we are delivering to you. These frocks were made for the United States Army. Because of the urgent need for butchers' frocks by the packing industry, arrangements have been made for the release by the Army of these frocks for ultimate sale or distribution to employees at meat packing houses.

The ceiling price for the American Meat Institute, as fixed by the OPA, is $2.57 net per garment, F. O. B. warehouse.

If you are a packer, and you sell these frocks to your employees, your ceiling price as fixed by the OPA must not exceed the amount which you paid to the American Meat Institute, plus the incoming transportation cost, per garment, which you paid. Meat packers who have arrangements with employees for the distribution of protective clothing below acquisition cost, or without any charge, may, of course, continue these practices with respect to these frocks.

This amendment shall become effective April 27, 1944.

Chapter I—General Land Office

[Circular 1673]

Section 192.76, 192.77 and 192.78 are amended to read as follows:

§ 192.76 Application for renewal. An application to renew a 20-year lease for a period of 10 years should be filed in triplicate with the register of the district land office in which the leased land is located or if in a state in which there is no district land office, in the General Land Office at least 90 days, but not more than six months, prior to the expiration of its term. Such application should be made by the record title holder or holders of the lease and may be joined in or consented to by the operator of record. The application should show whether all monies due the United States have been paid and whether operations under the lease have been conducted in accordance with the regulations of the Department.

The applicant or his operator shall furnish in triplicate with the application for renewal, copies of all agreements not heretofore filed providing for overriding royalties or other payments out of production from the lease which will be in existence as of the date of its expiration. When such payments, including overriding royalties, are in excess of 5 percent of gross production a detailed statement of the income from and costs of operation of the lease for the twelve month period immediately preceding the month in which the application for renewal is filed must also be furnished. The register will forward one copy of the application to the supervisor of oil and gas operations, Geological Survey, for the district in which the lands are located.

§ 192.77 Report by Geological Survey. Upon receipt of a copy of the application for renewal, the oil and gas supervisor will report to the Director of the Geological Survey as to the effect of the overriding royalties or other payments out of production on the successful operation of the lease, the number and status of the wells drilled on the leasehold, the current rate of production, if any, whether the lessee has made full compliance with the operating regulations of the Geological Survey and, if not, the respects in which the lessee has failed to make compliance.

In reporting the facts with respect to overriding royalties or other payments, due consideration shall be given to the following: The cost of drilling, equipping, and operating the wells and the marketing of production, together with prevailing prices for production, the marketing facilities, the cost of transportation, the possibilities of increasing production under wise and skillful management, including secondary recovery operations, the estimated reserves, and any other factors that may influence the costs and income from the lands leased. The Director will report these facts to the Commissioner, General Land Office, with such recommendation as he deems proper.

§ 192.78 Action in General Land Office. The Commissioner of the General Land Office shall consider the application and report submitted by the Director of the Geological Survey. If the outstanding obligations payable from production do not constitute a burden on the lease prejudicial to the interests of the United States, they will not be considered a bar to its renewal but any lease that issues shall be upon the condition, to be incorporated in the lease, that if and when the costs of operations including the payment of overriding royalties or payments out of production shall be determined by the Secretary of the Interior to constitute such a burden such royalties and payments shall be reduced to not more than 5 percent of the value of the production. If no objection to the renewal of the lease appears to the Commissioner, copies of a renewal lease, in triplicate, dated the first day of the month in which the original lease terminated, will be forwarded to the lessee for execution. Upon receipt of the executed lease forms and a satisfactory lease bond the Commissioner shall then make his recommendation to the Secretary, and if the lease is executed by the Secretary, one copy thereof will be delivered to the lessee.

If a determination is made that overriding royalties and payments out of production in excess of 5 percent of gross production constitute a burden on lease operations to the extent that proper and timely development will be retarded, or continued operation of the lease impaired, or premature abandonment of the wells caused, the lease application will be suspended and the parties in interest will be offered an opportunity to reduce the excessive overriding royalties or other payments out of production to not more than 5 percent of the value of the production. In the event that the holders of outstanding overriding royalty or other interests payable out of production, the operator, and the lessee are unable to enter into a mutually fair and equitable agreement, any of the parties may apply for a hearing at which all interested parties may be heard and written statements presented. Thereupon a final decision will be rendered by the Department outlining the conditions acceptable to it as a basis for a fair and reasonable adjustment of the excessive overriding royalties and other payments out of production, and an opportunity will be afforded within a fixed period of time to submit proof that such adjustment has been effected. Upon failure to submit such proof within the time so fixed, the application for renewal will be denied.

FRED W. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

NOVEMBER 12, 1943.

I concur:

THOMAS B. NOLAN,
Acting Director, Geological Survey.

Approved: April 20, 1944.

HAROLD L. ICKES,
Secretary of the Interior.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

AMERICAN STATES UTILITIES CORP., ET AL.

NOTICE OF HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 24th day of April, A. D. 1944.

In the matters of American States Utilities Corporation, Edison Sault Electric Company, Southern California Water Company, applicants, File No. 54–94; American States Utilities Corporation, et al., respondents, File No. 59–59. Notice of filing and notice of and order for hearing on plan filed pursuant to section 11 of the Act, and order of consolidation.

I. Notice is hereby given that an application has been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, by American States Utilities Corporation ("American States"), a registered holding company, Edison Sault Electric Company ("Edison Sault"), and Southern California Water Company ("Southern California"), subsidiaries of American States, whereby said applicants seek approval, pursuant to section 11 (e) of said act, of a plan for certain action designed to enable American States to comply with section 11 (b) of said act, a copy of which plan is made a part of said application. All interested persons are referred to said document which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

American States, organized under the laws of Maryland in 1936 pursuant to a Modified Plan of Reorganization for its predecessor company, American States Public Service Company, which plan was confirmed on September 28, 1936 under section 77B of the National Bankruptcy Act by the United States District Court for the district of Maryland, proposes to liquidate and dissolve after having distributed its assets to its present security holders, on the basis described below. Such assets consist mainly of all of the outstanding common stocks of its two subsidiaries, Edison Sault and Southern California. American States had outstanding, as of February 29, 1944, 125,713 shares of 5½% Cumulative Preferred Stock, $25 par value, and 221,088 shares of Common Stock, $1 par value.

The plan provides that the Articles of Incorporation of Edison Sault and Southern California shall be amended, subject to approval of appropriate state authorities, to provide for the reduction in the stated or par value of the common stocks of such companies so as to enable each company to issue 162,561 shares of common stock instead of the presently outstanding number of shares. The plan further provides that such 162,561 shares of common stock of Edison Sault and Southern California will then be transferred to the Baltimore National Bank, as exchange agent, which bank will distribute such securities to the holders of American States preferred and common stocks in the following proportions:

(1) To the holder of each share of American States preferred stock, one share of Edison Sault common and one share of Southern California common will be issued.

(2) To the holders of six shares of American States common stock, one share of Edison Sault common and one share of Southern California common will be issued. Scrip certificates will be issued to the holders of American States common stock in place of issuing stock in amounts of less than full shares of Edison Sault common and Southern California common stocks.

The plan further proposes that after the said distribution of the stocks of Edison Sault and Southern California among the holders of American States preferred and common stocks and after providing for all of the debts and obligations of American States, any remaining cash balances will be delivered to the Baltimore National Bank to be distributed among the preferred and common stockholders of American States on the same basis as the common stocks of Edison Sault and Southern California are proposed to be distributed. Thereafter, American States will be dissolved.

The plan further proposes that if the preferred and common stocks of American States and the outstanding and unexchanged First Lien 5% Gold Bonds and 10-year 6% Convertible Gold Debentures of American States Public Service Company (predecessor company) are not exchanged for the securities and cash available for such security holders within a period of five years from the date of approval of the said plan by the United States District Court having jurisdiction over the enforcement of the plan, then, at the expiration of such period of time, all the rights of such security holders shall be cut off and extinguished. The plan further provides that within 90 days after such cut-off date, all of the common stocks of Edison Sault and Southern California which may then remain in possession of the Baltimore National Bank shall be surrendered for retirement to the respective companies which issued said stocks, that any cash held by the bank derived from dividends upon shares of Edison Sault and Southern California shall be returned to such respective companies, and that any other cash then held by the bank as agent for the security holders of American States or its predecessor shall be divided equally between Edison Sault and Southern California. All such cash shall then be distributed pro rata among the then common stockholders of the said companies.

The plan further proposes that the rights to purchase common stock of American States, now possessed by holders of warrants issued under the Warrant Agreement of American States dated November 10, 1936, and the rights to obtain warrants, now possessed by holders of 6% Cumulative Preferred Stock of American States Public Service Company who have not obtained warrants under said Warrant Agreement of November 10, 1936, shall be terminated upon consummation of the proposed liquidation of American States in accordance with the provisions of the Articles of Incorporation of American States.

The consummation of the plan is subject to all necessary approvals by this Commission and to approval by a United States Court having jurisdiction with respect thereto, and upon such approvals having been obtained, the plan and each of the steps, terms and provisions thereof is to be binding upon all security holders of American States.

II. Heretofore, on April 9, 1943, the Commission entered an order (Holding Company Act Release No. 4230) in the proceeding theretofore instituted by the Commission directed to American States and its subsidiaries, pursuant to section 11 (b) of the act, identified by the Commission's File No. 59-59, which order was, in pertinent part, as follows:

It is further ordered, That American States Utilities Corporation, Edison Sault Electric Company, Southern California Water Company, and Grimes Pass Power Company, respondents herein, shall proceed with due diligence to submit to this Commission a plan to effect prompt compliance with the foregoing order pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of said act and shall take such steps as may be necessary or appropriate to effectuate this order; and

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be, and the same hereby is, reserved for the purpose of considering any and all plans for compliance with the action hereinbefore ordered, for the purpose of entering such further orders as may be necessary or appropriate to ensure that the action hereinbefore ordered is accomplished in a manner consistent with the public interest and with the provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

In conformity with said order, and it appearing to the Commission that common questions of law and of fact are involved in said proceeding instituted by the Commission pursuant to section 11 (b) of the act and in the proceedings upon the applications filed by American States, Edison Sault, and Southern California pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act, summarized in Part I of this notice and order;

It is ordered, That the proceedings upon said applications of American States, Edison Sault, and Southern California designated by the Commission's File No. 54-94 be, and the same are, hereby consolidated with those proceedings instituted by the Commission directed to American States, and its subsidiaries under section 11 (b) of the act, identified by the Commission's File No. 59-59;

Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute a reopening of the record in said proceeding instituted by the Commission in respect of any issue decided by said order of April 9, 1943 or to constitute a modification or amendment of said order.

III. It is further ordered, That a hearing on said matters so consolidated be held on the 8th day of June, 1944, at 10:00 a. m., E. W. T., in the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Richard Townsend or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for the purpose shall preside at such hearing. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a Trial Examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

Notice is hereby given of said consolidated hearing to the above-named applicants and respondents, California Railroad Commission, Michigan Public Service Commission, and to all interested persons; said notice to be given to said applicants and respondents and to the California Railroad Commission and to the Michigan Public Service Commission by registered mail, and to all other persons by publication of this notice and order in the FEDERAL REGISTER. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard in this proceeding shall file with the Secretary of this Commission, on or before June 1, 1944, an appropriate request or application to be heard, as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That American States shall give additional notice of said hearing to all known holders of its preferred and common stocks and its stock purchase warrants by causing a copy of this notice and order of hearing to be mailed to such holders at their respective last-known addresses, such mailing to be made not later than May 10, 1944.

Whereas on September 8, 1942, title to the vessel Dorothy, (212012), (including all spare parts, appurtenances and equipment) was requisitioned pursuant to section 902 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended; and

Whereas section 3 (b) of the Act approved March 24, 1943, (Public Law 17, 78th Cong.), provides in part as follows:

(b) The Administrator, War Shipping Administration, may determine at any time prior to the payment in full or deposit in full with the Treasurer of the United States, or the payment or deposit of 75 per centum, or just compensation therefor, that the ownership of any vessel (the title to which has been requisitioned pursuant to section 902 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, or the Act of June 6, 1941, (Public Law 101, Seventy-seventh Congress), is not required by the United States, and after such determination has been made and notice thereof has been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the use rather than the title to such vessel shall be deemed to have been requisitioned for all purposes as of the date of the original taking: Provided however, That no such determination shall be made with respect to any vessel after the date of delivery of such vessel pursuant to title requisition except with the consent of the owner. * * *";

and

Whereas no portion of just compensation for the said vessel has been paid or deposited with the Treasurer of the United States; and

Whereas the ownership of the said vessel, spare parts, appurtenances and equipment is not required by the United States; and

Whereas the former owner of the vessel has consented to this determination and to the return of the vessel and the conversion of the requisition of title therein to a requisition of use thereof in accordance with the above-quoted provision of law;

Now therefore, I, Emory S. Land, Administrator, War Shipping Administration, acting pursuant to the above-quoted provisions of law, do hereby determine that the ownership of said vessel, spare parts, appurtenances and equipment is not required by the United States, and that, from and after the date of publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the use rather than title thereto shall be deemed to have been requisitioned, for all purposes, as of the date of the original taking.

Mex., and Cochran, Hockley, and the regulated parts of Bailey and Lamb Counties, Tex. These counties are therefore eliminated from the present revision of the circular as no longer subject to any requirements of the quarantine or administrative instructions thereun-

PART 301—DOMESTIC QUARANTINE NOTICES

PINK BOLLWORM QUARANTINE

Introductory note. This revision of the quarantine and regulations is made primarily for the purpose of extending the regulated area to include recently found infestations of the pink bollworm in southwestern Louisiana, the Coastal Bend of Texas, and one county in western Texas; also to release from quarantine an area in the Panhandle of Texas and an adjacent county in New Mexico in which no specimens of the pink bollworm have been taken in recent years. The newly added area is comprised of the Louisiana parishes of Cameron, Calcasieu, and part of Jefferson Davis Parish, and the counties of Brazoria, Calhoun, Matagorda, Schleicher, and part of Jackson County, Tex. The area released from regulation is comprised of Roosevelt County, N. Mex., Cochran and Hockley Counties, Tex., and those parts of Bailey and Lamb Counties, Tex., that were formerly within the regulated area.

The lifting of all restrictions on the interstate movement, from any regulated area, of cotton linters produced from sterilized seed, as previously authorized in circular B. E. P. Q. 493, revised effective October 1, 1942, has been incorporated in the revised regulations as the second proviso of paragraph (a) of § 301.52–4.

Determination of the Secretary of Agriculture

The Secretary of Agriculture, having determined that it was necessary to quarantine the States of Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas to prevent the spread of infestations of the pink bollworm (Pectinophora gossypiella Saunders), a dangerous insect new to and not theretofore widely prevalent or distributed within and throughout the United States, and having given the public hearing required by law, promulgated a revision of Notice of Quarantine 301.52, part 301, chapter III, title 7, Code of Federal Regulations, and regulations supplemental thereto, governing the movement of carriers of the pink bollworm from any of the above-named States into or through any other State or Territory or District of the United States, §§ 301.52–1 to 301.52–12, inclusive, part 301, chapter III, title 7, Code of Federal Regulations [B. E. P. Q.—Q. 52, effective March 15, 1930, as amended effective February 10, 1943].

Because of the discovery of substantial infestations of the pink bollworm in Louisiana, the Secretary of Agriculture, having given a further public hearing in the matter, has determined that it is necessary to quarantine the State of Louisiana and to make other changes in the regulated areas and other minor modifications.

Order of the Secretary of Agriculture

Pursuant to the authority conferred upon the Secretary of Agriculture by section 8 of the Plant Quarantine Act of August 20, 1912, as amended (7 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 161), the subpart entitled "Pink Bollworm" of part 301, chapter III, title 7, Code of Feleral Regulations [B. E. P. Q.—Q. 52, as revised] is hereby further revised, effective May 1, 1944, to read as follows:

AUTHORITY: §§ 301.52 to 301.52–12 issued under sec. 8, 39 Stat. 1165, 44 Stat. 250; 7 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 161.

§ 301.52 Notice of quarantine. Under the authority conferred by section 8 of the Plant Quarantine Act of August 20, 1912, as amended (7 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 161), the Secretary of Agrioulture quarantines the States of Arizona, Louisiana, New Mexico, and Texas to prevent the spread of the pink bollworm. Any such limitation shall be conditioned, however, upon the affected State or States providing for and enforcing the control of the intrastate movement of the restricted articles under the conditions which apply to their interstate movement under existing provisions of the Federal quarantine regulations, and upon their enforcing such control and sanitation measures with respect to such areas or portions thereof as, in the judgment of the Secretary of Agriculture, shall be deemed adequate to prevent the intrastate spread therefrom of the said insect infestation: Provided further, That whenever, in any year, the Chief of the Bueau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine shall find that facts exist as to the pest risk involved in the movement of one or more of the articles to which the regulations supplemental hereto apply, making it safe to modify, by making less stringent, the restrictions contained in any such regulations, he shall set forth and publish such finding in administrative instructions, specifying the manner in which the applicable regulation shall be made less stringent, whereupon such modification shall become effective, for such period and for such regulated area or portion thereof as shall be specified in said administrative instructions, and every reasonable effort shall be made to give publicity to such administrative instructions throughout the affected areas.

As a condition of such authorization and designation, operators of gins, oil mills, manufacturing, or processing plants will agree in writing to handle restricted articles as to segregation of processed and nonprocessed products, as to efficient function of processing equipment, as to disposition of waste, as to use of uncontaminated containers of processed products, as to prevention of contamination of processed products, as to the maintenance of identity of regulated and nonregulated products, and to maintain such other sanitary safeguards against the establishment and spread of infestation and to comply with such other restrictions as to the handling and subsequent movement of restricted articles as may be required by the inspector.

§ 301.52–6 Restricted articles originating outside the regulated area. Restricted articles originating outside the regulated area may be certified for interstate movement from a regulated area without processing, treatment, or sterilization: Provided, That while in the regulated area these products have been handled and stored in such manner as to maintain identity, and as to prevent infestation, or contamination with other restricted articles originating in the regulated area.

§ 301.52–7 Cleaning or treating requirements of other articles when contaminated with cotton or cotton products originating within a regulated area. When contaminated with cotton or cotton products originating wtihin a regulated area, railway cars, trucks, or other vehicles, cotton bagging, or other containers of cotton, cotton processing machinery, farm household goods, farm equipment, farm products, or any other articles shall not be moved interstate from a regulated area until freed from such contamination to the satisfaction of an inspector, after which cleaning or treatment no certificate or permit will be required except for cotton bagging, or other containers of cotton, and cotton processing machinery.

§ 301.52–8 Dealer-carrier permits. As a condition of issuance of certificates or limited permits for the interstate movement of restricted articles handled by persons or firms engaged in purchasing, assembling, ginning, processing, or carrying such restricted articles originating or stored in regulated areas, such persons or firms shall make application for a dealer-carrier permit to the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, San Antonio, Tex., and agree to maintain an accurate record of receipts and sales, shipments or services, when so required (which record shall be available at all times for examination by an inspector), and agree to carry out any and all conditions, treatments, precautions, and sanitary measures which may be required.

§ 301.52–9 Cancelation of certificates. Any certificates, limited permits, or dealer-carrier permits issued under these regulations may be withdrawn or canceled and further certificates or permits refused, whenever, in the judgment of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, the further use of such certificates or permits might result in the dissemination of the pink bollworm.

§ 301.52–10 Alternate treatments to be prescribed by the Chief of the Bureau. When more effective methods of treatment, processing, or sterilization shall have been developed or when methods of treatment, processing, or sterilization as stipulated in the regulations hereof are found unsatisfactory by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, he is authorized to alter them or substitute other requirements.

§ 301.52–11 General certification provisions and marking and labeling requirements. To obtain certificates or limited permits under these regulations application shall be made either to the local inspector or to the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, Federal Building, San Antonio, Tex.[2]

Certificates or permits required under these regulations shall be securely attached to the outside of each container of restricted articles, or, in the case of carlot or bulk shipments by freight, to the waybills or other shipping papers which accompany the shipment. In the case of movement by road vehicle, such certificate or permit shall accompany the vehicle. Each container of restricted articles so moved shall bear such marking and labeling as may be necessary, in the judgment of the inspector, to identify the material.

The United States Department of Agriculture shall not be responsible for any costs incident to inspection or treatment, other than the services of inspectors.

§ 301.52–12 Shipments for experimental and scientific purposes. Products and articles subject to restriction in these regulations may be moved interstate for experimental or scientific purposes, on such conditions and under such safeguards as may be prescribed by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine. The container of articles so moved shall bear securely attached to the outside thereof, an identifying tag from the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine showing compliance with such conditions.

This revision of the quarantine and regulations shall be effective on and after May 1, 1944, and shall supersede the quarantine and regulations promulgated March 7, 1939, and amendments thereto.

GROVER B. HILL,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATIONS OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 1, Direction 1]

CHANGES MADE BY CUSTOMERS IN ORDERS PLACED WITH MANUFACTURERS

The following direction is issued pursuant to Priorities Reg. 1:

(a) This direction tells what happens when a customer, having placed a rated order with a manufacturer, wishes to make a change in that order.

(b) The general rule is that any change in a customer's order constitutes a cancellation of the earlier order and must be considered as a new order received on the date of the change if (but only if) the change will require the manufacturer to interfere with his production. For example:

(1) A change in shipping destination does not constitute the placing of a new order.

(2) An increase in the total amount ordered is a new order to the extent of the increase unless it can be filled with only a negligible interference with sequence of later orders.

(3) A change in the date of the delivery, whether advanced or deferred, when made by the customer is a new order if it interferes with production, or delays delivery on an equal or higher rated order.

(4) Mere substitution of one allotment number for another, where there is no change in the accompanying rating, is not considered to be the placing of a new order.

(5) A change in preference rating will not constitute a new order. Treatment of the new rating is governed by the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 12.

(6) A reduction in the total amount ordered will presumably not require a change in the manufacturer's schedule and will not constitute a new order. If the quantity is reduced below a minimum production quantity, the manufacturer may insist on the delivery of not less than the minimum production quantity as explained in Interpretation No. 7. If the customer is not willing to order that amount, the manufacturer may reject the order. The manufacturer may not discriminate between customers in requiring delivery of minimum production amounts or in rejecting orders.

(7) When the customer directs the manufacturer to hold or suspend production without specifying a new delivery date, the order must be considered cancelled. If requested to do so within ten days after receiving such an instruction, the manufacturer must reinstate the order as nearly as possible to its former place in his proposed schedule of deliveries as long as the reinstatement does not cause loss of production or delay in the scheduled deliveries on equal or higher rated orders. Any request for reinstatement made after ten days shall be treated as the placing of an entirely new order. The rule with respect to the effect of a request for reinstatement of an order which was part of a frozen schedule is stated in paragraph (d) of Priorities Regulation 18.

(8) Where minor variations in size, design, capacity, etc., are requested by the customer and can be arranged by the manufacturer without interfering with his production, such changes do not constitute a new order.

(c) Where a change in an order constitutes a new order the conditions existing at the time the changes are received govern the acceptance of the order and its sequence in delivery under the rules of Priorities Regulation No. 1. If a customer changes his order in such a way as to constitute a new order, but finds that as a new order it will not be scheduled for delivery at the time required by the customer, he may, if he likes, request reinstatement of his original order within the time and manner provided in paragraph (b) (7) above.

PART 1029—FARM MACHINERY

SALES OF WHEEL-TYPE TRACTORS FOR INDUSTRIAL USE WITH CONSTRUCTION MACHINERY ATTACHMENTS

The following direction is issued pursuant to Limitation Order L-257:

(a) Purpose and scope. Paragraph (f) (2) of Limitation Order L-257 (§ 1029.15) prohibits the sale for non-farm use of most machinery and equipment covered by that order unless the buyer has a rating of AA-4 or higher. If the buyer has no rating, he usually must apply for one on Form WPB-541 (PD-1A). This direction requires that any one who wants to buy a wheel-type tractor for use with construction machinery attachments must apply on Form WPB-1319 for approval to buy it and any necessary rating; he should use the same Form WPB-1319 that he uses in applying for the attachments under Order L-192. "War agencies" are treated the same as they are under L-192.

This direction covers only sales and deliveries to the ultimate user who wants to buy wheel-type tractors plus construction machinery attachments for non-farm use. All other sales of wheel-type tractors for non-farm use are governed by paragraph (f) (2) of L-257.

(b) Restrictions on sale. Except where the buyer is a "war agency", on and after May 12, 1944, no person may sell or deliver, and no person may buy or accept delivery of, any new wheel-type tractor for use with new construction machinery attachments covered by Schedule A of Limitation Order L-192, without specific approval of the War Production Board. Application for this approval, including both the tractor and the construction machinery attachments, should be made by the prospective buyer on a single Form WPB-1319 in accordance with the current instructions for the form. He must file the application in quintuplicate with the WPB regional office in the region in which he desires to use the tractor and attachments. This application when approved will state all conditions under which the purchase order may be placed with the seller, including the assignment of any necessary preference rating.

(c) Sales to "war agencies". If the buyer of the tractor is a "war agency", as defined in Order L-192, it does not have to get specific approval under this direction. However, when it files information copies of Form WPB-1319 under paragraph (d) (1) (iii) of L-192 covering its purchase of the construction machinery attachments, it must on the same form identify the tractor to be purchased.

PART 1255—INVENTORY RESTRICTION EXCEPTIONS

[General Inventory Order M-161, as Amended Apr. 28, 1944]

§ 1255.1 General Inventory Order M-161—(a) What this order does. This order excepts certain materials from inventory restrictions and from limits on the purchase of maintenance, repair, and operating supplies. The exception is made in some cases because there is no serious shortage of the material and in other cases because the material is available in quantity only in certain seasons, so that it is desirable to permit persons to buy and store it without limit.

(b) Exception to inventory restrictions. Section 944.14 of Priorities Regulation 1, which restricts inventory to a practicable working minimum, does not apply to the materials listed on Schedule A. Each of these materials is also exempted from all inventory restrictions in any other regulation or order of the War Production Board unless they expressly mention the material.

(c) Exemption from restrictions on maintenance, repair, and operating supplies. The materials listed on Schedule A are not subject to any restrictions in any regulation or order of the War Production Board which limit the quantity of material received or ordered for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies during any period on the basis of the amount of such supplies purchased during a base period. A person may receive or order for delivery any quantity of listed materials without regard to these restrictions. He does not have to charge his orders for any such material against his base-period quota except to the extent that purchases of the same material were taken into account in arriving at his quota. For example, a manufacturer operating under CMP Regulation 5 is limited in his purchases of maintenance, repair, and operating supplies to the amount which he spent in the base period. A manufacturer who spent $50,000 during the base period, including $500 for lead, may buy any amount of lead during the current period, and may use his MRO rating for that purpose, and he need include only $500 of the amount thus spent for lead in figuring the amount to be charged to his quota of MRO.

Issued this 28th day of April 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3284—BUILDING MATERIALS

[General Limitation Order L-78, as Amended Apr. 28, 1944]

FLUORESCENT LIGHTING FIXTURES

§ 3284.36 General Limitation Order L-78—(a) Purpose of this order. This order places certain limitations on the manufacture and assembly of fluorescent lighting fixtures. It also restricts the sale and delivery of new fixtures and parts.

Restrictions on Manufacture and Assembly

(b) Rectified fluorescent lighting fixtures. No person may manufacture or assemble a rectified fluorescent lighting fixture.

(c) Parts for rectified fluorescent lighting fixtures. No person may manufacture or assemble any part for a rectified fluorescent lighting fixture except for purposes of maintenance or repair.

(d) Use of non-ferrous metal. No person may incorporate any non-ferrous metal in any fluorescent lighting fixture or part except as permitted by Orders M-1-i (aluminum), M-6-b (nickel), M-9-c (copper), M-11-b (zinc), M-18-b (chrome), M-43 (tin), M-65 (cadmium) and any other applicable orders of the War Production Board.

(e) Prohibited uses of metal in hot cathode fixtures. Unless specific written authorization is granted by the War Production Board, after application as required in paragraph (j), no person may incorporate any metal in a fluorescent lighting fixture designed for:

(1) One tube of any wattage, unless the fixture is an industrial portable or an industrial attachable model;

(2) A continuous row of single tubes of any wattage;

(3) Two tubes rated 30 watts per tube or less, unless the fixture is an industrial portable or an industrial attachable model;

(4) Three or more tubes rated 30 watts per tube or less;

(5) Five or more rows of tubes of any wattage in either an individual fixture or in a continuous row section.

Restrictions on Sale and Delivery

(f) Preference ratings. No person may sell or deliver any new fluorescent lighting fixture or part except on an order or contract bearing a preference rating. (An order or contract bearing a rating lower than AA-2 must be regarded as an unrated order or contract, if the supplier knows or has reason to believe that the rating is a blanket MRO rating. The term "blanket MRO rating" is defined in Priorities Regulation 3.)

(g) Exceptions to paragraph (f). There are five exceptions to the rule stated in the preceding paragraph. No preference rating is necessary for:

(1) The delivery of a fixture or part to an established laboratory for testing purposes only;

(2) The delivery of a fixture or part to a potential customer for demonstration but not for stock;

(3) The sale or delivery of a part to be used solely for maintenance or repair of an existing fixture;

(4) The sale and delivery of a fixture or part to a manufacturer or wholesaler on a special sale under Priorities Regulation 13; or

(5) The delivery (for inventory purposes only) of a fixture or part from one branch, division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(h) Release of fixtures held in inventory. Upon specific authorization of the War Production Board, after application as required in paragraph (j), a manufacturer, assembler, wholesaler or retailer may sell or deliver from his inventory on unrated orders any completely assembled fluorescent lighting fixture which was manufactured before June 2, 1942, and which was reported to the War Production Board on Forms PD-499 or WPB-1066. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

LABORATORY RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT; RELATION OF PREFERENCE RATING ORDER P–43 AND GENERAL LIMITATION ORDER L–265

The following interpretation is issued with respect to General Limitation Order L–265:

The restrictions of paragraph (b) (1) of Order L–265 on manufacture apply to persons only to the extent that they are "engaged in the manufacture of electronic equipment for transfer or for commercial use". A person who gets materials with the priorities assistance given by Order P–43 may use those materials to make experimental electronic equipment for his own use without regard to the restrictions of paragraph (b) (1) of Order L–265. If he makes experimental electronic equipment for transfer or for commercial use he must do so only within the limits of paragraph (b) (1) of Order L–265. In all cases where he gets and uses materials with the priorities assistance of Order P–43, he must comply with all the provisions of Order P–43.

PART 3292—AUTOMOTIVE VEHICLES, PARTS AND EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L–322, as Amended Apr. 28, 1944]

JACKS, MECHANICAL, HYDRAULIC, AIR AND ELECTRICALLY OPERATED

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of iron, steel and other critical materials entering into the production of mechanical, hydraulic, air and electrically operated jacks for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 3292.116 Limitation Order L–322.—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the manufacture or assembly of mechanical, hydraulic, air or electrically operated jacks.

(3) "Jack" means any lifting, supporting, pulling, pushing, or bending device listed in Schedules A and B to this order.

(4) "Non-military production" means any mechanical, hydraulic, air or electrically operated jacks produced or assembled except under contracts or orders for delivery to the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration.

(b) Restriction on production. On and after November 15, 1943, no producer shall manufacture or assemble any jack except of a model, size, and capacity listed in Schedules A and B of this order.

(c) Restriction on distribution. Notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation Number 1, commencing with the month of November, 1943, and each month thereafter, each producer shall retain, for delivery against orders rated on Form WPB–547, a minimum of twenty-five (25) percent of the number of 3, 5, 8, 12, and 20-ton capacity hydraulic self-contained (hand operated) jacks manufactured or assembled by him in non-military production.

(1) In the event that in any month a producer's orders rated on Form WPB–547, do not equal twenty-five (25) percent of his non-military production of 3, 5, 8, 12, and 20-ton capacity hydraulic self-contained (hand operated) jacks, he may deliver the balance of his non-military production, not covered by such orders, against other orders.

(d) Restriction on sales. On and after November 15, 1943, no producer shall sell, transfer, or deliver, to any person any jacks listed in Schedule A or B to this order, except pursuant to orders bearing preference ratings of AA–5 or higher. The provisions of this paragraph (d) shall not apply to repair parts for mechanical, hydraulic, air or electrically operated jacks.

(e) Exceptions to applicability of this order. The terms and restrictions of paragraph (b) of this order shall not apply, until February 1, 1944, to jacks produced under contracts or orders for delivery to or for the account of the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing Form WPB–1477 in triplicate with the Field Office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates, stating therein the information called for.

(h) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time, except as stipulated in paragraph (c).

(i) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Automotive Division, Washington 25, D. C., reference: L–322.

Issued this 28th day of April 1944.

In the case of a dealer who sells directly to con-

POULTRY, EXCEPT DUCKS, IN NEW YORK REGION

Amendment No. 1 to Order No. G-1 under § 1429.14 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269. Maximum base prices of poultry except ducks in Region II.

For the reasons stated in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration for Region II by § 1429.14 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269, Order No. G-1 under § 1429.14 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1 is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. What this order does. Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269 requires the determination of maximum selling prices of poultry items by reference to maximum base prices. This order divides Region II into four zones, and in each zone one specific dollar and cent maximum base price is established for each poultry item covered by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269, except duck items. This order supersedes that regulation insofar as it establishes such maximum base prices in Region II. The base prices established by this order are to be used in determining maximum selling prices instead of the base prices established by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269. All other provisions of that regulation continue in effect.

2. Section 2 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2. Where this order applies. This order applies to the entire states of Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, and New York, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the District of Columbia.

3. The footnote applicable to kosher-killed poultry items in section 3 (a) (2) is amended to read as follows:

[1] Maximum base prices for kosher-killed poultry items, except turkeys, for determining maximum selling prices for sales to "wholesalers" and individual retail stores only, shall be 1¢ per pound higher than those listed above.

4. Section 3 (a) (2) is amended by adding the following items to the table of maximum base prices:

Type	Food products—Weight	Maximum base prices—Zone 1: Live	Dressed	Kosher-killed	Kosher-dressed and plucked	Drawn	Frozen eviscerated
•	•	•	•	•	•	•	•

Government inspected rendered poultry fat						78.5

[1] If the gizzard is not cleaned by removing the contents and lining the maximum base price shall be ½ of the maximum base price for gizzards listed in this table.

5. Section 3 (b) (2), section 3 (c) (2), and section 3 (d) (2) are amended by inserting a superior (1) at the top of the column of maximum prices designated "kosher-killed" in each section and by adding at the bottom of each table the following footnote:

[1] Maximum base prices for kosher-killed poultry items, except turkeys, for determining maximum selling prices for sales to "wholesalers" and individual retail stores only, shall be 1¢ per pound higher than those listed above.

6. Section 3 (b) (2) is amended by adding the following items to the table of maximum base prices:

[Region II Rev. Order G-7 Under RMPR 122]

Pennsylvania Anthracite in Designated Areas in Pennsylvania

Revised Order No. G-7 under § 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122. Solid fuels sold and delivered by dealers. Pennsylvania anthracite delivered by dealers in Philadelphia County, Delaware County and designated townships and boroughs in Bucks and Montgomery Counties, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Coal Area I.

Under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by § 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, it is hereby ordered:

(a) What this order does—(1) Dealers' maximum prices, area covered. If you are a dealer in "Pennsylvania anthracite", this order fixes the maximum prices which you may charge, and if you are a purchaser in the course of trade or business, this order fixes the maximum prices which you may pay, for certain sizes and quantities of "Pennsylvania anthracite" delivered to or at any point in Coal Area I. Coal Area I includes the following portions of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania: Philadelphia County; Delaware County; the Townships of Upper Southampton, Lower Southampton, Northampton, Warminster, Warwick, and the Borough of Ivyland, in Bucks County; and the Townships of Lower Moreland, Upper Moreland, Abington, Cheltenham, Horsham, Upper Dublin, Lower Gwynnedd, Whitpain, Whitemarsh, Springfield, Lower Merion, and the Boroughs of Bryn, Athyn, Hatboro, Rockledge, Jenkintown, Ambler and Narberth, in Montgomery County.

Hereinafter in this order "Pennsylvania anthracite" shall be called simply "anthracite".

(2) Schedules of prices, charges and discounts. The applicable prices, authorized charges, and required discounts, from which you shall determine the maximum prices for designated sizes and quantities of anthracite delivered within Coal Area I, are set forth in Schedules I, II, and III hereafter.

(3) To what sales this order applies. If you are a dealer in anthracite, you are bound by the prices, charges and discounts, and by all other provisions of this order for all deliveries within Coal Area I, whether or not you are located in Coal Area I.

(b) What this order prohibits. Regardless of any contract or other obligations, you shall not:

(1) Sell or, in the course of trade or business, buy anthracite of the sizes and in the quantities set forth in the schedules herein, at prices higher than the maximum prices computed as set forth in paragraph (c) of this order, although you may charge, pay, or offer less than maximum prices.

(2) Obtain any price higher than the applicable maximum price by:

(i) Changing the discounts authorized herein, or

(ii) Charging for any service which is not expressly requested by the buyer, or

(iii) Charging for any service for which a charge is not specifically authorized by this order, or

(iv) Charging a price for any service set forth in Schedule I higher than the schedule price for such service, or

(v) Increasing any interest rate on debts over the rate charged in December 1941, or

(vi) Using any tying agreement or requiring that the buyer purchase anything in addition to the fuel requested by him, or

(vii) Using any other device by which a higher price than the applicable maximum price is obtained, directly or indirectly.

(c) How to compute maximum prices. You must figure your maximum price as follows:

(1) Use the schedule which covers your sale. (Schedule I applies to "direct-delivery" sales of anthracite. You will find Schedule I in paragraph (d). Schedule II applies to "yard sales" by dealers who sell exclusively to equipped dealers, and by other dealers. You will find Schedule II in paragraph (e). Schedule III applies to sales of bagged coal in 25 lb. and 18 lb. paper bags. You will find Schedule III in paragraph (f)).

(2) Take the dollars-and-cents figure given in the applicable schedule for the size and quantity you are selling.

(3) Deduct from this figure the amount of the discount which you are required to give as specified in the schedule. If the schedule makes no reference to any discount, you need give no discount. Where a discount is required, you must state it separately on your invoice.

(4) If, at your purchaser's request, you actually render him a service for which this order authorizes a charge, you may add to the figure obtained as above, no more than the maximum authorized service charge. You must state that charge separately on your invoice. The only authorized service charges are those provided for sales under Schedule I.

(5) If you deliver a fraction of a net ton, even if less than one-half ton, and the applicable schedule provides a discount on the basis of one ton or one-half ton, you shall allow a proportionate discount, making your calculation to the nearest full cent. For example, if you are required to deduct 50¢ per ton for cash payment, you shall deduct 38¢ for three-quarters of a ton and 13¢ for one-quarter of a ton.

(6) If you deliver a fraction of a net ton, but not less than one-half ton, and the applicable schedule provides a service charge on the basis of one ton, you shall add no more than a proportionate service charge, making your calculation to the nearest full cent. For example, if the transaction permits a service charge of 50¢ per ton, you shall not add more than 38¢ for performance of that service in connection with the delivery of three-quarters of a ton.

(d) Schedule I: Sales on a "direct-delivery" basis. Schedule I establishes maximum prices for certain sizes of anthracite in certain specific quantities, delivered to or at any point within Coal Area I.

(1) For sales of anthracite of the sizes and in the quantities specified.

Size	Per net ton	Per net ½ ton	Per 100 lb. (for sales of 100 lb. or more, but less than ½ ton)	Per 50 lb. paper bag

(2) Required discounts. You shall deduct from the prices set forth above in this schedule, on sales and deliveries of all sizes except screenings, a discount of 50¢ per net ton and 25¢ per net half ton, where payment is made within fifteen days after delivery. Nothing in this subparagraph requires you to sell on other than a cash basis.

In addition, you shall deduct a discount of 50¢ per net ton, on sales and deliveries of all sizes except Buckwheat #4 and screenings, to consumers purchasing from one dealer, for delivery at one point, a quantity of 100 tons or more, within a period of twelve months.

You shall not break up a single order in an attempt to avoid this discount.

You must grant this discount whether the purchaser has received 100 tons or more pursuant to a single purchase order, or several purchase orders, and whether there was delivery at one time or at intervals of time, the sole basis of the discount being the annual purchase of 100 tons or more for delivery at one point.

You must deduct this discount at or before the delivery of the one-hundredth ton and continue to grant the discount on every subsequent delivery during the same twelve-month period.

(3) Maximum authorized service charges.

(1) Sales by dealers except those who normally sold exclusively to equipped dealers.

(g) Commingling. If you sell one size of anthracite, commingled with another size of anthracite, your maximum price for the combination shall be the maximum price established in this order for the smallest of the sizes so commingled, whether the sale be a "direct-delivery" sale, "yard sale", or "sales of bagged coal", except in the following situation. Where a purchaser requests that two or more sizes of anthracite be commingled in one delivery, then, in that event, if those sizes are separately weighed at the point of loading, or when bagged, the dealer may commingle those sizes in the truck or other vehicle, or in the bags in which the delivery is made. The price for anthracite so commingled shall be calculated on the basis of the applicable per net ton price, or, in the case of bagged coal, on the basis of the applicable bagged price, for each size in the combination, and the invoice shall separately state the price, so determined for the quantity of each size in the combination.

(h) Addition of increase in suppliers' maximum prices prohibited. You may not increase the specific maximum prices established by this order to reflect in whole or in part, any subsequent increase to you in your supplier's maximum price for the same fuel. The specific maximum prices already reflect increases to you in your supplier's maximum prices occurring up to the effective date of this order. If increases in your supplier's maximum prices should occur after such date, as the result of any amendment to or revision of a maximum price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration governing sales and deliveries made by such suppliers, the Regional Administrator will, if he then deems it to be warranted, take appropriate action to amend this order to reflect such increases.

(i) Taxes. If you are a dealer subject to this order you may collect, in addition to the specific maximum prices established herein, provided you state it separately, the amount of the Federal Tax upon the transportation of property imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 actually paid or incurred by you, or an amount equal to the amount of such tax paid by any of your prior suppliers and separately stated and collected from you by the supplier from whom you purchased. On sales to the United States or any agency thereof, you need not state this tax separately.

(j) Adjustable pricing. You may not make a price adjustable to a maximum price which will be in effect at some time after delivery of the anthracite has been completed, but the price may be adjustable to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery.

(k) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this order may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of revised procedural Regulation No. 1, except that the petition shall be filed with the Regional Administrator and acted upon by him.

(l) Right of amendment or revocation. The Regional Administrator or the Price Administrator may amend, revoke or rescind this order, or any provision thereof, at any time.

(m) Applicability of other regulations. If you are a dealer subject to this order, you are governed by the licensing provisions of Licensing Order 1. Licensing Order 1 provides, in brief, that a license is required of all persons making sales for which maximum prices are established. A license is automatically granted. It is not necessary to apply for the license. The license may be suspended for violations in connection with the sale of any commodity for which maximum prices are established. If your license is suspended, you may not sell any such commodity during the period of suspension.

(n) Records. If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall preserve, keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, a record of every sale of anthracite hereunder, showing the date, the name and address of the buyer, if known; the per net ton price charged, and the solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in the order. The record shall also state separately each service rendered and the charge made for it.

(o) Posting of maximum prices; sales slips and receipts. (1) If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall post all your maximum prices (as set forth in the applicable schedule or schedules of this order) in your place of business in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public.

(2) If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall, except for a sale of less than one-half ton, give each purchaser a sales slip or receipt showing your name and address, the kind, size, and quantity of the anthracite sold to him, the date of the sale or delivery and the price charged, separately stating the amount, if any, of the required discounts which must be deducted from, and the authorized service charges and the taxes, which may be added to, the specific maximum prices prescribed herein.

In the case of all other sales, you shall give each purchaser a sales slip or receipt containing the information described in the foregoing paragraph, if requested by such purchaser, or if during December 1941 you customarily gave purchasers such sales slips or receipts.

(p) Enforcement. (1) Persons violating any provision of this order are subject to civil and criminal penalties, including suits for treble damages, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(2) Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this order are urged to communicate with the Philadelphia District Office of the Office of Price Administration, or with the Price Panel of the appropriate War Price and Rationing Board.

(q) Definitions and explanations. When used in this Order No. G-7, the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Sell" includes sell, supply, dispose, barter, exchange, lease, transfer, and deliver, and contracts and offers to do any of the foregoing. The terms "sale", "selling", "sold", "seller", "buy", "purchase" and "purchaser" shall be construed accordingly.

(3) "Dealer" means any person selling anthracite of the sizes set forth in the Schedules herein, and does not include a producer or distributor making sales at or from a mine, a preparation plant operated as an adjunct of any mine, or a briquette plant.

(4) "Pennsylvania anthracite" means all coal produced in the Lehigh Schuylkill and Wyoming regions in the State of Pennsylvania.

(5) "Coal Area 1" includes the following portions of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania: Philadelphia County; Delaware County; the Townships of Upper Southampton, Lower Southampton, Northampton, Warminster, Warwick, and the Boroughs of Ivyland, in Bucks County; and the Townships of Lower Moreland, Upper Moreland, Abington, Cheltenham, Horsham, Upper Dublin, Lower Gwynnedd, Whitpain, Whitemarsh, Springfield, Lower Merion, and the Boroughs of Bryn Athyn, Hatboro, Rockledge, Jenkintown, Ambler and Narberth, in Montgomery County.

(6) "Direct-delivery", except with respect to sales in 50 lb. paper bags or 100 lb. lots, means delivery to the buyer's bin or storage space by dumping or chuting directly from the seller's truck or vehicle or, where such delivery to the buyer's bin or storage space is physically impossible, by discharging at the point nearest and most accessible to the buyer's bin or storage space and at which the coal can be discharged directly from the seller's truck. "Direct-delivery" in 50 lb. bags or 100 lb. lots shall mean depositing in buyer's bin or other storage space designated by buyer.

(7) "Carry" and "wheel" refer to the movement of coal to buyer's bin or storage space in baskets or other containers, or by wheelbarrow or barrel, from seller's truck or vehicle, or from the point nearest and most accessible to the buyer's bin or storage space at which the coal is discharged from seller's truck in the course of "direct-delivery".

(8) "Yard sales" means sales accompanied by physical transfer to the buyer's truck or vehicle at the yard, dock, barge, car, or at a place of business of the seller other than at seller's truck or vehicle.

(9) "Wholesale yard sales" means sales from yards of dealers who normally sold exclusively to equipped dealers.

(10) "Equipped dealer" means a person who purchases coal for resale and who has a yard or terminal facilities for storing and handling solid fuels.

(11) "Delivered at dealer's yard" as applied to sales of bagged coal in 18 lb. paper bags, means physical transfer at the dealer's yard to the purchaser's truck or other vehicle.

(12) "Delivered to retail stores" as applied to sales of bagged coal in 18 lb. or 25 lb. bags, means deposit in that part of the store designated by the purchaser.

(13) "Sales to ultimate consumer" as applied to bagged coal in 18 lb. or 25 lb. bags, means sales by dealers, other than sales at a dealer's yard whether or not delivered to the consumer's premises.

(14) The sizes of Pennsylvania anthracite described as broken, egg, stove, nut, pea, buckwheat, rice, barley, buckwheat #4 and screenings shall refer to the same sizes of the same fuel as were sold and delivered in Coal Area I with such designation during December 1941.

(15) Except as otherwise provided herein, or as the context may otherwise require, the definitions set forth in §§ 1340.255 and 1340.266 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 122 shall apply to terms used herein.

(r) Effect of order on Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122. This order shall supersede Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, except as to any sales or deliveries of solid fuels not specifically subject to this order.

(s) Effect of order on Order No. G-7 as originally issued and amended, and on Order No. G-23. Order No. G-7 under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 as issued on May 4, 1943, and amended by Amendment No. 1 issued on May 25, 1943, is hereby revoked in full as of the effective date of this order. This order also supersedes Order No. G-23 issued under that regulation on November 24, 1943, to the extent that Order No. G-23 was applicable to Order No. G-7.

NOTE: The record keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Effective date. This revised order shall become effective December 13th, 1943.

PENNSYLVANIA ANTHRACITE IN DESIGNATED AREAS IN PENNSYLVANIA

Amendment No. 1 to Revised Order No. G-7 under § 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122. Solid fuels sold and delivered by dealers. Pennsylvania anthracite delivered by dealers in Philadelphia County, Delaware County and designated townships and boroughs in Bucks and Montgomery Counties, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Coal Area I.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by §§ 1340.260 and 1340.259 (a) (1) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, and for the period commencing with the effective date of this amendment and expiring on midnight April 30, 1944, Revised Order No. G-7 is amended in the following respects:

1. Any dealer making sales of anthracite subject to Revised Order No. G-7 may increase the maximum prices specified therein as follows:

(a) For direct-delivery sales, in quantities of ½ ton or more, subject to Schedule I in paragraph (d), there may be added 35¢ per net ton. For sales of fractions of a net ton, but not less than ½ ton, dealers may take a proportionate increase based upon the per net ton increase.

(b) For yard sales in quantities of ½ ton or more, subject to Schedule II in paragraph (e), there may be added 10¢ per net ton. For sales of fractions of a net ton, but not less than ½ ton, dealers may take a proportionate increase based upon the per net ton increase.

2. The maximum prices established by Revised Order No. G-7 for sales in units under ½ ton shall remain unchanged, whether the sale be in bulk or in bags.

3. At the termination of this amendment on midnight April 30, 1944, all dealers subject to Revised Order No. G-7 shall revert to the schedules of prices in effect immediately prior to the issuance of this amendment.

This Amendment No. 1 to Revised Order No. G-7 shall become effective on March 6, 1944 and, unless earlier revoked or modified, shall expire on midnight April 30, 1944.

(56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871 and E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681)

[Region II Rev. Order G-26 Under RMPR 122, Amdt. 3]

Amendment No. 3 to Revised Order No. G-26 under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122. Solid fuels sold and delivered by dealers. Permitted increases in maximum prices for "Colonial", "Salem Hill", and other specified anthracite sold subject to designated area dollars-and-cents orders.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by §§ 1340.260 and 1340.259 (a) (1) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, Revised Order No. G-26 is amended in the following respects:

1. The opening words of subparagraph (3) of paragraph (a), now reading, "Conditions and limitations, commingling: To be eligible for the increases authorized by this order, * * *" are amended to read as follows:

(3) Conditions and limitations, commingling: To be eligible for the increases authorized by paragraph (a) of this order, * * *

2. Paragraph (b) is redesignated paragraph (c), paragraph (c) is redesignated paragraph (d), paragraph (d) is redesignated paragraph (e), paragraph (e) is redesignated paragraph (f), paragraph (f) is redesignated paragraph (g).

3. A new paragraph (b) is inserted to read as follows:

(b) Alternative pricing provision, application for a price. Dealers making sales of the anthracite specified in paragraph (a) (1), in communities subject to the area dollars-and-cents orders listed in paragraph (d), who prefer to commingle such anthracite with other anthracite and not to keep it separate in storage and delivery, and who would thereby not be eligible to take the automatic increases permitted under paragraph (a) hereof, may apply to the New York Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration for adjustment of their maximum prices for all anthracite sales to compensate for the increased cost of such specified anthracite. An application may be filed between the first and tenth day of each month based upon the proportions of anthracite having different mine costs received during the previous calendar month and should request an adjusted price for a one-month period. Such application shall be in writing and set forth the following:

(i) Total tonnage of all anthracite received by the dealer during the previous calendar month.

(ii) Tonnage of anthracite specified in paragraph (a) (1) received during the previous calendar month, by size and kind.

(iii) State separately the tonnage of any higher cost anthracite received during the previous calendar month and subject to Regional Order No. G-34 under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, identifying such in the manner described therein.

(iv) Proposed increase above area ceiling price.

(v) Any other pertinent information the Regional Administrator may request.

The Regional Administrator will either grant or deny the application, in whole or in part, in the light of the estimated average increase in supplier's maximum prices for anthracite, based on dealer's total anthracite receipts during the previous calendar month, as compared with supplier's maximum prices established by § 1340.200 (a) (1) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 112. The order may incorporate appropriate provisions for recalculation of the permitted increase based upon changing mine costs.

This Amendment No. 3 to Revised Order No. G-26 shall become effective April 28, 1944.

Issued this 22d day of April 1944.

Regional Administrator.

SURPLUS WAR PROPERTY ADMINISTRATION.

SALE OF CONTRACT TERMINATION INVENTORIES

STATEMENT OF POLICIES TO BE FOLLOWED BY GOVERNMENT AGENCIES

The selling and pricing policies set forth below shall be followed by all agencies of the Federal Government having jurisdiction over the termination of Government contracts. Their purpose is to support and encourage the contracting officers of such procuring agencies (1) to liquidate promptly, before and during contract termination proceedings, the Government's interest in connection with property obtained to fulfill a Government contract but not now needed for the performance of the contract, and (2) to move as much of this property as possible into consumption channels during the current period of urgent demand, while still protecting the public interest.

The public interest embraces not only financial considerations but also the responsibility for insuring continuous production during the war and a healthy economy after the war. Speedy clearance of termination property is consistent with this interest.

The policy set forth herein may require modification from time to time as the situation changes.

I. Types of property covered. The policies enumerated herein shall, with the exceptions noted below, cover the following types of property becoming available for disposition under the termination or partial termination of a Government contract:

(a) Property owned by a contractor or subcontractor with respect to which the contractor or subcontractor has a claim against the Government (either directly or through another contractor or subcontractor) as part of his termination settlement claim.

(b) Property owned by the Government but in the custody of a contractor or subcontractor.

The policies enumerated herein shall not, however, apply to either of the following excepted classes of property:

(1) Completed articles deliverable to the Government under a prime contract.

(2) Machinery, equipment and similar property commonly treated as capital equipment.

With respect to such excepted classes of property, particularly capital equipment becoming available on contract terminations, it is not intended to discourage sales to or by the contractors. They are excepted because the policies herein enumerated are not as directly applicable to their disposal as to that of such property as raw and semi-processed materials, component end products and parts, jigs, dies, fixtures and small tools, and the like. Procuring agencies shall continue to fix their own price policies on the disposal of the excepted classes of property until otherwise directed.

The policies enumerated herein do not relate to the disposal of surplus Government-owned property other than that becoming available for disposition as the result of contract terminations. Regulations are in preparation for the reporting of such property as surplus to the disposal agencies named in Executive Order No. 9425. Meanwhile existing practices shall be followed except to the extent that specific arrangements have been or will be made with particular agencies.

II. Types of disposal covered. The policies herein enumerated shall apply to the disposition of the property covered, as outlined above, whether the procuring agency:

(a) Allows the contractor or subcontractor to keep the property at some agreed upon value, which will be reflected in the contract settlement;

(b) Allows the contractor or subcontractor to sell the property at some agreed upon value, which will be reflected in the contract settlement; or

(c) Takes over the property and sells it itself.

III. General principles. The specific policies enumerated herein should be read in the light of the following basic principles:

(1) Termination proceedings and the clearance of plants should be handled as speedily as possible.

(2) Retention of property by the holding contractor or subcontractor, or sales to other buyers who will themselves consume the property is desirable.

(3) Prices for property sold for resale should be sufficiently high to discourage long-term holding or quick turnover at excessive profits.

(4) Within these limits contracting officers, and their representatives, are urged to act boldly and to exercise wide discretion in the prompt disposal of property, and will have the full support of SWPA in so doing.

IV. Property having no use except as scrap. The many groups who have analyzed the problem of contract termination have uniformly agreed that much of the property involved is of such special nature, or has been processed in such a way, as to admit of no possibility of use in its existing form. There is an additional amount which might be used if time permitted an extended search for an appropriate use, or if use restrictions could be relaxed. The necessity for prompt clearance of plants severely limits the amount of effort and time that can be expended on such a search. It is essential to make an early determination that property either offers reasonable possibility of sale, or should be scrapped.

A. Procedures for determining what property should be sold as scrap. Primary responsibility for making this determination rests with the procuring agencies. Each agency shall determine and operate under internal procedures adapted to its peculiar problems and organization. It is suggested, however, that the procedures of the procuring agencies should provide for referral to a reviewing authority before scrapping if the cost of any item, or group of substantially similar items, which it is proposed to scrap, is estimated to be $50,000 or more. This reviewing authority may be either local, regional, or departmental boards of review or another officer designated by the procuring agency.

The Surplus War Property Administrator proposes to have the disposal agencies under Executive Order No. 9425 work closely with the procuring agencies in this operation and, at the earliest possible moment, provide a system of regional or local consultants, upon whom the contracting officers, review boards or other representatives of the procuring agencies can call for responsible advice and assistance in connection with questions concerning the scrapping of property.

B. Procedure for selling and pricing property that has been determined to be scrap. When property has been determined to be scrap in accordance with the above procedure, it shall be sold as follows, providing that all sales shall be made subject to applicable War Production Board and Office of Price Administration regulations:

(1) Sales of scrap are authorized at the best price obtainable in the judgment of the contracting officer (or the person to whom the procuring agency has delegated the power to approve the termination settlement) in any case where the entire termination claim of the contractor or subcontractor in question, before disposal credits, is less than $10,000.

(2) Whenever the entire termination claim of the contractor or subcontractor in question, before disposal credits, is $10,000 or more, sales of scrap shall be made in accordance with the following policies:

(a) The contracting officer, or his representative, shall determine, as nearly as may be possible by reasonable effort within a reasonable time, the going price of the type of scrap in question by reference to published trade indicators or inquiry among Government agencies, dealers or other informed sources, taking into account transportation cost and sundry other charges.

(b) If it is possible to realize this price without competitive bidding the contracting officer will approve the sale.

(c) If it is not possible to obtain this price the contracting officer will arrange for sale of the property after competitive bids, reserving the right to reject all bids if in his judgment an inadequate price is offered.

(d) All sales of such scrap, whatever method of sale is adopted, shall be subject to the buyer's warranty that the property will in fact be used as scrap. A warranty substantially as follows is recommended:

> The purchaser represents and warrants to the United States that the property covered by this agreement was offered as scrap, purchased by him as scrap, and that he will sell and ship or use it as scrap either in its existing condition or after further preparation and only in conformity with all applicable regulations and orders of the Office of Price Administration and the War Production Board.

(e) By subsequent regulations, the Surplus War Property Administration will provide for reports of scrap sales to the disposal agencies, and for a mechanism for stopping of sales in any area where prices drop to unsatisfactory levels.

V. Usable property. During the present phase of the war a principal objective should be to insure the earliest possible use of usable property. The surest way to accomplish this objective would be to sell the property directly to manufacturing establishments or others having current permitted uses for it. It must be recognized, however, that in many cases, suppliers, dealers, or others engaged in distribution will be willing to buy surplus goods at reasonable prices.

The procuring agencies shall therefore exercise the following authority with respect to the sale of usable property, providing that all sales shall be made subject to applicable War Production Board and Office of Price Administration regulations:

(1) Sales of any quantity of any item, or group of items, are authorized at the best price obtainable in the judgment of the contracting officer (or the person to whom the procuring agency has delegated the power to approve the termination settlement) in any case where the entire termination claim of the contractor or subcontractor in question, before disposal credits, is less than $10,000.

(2) Whenever the entire termination claim of the contractor or subcontractor in question, before disposal credits, is $10,000 or more sales shall be made in accordance with the following policies:

(a) If the property is a crude or simple raw material, such as raw cotton, pig iron, electrolytic copper or sulphur, which is freely traded in and for which there is a recognizable market price:

(1) Sales should be authorized whenever the going market price, as nearly as it can be determined by reasonable effort within a reasonable time, can be obtained, taking into account transportation cost and sundry other charges.

(2) Whenever such going market price cannot be obtained the property should be reported to the appropriate disposal agency for disposition, except that if the quantity of the item involved is less than a minimum commercial quantity, it should be sold at the best price obtainable.

The disposal agencies under Executive Order No. 9425 will be requested to prepare and make available to the procuring agencies at the earliest possible date, lists of items considered to belong in the category described in paragraph 2 (a), together with the quantities thereof to be regarded as minimum commercial quantities.

(b) If the property is not in the category described in paragraph 2 (a) contracting officers and their representatives are urged to make an active effort to accomplish sales in accordance with the policies stated below, after due consideration has been given to any reasonably obtainable information as to market values:

(1) Sales of nominal quantities (single items, or groups of items where the cost of all substantially similar items at any one location does not exceed $1,000) should be made at the best price obtainable, without review.

(2) Sales should be made to any buyer at the best price obtainable in excess of 75% of (a) cost or (b) the price which that buyer would have to pay if he bought an equivalent quantity from a normal source of supply, whichever is lower.

(3) Sales of property which cannot be sold within a reasonable period of time on the terms stated in paragraph (b) (2) above should be made to a buyer who will consume the property in the United States for manufacturing or maintenance or repair purposes, and who will agree that if he does not so consume it, he will not resell it at a profit, at the best price obtainable. This policy shall prevail until the Surplus War Property Administration by specific direction establishes such other sales procedures or policies (which may include a determination not to sell) with respect to specific items, such as standard consumer articles, as in its judgment are required to maintain orderly markets.

Wherever referred to in this statement, sale "at the best price obtainable" implies a reasonable effort to test the market, having due regard for the circumstances, the nature, condition, quantity and location of the particular property and the general principles herein stated.

HUTTON-JONES ELECTRIC COMPANY, INC.

CONSENT ORDER

Hutton-Jones Electric Company, Inc., located at 170 Pine Avenue, S. E., Warren, Ohio, an Ohio corporation, is engaged in the business of electrical construction, wiring, fixtures and supplies. From January 1, 1943, to September 1, 1943, the company in many instances applied a preference rating for the purchase of copper wire when the preference rating so used had not been extended or assigned to it, and in other instances extended preference ratings for the purchase of copper wire in quantities exceeding those contained in the preference ratings extended to it, thereby securing copper wire which had been sold and delivered on unrated orders. The aforementioned transactions were violations of Priorities Regulation No. 1 and Priorities Regulation No. 3. Hutton-Jones Electric Company, Inc., admits the violations and has consented to the issuance of this order.

Wherefore, upon the agreement and consent of Hutton-Jones Electric Company, Inc., the Regional Compliance Chief and the Regional Attorney, and upon the approval of the Compliance Commissioner, It is hereby ordered, That:

(a) Hutton-Jones Electric Company, Inc., its successors or assigns, are hereby prohibited from purchasing and receiving or selling and delivering new copper wire of any size, except to complete deliveries under uncompleted orders or contracts on the books of the company as of the date of issuance of this order, or except on orders rated AA-2 or higher, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Hutton-Jones Electric Company, Inc., its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on the date of issuance and shall expire sixty days from the date thereof.

Issued this 27th day of April 1944.
